Chicago Conferees Announce They Will Seek to Unite Republican Party With the Roosevelt Organization

CONVENTION PROPOSED TO EFFECT COALITION

Radical Changes Suggested in Party Affairs, I specially With Reference to Conduct of National Conventions

Chicago, May 1.—That a union of the progressive part with the Republican party is the first step in the plan to effect a coalition, was the subject of a two day conference at which the Republican leaders outlined plans for reorganizing the party.

Henry C. Hadley, former governor of Massachusetts, who with Senator Cummings of Iowa and Senator Shuman of Illinois, will discuss the coalition at the conference. He said that the desire to have the party back in the party with the Roosevelt party was the main object of the coalition. He said that the coalition was not to be effected by any such means as the passing of resolutions by the party, but rather by a remodeling of the party in the party with the Roosevelt party.

The conference will be held at the United States hotel in Chicago. It will be held on the 15th and 16th of the month. The conference will be held at the United States hotel in Chicago. It will be held on the 15th and 16th of the month.

Headed by Committee of Condition

It is to be inferred that the republicans who met here desire to have adherents of the progressive party come into the ranks of the republicans. Mr. Hadley was asked:

Manifestly so, he replied. The coalition is to be effected by a remodeling of the party with the Roosevelt party. He said that the coalition was not to be effected by any such means as the passing of resolutions by the party, but rather by a remodeling of the party in the party with the Roosevelt party.

The changes will be made on a basis of representation. A recognition of the result of direct primaries and a direct method of taking up the credentials.

Does the suggestion to reunite the party mean that those who joined the progressive party are to be asked to come back? Senator Cummings was asked:

It means just as I have said before. It is a question of the party with the Roosevelt party. He said that the coalition was not to be effected by any such means as the passing of resolutions by the party, but rather by a remodeling of the party in the party with the Roosevelt party.

The following statement was given out:

At an informal conference of the republicans held at the United States hotel in Chicago, May 1, it was voted that an committee be appointed to study the conditions of the party and to report thereon at a later date.

ATLANTA'S SYSTEM OF SEWAGE LAID

Inhoff Tank Feature, as Embraced in the Local Half-Million Plant, Will Be Used for Orange, N. J.

A sewage disposal plant of 14,000,000 gallons daily capacity with the Inhoff tank feature as embraced in Atlanta's half million dollar plant will be erected in Orange, N. J. if the recommendation of a majority of the members of the aldermanic board of that city is carried out.

Nine aldermen and two members of the advisory committee of Orange who came to Atlanta Sunday to make an inspection of the three plants declared themselves as being positively opposed to the Inhoff system before they saw Proctor creek in operation. After a close inspection of the process ten of the seven visitors expressed themselves as being satisfied that Atlanta has the best system in the world.

Favor Inhoff System

Full aldermen said that they would join in a report favoring the Inhoff system such as Atlanta has adopted. The two committeemen Dan F. Gallagher and Stewart Lindsey will favor a report recommending the system for Orange.

Atlanta is a wonderful city, said Henry T. Stetson, a member of the aldermanic board. I have never seen a city of such progress, enterprise and industry. The last time I was here two years ago I was struck with what I saw but this visit has opened my eyes. Atlanta is the pillar of manufacturers of the world to look at.

Orange, the progressive little city of the Jersey state is confronted with a greater problem of sewage disposal than was Atlanta. All sewage from Orange, East Orange, and Montclair is dumped into the Passaic river. The last legislature of New Jersey made it from Orange to Jersey City, a distance of 100 miles. As a consequence seven municipalities are up against a situation which demands immediate attention and Orange has its aldermen look at the best there is in the country.

Disposal Plant Plans

One plan is to erect on disposal system for the three municipalities and another is a scheme of the Passaic valley commission to run a sewerage line to the harbor of New York through the State of New York and the United States government has later offered an injunction which threatened to eliminate that plan. The Orange officials believe it will be cheaper to invest $250,000 in a sewage system of its own thereby saving the taxpayers the 52 per cent they would have to pay by going into the system proposed by the commission.

Alderman Stetson believes that the Inhoff tank system will be the thing for Orange especially so in view of the fact that the system will not be taxed with the drain or trade wastes. It will be sufficient to take care of the three municipalities. Atlanta's three plants will have a total capacity of 16,000,000.

Will Go to Savannah

The visitors will leave Atlanta Tuesday morning for Savannah. They will be taken to the boat back to New Orleans. He will leave the Crescent city Wednesday on the steamer "Florida" for New Orleans. In the party were Alderman P. H. Smith, Harry T. Stetson, Charles J. Coyne, Charles A. Lemaster, John Keaster, Patrick A. Quinn, Owen P. Dolan, Owen P. Casey and Christopher Freeman. Dan T. Gallagher and Stewart Lindsey, members of the advisory committee were in the party.

EXPERT ON PAVING SELECTED MONDAY

August Christliff, of Baltimore, Will Be Appointed Assistant to Captain Donaldson

August Christliff, a paving expert of Baltimore, will be appointed assistant to Captain T. J. Donaldson, superintendent of the stockade. It is expected when the county commissioners meet in special session next Thursday to consider bids on the new contract.

Condition of Flagler

West Palm Beach, Fla., May 12.—Henry M. Flagler, the railroad and hotel magnate who is critically ill at his home here, was reported to be resting well today. Physicians stated, however, that there was no material change in his condition.

MY SON INNOCENT, DECLARES MOTHER OF LEO M. FRANK

"I Am Confident That He Will Be Proven Not Guilty of This Terrible Crime," She Tells Reporter

HAS NOT SEEN HER SON SINCE HE WAS MARRIED

W. J. Burns Secured to Take Charge of Phagan Mystery Investigation—Engaged by Friends of Murdered Girl

ANOTHER ARREST EXPECTED IN PHAGAN MYSTERY CASE

It was reported on good authority this morning that officers working upon the Mary Phagan murder would make a new arrest today or tomorrow which is expected to throw an entirely new light upon the case.

