

DICTAGRAPH RECORDS CROOKED, SAYS GENTRY

MINE STRIKE WAR IN WEST VIRGINIA GOES UNDER PROBE

Conditions Which Have Kept the State in Civil Strife for Year Investigated by Senate Committee.

MILITARY COMMISSION'S TRIALS ARE DESCRIBED

One Miner Was Sentenced to Seven Years in Penitentiary for Swearing at an Officer, Declares Witness.

Charleston, W. Va., June 10.—The power and authority of the government of the United States came to West Virginia today to determine who is responsible for the conditions which have kept the state in virtual civil war for more than a year. Opening the investigation of the coal mine strike which has cost death and destruction in the Paint Creek and Cabin Creek mining sections, the senate mine strike investigating committee tonight called upon the military authorities for the records of the proceedings prior to and under the declaration of martial law in the strike territory.

Judge Advocate General George S. Wallace, Adjutant General Charles D. Elliott, Major James I. Pratt, Captain Charles Morgan and Captain Samuel L. Walker were summoned before the committee this evening to produce the state records regarding the declaration of martial law and the proceedings in the military commission which was placed in authority in the strike district. Senator Borah, of Idaho, desired their testimony and their records as the basis for the branch of the inquiry which he is conducting as to the charge that citizens have been arrested and convicted in violation of the constitution and the law of the United States.

First Witness Called. J. Bruce Reid, a Charleston newspaper man, the first witness, said he was sent to the Paint Creek mine section last June after two shootings had occurred.

He said he was shown at Mucklow's hotel in houses, where mine guards told him striking miners had attacked the boarding house of mine guards.

Two weeks later he said he investigated the death of an Italian on Paint creek.

There was a question as to whether he had been ordered to "cold blood" kill Reid or whether he had been killed in a legitimate fight between miners and mine guards. Different mine guards told me three different stories of the killing. I formed my own conclusion.

Mr. Reid said he had seen one of the findings of the military commission which sentenced a miner to seven years in the penitentiary for swearing at a military officer. He was later released.

He said he saw fifty or sixty men arraigned at once by the military commission.

"They were on trial for participation in the 'battle of Mucklow,'" said the witness, "and they were charged with conspiracy murder." Twelve of these men, the witness said, were sent to jail. These, with all other prisoners, he believed had been released.

NEW ELECTRIC SYSTEM INDORSED BY ATHENS

Extension of Duke Lines to Atlanta Via Athens Being Warmly Supported.

Athens, Ga., June 10.—(Special).—The chamber of commerce of Athens is taking up the matter of the proposed extension of the Duke electric lines from Anderson S. C. to Atlanta and is working with the view of bringing the line through Athens.

Word has been received here to the effect that if the territory between Anderson and Atlanta really wants the road and will offer the movement to extend it sufficient encouragement Mr. Duke is prepared to authorize its construction.

It is apparent, however, that the materialization of the plan will depend entirely upon the activity of the people of the territory directly interested. It seems certain that with reasonable co-operation the line will assuredly be extended to Atlanta, giving direct communication from Atlanta to Winston-Salem, through Anderson, Greenville, Spartanburg and Charlotte of an electric line built in every way upon a standard gauge railroad basis and on which is being operated now a regular train service, which is being turned over to the Southern railroad at Greenville—a whole train of cars simply being transferred from one track to the other.

There is not a more up-to-date electric line in the world than the Duke lines. It is proposed to extend the system from Winston-Salem to Norfolk, reaching the ocean there, and if proper encouragement is received it will be connected with the network of railroads centering in Atlanta.

The Athens chamber of commerce will not take it for granted that this line must come through Athens, for one of the proposed routes carries it some distance north of here. Business men of this community are moving in the matter of demonstrating the wisdom of the choice of the route by Athens, believing that the selection of any route which does not include Athens would be a serious blunder. They point out that Athens is on a straight line between Anderson and Atlanta and that being the most important railroad center northeast of Atlanta, the extended electric system could not afford to miss this city. The most cordial assurance of co-operation is displayed by the city of Athens and material developments in the movement are expected at no distant date.

INTERCOLLEGE SPORTS BANNED BY ONE VOTE

Emory Trustees Turn Down Petition of Students and Alumni. The Fight to Go On.

Oxford, Ga., June 10.—(Special).—By only one vote the trustees of Emory college turned down today the unanimous petition of the students and alumni for the prohibition of intercollegiate athletics. The closeness of the vote was a surprise even to the most ardent advocates of a change, and immediately after its announcement leaders among the students and trustees declared that the fight will continue with renewed vigor and fight. It is expected to be taken this fall before the north and south Georgia and Florida conferences of the Methodist church, which controls the affairs of the college.

In an effort to end the fight for all time a resolution was offered before the trustees that hereafter no more petitions on the subject would be heard from either students or trustees. This was defeated by a vote of fourteen to ten and makes certain that the fight will go on.

Basing their reasons for the change on the necessity for doing something to stop the rapid falling off in attendance at the college, where the attendance has dropped from over 300 to slightly over 200 within the past few years, speakers among the trustees, and representatives of the students and alumni pleaded for the change at the second day's session of the trustees meeting and it is said that several trustees changed their opinion after hearing the reasons advanced.

Foreman Represents Alumni. Lauren Foreman, of Atlanta, spoke on behalf of the alumni, who for the past year have been making a concerted fight for the change in the athletic system of the college. On his appearance before the trustees he was accompanied by a large number of the former students attending on 'alumni day.'

J. E. Mathews, president of the student body and the foremost debater and speaker in college, presented the plea of the students which was recently passed unanimously at a mass meeting.

Congressman J. Gordon Lee, Dr. Stewart R. Robertson of Atlanta, and Dr. Robinson of Atlanta, were among the trustees who made strong speeches for the proposed change.

At the election of trustees Thomas Whipple Connally, of Atlanta, was chosen as alumni trustee by a vote of the graduates of the college. J. B. Wright, of Clarksville, was previously announced as having received this office, but was instead elected as a regular trustee by the members themselves.

Baptist Becomes Trustee. Mr. Connally, who thus becomes one of the rulers of the affairs of the Methodist institution, was previously a member of the Baptist church, being connected with Dr. John F. White's church in Atlanta. By a rule of the college only Metho-

PEACHTREE WORK WILL BE STARTED

Public Works Committee of the Fulton County Board Will Hold Meeting This Morning.

When the public works committee of the county commission meets at 10 o'clock this morning Chairman Shelby Smith will offer a resolution urging that work be started immediately to improve Peachtree street between Fifteenth street and Buckhead.

Chairman Smith stated Tuesday that he has prepared the resolution and had decided to offer it even before he was approached by a delegation of property owners and citizens, who are interested in the improvement of that beautiful and much traversed section of the city.

An Essential Project. "I realize, and I am sure every member of the county commission realizes, that the improvement of Peachtree from Fifteenth to the city limits is one of the most essential projects confronting the county."

Chairman Smith said "I am anxious that the work be started at once. By stripping the street of the old surface and repaving it the county will relieve the conditions. However, I do not propose to try and make a permanent improvement by simply repaving it. The street needs a new pavement, and the sooner the county does the work the greater will be the saving in the cost and the comfort of the people who use the thoroughfare."

Members of the county commission agree that Peachtree is the most important thoroughfare of Atlanta. It not only absorbs practically all the traffic of the city, but it is the only beautiful thoroughfare through which visitors are taken to see the most splendid residential section of the state.

Strong pressure has been brought to bear on the commissioners to put down a new pavement this year, but because of the press of other city projects in other parts of the city it has been found that the work could not be started this year.

New Pavement Next Year. Chairman Smith believes that the best plan for the county to pursue is to send a squad of men out to repair the street. He claims that it can be put in first-class condition for the time being and next year the county can do a new job. The property owners and citizens want something done determined to have something done. It is understood that they will be satisfied if the county will repair the pavement this year and put the street down new next year.

Chairman Smith's outline his plans to the committee Wednesday morning. He says he has little doubt but that it will meet with the approval of the entire committee and that within thirty days the repair squad will be a work.

UNFROCKED PARSON WEDS HIS AFFINITY AFTER MANY YEARS

Stamford, Conn., June 10.—Jere Knede Cooke and Floretta Whaley were married by a justice of the peace in the parlors of a local hotel early this morning. The witnesses were a party of friends who came here with the couple last evening.

The unfrocked Episcopal clergyman and his bride came here late last evening after a trip to Williamstown to get a certified copy of the divorce which was granted in favor of Mrs. Marinda Clarke Cooke last evening.

This morning Cooke and Whaley obtained a marriage license as soon as the town clerk's office opened, and shortly after 9 o'clock the marriage service was read.