None of the officials have discussed this new phase of the mystery and whether or not their activity of the past few days has resulted in the unearthing of clues leading to an arrest is unknown.

My son is entirely innocent but it is a terrible thing that even a shadow of suspicion should fall upon him. I am sure of his innocence and am confident that he will be proven not guilty of this terrible crime.

Mrs. Rudolph Frank, aged mother of Leo M. Frank, who is held in the lower as a suspect in the Mary Phagan mystery case, made this statement yesterday afternoon to a representative of The Constitution at her home in Brooklyn.

She had just informed her friends of the arrest of her son in Atlanta and of the charge made against him in the case. She had not told them earlier because of her belief that he would be quickly set at liberty.

Mrs. Frank has not seen her son since she came south with her husband to attend his marriage. It is probable, however, that she will soon come again to be with him at the trial.

Last night The Constitution received the following telegram from its New York representative:

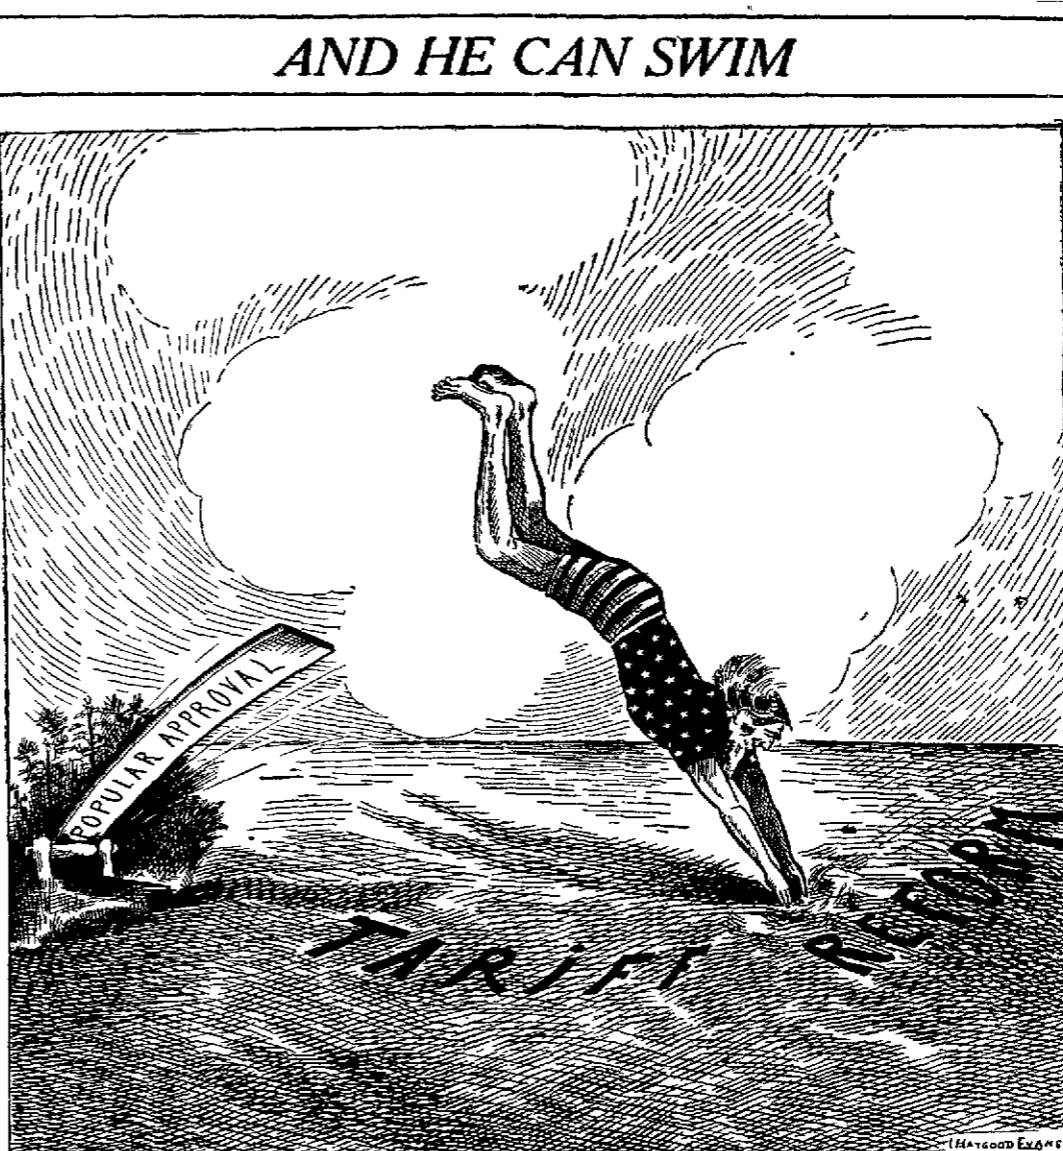

Story From New York

New York, May 12.—(Special)—Mrs. Rudolph Frank of No. 162 Underhill avenue, Brooklyn, mother of Leo M. Frank, general superintendent of the National Penicillin company of Atlanta, Ga., made it known to her friends today that she had received news from Atlanta that her son has been held for the grand jury in connection with the murder of Mary Phagan, 14 year old employee of the company.

Mrs. Frank has not seen her son since two years ago last fall when she and her husband went to Atlanta to be present at his marriage.

Leo Frank, although only 29 years old, has advanced so rapidly and was so well thought of by his employers that he was given charge of all three plants of the company, at Atlanta, Young Frank went south about six years ago. He is a Cornell graduate and is very highly thought of and greatly respected in Atlanta according to his mother's statement. He is a church man, has taken a leading part in organized charitable work and is a member of several clubs in the southern city.

I know my son is entirely innocent but it is a terrible thing that even a shadow of suspicion should fall upon him, said Mrs. Frank. You see my boy was the last one so far as the police know who saw the girl alive.

DECATUR TO HAVE $100,000 HOTEL

Board of Trade Is Now Negotiating With Northern Capitalists and the Deal Will Soon Be Closed

By Richard J. Brayley.

The Decatur board of trade is negotiating with northern capitalists for the erection of a $100,000 hotel in Decatur and it is expected that the deal will be closed some time in the near future according to the announcement of Robert C. Ramspeck, secretary of the board of trade.

One of the men interested was in Decatur last week looking for a suitable site. Two sites in the center of town are under consideration one of which is expected to be selected.

Part of Progressive Program

The negotiations to bring the new hotel to Decatur is a part of the progressive program which the board of trade has recently put into effect. In addition to this improvement the board of trade has raised $40,000 for the improvement of Decatur's streets and a part of this fund is now being expended in that work. The Dekalb county convict farm is now cherting McDonough Candler and Oak streets as well as portions of Ponce de Leon and College avenues.

Both Atlanta and Decatur realty men believe that Decatur is awakening to the responsible position she occupies as a residential suburb. Climatic conditions are good and the location of Decatur is ideal.

Good Suburban Service

Within thirty minutes of the heart of Atlanta the town has excellent suburban electric car service. And in addition to this the highways between Decatur and Atlanta are kept in fine condition for automobiles.

North Decatur merges directly into Druid Hills which leads to the fourth many people that it is only a matter of time until the territory between Atlanta and the sister city will be built up so solidly that there will be virtually but one city.

Decatur offers extraordinary inducements as a residential suburb by reason of its educational facilities. It has fine and not overworked public school system with buildings in easy reach of all sections of the town. Besides this is the Agnes Scott college for young women an institution distinctly Decatur's and one of which she is justly proud.

Local News in Constitution Gathered By the Emory Boys

The Constitution this morning is the most unique edition in its own history and perhaps, the most unique in the history of any big daily newspaper in the United States. The entire edition having been reported and edited by members of the class of Journalism of Emory college.

Thirty strong the Emory newspaper scribes from Emory have into The Constitution office Monday morning rolled up their sleeves and went after the dope, tooth and nail.

At 2 o'clock in the afternoon when the regular reportorial staff men reported for duty three of the Emory men were assigned to each reporter and sent out on the day's rounds.

The opening of business Monday morning, which was Tag day found the city sacked and the citizens in the power of an army of fair invaders. All day long merry warfare was waged upon pedestrians all of whom came to the realization that war is not all that a certain former invader of Atlanta declared it to be and surrendered to without resistance.

The receipts of Monday were not counted last night but Mrs. W. S. Elkin of the committee in charge of the campaign stated last night that she believed the receipts would run between $4,500 and $5,000.

SULTAN NOT TRUSTED BY AMERICAN COURT TO COERCE GUATEMALA

Turkish Ruler No More Than His Humblest Subject to Justice Davis

New York, May 12.—The sultan of Turkey through his legal representative was notified today that in an American law court his position is the same as that of his humblest subject. The question of the sultan's right as a litigant arose in the state supreme court, which has before it the Turkish ruler's suit to get possession of $100,000 insurance money on the life of H. S. Tavshanjan, a wealthy Armenian merchant who was assassinated here in 1907.

The policy in question was in favor of Mr. Tavshanjan's mother who until her death three years ago resided in Armenia. Justice Davis heard arguments today on the demurrer to the sultan's action interposed by the defendants of the Tavshanjan estate in New York. These defendants asked that the sultan give the customary security for the payment of costs. Justice Davis said he had received a letter from the Turkish consul general here requesting that in view of the plaintiff's distinguished rank he be released from this obligation. In denying the request, Justice Davis said it did not matter whether a plaintiff was a potentate or one of his subjects, and that kings and emperors should not import their domestic affairs into American courts.

LEADERS OF ARMY OF PRESBYTERIANS COME TOMORROW

Special Trains From Philadelphia and New York Will Roll Into Atlanta at 12:55 O'Clock on Wednesday.

ATLANTA HOMES OPEN TO 1,500 COMMISSIONERS

Conferences Will Be Held This Afternoon and Wednesday—Assembly Meets on Thursday

By C. S. Morris

Beginning Wednesday at noon the delegates and visitors to the general Presbyterian assembly will pour into Atlanta. Special trains from New York and Philadelphia will arrive at 12:55 o'clock tomorrow to be followed later in the afternoon by a number from Pennsylvania and other points in the east and from the west. The attendance from local points will arrive from Wednesday afternoon to Thursday morning.

By Thursday noon it is expected that 1500 accredited commissioners from the various Presbyteries of the United States and Canada and 2,000 visitors coming from all points in the United States, Canada, Mexico, Alaska and from across the waters will have arrived.

Ample arrangements have been made for the entertainment of all visitors and delegates by the committee on hospitality. In entertaining this vast assemblage Atlanta as usual will carry out her boast of being the most hospitable city of the south. The hosts will be notified as to their guests to day.