Mr. and Mrs. Cooke then returned to their home in New York. The divorce decree granted to the former Mrs. Cooke named as respondent Floretta Whaley, with whom Cooke eloped from Hempstead, Vt., six years ago. Two children have been born to the pair since the divorce has been working as a house painter in New York.

GIRL AT ORGAN HIT BY LIGHTNING BOLT IN COUNTRY CHURCH

Jackson, Ga., June 10.—(Special).—Miss Grace Barnes, organist of the Macedonia Baptist church in the eastern section of Butts county, was struck by lightning and severely injured Sunday afternoon while the Sunday school was in session. Another lady who was at her side was injured, although the bolt shattered a plank beneath her feet.

The interior of the church was damaged from the bolt which struck upon the belfry. The church was completed last year on the place where the first house of worship was built in the county.

Atlanta Finds His Wife In the Wild West Parade

MR. AND MRS. JOHN R. EDWARDS.

It was the day of the circus—that is, Monday. Buffalo Bills wild west parade was marching down Whitehall street and across the sidewalk into Peachtree. Throngs of spectators lined the sidewalk on either side of the street.

Suddenly the saddle girth of one of the lady riders became loose and the saddle turned, threatening the rider with disaster. A man from among the spectators on the sidewalk pushed out and caught her, saving her from a fall. They gazed into each others' eyes for an instant and then there was a mutual exclamation of recognition.

"My God, it's Agnes," the man cried. "Why, Jack, of all the people in the world, I least expected to see you," was the reply. "Where have you been and what are you doing in Atlanta?"

Finda Wife in Parade. The man was John R. Edwards, a stonecutter at the quarries near the city. The girl was known to the show people as Miss Agnes Slade, but to the man she was Mrs. John R. Edwards.

Incredible as this story of their chance meeting may seem, it is indeed his wife, from whom he had separated, after a bitter quarrel in Boston, after months ago. They had never dreamed of meeting each other in Atlanta.

But show parades may not stop for lovers' meetings, even when the lovers are husband and wife who have not seen each other for more than a year, and there was just time for Jack to inquire eagerly of Agnes where he might see her again and for her to tell him how he might find her at the park where the show was to go on in the afternoon. By that time, the saddle was in place again, the girth tightened, the lady mounted and the parade moved on.

There was one man in Atlanta whom you may be sure was at the show that afternoon. As soon as the performance was over, which was the longest either had ever known, they were together once more. Then they began to relate to each other the adventures with which each had met since the departed estrangement had parted them in Boston.

Ballists in Marine. Almost in despair over the separation that had left him without a home, he had re-enlisted in the United States marines, in which he had served before their marriage. He had been to Nicaragua in the troubles down there last year, had been in two battles, been wounded and promoted to the rank of corporal. His wife listened eagerly to his story of adventure. Finally, she could stand it no longer.

"Jack," she said, "you know I love you, and now I love you more than ever, a thousand times, since I have learned of all you have been through. Let's go back together again. I'm tired of the show, anyway."

At that he gave an exclamation of joy which was heard outside of the tent, and which made even the blasé circus performers wonder.

So all their old quarrels were forgotten, never to be even so much as thought of again. She is to come back as soon as she finishes her engagement with the show, which will be in only two weeks, and then they are to live together in Atlanta.

RELATES VAGUE STORY OF HUSBAND'S MURDER

Arthur Kellar and 7-Year-Old Daughter, Both Insured, Are Slain in Bed.

Harrisonville, Mo., June 10.—Arthur Kellar, a railway employee living here, was murdered with an ax in his home here last night and his 7-year-old daughter was seriously wounded. A blow aimed at Mrs. Kellar struck the side of the bed and awakened her.

Mrs. Kellar leaped from the bed, she said, and after struggling with the murderer, drove him from the house. She then gave the alarm and soon a posse was searching for the slayer.

Two children were sleeping beside Mrs. Kellar, who was in a room adjoining that in which her husband and the 7-year-old girl slept. It is believed the murderer intended to kill the two small children also. There is no clue to the murderer.

Nathan Kellar, brother of the murdered man, testified at the inquest that Arthur carried $1,000 insurance and his wife was the beneficiary. There was an insurance policy of $1,000 on the life of Margaret, the wounded daughter, the brother said, but he was not sure who was the beneficiary.

According to other testimony Kellar and his wife had quarreled frequently. Mrs. Kellar's description of the murderer was vague. Officers' testimony that Mrs. Kellar, when she appeared at a neighbor's house and told of the tragedy wore her night clothing and carried the bloody ax.

NOTEBOOK WILL PROVE REPORTS WERE 'PADDED,' HE SAYS IN AFFIDAVIT

Young Stenographer, Who Made the Report of the Conversation in Room No. 31 Williams House, Voluntarily Makes Statement Before a Notary Public in the City of Washington D. C., Where He Is Employed.

ASSERTS THAT HE LEFT ATLANTA WHEN INFORMED OVER TELEPHONE HE MIGHT BE PUT UNDER ARREST

Swears That A. S. Colyar Has Made Effort to Purchase His Original Notes, Which Are Now in Possession of His Brother—"Grand Jury Should Make an Investigation" Declares Mayor James G. Woodward.

The sworn charge that the dictagraph statements, alleged to have been made by Colonel Thomas B. Felder, Mayor James G. Woodward and Charles C. Jones, in Room No. 31, Williams house, were "padded" was brought back to Atlanta last night by Ed O. Miles, a private detective, and turned over to Mayor Woodward.

The affidavit was composed and sworn to by George M. Gentry, the stenographer who took the dictagraph conversations. Detective Miles located Gentry in Washington, D. C., where he has been employed during the past two weeks. The affidavit was sworn to before Jeannette Henning, a notary public.

GENTRY WILLING TO RETURN WHENEVER HE IS NEEDED HERE.

"Gentry was willing to come back to Atlanta with me," Detective Miles said last night. "He has promised to work out the remainder of the month, and has assured me that he will return at the end of that time, or earlier if he is wanted."

Aside from the charge that his stenographic notes were "padded" by A. S. Colyar, and that he was paid $50 for the part he played in the dictagraph drama, Gentry says that he left Atlanta because he could not bear the humiliation which he knew he would suffer after he learned that his notes had been altered.

His affidavit bears out the statement made by Mayor Woodward, immediately after the publication of the dictagraph scandal, to the effect that he did not mention the names of Chief of Police James L. Beavers or Detective Chief Newport Lanford.

Gentry also swears that a reporter called at his home after the publication of the dictagraph statements and informed him that warrants had been issued for the arrest of Colyar, Gay C. February and himself (Gentry), and that he left the city upon being informed that he would not be allowed to give bond.

BROTHER HAS ORIGINAL NOTES; "COLYAR TRIED TO BUY THEM."

According to the affidavit, the original notes taken by Gentry are in the possession of his brother. He charges that an effort was made to purchase them. He mentions Colyar as the man who tried to secure his notes.

Mayor Woodward, Colonel Thomas B. Felder and Charles C. Jones, the victims of the dictagraph scandal, would not comment on the Gentry affidavit.

"I think it is up to the grand jury to look into the matter and see if there hasn't been forgery committed," Mayor Woodward said. "The affidavit bears out all that I have said. The whole thing was a frame-up. Now, let the public see who has done the framing."

"I knew that there was something wrong the minute I read the statement, alleged to have been made by me," said Charles C. Jones, after he was shown the Gentry affidavit. "I didn't have very much to say, and I don't remember mentioning the names of Chief Beavers or Chief Lanford as often as I was quoted. I knew that something was wrong the minute I entered the room, and was on my guard."

Lanford Doesn't Believe Gentry Signed Affidavit. "I do not believe Gentry signed this affidavit. I think it is a forgery, pure and simple. If he did, then he lied—lied straight out, lied maliciously. It is absolutely false that the dictagraph record was padded. There's not a word of truth in it. I can prove it. Others can prove it. This is all a scheme to clear the skirts of a lot of dirty politicians."

Thus did Chief Lanford caustically arraign the affidavit from Washington when he was informed of its receipt. He says that not until he has seen and talked with the young stenographer will he believe that Gentry attested to the document, and that if Gentry does admit its authorship, he will brand that youth a liar.

"I never saw Gentry but once in my life," the chief declared, "and that was the day of the dictagraph conversations. He came to my office. My secretary, G. C. February, recommended him as a rapid and efficient

POLICE CHIEFS FAVOR SEGREGATED DISTRICT. Washington, June 10.—"Brass band" methods of reformers in dealing with the "social evil" were denounced at today's session of the annual convention of the International Association of Chiefs of Police. The speakers urged better and saner legislation to aid the police in controlling this problem. It developed during the discussion that more of the police department heads favored the segregated district as opposed to an attempt at total suppression.