All Will Help Entertain

While it is called a Presbyterian assembly all denominations will have a great deal of interest in the proceedings. The Methodists, Baptists, Catholics and Jews opening their doors wide as well as the Presbyterians to the great crowd of visitors. A conference on education will begin this afternoon in the First Baptist church at 3 o'clock which will be attended largely by the advance guard of the assemblies. This session will continue through Wednesday, with a big meeting at the Harris Street Presbyterian church at 8 p. m. Wednesday. This will end the preliminary conferences, and will lead up to the one day session and joint mass meeting in the Auditorium Army Thursday night, at which James McDonald, managing editor of the Toronto Globe and one of the foremost laymen in the world will speak.

Program for Wednesday

The complete program for Wednesday is as follows:

Conference on Evangelism—North Avenue Presbyterian church beginning Wednesday morning being a joint conference of all commissioners.

ever held in the history of the world. Hundreds of thousands of people will be in attendance from all parts of the world. Dr. H. H. Bell, of the United Presbyterian church; Dr. J. H. Presley, of the Associated Reform Presbyterian church; and Dr. K. Orr, a prominent layman of Atlanta, will address the meeting.

Moderators Retire.

Dr. Mark A. Matthews, of Seattle, Presbyterian church, and Dr. Thomas Washburn, moderator of the Northern S. C. Synod, of Austin, Tex., moderator of the southern church, will retire from their positions Thursday. Dr. Matthews will deliver his farewell address as moderator of the Baptist Tabernacle Thursday morning. Dr. Glyce delivering his last sermon at the North Avenue Presbyterian church. Both services will be held at 10:30 a. m.

Dr. Matthews' Interesting Career.

One of the interesting personalities present will be Dr. Mark A. Matthews, president of the American Presbyterian assembly. He was born in a one-room frame house in Cahoon, Ga., in 1837. After completing his course at the local school, he worked on a cotton plantation. He then studied law, and in this way acquired a splendid education. While a mere boy he showed religious bent, and at the age of 19 he was licensed to preach. Though he was opposed by his father, and great difficulties arose in his path, he climbed step by step to the highest position in the greatest presbytery in the world.

His sermons carry with them that element of force and spiritual wisdom that is acquired only by those divinely called and those who have applied themselves fully to their vocation. He will be heard here several times.

Big Mass Meeting Sunday.

One of the many interesting features of the assembly will be the Sunday school missionary mass meeting, to be held Sunday afternoon, May 18, at 3 o'clock, in the Central Presbyterian church, when Dr. A. L. Phillips will preside.

The purpose of the meeting is to instruct the Sunday school leaders from the platform, concerning Presbyterian missions.

The addresses of the afternoon will be "The Value of Missionary Education in the Sunday School," by Rev. Charles R. Watson, D.D., of Philadelphia, Pa., followed by a demonstration of a missionary opening exercise, entitled "America's Home," presented by the young people of the Central Presbyterian church. Other interesting and instructive numbers will follow, presented by Mrs. D. E. Wald, of New York; George Innes, of Philadelphia; and Rev. W. Halsey, D.D., of New York. An after-meeting will be held, in which the instruction of missions in the Sunday school will be discussed. A large chorus, under the direction of Professor Joseph McEwen, will furnish the meeting with special music.

Prominent Men Attend.

Among the eminent men attending the assembly will be Rev. Mark A. Matthews, D.D., of Seattle, Wash., returned moderator of the U. S. A. assembly, Philadelphia, Pa., moderator of the U. S. A. assembly, Austin, Texas, returned moderator of the southern Presbyterianism; Rev. Hugh H. Bell, D.D., of San Francisco, Cal., returned moderator of the western Presbyterian assembly; Rev. J. S. Lyons, D.D., of Louisville, Ky., U. S. assembly; Rev. D. F. McGill, D.D., of Pittsburg, Pa., stated clerk of U. S. A. assembly; Rev. William H. Faulkner, D.D., of Washington, D. C., secretary of ministerial relief and sustenance, U. S. A. assembly; Professor John Coulter, of University of Chicago, U. S. A. assembly; Rev. Wallace Radcliffe, D.D., of Washington, D. C., secretary of the U. S. A. assembly; Rev. W. McF. Alexander, D.D., LL.D., pastor of Prynian Street Presbyterian church, New Orleans, La., southern U. C. assembly; Rev. Thomson Whaling, president of Columbia Theological seminary, and commissioner from South Carolina; Rev. William H. Roberts, D.D., LL.D., stated clerk, U. S. A. assembly for the past thirty years. Dr. Roberts will arrive in the city tomorrow. Rev. David G. Wylie, D.D., Ph.D., LL.D., pastor of the Scotch Institutional church of New York city.

Will Speak on Missions.

Rev. W. R. King, D.D., of Monmouth, Ill., who has just returned from a trip around the world in the interest of Presbyterianism, will deliver an interesting and instructive lecture Wednesday evening in the interest of missions at the First Presbyterian church at 8 o'clock p. m. Following Dr. King's address Dr. Henry S. Coffin, of New York, will deliver an address.

Among other hospitalities extended to the delegates and visitors will be the reception given by the Atlanta Presbyterian assembly at the city hall, Tuesday afternoon, on the grounds of Agnes Scott college from 3:30 to 5:30 o'clock. Arrangements have been made for transportation to and from the grounds.

Oneness of Presbyterianism.

The oneness of Presbyterianism, according to Rev. William H. Roberts, is that they have the same fundamental faith; the belief that the Bible is the Word of God; that they believe in Jesus Christ as the only begotten Son of God and the only Savior from sin; the principles of church government are the same; that their belief in worshiping in spirit rather than form is the same, and that their common history is the same, as they are children of the great Protestant Reformation in Europe of the sixteenth century.

NOT ALARMING, SO WILSON SAYS OF JAP QUESTION

Discussion of California Alien Land Law by Japan and United States on Friendly Lines.

NOTHING AGGRESSIVE IN JAPANESE PROTEST

President Wilson Believes the Question Can Be Settled by Diplomacy if California Will Only Delay Action.