A resolution was adopted providing for a committee to study the problem.

AS HUBBY PLAYS POLO WIFE OBTAINS DIVORCE

Portland, Me., June 10.—Maude Livingston Waterbury was granted a divorce from her husband, Lawrence Waterbury, of New York, a member of the American cup defending polo team, in the supreme court today. Cruel and abusive treatment was the cause alleged in the divorce libel.

even knew of his existence I know little about the young man, but what I do leads me to believe that he never attested to any such affidavit. And, besides, I do not believe he is in Washington. I think he is still right here in Atlanta. Any way, you'll have to show me before I believe otherwise."

Here Is Gentry's Affidavit, Sworn to in Washington

Mr Gentry's affidavit in full is as follows:

District of Columbia, City of Washington—Personally appeared before me the undersigned a notary public of the District of Columbia, George M Gentry who on oath states that:

On Wednesday, May 21, 1936, at about 10 o'clock in the morning, Mr. Gentry called me over the telephone and desired to know if I would do some stenographic work for him. I told him I would but that I could not get off until noon. He said that they were in a hurry for it and he would like me to come at a certain time to his office. He took me to the chief's office and the chief told me he wanted me to take down some testimony at 12 o'clock. I did not write very fast. Mr. Gentry assured Chief Lanford that I was a good stenographer and could do the work all right. The chief then told me that the work he wanted done in all respects was to be done in a certain way. I assured him that I would do it as confidentially as I could. I did not do more than that what he wanted me to do was to take down a report of a hearing which would be held in the afternoon. I thought I could take over a dictagraph. Mr. Gentry explained to me at that time with a dictagraph which he owned and which contained wires and other apparatus for connection with a dictagraph house.

After the dictagraph was set up, Mr. Gentry and I went to the dictagraph house. I was instructed to go into room No. 21 of this hotel. Mr. Gentry and I went there and they probably had to make arrangements for dictagraph. I did not write very fast. Mr. Gentry assured Chief Lanford that I was a good stenographer and could do the work all right. The chief then told me that the work he wanted done in all respects was to be done in a certain way. and changed my collar. I returned to the office of the General Fire Extinction company 276 Marietta street, where I was employed as a stenographer and I wrote the dictation he had given me, signed his letters and then met Mr. Feunary there at the office. We went to the Candler restaurant to supper and from there we returned to the Williams house to keep an appointment with Colyar at about 7:30. At about 8:30 Mr. Williams and Mr. Jones and Colyar went up to the conference room and Mr. Feunary and I to the information reception room.

Preparing for the Trap

I placed the receiver over my head and in order to be sure that I would hear everything, Mr. Feunary stood behind me and held them pressed tightly to my ears. This conference lasted about thirty minutes. Between 8:30 and 9:15 Wednesday night Mr. Feunary and I went to the Williams house and had an appointment with Mr. Branch and Mr. Paschal at 9:30 at the Williams house and as they were not in the Journal office we had to kill time until they showed up. I left Mr. Feunary and Mr. Colyar at the Williams office at 9:15 and went over to the Williams house to wait for the arrival of the Journal reporters mentioned above. They came in shortly and we went over to the Journal office and all of us, Mr. Feunary, Mr. Branch, Mr. Paschal and myself went up to the editorial department where a machine was selected and I then went to work transcribing what I had heard.

Right at the start I made Colyar aware of the fact that I did not hear what was said I put dashes and so I allowed him to dictate several answers and questions which do not appear in my note book and which I am in a positive that I heard. I did not hear any of the questions which Chief Lanford asked during the hearing in the transcription of my notes these being evidently added by other parties. On Thursday morning Mr. Feunary finished transcribing my notes and turned the papers over to Mr. Feunary. Late on during the morning he came down to the office bringing an affidavit which I had written for him. I signed a notary public and made only a few minor changes in the transcription and that all I had to do was to sign the affidavit which I did. However, I noticed that some of the questions which I had made up for him or rather in Chief Lanford's copy as I had no copy of the affidavit and the reporters just before I started to transcribe my notes asked me for the number of copies that they should be made for the chief one copy should be made for the chief one for Colyar and one for the Journal. I had to make up for the chief one copy. This kept me from having a copy. I had my note book however and it was the only copy of my notes with the published articles that led to my discovery that in addition to the several answers and questions which Colyar had personally dictated other changes had been made, namely the insertion of the name of Chief Lanford and Chief Lanford in the conference with Major Woodward also many other variations occurred changing the sense of the statement and since they had my affidavit attached to the papers I felt that I had been duped.

As to the remuneration for my services, I will say that the Journal reporter, Branch and Paschal agreed to pay me $50 to get the work written Wednesday night so it could be published in Thursday's paper. Saturday morning after the appearance of the Georgia reporter came to the office and offered me either $25 or $50. I do not recollect which for a copy of the conference with Major Woodward, Feunary, Branch and Colyar and Miles Jones and Colyar's conference. I declined the offer. I then went to see the Journal's reporters and told them that The Georgia man had offered me money for a copy of the conference and they agreed to pay me $50. I held my note book from Saturday until Monday. I turned my note book over to Mr. Feunary who gave it to his stenographer to keep until Monday. Later during the day the reporters told me that the Georgia man had written a copy and so was too late if I had wanted to go to Mr. Feunary's office and asked Miss M. — Mr. Feunary's stenographer for my note book and I took it home and looked it up Monday when I went up to see Major Colyar about the $50. I went down to look for the Georgia man who was unable to find. Later we went back upstairs together and Branch and Paschal explained to him their promise to pay me $50 for allowing The Journal to retain my note book. How some arguments were made at the fact that I took my note book out of the Journal's office Saturday night. I told them that they had agreed to give me $50 not to make a copy for The Georgia man and that I had not made the copy for The Georgia man and had therefore carried out my part of the contract. They then told me to come back later on and see Mr. Feunary about it. I returned after a while I believe it was around 1 o'clock and Mr. Feunary paid me the amount in currency and took my receipt.

Lanford Has Not Paid

As to the $50 which was not paid me for my services, I will say that I have not rendered a bill.

Saturday morning before the publication of the Wednesday conference held at 4 o'clock Wednesday May 21 as previously mentioned and the James conference held at 8 o'clock the same night I went to the editorial department of The Journal and requested a proof of what they were going to print. Colyar who had one reading it declined to allow me to have a proof and so I left The Journal building suspicious.

Saturday afternoon I went down to the office carrying with me my original note book and a copy of Friday's and Saturday's Journal. I compared them all the way through and upon seeing the many variations in what was printed and what I had in my notes, I realized that my transcriptions had been tampered with and that I had just caught the dupes who were aroused by their refusal to allow me to read the proofs Saturday morning.

Having signed the affidavits, at Mr Feunary's request, in which I swore to what I had heard, and seeing some things entirely different published, I became very nervous and uneasy Saturday night when I went home, a reporter called up and said he was one of The Journal reporters and wanted to see me a few minutes. I told him to come over. He came in and introduced himself to me as Mr. Starr of The Journal. My mother and aunt recognized his voice as that of a reporter who had called shortly before I had signed the affidavits and when he had an appointment with Mr. Branch and Mr. Paschal at 9:30 at the Williams house and as they were not in the Journal office we had to kill time until they showed up. I left Mr. Feunary and Mr. Colyar at the Williams office at 9:15 and went over to the Williams house to wait for the arrival of the Journal reporters mentioned above. They came in shortly and we went over to the Journal office and all of us, Mr. Feunary, Mr. Branch, Mr. Paschal and myself went up to the editorial department where a machine was selected and I then went to work transcribing what I had heard.

Told Me I Would Be Arrested

Sunday afternoon at the office someone called me up and informed me that I would probably be arrested Monday. I did not recognize the voice, and so am unable to say who it was. They also informed me that I would have to make bond in order to be released. I was asked what it was and they hung up or were cut off.

Monday morning Colyar requested that I turn my note book over to The Journal and said he would give me $50. I would show him a receipt from The Journal for the note book. I refused allowing The Journal to have the note book but instead gave it to my brother to take home and instructed him to allow no one to have it.

Operations later showed me the character of some of the changes connected with this transaction and it made me so ashamed of my connection with it that I was afraid I could not face the humiliation that I thought would naturally ensue and also the fact that they had changed my transcription showed to me very clearly that I was mixed up with a bunch of crooks.

I am prepared to read my notes whenever it becomes necessary. These notes will show exactly what I heard and what I did. The foregoing affidavit made by me voluntarily, unsolicited and no money or the promise of any remuneration whatever was offered to me for making it my sole motive being to give the straight history of my connection with the now infamous dictagraph affair.