Washington, May 12.—The administration tonight was awaiting a reply either by message or by action from Governor Johnson to Secretary Bryan's telegram of last night requesting that he veto the alien land-owning bill passed by the California legislature and give the state department an opportunity to deal diplomatically with the problem involved.

In some quarters it had been expected that the text of the Japanese protest would be given publicity today, but apparently the officials concluded that publicity at this stage would only embarrass the negotiations. Therefore the state department declined to make any statement as to the precise nature of the Japanese communication and the secretary in answer to inquiry on that point, simply pointed to his own message of last night in which he referred to the Japanese communication as "a very earnest protest."

Whether the protest went outside of the treaty and claimed a violation of the principles of international law in discrimination against the Japanese, or was an allegation that the spirit if not the letter of the treaty had been infringed by the California legislature, the secretary would not say. In fact, he had not deemed it expedient to acquaint even Governor Johnson with the details of the communication.

Secretary Bryan is known that legislation in California is postponed the state department will undertake to deal diplomatically with the Japanese government regarding the whole subject of alien land ownership as affecting Japanese in America. Many who decline to indicate the course that will be followed by the department in the event that his appeal is disregarded by the California executive.

Nothing Alarming, Says Wilson.

President Wilson believes negotiations between Japan and the United States over the alien land legislation in California are not an alarming stage, but that the interchange of views thus far have been along frank and friendly lines calculated to remove the appearance of discrimination against Japan on the subject of the Webb bill, which took the position that the Webb bill would not violate the treaty between Japan and the United States. He intimated that Japan's protest was not founded upon a claim that the treaty would be broken in any way, but upon the feeling that there was an effort to discriminate against Japanese on the ground of their alleged ineligibility to citizenship.

The president revealed that the question of naturalization had not yet entered into the discussion with the Japanese ambassador, but that, of course, underlying that, it was realized that federal courts had not finally passed upon the question of legislation.

It was upon the basis that Japanese were not accorded the privileges of citizenship that the appearance of discrimination written in the bill had arisen, and it was intimated that the white house that for the present the hope was that the legislation in California either would be vetoed by Governor Johnson, or delayed by a referendum to permit smoothing over some features of the situation.

Japan Not Aggressive.

President Wilson endeavored to make it plain that the greatest frankness had prevailed between the two governments even to the abandonment of many diplomatic formalities.

The conferences thus far between Secretary Bryan and President Wilson and the Japanese ambassador were described as being those of "one gentleman to another."

Intimations that the Japanese protest itself was couched neither in vigorous nor aggressive language, but was formal and friendly in character, came from the president himself during his talk today and it was pointed out that the phrase "a very earnest protest" employed by Secretary Bryan in his message to Governor Johnson was the description of the note which the

"HAIR TRIGGER" RULE DENOUNCED BY TAFT

Ex-President Tells Students of Yale That Sort of Government Favorable Roosevelt Favors.

New Haven, Conn., May 12.—In his fourth lecture on "Some Questions of Modern Government" at Yale today, Professor William H. Taft, characterized the form of government advocated by the progressives as "hair trigger" and "leading to anarchy and despotism of the majority." Professor Taft's statements were made in connection with his discussion of the recall of legislative and administrative officers. He promised to discuss which embodied the recall of judges, at a later date.

"The objection to the recall is not that it takes away the office from the official," he said, "but that it is an obstacle to the efficiency of government. Men do not administer government fearlessly, under government of which the recall is a part, but administer it so that their enemies may have an opportunity to make malicious attacks upon them. Government is for the purpose of accomplishing something. Had men like Washington, Lincoln, Jefferson and Adams, these things would probably all have been recalled. Time has since said of them, 'well done, thou good and faithful servant.'"

Such hair trigger methods of government are not to be progressive. They are not; instead this is retrogression; it is going backward; it is adopting a form of government rejected years ago.

"This movement dwell upon the statement that the people have been seized with an almost religious zeal for cleanliness of government. Aspiration to this end is laudable, but it is ridiculed by no one, but has sin left us? Are we not all subject to the same weaknesses that have been recognized for 5,000 years?"

Under the recall of the members of the campaign speech platforms and utterances of the men of the new school the assumption that they have discharged all of their duty and that their sole feeling in the matter is one of brotherly love.

"The sole thought in all is socialistic—the idea to make the rich poorer and the poor richer, a leveling of property holdings. Ultimately this fact will be known."

SOUTHERN WATERS DRAWING CAPITAL

Biggest Industrial Development Is Utilization of the Rivers to Create Power. Final Outlay $300,000,000.

Nashville, Tenn., May 12.—(Special.) In an interview here today Richard H. Edmonds, editor of The Manufacturers Record, of Baltimore, said: "The biggest industrial movement under way in the south today is the harnessing of new money and the opening of lines of development that heretofore unutilized rivers and streams for the creation of hydro-electric power."

"At the present time sixty-four hydro-electric power companies are operating in the development of powers in the south, and making in the entire aggregate investment in the south about 1,500,000 hydro-electric power and are now actually constructing about 900,000 additional power, which will give the south over 7,000,000 hydro-electric power when these plants under construction and others, for which the capital has been raised, have been completed.

Final Outlay of $300,000,000.

"There are also thirty-six companies owning about 1,000,000 available power, now in the formative stage, and these are seeking to call capital for development. The magnitude of these developments can be better appreciated when it is understood that the total steam power used in all the manufacturing enterprises in the south in 1910 aggregated about 2,300,000-horse power.

"The aggregate investment in the developed water power, and in those upon which work is now progressing, will represent an ultimate outlay of about $300,000,000, which is equal to the entire investment of the aggregate national banking capital of the United States. Nowhere else in the world is the development of water power for the transmission of electric power being carried on on such a gigantic scale and involving such far-reaching consequences as in the south.

"Many of the foremost capitalists of England, Canada and of the north and west are really running rivalry in securing water powers, not only for immediate development, but looking to continued constructive operations as the demand for power takes up the supply of the existing plants.

"Two features of this development of the utmost importance. In the first place, cheap electric power, available at every moment, night and day, will prove an enormous advance to the existing industrial establishment; will quicken their activities and stimulate them to broader development.

"Great Capitalists Interested.

"And an even more important feature will be the fact that the great capitalists of Europe, Canada and the north and west, who are putting these hundreds of millions of new capital into the creation of hydro-electric power, will necessarily be compelled to take a very active part in the creation of industries to use the power which they are now developing.

"The banking houses which are backing these hydro-electric powers cannot sit down and wait for the growth of the south to take care of the power created, but they must themselves become the most active factors in creating in the south new industries to use these powers.

"Every dollar which these banking houses have staked in this hydro-electric will call loudly for another dollar from them for investment in other enterprises. With $300,000,000 being put into the one particular line of southern development, these banking houses and their clients become immediately and deeply interested in everything which makes for the broadest development of every phase of southern resources, industrial and agricultural alike."

ROOSEVELT RALLIES TO AID OF GOV. SULZER

Colonel to Fight for Direct Primaries—He Raps Barnes and Murphy.

New York, May 12.—A dollar dinner, given tonight by the New York county committee of the national progressive party and designated as a "conference," resolved itself into a discussion by the speakers of political issues. A letter from Colonel Theodore Roosevelt, who could not attend, was read, in which he endorsed the direct primary bill advocated by Governor Sulzer.

Among those present was John Purroy Mitchell, recently appointed collector of the port of New York by President Wilson. The speakers discussed the coming municipal campaign, the general trend of their remarks opposing fusion with any other party.

Colonel Roosevelt's letter follows, in part: "I wish I could be with the progressives of New York county at their dinner. As that is impossible, let me send my hearty greetings and call attention to the battle which is at this moment being waged in this state for a direct primary and effective direct primary bill. While I think the progressive bill was the best bill introduced, I nevertheless most cordially back the bill urged by Governor Sulzer, for that bill means a substantial measure of positive gain, and the unvarnished opposition of both the Murphy and Barnes machines to it, is, of itself, sufficient proof that it is emphatically in the interest of the people as a whole.

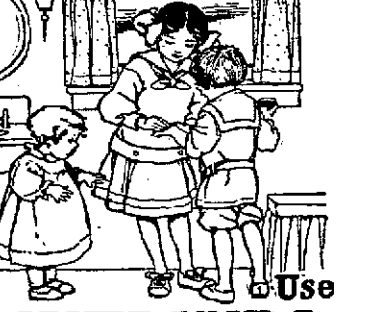

"Really at present there are not three party organizations. There are but two, the parties of progress, and against it. This party of reaction is organized in two divisions, called the publican and democratic. Nothing pleases the representatives of privilege so much as a mock fight between the two parties, and that is all that the fighting between them is doing. Mr. Barnes is on top, or Mr. Murphy is on top, makes no difference; in either case privilege is enthroned. The bosses and the machines of the two old parties are engaged in the effort to keep the state government out of the hands of the people and under the bipartisan control of the old party bosses.

"I have been glad to support Governor Sulzer in this effort, and should be borne in mind by all voters that the men who are now in the legislature, both republican and democratic, were put there on their pledges that they would carry out a genuine direct primary bill; yet now each of the old parties has renounced in the legislature to defeat the solemn pledge in its pre-election platform. There can be no more sagacious type of political treachery and falsehood. I cannot believe that the people will submit to such action."

FLORIDA WATERMELONS ARE NOW ON MARKET

Jacksonville, Fla., May 12.—The first carload of Florida watermelons, bound for New York, passed through the city this morning. From this on watermelons can be daily a part of the bill of fare of the wealthy and those who imagine they are in the north. This carload was made up of extra large melons that are expected to bring a dollar apiece.

STATE SCORES A POINT IN GEORGIA ROAD CASE

United States Supreme Court Will Review Decision Sustaining Tax Exemption.

Washington, May 12.—Attorney General Elder, of Georgia, today procured from the supreme court an order for the fifth United States circuit court to stay the operation of the Georgia law which the Louisville and Nashville railroad company and the Atlantic Coast Line railroad company were not to be taxed upon property within the next nine years from the Georgia road. The granting of the order was a point for the state.

RAILROADS WILL ASK FOR RAISE IN RATES

Washington, May 12.—A conference between the Inter-State Commerce commission and representatives of the eastern railroads will be held here Wednesday morning to consider informally a proposed increase of 5 per cent in freight rates. It has been suggested that the advance will be uniform throughout what is known as eastern territory, the part of the country lying east of the Mississippi and north of the Ohio river.

Announcement was made recently by President Willard, of the Baltimore & Ohio, that application would be made to the Interstate Commerce commission by the fifty-two eastern railroads for permission to increase their freight rates five per cent. Precisely the form the application, if made, may take has not yet been determined, but that question probably will be settled at Wednesday's conference.

If it should be found by the commission that there is prima facie reason for the proposed increase, it is likely an order for an inquiry may be issued. That method would save the railroads the great expense of preparing and issuing new tariffs, an expense that would average nearly a quarter of a million dollars. Of course, if such tariffs were filed, they would be suspended by the commission, pending an investigation of the reasonableness of the proposed advances, but it is not regarded as necessary in this instance to file tariffs in order to get the question before the commission.

The commission should conclude to have public hearings on the application, the probability is that the proceedings would not be held before next autumn.