HOT REPLIES MADE TO LOBBY PROBERS

Governor Carter Says He Was Told by Senator He Could Get Hearing "After Passage of Bill."

Washington, June 10.—For six hours today former Governor Carter and Sidney Ballou two of the men who have conducted the fight to retain a producers in Washington to retain a duty on sugar outlined to the senate lobby investigating committee their activities here and elsewhere.

Governor Carter testified only his expenses. Mr. Ballou said he was a regular agent of the sugar producers in Washington with a salary of $1,000 a year and $3,000 a year for expenses. Both agreed that about $100,000 had been spent by the sugar people in their campaign against free sugar. Carter denied there had been any tangible combination between the United States cane and beet and Hawaiian cane producers with a common fund directed to influencing legislation. The session at times grew warm.

Sensors Walsh and Reed put Governor Carter through a sharp cross examination under which the witness appeared fully able to take care of himself. He declared that an audience with President Wilson for the Hawaiian sugar men had been denied by Secretary Tumulty and that a member of the senate had been subpoenaed in charge of "sugar had suggested that they be given a hearing after the passage of the bill." Mr. Ballou said later that Senator Gore had made this statement.

"They Must Vote for It"

Governor Carter said that three senators Swanson, Lewis and Williams had told him or Hawaiian friends that they were not in sympathy with free sugar but since it was advocated by the democratic party they must vote for it. He declared that he had got no satisfaction when he spoke of hearings to members of the cabinet congressmen and senators.

"Secretary Lane told me he said that it was a legislative matter and the administration had nothing to do with it," he called up here and they told me it was an executive matter and they had nothing to do with it.

"I'm a bull moose," he said in response to Senator Cummins as to his politics.

Mr. Ballou's testimony was largely corroborative of that given by Governor Carter.

GOOD JOB SOUGHT FOR CALVIN HITCH

By John Corrigan, Jr. Washington, June 10.—(Special)—

Senator Hoke Smith declared himself as greatly surprised today at Senator Bacon's protest to the president against the nomination of A. O. Blacklock as collector of internal revenue for the district of Georgia. He had understood he said that Senator Bacon had withdrawn Calvin Hitch from the race and was urging him for another position. In this effort to get another job for Mr. Hitch Senator Smith said he had been cooperating with Senator Bacon.

In his statement to The Constitution representative last night Senator Bacon said Mr. Hitch was his candidate for collector and he had no second choice until Hitch was given some federal appointment equally as good as the collectorship now held by Henry S. Jackson. Among the places he has sought for Mr. Hitch was that of commissioner of internal revenue which was awarded to William H. Osborne of North Carolina.

Then he endorsed Mr. Hitch to Secretary of State Bryan for a position in the state department. In this latter endorsement Senator Smith joined.

No Sign of Compromise

Neither of the two Georgia senators have shown any disposition today to get together. Both are standing out in their own way. A solution is forecast in the willingness of both senators to get something for Mr. Hitch who will then be out of the way. He was Senator Bacon's clerk for years and was also executive clerk under Senator Hoke Smith when the latter was governor. He was also connected with Smith headquarters during the last gubernatorial campaign.

In discussing the controversy which has arisen between Hitch and Senator Bacon over the collectorship of internal revenue the only federal official in Georgia having state wide jurisdiction Senator Smith said today:

"I am surprised that any objection to Mr. Hitch should be made. He is a man of high character and ability. He has been in the position of collector of internal revenue before. Before endorsing him I consulted Senator Bacon and most of the congressmen. At the time Senator Bacon appointed Mr. Calvin Hitch for the position of collector of internal revenue I have jointly pressed his appointment to another position. I am cordially for Blacklock and have no second choice. I have urged Mr. Hitch for a place in the state department, and I had understood from Mr. Hitch that he had abandoned all idea of applying for the position of collector."

Mr. Smith was surprised at this latest development.

MINE STRIKE WAR IN WEST VIRGINIA

The witness said that last March he attended three trials before the military commission at Pratt in the Paint Creek section.

Mother Jones and about ninety-eight other prisoners were to be tried, said Mr. Reid.

He was asked for interview.

Mr. Reid said he was arrested for interviewing "Mother Jones," but was later released.

He described the procedure before the military tribunal and said that the miners tried were allowed to be represented by counsel. They were kept in a bull pen while awaiting trial.

Mr. Reid reviewed the three declarations of martial law and the actions of the three military commissions.

The first two commissions did not try prisoners in public he said, but until the last commission created were the proceeding in the trial made public.

During the examination of Mr. Reid Mother Jones entered the committee room.

During the disorder Mr. Reid said the civil courts were in session and were not prevented from exercising their functions.

Former Representative Joseph R. Gaines was called to describe the judicial procedure of West Virginia and jurisdiction of the various courts. He said that the military courts had been operating and working throughout the affected district at all times.

State Constitution Read.

Opening his case under the section of the senate resolution which provides for the military courts an inquiry into this subject Senator Borah at a brief session of the committee this afternoon read into the record several excerpts from the constitution of West Virginia. The first was the provision that the constitution of the state and of the United States shall always be in effect. The second provision declared that under no circumstance shall the right of habeas corpus be denied. The third was the usual provision that no citizen shall be deprived of life, liberty or property without due process of law. The fourth set forth that the military authority shall not supersede the civil powers except in cases of necessity and others provided for by law in open court for all criminal offenses.

The activity of the state authorities in connection with the strike will be investigated by the committee in view of these constitutional guarantees and the charge that the mine workers have not been accorded their full rights will be investigated with these provisions in mind.

Neither the attorneys for the mine operators nor the workers were prepared to begin the examination of witnesses when the committee opened its hearing this afternoon and the first witness was not called until the committee met tonight. A formidable array of counsel was on hand, however. Two lengthy preliminary statements were filed with the committee by attorneys for the operators. The first was filed for the operators generally and the second for the Paint Creek collieries company. Both these pleas of not guilty and both denied in detail and in tot the charges made in the resolution passed by the senate authorizing the inquiry. The operators in their brief made the counter charge that the United Mine Workers of America in its attempts to organize the coal miners in the West Virginia which has characterized the strike.

Deep Knowledge of Feasibility

"We know of no system of peonage and believe none exists or has been practiced in the fields," said the brief. "An investigation by the department of justice found no such system. It held specific denials were made that the postal service had been interfered with, that the immigration laws had been violated and that rights of citizens had been violated."

"On the question of the trials of citizens under martial law, the brief defended former Governor Glascock for declining martial law and Governor Hatfield for continuing it."

"The situation confronting the governor on September 2, 1912," said the brief "was a terrible one rarely since the days of 1861-65 has the executive of an American state had to face and act under similar circumstances." The proceedings under martial law the brief held, has been declared legal by the supreme court of appeals of the state. The operators declared they expect to prove that a conspiracy existed in which the United Mine Workers are the active parties for diminishing the competitive ability of West Virginia coal in the market and that the troubles in the Paint Creek and Cabin Creek fields are the direct results of such conspiracy. The operators declare they also expect to prove that firearms and ammunition were brought into the state for use in acts of lawlessness and violence designed to keep the Paint Creek and Cabin Creek mines idle until the United Mine Workers of America should be recognized.

The Health Teacher when here has proven to the people of Atlanta the same as he has in thousands of other cities that when the cause of their suffering and happiness into thousands of homes that heretofore have been misery and sorrow, not if we want to drag down no, but for health and strength. In some homes it was a darling baby or older child whose life seemed to be blinking slowly away in many cases it was women of some kind that a few doses of Quaker's Herb Extract would bring the worms, and they were made well. Some homes were sorrowful on account of a poor weak run-down mother who was dragging around from day to day at times more dead than alive, pain in the back, that tired languid feeling could not be near anything tight around her waist, stomach would belch belching shortness of breath, dizziness, head aches at times, sometimes did not care to live, had tried every treatment with no relief, but here is where the Quaker

Extract shows you Quaker is in a class by itself for it cures just these kind of cases and thousands of women and children are living witnesses to prove it.

The husband and father that provides for his family at 700 Power Street by occupation a meat cutter at a market on Cone street has had the most of the time had like a lump in his throat that he could not get up or down, he tried every remedy he could get to take pills, pellets, salts or something all the time to make them act, but the doctor told him to try Quaker's Herb Extract. He took it ten days, then he said "Give me three more bottles of Quaker's Herb Extract. It is the best medicine in the world, the pain is gone, my bowels are acting, my stomach does not belch my bowels are just acting fine and it's the only medicine I have made well. Call at Coursey & Munn's drug store, 23 Marietta street for the Quaker Herb Extract, 3 for $1.00 or 6 for $1.00. We prepay all express charges of $3.00 or over."

Mr. E. W. Gorman, who resides at Ninth street who was laid up three months with rheumatism in arms, shoulders, back and lower limbs so that he could never put his foot on the floor in weeks, tried every remedy without even relief, and two bottles of Quaker's Herb Extract cured him. She now feels like a girl no aches or pains and says that Quaker's Herb Extract is the best medicine she has ever had. One hundred dollars worth of other medicine.

This is the way the Health Teacher proves what he says. Quaker's Remedies cure everywhere all others fail. He called hundreds of people here had their hearing restored, sense of taste and smell all brought back people with stiff limbs and joints have been made well. Call at Coursey & Munn's drug store, 23 Marietta street for the Quaker Herb Extract, 3 for $1.00 or 6 for $1.00. We prepay all express charges of $3.00 or over.

TECH COMMENCEMENT COMES TO END TODAY

Dr. Herbert S. Bigelow Will Make the Graduation Address.

Washington, June 10.—As interpreted by the supreme court today upheld the constitutionality of the newspaper publicity law enacted as a part of the postal appropriation act of 1917.

The particular section attacked was to bar every newspaper and periodical from the mails unless the editors or owners filed with the postal department the names of the editors, owners, stockholders and bondholders before immediately publishing the statement. It also forbade publication of paid for articles without marking them as advertisements.

The Journal of Commerce and Commercial Bulletin of New York sought to have the United States district court for southern New York enjoin the postmaster general from enforcing the act on the ground that it was unconstitutional. The objection then raised was that the law held the government liable of the press. The government defended the law as a regulation of the use of the second class mail privileges.

MUST FACE TRIAL IN ITALIAN COURT

Porter Charlton Will Have to Answer Charge of Killing Bride on Honeymoon at Lake Como.

Washington, June 19.—Three years to a day after the discovery of the body of his wife in the waters of Lake Como, Italy, Porter Charlton lost his long fight against being turned over by his native land to the Italian government for trial on a charge of murder. The supreme court today sustained the state department's decision to deliver Charlton in compliance with Italy's demand.

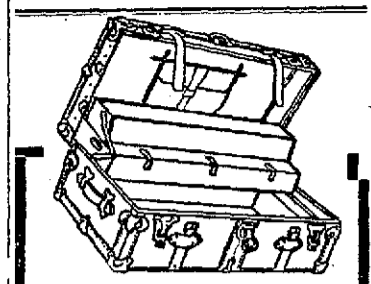

Charlton was a bank clerk in New York, and his father, Paul Charlton, a graduate of ex-President Taft, and until recently federal judge in Porto Rico. The young man has been held in jail in New Jersey since his arrest nearly three years ago.

Insanity was alleged as the main ground for opposing Charlton's removal to Italy, and it was further contended that the United States could not extradite one of its citizens to Italy, inasmuch as that country had refused to extradite its subjects to the United States. The supreme court held Charlton had no right to present evidence of his insanity at the extradition hearing, and that the contention as to the power to extradite was erroneous. Justice Lurton, in announcing the court's decision, however, stated that impressive evidence of insanity had been offered on Charlton's behalf. It is believed a way will be found to present this conclusion at Charlton's trial in Italy.

The "mandate" of the supreme court by which its decision will be made known officially to the New Jersey courts having jurisdiction over Charlton, will be issued shortly after the court adjourns for the summer, June 16. The Italian embassy here will take no further steps in the matter, leaving such action as may be necessary to the Italian consul general at New York.

LANFORD SILENT ON ROSSER'S CARD

Detective Chief Says He Has No Reply to Make to the Charges of Counsel for Leo M. Frank.

Following the public letter written yesterday by Luther Z. Rosser, counsel for Leo Frank, Detective Chief Newport Lanford said that he had no reply to make to the charges and that hereafter he intended to adopt a policy of silence.

should have been done heretofore." Lanford declared that Rosser's card is only an attempt to draw the detective chief into a newspaper controversy, which he intended to avert. "It is all a scheme—nothing else," he said, "and I do not propose to be made a victim."

The statement of Frank's counsel is a scathing arraignment of Chief Lanford and his department for alleged efforts to prove guilty a white man, against whom prejudice had been created, through the "lying" stories of a negro, against whom all "legitimate" suspicion already was directed.

Mr. Rosser's Statement.
Editor Atlanta Constitution: Felter and Lanford, in an effort to make progress in their feud, charge each other with giving aid to Leo Frank. Lanford charges that Felter was employed by Frank and is seeking for that reason to shield him. Felter charges Lanford and his associates are also seeking, for some reason, to shield and protect Frank.

Both charges are untrue and, at a time when no harm could come to an innocent man, might well be treated as antidotes to monotony. Unfortunately, however, the present situation is such that fair-minded citizens may be misled by these counter charges.

Felder does not, nor has he at any time directly or indirectly, incriminated Frank. For Lanford to charge the contrary does Frank a serious injustice.

Felder Against Frank.
If Chief Lanford had been in a sane, normal mood, he would have known that every act of Felter has been against Frank. The engagement of the Bureau agency ought to have satisfied Lanford. No detective agency of half-prudence would have double-crossed the Atlanta department in the Phagan case. Nor did Felter have excuse for suspicion against Lanford. There was reason to suspect his feigning, his accuracy and the soundness of his methods, but not his reckless zeal against Frank.

Leo Frank's Past.
His department has exhausted itself in an effort to fix upon Frank an immoral life, on the theory that a violator of the seventh commandment was likewise a murderer. This effort has failed. No man in Atlanta has had his moral character subjected to such a test and there is not in the whole city of Atlanta a half dozen men who could have more successfully stood the test.

His employees, without a single exception, have made affidavits to his uprightness. Lanford's department subpoenaed every one of them before the coroner's jury, and after keeping them more than two days did not dare to swear a single one of them.

Before and after the coroner's verdict this whole city has been combated with a due tooth comb and a like combing has been applied to Brooklyn, the city of his birth, to find something against his moral character. With what result? The silence of the detective department gives the answer.

"Divel and Non-sense"
Lanford's conduct in connection with the woman Formby and the negro Conley shows that he was stung by Felter's charge that he was favoring Frank, or that for some other reason he was temporarily out of his head.

He swallowed whole the statements of this Formby woman, bearing upon their face the clear proof that they were by no means to be believed.

This woman was not unknown to Lanford. She did not entrap him by appearing under the guise of a truthful, sober, virtuous woman. But so absorbed was he, either in trying to disprove Felter's charge or in the foolish pride of opinion, that he accepted without check or fair investigation the drivel and nonsense of this woman.

So far beside himself did he become that he had the folly to furnish to the papers, based upon this woman's statement, the theory that Frank, during the night of the murder, was seeking to do so in a room rented from this woman.

The folly and difficulties of the theory did not disturb Lanford. They would have disturbed anybody but Lanford. His insane desire to justify himself cleared the matter of all difficulties and follies.

Conley an Ignorant Negro.
If the case of the Formby woman did not clear Lanford of Felter's charge, that of the Conley negro ought to have done so.

open minds seeking only the murderer and not seeking to vindicate their announced opinions, the negro would have by this time told the whole truth. Conley made one statement. It did not meet the announced opinions of Lanford. He made another. This second was not up to the mark; it did not sufficiently show Frank's guilt. Another was made, which was supposed to be nearer the mark. Whereupon there was great rejoicing. Forgetting all others, this last statement—reached through such great tribulations—was proclaimed the truth, the last truth, and that there would be no other statement.

The detectives had at last got the statement which they thought sustained their views, saved their reputations and insured their places.

Fall of Contradictions.
But what a statement! So full of contradictions, so evidently made for self-protection and wherein was so easily apparent the guiding hand of detective. If Lanford meant to be fair, if he was only seeking the truth, why did he rush into print with the assertion that this statement was the truth and therefore of necessity the last? Might he not in decency have left this negro to his own will, unbiased by the opinion that the statement was true and the last to be given?

Who knows but that this negro might have given numerous other statements if he had not been so heavily handicapped by Lanford's opinion?

The truth is, this negro is not to give any other or further statement if the detective department can prevent it, unless made under their supervision and direction. He must, at all times, be under the influence and control of Lanford. He must have Lanford's sucking bottle at all times to his lips, sucking Lanford's views and theories of this case. The ragged places in his statement must be darned, the torn places patched, and no one but the detective department could be trusted to do that.

Thinks Conley Guilty.
No one has been rude enough to bring this negro before the grand jury, and indeed, to make any charge against him.