FREE PANAMA TOLLS OPPOSED BY M'LENDON

Tallahassee, Fla., May 12.—Addressing the Florida legislature tonight upon the "Panama Canal and Its Effect on Domestic and Foreign Commerce," S. G. McLendon, former Georgia railroad commissioner, opposed free tolls for American vessels. Judge Sambola Jones, Panama exposition commissioner, also spoke, urging an appropriation for a Florida exhibit.

Elberfeld Gets Dygart

Chattanooga, Tenn., May 12.—(Special.)—Manager Elberfeld announced tonight the signing of Jimmy Dygart, former Athletic pitcher, recently with New Orleans and Toledo. A deal is on for another pitcher from the international league.

American government had entertained rather than the emphasis of the Japanese ambassador.

The president was disposed to talk freely of the subject and appeared confident that a satisfactory adjustment could be accomplished.

Representative Kohn, of California, conferred with Secretary Bryan today and intimated he was seeking information relative to laws in other countries barring the Japanese and other aliens from owning land.

"There is no doubt about California's right," an expert that would agree said Representative Kohn, "but I have nothing to say about the expediency of placing such a law on the statute books at this time."

GO TO ANSWER WILSON MESSAGE.

Sacramento, Cal., May 12.—Governor Johnson has not yet replied to the message of President Wilson asking Secretary Bryan to ask that he veto the Webb anti-alien land bill.

The governor has until June 18 to sign the measure and, therefore, there is no need of haste in answering the president except to acknowledge the receipt of his telegram.

It was understood at the capitol today that the chief executive was busy with details of the national adjournment of the legislature and had decided to postpone taking up the new angle of the anti-alien issue.

Getting Attention by Meriting It!

Folks who use GOOD PRINTING get the attention of the recipient. They deserve attention, because their obvious regard for the way they present their proposition is mighty good evidence that they have a proposition that DESERVES attention. Now that is just the way your printed matter will be received—for its good printing. Good printings are bid and lost sight of under the garb of poor printing; but are immediately recognized and accepted as (GOOD) if clothed in the "sparkle" of "GOOD PRINTING." STEEL TRUST PICTURED AS A GREAT DEVELOPER

Testifying in Government Case, Farrell Tells of Trust's Work in Foreign Lands.

New York, May 12.—The United States Steel corporation was pictured today by James A. Farrell, its president, as a combination organized not to suppress competitors, but to develop the sale of steel in foreign lands, a development which could not have been accomplished, he said, if the corporation had not taken the various companies competing for foreign business under its wing. He was testifying as the first witness for the defense in the government suit to dissolve the corporation as a combination in restraint of trade.

poration in the world, at the age of 50. The witness traced the growth of the steel corporation's export business from 292,000 tons, the first year it was organized, to 2,246,600 tons in 1912, and from $31,000,000 in value in 1904 to $32,000,000 in 1912, and said that efforts of the corporation to push its foreign trade had been "continuous and indefatigable." The result had been that 90 per cent. of the country's foreign trade in steel was done by the corporation, he said.

After Foreign Trade.
"We have made the strongest effort possible to increase our foreign trade," Mr. Farrell declared. "Our competitors have only been concerned with foreign business when domestic trade has been insufficient to keep their capacity employed. We have kept after the foreign trade continuously. If we had not it would have been impossible to develop it."
"Contradicting the testimony of William H. Cress, his predecessor as president of the corporation, that there had been 'understandings' between the corporation and foreign manufacturers as to prices and a division of territory," Mr. Farrell said, "We have never operated under any pools or agreements with foreign manufacturers, either as to price or location. We have never entered into any contracts or agreements with foreign manufacturers to stay out of their market, provided they would stay out of ours."

He denied, also, that the corporation "made a practice" of selling its products lower abroad than in this country.
"In fact, some of our commodities are sold higher," he said.
Before the corporation was organized, the witness recited, seven steel companies were competing for foreign business. On being taken over, their foreign offices were combined under one office and their operations systematized. In 1904 the United States Steel Products company was organized to take charge of the foreign trade and push it. Exhaustive studies were made of foreign markets that business could be done according to the usages and requirements of each particular market and at "an enormous expense." The processes of manufacture at the mills of the corporation were adapted to meet the requirements.

From Iceland to Fiji Islands.
The corporation established agencies from "Iceland to the Fiji Islands," 268 in all, Mr. Farrell said, and as a result the export business of the subsidiaries had greatly increased. In the case of the Carnegie Steel company, it was 24 per cent. of its whole production. A diversity of products enabled the corporation to meet all demands from both Europe and the West Indies. No single subsidiary with one or two products, he said, could have maintained these agencies on such an extensive scale. Mr. Farrell told of selling wire in Patagonia, rails in Formosa, steel bridges in Iceland and wire fencing in South Africa. Steamships had been bought or chartered to carry steel to points seldom touched on regular steamship routes, he added.

This foreign trade, he further explained, had been developed in the face of financial antagonism in Europe, protectionist tariffs and local opposition. The British authorities of Manchester, England, had canceled a contract with the corporation for tramway rails in favor of local manufacturers, he said, although the bid of the steel corporation was the lowest.
Forty thousand men are employed by the corporation in manufacturing steel for export and 15,000 more in making the steel sold to manufacturers of goods sent abroad for sale, the latter amounting to $30,000,000.
"We do correspondence from our office in every language," said the witness. "We have to get the business. Our office is an encyclopedia for American manufacturers on trade conditions in foreign countries, and we often lead them our salesmen to do their business for them."
Mr. Farrell will continue his testimony tomorrow.