After the statement of this negro and in view of all the evidence which so strongly points to him as the slayer of little Mary Phagan, is the grand jury to leave him without charge or investigation to be wet-nursed by Lanford until Frank's trial?

Or is it the purpose to keep the negro's case from the grand jury in the nature of an offered reward to spur him on to swear his worst against the "white man"?

Would it not be just and decent to bring this negro's case before the grand jury and let that body hear his confession, so that it can then decide whether the negro should then be indicted?

In the shadow of this great crime let there be no thimble-rigging; let no single fact be concealed; let no man's place or reputation stand in the way of the fullest, fairest investigation.

Respectfully,
(Signed) LUTHER Z. ROSSER.

LIBERAL PARTY'S FUNDS INVESTED IN WIRELESS

London, June 19.—The purchase by Lord Murray of Ellbank of three thousand Marconi shares as an investment of the funds of the liberal party was shown by evidence given today to the parliamentary committee investigating the government wireless contracts.

The evidence further showed that Lord Murray was a creditor to the amount of $150,000 of an absconding stock broker who had been engaged in the Marconi dealings. There has been no evidence thus far, however, that more than $45,000 of the liberal party's funds was employed in the transaction.

Captain Arthur Cecil Murray, brother of Lord Murray, admitted on the stand that his brother's transactions were indiscreet, but thought they were not dishonorable.

A COUNTY-WIDE DEMAND

The public looks to the board of county commissioners at its meeting at 11 o'clock this morning to redeem the promise to find some immediate remedy for the horrible condition of Peachtree street

All the commissioners are agreed that the only permanent solution of the problem lies in resurfacing the street all the way from Fifteenth to Buckhead

The public will be satisfied with this plan but will not be satisfied with any plan that does not with a minimum of delay make the street negotiable without danger to life and traffic

It is fortunate that the county commissioners appear alive to the condition and that the stand committed to immediate measures of relief

SPEAKING OF "TRAVESTIES"

With one reckless leap our inadvertent contemporary The Memphis News-Sentinel joins the sob squad as follows

Let it be remembered that it is a travesty on justice to place in the attitude of "perpetrating" the latter formed on a "travesty on justice" to a travesty on truth, and only regret that our esteemed neighbor should have kept itself so ill informed as to be placed in the attitude of "perpetrating" the latter

These are the facts. They do not afford an iota of justification for the melodramatic rot that still bobs up here and there in the press

A LOGICAL AMENDMENT.

The favorable attitude of the people of Georgia toward the bond issue method of improving municipalities is indicated by the cordial reception the state press is accorded the suggestion of Judge John S. Candler of Atlanta looking to a simplification of that method

Such a change in the organic law is thoroughly logical. Surely it is impossible to secure a fairer or safer test than the one which prescribes the manner in which the fundamental law of the state may be altered

If a man is sufficiently interested in any election from that of a dog catcher on up to municipal bond issues he is going to the polls

The voting man's ballot is killed by that of the voter registered but either dead or absent from the city or detained by urgent business from the polls

On the side of safety there can be no quarrel with a constitutional amendment curtailing this flaw. The state constitution prohibits that no municipality may bond itself for an amount in excess of five per cent of its taxable values

REVISING PENAL METHODS

Judge T. F. Patterson of the state prison commission is inevitably on record as favoring a legislative commission to investigate and revise the penal system and the criminal procedure of Georgia

The plan as endorsed by Judge Patterson does not contemplate the probing of any particular department of the system but of the system as a whole

Being among the pioneers in the humane and profitable move of placing convicts on the highways Georgia may well lead the states in a sensible revision of her penal system and her court procedure

No doubt Secretary Bryan and Speaker Clark made a convenient map of the spot where they buried the hatchet

Aaron Burr, one of the most picturesque men in America in the early part of the past century

It was then that he formed the most gigantic plot ever conceived by an American some of the exact details of which will always remain a mystery

Burr was able to take in the whole situation and to foresee something big for himself in another direction

THE BABY'S NURSE

A Bulletin issued by the Georgia State Board of Health

Too little thought is given to the selection of the baby's nurse. Some people seem to have the idea that any old sort of a girl will do

Many a poor baby no doubt has become infected with one or more of the so-called social diseases by being nursed by a girl or woman of loose moral habits

It is important to have a good intelligent steward to help you bring your plants and flowers to perfection

Never allow the nurse or baby's grand mother or any one else to chew up food and give it to the baby

Don't Chew Food for Baby

Never allow the nurse or baby's grand mother or any one else to chew up food and give it to the baby

WEATHER RECORDS SMASHED TUESDAY

June 10th Was the Coldest 10th in Thirty-Five Years. Stores Dress Windows to Suit the Weather.

Atlanta, always breaking some record, smashed a few marks yesterday with ease, according to Weather Prophet Von Herrmann. To begin with it was the coldest June day since June 15, 1903, when the thermometer stood at 65 for a few seconds. Monday it reached as low as 52 at 7 a. m.

And, then, not to be outdone by other June days it was the coldest tenth of June for the past 35 years and taking it by the average for the day it was the coldest day in June with the exception of June 1, 1899, when the mercury averaged 54, a tie with Tuesday.

The highest was 85 at 3:30 o'clock in the afternoon. The average temperature for the first ten days of this month is 83.3 degrees, as against 73.6 degrees for the same period last year.

Although Atlanta has had rain every day so far this June, the precipitation, 52-100 inches, is far below last year's record of 37-100 inches, which was above the average for the first ten days of any June which is 1.31 100 inches. The rainfall Tuesday was only a trace.

Nature's attempt to equalize the temperature of the earth is the reason given by the prophet for the sudden change in temperature. The hot air rising at the equator causes the cold air from the north to rush southward, not regularly but spasmodically, and sudden changes in temperature such as this are experienced.

Atlanta Stores Dress Windows. Atlanta's fashionable shops not to be outdone by the freak of temperature, dressed their windows accordingly. One of the most notable ones installed an electric fan in the window which kept the air blowing all day and a well-known haberdasher filled one display window with nice f. t. hats and placed this sign in front: "Aren't you tired of that sticky old air?"

Overcoats were put to good use and more than the usual run of raincoats were seen. According to the weather bureau to day will be slightly warmer and tomorrow a great deal more so. Then the straws will again be in all their glory.

CAMP JOE BROWN, U. C. V., THANKS ITS FRIENDS

A resolution of thanks to the order of Owls and to their new friends in Atlanta for help and aid in carrying the veterans of Camp Joe Brown No. 1776 U. C. V. was adopted by a rising vote at the first regular meeting of the union at Chattanooga Monday night. The resolution follows:

DR. GRANT IS READY TO GO BEFORE JURY

It was announced yesterday that Dr. Horace Grant, who was subpoenaed to appear before the grand jury, could not be found. Dr. Grant was in the constitution office last night and show 1 his subpoena which was for the 14th of June and not the 10th.

Traffic Suddenly Stopped When Tech Boy Burlesquers Parade Through the City

Traffic was suddenly stopped and stores were deserted when the burlesque pageant players of the Georgia School of Technology took Atlanta by storm at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon, parading through the city to the tune of "In My Harlem" and other college favorites.

The pageant formed in front of the Tech Y. M. C. A. at the conclusion of the most brilliant class day exercises in the history of the school. Tech student band, clad as hobo musicians, with patched trousers, loud socks that were not mates and shoes that once had soles, played sweet music which roused the people in their homes on Peachtree and lined the streets with an expectant multitude which seeks the curbstone at the first sound of an approaching band.

Pretty Girls Cheer Them On.

In addition to the jokers who line up for every street parade, and the music lovers who can't resist a band, the streets were packed with pretty girls, the fair admirers of the Tech burlesquers. Some of them rode in automobiles near the procession, which marched down North avenue, Peachtree and Whitehall streets to the Terminal station. Other fair co-eds cheered the paraders from the street corners, and still others gathered in large groups, waving handkerchiefs at the fun-makers as they marched through the resident section of Atlanta.

The graduating class, clad in cap and gown led the procession, preceded only by the hobo band. Then followed Diogenes, the cynic clad in nothing but a ragged blanket, a lantern suit, holding aloft his red lantern looking for an honest man. His bare limbs like those of many ballet dancers and Fiji Islanders were protected from the cold by a special preparation of coco oil, so warm that when spectators snatched a whiff of the perfume, they held their noses and at the sight of the thinly-garbed performer, the paraders danced a merry jig because their limbs burned so that they could not stand still.

Some Startling Costumes.

In the parade, a living policeman followed closely on the heels of a ballet dancer who wore a smile. Her bleached blond heavy head of hair her decolleté costume which was slow in starting at the shoulders and which stopped suddenly above the knees and had a price card attached aroused the apprehension even of the policemen who caught sight of her but when informed that she was a Tech boy.

W. F. FAIN INDICTED, ACCORDING TO REPORT

Assistant Solicitor Stephens Practically Admits That Jury Has Acted

Although he would make no positive statement it was virtually admitted yesterday afternoon by Assistant Solicitor F. A. Stephens, the Police Commissioner, W. F. Fain had been indicted by the grand jury for disorderly conduct. There was a division of the vote but the majority was for indictment. It was said:

Two witnesses called before the grand jury told of rowdiness in a house at 40 East Harris street which occurred just after the Christmas holidays and in which the police commissioner was said to be involved. It was said that when call officers arrived into telephone communication with the police department.

Witnesses Tell Story.

These witnesses who both told the same story, were I. A. Skaggs an agent of the Southern Express company and Allen Young a real estate man.

The two said that shortly after the Christmas they complained to the police commissioner of a fight and general disorder in a house at 40 East Harris street and charged Police Commissioner W. F. Fain with being one of the principals.

FITZHUGH LEE GRANTED SECOND DIVORCE DECREE

Fitzhugh Lee was granted a second verdict in the superior court yesterday against his wife, Mrs. Carrie Lee, on the grounds of cruel treatment.

BOARD OF FIREMASTERS TO PASS ON HOSE BIDS

The board of firemasters will meet Friday to pass on the bids submitted on hose for the fire department. The board met Monday afternoon to canvass the bids which range from 60 cents to $110 per foot. Mayor Woodward was present at the opening of the bids, and declared that he was satisfied to once more see the department purchase its hose under competitive bids.

The city comptroller's department called for bids on 1,200 feet, but it is likely that the city will buy 2,000 feet. Mayor Woodward said that one of the bids at eighty cents was on hose of better quality than the city has been using. He would not state whether or not he would urge the board to purchase it.

White Hopes Are There.

Of course, Uncle Sam was there, and so was Jack Johnson and the "white hope." The Dam Parson, in fact, the whole Dam family, including Papa Dam, Mama Dam, U. B. Dam and the Dam dog, all tagged, were in the parade. There were nine Dam children, though Papa Dam was small and withered looking, and Mama Dam looked fit for a day's washing—and then some.

The Personal Appeal to Advertisers

Did you ever get a bit of advertising literature or read a newspaper advertisement that seemed to talk right at you?

A good many shrewd advertisers adopt that style of writing. It is in nearly every instance very convincing, it carries with it the spirit of earnestness, of intense self belief.

FIRST SERVICES HELD IN NEW SYNAGOGUE

The first services in the new synagogue, 344 Woodward avenue, were held last night by the congregation. Anshe-Stard when the opening of the Feast of Weeks was duly observed. A congregation of about seventy-five people was present, led by Cantor D. Steln. The services were carried out according to the chasidim traditions of the Hebrew faith, which stresses the value of unity in spirit and optimism.

RELIABLE GLASSES MODERATE PRICES

Surely everybody knows that a reliable and satisfactory pair of glasses is dependent on the skill and experience of the person making the examination, and that the price is controlled by the lens formulae (kind of lens required) and the style of the frames or mountings. Even though your circumstances are such that the price is of great consideration to you, the correct lenses should be of very first importance. We cannot imagine any better way to offer you our superior optical service (without seeming to boast) than to say we have served the public safely and satisfactorily for fifty years.

THREE FORWARD STEPS. NO BACKWARD STEP WILL BE TAKEN

The man had an unclean spirit. Fetters and chains he broke. No man could tame him. Night and day he raged and cut himself with stones. When he saw Jesus, he cried:

"What have I to do with thee, Jesus, thou Son of the Most High God? I adjure thee by God, torment me not."

Left to himself, he would have been hopelessly lost. A torture to himself—a terror to others until the end he would have remained, had Jesus heeded him. Against his will, he was cured. Friday, a girl stood in Court in Atlanta. She had sinned.

Offered the choice between the effort to reform and prison, she chose prison. Jane Addams says of another girl:

"Such demoralization is, of course, most valuable to the white slave trader, for when a girl has become thoroughly accustomed to the life and testifies that she is in it of her own free will, she puts herself beyond the protection of the law.

"She belongs to a legally degraded class without redress in courts of justice for personal outrages.

"It is easy to see why it thus becomes PART OF THE BUSINESS to break down a girl's moral nature by all those horrible devices which are constantly used by the owner of a white slave.

"A girl thus rendered more useful to her owner will thereafter fail to touch the chivalry of men or the tenderness of women because good men and women have become convinced of her innate degeneracy, a word we have learned to use with the conviction formerly placed upon original sin.

"The very revolt of society against such girls is used by their owners as a protection to the business."

Reflect!

That woman was not born unclean. God created her for motherhood. But man defiled and enslaved her. You will not approve this.

Moreover, when you once understand the truth—THAT A FALLEN WOMAN IS ONLY A GIRL WITH A MURDERED SOUL—you will sicken at the thought; you will help her; you will join in preventing others from falling into the same wretched trap.

Not all refuse help.

When the houses were closed, a girl, crying, begged to be taken home. Those who carried her there found her mother praying that God would find and bring back her daughter.

But some have been so mangled and marred that they must be protected from themselves and THE MEN WHO PREY UPON THEM.

And society must be protected.

For these—the incorrigibles—the County Commissioners are now preparing a home.

This will answer in Atlanta and Fulton County the question:

"What is to be done with the woman who can not or will not reform?"

She will be schooled under gentle but firm hands, backed by authority of the law, until she learns again the true meaning of womanhood.

She will not be put in the chaingang. She will not be dismissed with a fine. She will be saved from herself and owners.

While she is at large—

While the white slaver is encouraged to make others like her by the tolerated brothel—

Little can be done in solving the problem of the social evil.

The closing of the segregated district was the first step.

Martha's Home, for those willing to be helped, was the second.

The County Commissioners are now taking the third in preparing the Home for the Incorrigibles.

No backward step will be taken.

Bilt in Texas—Mrs. Leth Moncrief of this place says I suffered with a complaint peculiar to women and although I called in the doctors they failed to do me any good

Then I began to take Cardui the woman's tonic

From the first dose I could feel results and in a short time I was relieved of all my dreadful suffering

My friends were surprised to see the results I obtained from the use of Cardui. I just couldn't help telling them about it

I don't want to tell without Cardui unless I can get as I can obtain it. It is a true relief for womanly troubles. I can't praise it too highly

FRANK RHODES FAVORS NEW COUNTY CLAIMS

Winder's Appeal to Legislature Is Just One, Declares the Representative

Representative Frank Rhodes of Clarke county is of the opinion as the result of having talked to a number of other members of the legislature that the general assembly this year will deal with the new county problems which come before it purely on a basis of merit. In other words he takes the view that new county creation will be put upon a purely business basis and that politics will be largely eliminated from the movement

Upon this basis said Mr. Rhodes Winder which is one of the very best cities in Georgia and which is now most unfortunately situated is certainly entitled to a new county. You can sit on a big rock in the middle of the main street in Winder and put one leg in Gwinnett, the other leg in Jackson and lean back a little bit until your head is in Walton county

Aside from the other grounds upon which Winder's claim to a new county must appeal to justice and reason it is easy to see how this situation is productive of numerous complications. Speaking for the people of Metter located in the extreme western end of Bulloch county Secretary F. H. Sills of the Chandler county movement said he hoped the legislature would make a purely business proposition of new county creation this year

It is purely a matter of business with us said Mr. Sills and viewed in that light he has nothing what he has to fear. Through the exertion of our part, the older members of the legislature have learned pretty well all the difficulties under which we labor and our need for a new county. It is a matter of standing upon our own merits and the 1,000 people in the territory involved in the Chandler county movement are practically a solid unit for its creation

ATLANTA BOYS PLAN BIG SUMMER OUTING AT CAMP SAPPHIRE

With two months of swimming rowing fishing and sleeping a group of Atlanta boys are planning to enjoy a big summer outing during the months of July and August at Lake Park lake in the heart of the Sapphire county of North Carolina. Camp Sapphire as it is known will draw from seventy five to 100 boys from all parts of the city and vicinity on July 3 and lasting for eight weeks. Among the Atlanta boys planning to attend are Woods White Jr. John and Allen Whitaker, Edward Newell and Professor Henry G. Bedin. The group will be one of twenty-five 'councilors' who will have charge of the boys at camp, among the others being Coach I. P. Graham of Stone Mountain who will carry a party of boys from that place, and Enoch Brown, Jr. and H. I. Morgan, of Vanderbilt university

DR. HULL ELECTED HEAD OF ATLANTA SUPERINTENDENTS

At the monthly meeting of the Atlanta association of Sunday school superintendents held last night at the Wesley Memorial church Dr. Marion McH. Hill who is superintendent of the North Avenue Presbyterian Sunday school was elected president of the body for the ensuing year

John S. Stalling superintendent of the Second Baptist was elected secretary. The most important result of the meeting was the decision of the association not to advance after the summer months which has been custom during past years but to continue the meetings regularly and to make every effort to stimulate the Sunday school work during the trying summer months

The retiring president, George Hinman, addressed the meeting and short talks were also made by John S. Spalding, J. W. Awtry, Dr. Hill and C. V. LeCraw the latter explaining the details of the new publicity arrangement for exchanging reports every week through the columns of the press. C. V. LeCraw was elected secretary and every man present avowed his endorsement and cooperation. The next meeting of the association will be held July 13 at the North Avenue Presbyterian church

Sale of a Cottage on Houston Street to Negro Family Stirs People in Neighborhood

When the police committee of council meets Wednesday afternoon, Councilman Claude L. Ashley, of the fourth ward will lead a delegation of citizens and property owners to urge the adoption of the ordinance to segregate the negroes in Atlanta

The sale of a cottage in Houston street between North Jackson and North Boulevard written was formerly owned and occupied by whites, to a negro family now moving in, has stirred the white residents of the neighborhood. Councilman Ashley said Tuesday that conditions were becoming worse in the fourth ward and unless something is done to stop the invasion of negroes in white neighborhoods property values will deteriorate and white families be forced from their homes

I feel certain that the ordinance will be adopted by council when it reaches there said Councilman Ashley Tuesday. I am informed by some of the leading constitutional lawyers in Atlanta that the ordinance will stand a test in the supreme court. It has been adopted in Richmond Va. and Baltimore Md. and is working out admirably

The ownership of the stock in the Magnolia company by the Standard Oil officials has been admitted through out but Mr. Brown replied emphatically that Mr. Archbold and Mr. Folger hold the stock as an individual. BEST REPORTS FROM ALL OF THE MARKETS

COTTON WAS ACTIVE AND CLOSED HIGHER

All Positions Made New High Ground for the Movement.

New York, June 10.—The cotton market was active today and at times showed considerable excitement, with all positions making new high ground for the movement. The close was steady and from 5 to 18 points net higher.

The opening was firm at an advance of 4 to 12 points in response to higher late cables from Liverpool, larger English spot sales and reports that a favorable breaking of the Indian monsoon would mean another year of good business in Lancashire.

Merchandise reports were considered generally favorable and southern crop advances continued of an optimistic average. There was an active demand for old crop positions, while the selling was limited and the buying was irregularly priced.

The unsettled state of affairs in the stock market was considered by some an unfavorable indication as to general trade conditions in the future, but Wall street houses were active buyers to cover shorts and during the early afternoon demand became more active owing to reports of excessive rainfall and low night temperatures in the eastern belt.

July contracts led the advance, as there were very few sell orders active. The position sold up to 12.25, or 37 points above the closing figures of last night. New crop positions meanwhile sold 17 to 19 points net higher, but after the execution of stop orders, which had been caught on this return, the market met heavy realizations.

Closing prices were several points off from the best. Houses with French and other continental connections were buyers of near months and newly new crop deliveries. Liverpool cotton was active and during the early afternoon demand became more active owing to reports of excessive rainfall and low night temperatures in the eastern belt.

Spot cotton quiet, 10 points up; middling uplands 12.33; do. gulf 13.60; sales, none.

ATLANTANS SCORE BIG HIT IN PARADE

Ad Men Make Fine Showing in Baltimore Line—Meet the President Today.

By Fred Homer.
Baltimore, Md., June 10.—(Special.) Atlanta made the hit of the occasion in the great pageant that wound up the first day of the "Ad" Men's convention here last night. It was estimated by Marshall Farnham that 125,000 people lined the route of the great parade. More than 400 policemen were required to keep the crowds on the sidewalks in line. In spite of the size of the throng, however, there was no disorder.

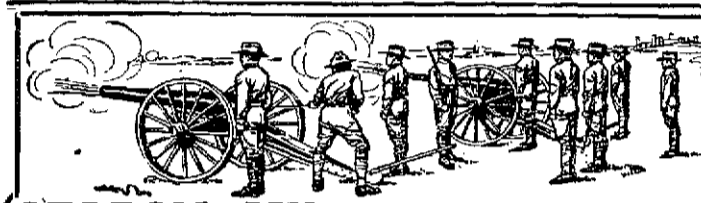

The Atlanta delegation made a splendid showing and were loudly cheered throughout. They formed on the open plaza in front of Marsh market, headed by W. S. Lounsbury, who wore a great fur shako and had a huge electric light attached to his belt. The light was covered with a globe bearing the words "Atlanta always ahead." Each member of the Atlanta delegation wore a light, gray suit and carried an electric light and umbrella.

NO MORE DECISIONS IN STATE RATE CASES

Supreme Court Reserves Additional Decisions Until Monday, Final Decision Day.

By John Corrigan, Jr.
Washington, June 10.—(Special.)—Absence from today's session of the supreme court of Justice Hughes, who is understood to be preparing decisions in most of the Missouri, Arkansas, Oregon, Kentucky and West Virginia railroad rate cases, caused final action in these cases to go over until the last decision day, June 16.
Just before the court convened a rumor arose that a dissenting opinion in the Minnesota rate cases would be announced. The court had adjourned yesterday immediately after Justice Hughes concluded announcing the court's decision. None was forthcoming, however.
Decision of the remaining rate cases is awaited as likely to throw additional light on the methods of valuing railroad property for rate making purposes, a subject dealt with in the Minnesota case.

Ready to Begin Work.
All the decisions are being awaited anxiously by the interstate commerce commission, which is launching forth on the task of making a physical valuation of all the railroad property in the United States.
On account of the widespread public interest in the Minnesota decision the senate today ordered the printing of 10,000 copies as public documents.
No supplemental legislation will be passed by congress as the result of yesterday's decision of the supreme court in the Minnesota rate case, according to those in a position to know.
The court's decision leaves the railroads where they have always been since the passage of the Hepburn act, between the upper and lower millstones of federal and state regulations. There they must stay until congress releases them.

AT THE THEATERS.

Musical Comedy Tabloid.
(At the Bijou).
Wally Brooks and his clever company are scoring the biggest hit of the season with "Miram at the Cabaret" at the Bijou. This attraction is just the sort that appeals to lovers of amusement. The comedy is wholehearted and keeps the audience laughing throughout the performance. The musical numbers are up-to-date and catchy, and are receiving numerous encores. The scenic effects are unusual, so much so as to receive rounds of applause when the curtain goes up on the second act, and the costumes that are worn by both principals and chorus are decidedly fetching.

Keith Vaudeville.

(At the Forsyth).
Keith excellence of the bill of vaudeville at the Forsyth this week has attracted attendance that is exceptionally large even for the busy theater. Signor Travata, the eccentric violinist, has created a sensation. His work has been a treat to music lovers, and his eccentric mannerisms exactly suit the typical vaudeville audiences. Chink Sale is about the cleverest character artist that has been seen on the local stage. The novelty hit of the bill must be credited to Roehm's Athletic Girls, a combination of pretty young ladies who fence, box, wrestle and punch the bag.

INCREASE OF CRIMINALS BLAMED ON IDLE RICH

Washington, June 10.—Increase in the number of "idle rich" is producing a class of criminals in this country almost faster than the police can cope with it, according to Representative Borland, of Missouri, who today addressed the convention of International Association of Chiefs of Police. Mr. Borland declared that "idle rich" set a pernicious example in their search for amusement and aroused a desire of envy on the minds of persons of small means.
The result, he said, was to tempt poorer folk into indiscretions and crime to obtain money. The cabaret show he declared to be one of the main causes for the spread of the social evil.

North Side Acreage

Most all of us have looked with envy upon our more fortunate acquaintances who have for years and years owned an "OLD FARM" in north Fulton county and who have sold out lately at the present value of the land, making a fortune over the original price.
We are going to offer a magnificent tract of 136 acres, 3 1/2 miles from Buckhead and 9 miles from the city, at regular "OLD FARM PRICES." This land is on one of the most popular roads in Fulton county, thereby always assuring it of a ready market. If you are in the market for a splendid investment phone us and we will be glad to call and give you full particulars.

For Rent—Edgewood Avenue Storeroom

You will find at 161 Edgewood avenue, between Courtland and Piedmont, a desirable small storeroom and we have just received instructions to reduce the rate to $25.00 per month. This is a good stand for almost any kind of business.