DR. ELLIOTT WILL GIVE LAST ETHICAL LECTURE

"Of what value is my culture—my aristocracy of birth and of training—unless I make it touch the lives of many who have never known the joy of awakened life? Is not culture of a people, a nation, mass intelligence?"
These are a few of the questions which Dr. John Lovley Elliott, distinguished sociologist and religious leader of New York, will answer in his free public lecture, "The Driving Power of Social Discontent," to be given under the auspices of the committee for ethical lectures of Atlanta, Thursday evening, May 22, at Cable hall.
Dr. Elliott's lecture will conclude the 1912-13 series of free lectures arranged by the committee of fifty well-known citizens of Atlanta. Dr. Felix Adler, Dr. James W. Lee, Swami Abhinavanda, Dr. Alfred W. Martin and Dr. Edward Howard Griggs have been the previous lecturers of the season.

TEMPLARS GATHERING IN COLUMBUS TODAY

Street Parade Opens Convention. Grand Commandery Holds First Session.

Columbus, Ga., May 12.—(Special.)—Knights templars from all sections of Georgia will arrive in the city Tuesday to attend the meeting of the grand commandery of the order on Wednesday and Thursday. There are over 3,000 Knights Templars in the state and between 300 and 400 will be in attendance.
St. Aldemar commandery, which will be the host on this occasion, held its final meeting tonight prior to the gathering, and put the finishing touches on the preparations for receiving and entertaining the visitors. George F. Walden, a prominent merchant, is assistant commander of St. Aldemar commandery, and its membership embraces many of the leading business and professional men of the city.
Atlanta, Savannah, Macon and the other larger cities of the state will be particularly well represented at the convention.
The occasion will open with a great and spectacular street parade, after which the grand commandery will retire to its quarters in the Masonic temple and go into session.

CRUSHED UNDER CAR, SWITCHMAN MAY DIE

Savannah, Ga., May 12.—(Special.)—David Henderson was fatally injured today in the Seaboard Air Line terminals when he went in between two box cars to break a coupling.
Just as he stepped across the rails to the inside of the track a switchman working further up the line signalled for the engine to go ahead, the coupling had not been broken and when the train started, Henderson was knocked to the ground and in a few moments the forward truck of one of the cars passed over his legs just below the thighs.
Henderson has a wife and several small children.

Congressman Adamson Offers Naval Academy Appointment To Boy of the Fourth District

By John Cortikas, Jr.
Washington, May 12.—(Special.)—Congressman W. C. Adamson, of the fourth Georgia district, wants his constituents to know that there is a vacancy in the Naval academy at Annapolis, at that district, and that unless it is filled by the 1st of July the appointment will lapse.
The Constitution in saying that there will be another examination on June 5, and that if any boy in the fourth district, intellectually and physically equipped and between the ages of 16 and 20 would like to apply for this appointment by standing examination at this time, he will take pleasure in giving full particulars upon hearing from any applicant from his district.

BUILDERS' SUPPLIES MADE IN AMERICUS

Americus, Ga., May 12.—(Special.)—Finishing touches are being placed tonight upon the extensive plant of the Southern Metal Company, an American enterprise for the manufacture of builders' supplies, and representing an investment of $50,000.
The plant is the only one of its kind in Georgia manufacturing builders' supplies entirely of metal, and is expected to prove successful. The factory will start up tomorrow, employing a large working force of skilled artisans.

MISS HUGHES CHOSEN AS CORDELE SPONSOR

Cordele, Ga., May 12.—(Special.)—Miss Margaret Hughes has been appointed sponsor for the Crisp County camp, No. 141, U. C. V., for the reunion in Chattanooga this summer. There will be a large delegation from this camp, and the local Sons of Veterans and others will attend the reunion.
It will likely be arranged for Cordele, Fitzgerald and Ashburn camps to consolidate their parties and get a special Pullman coach.

U. C. V. Will Give Dance.

The Joseph E. Brown camp, 1776, United Confederate Veterans, ball tomorrow night on the Atlanta Owl roof garden promises to be one of the most entertaining social events conducted by that camp. The Owls have a number of Confederate veterans on their roster, and every one has been diligent in bringing about a large attendance to the benefit ball tomorrow night.

Americus Schools to Close.

Americus, Ga., May 12.—(Special.)—The Americus public schools, with nearly eighteen hundred pupils in attendance, are preparing to close, the high school having its graduation exercises Friday night next, with a class of eighteen graduates. The grammar schools will close one week later.
The Third District Agricultural college will end the spring session this week, with commencement exercises next Monday.

Judgment Against Railroad.

In the United States district court yesterday, Judge Newman, presiding, judgment was given against the Louisville and Nashville and the Atlantic Coast Line railway for violation of the safety employees' act. The number of counts enumerated in a bill of complaint filed by the district attorney. The decree gave a verdict of $50 in each of the nineteen counts against the defendant companies.

Zebulon Revival Closes.

Zebulon, Ga., May 12.—(Special.)—Week at the Methodist church came to a close last night. Rev. Charles Lane, of Macon, did the preaching, and the services were interesting and impressive from beginning to close. The influence of the meeting has been felt throughout the town and community. Several applicants were received into the church as a result of the meeting.

BIBB COUNTY FARMERS TO STUDY FARMING

Special Train Will Bear Over 350 of Them to Experiment Station in June.

Macon, Ga., May 12.—(Special.)—Plans are being made for between three and five hundred farmers from middle Georgia to visit the experiment station at Experiment, Ga., June 14. The idea originated with the Bibb county agricultural institute, it being planned to run a special train from Macon carrying one hundred and fifty members of the institute.
When the news of the proposed trip got out, farmers in Jones and Houston counties asked to be permitted to join with those in Bibb and visit the station at the same time and it is expected that one hundred farmers from both Jones and Houston will accompany the party.
The crops at the Experiment farm are at their best during the month of June and it is believed that the trip will result in more benefit to the farmers by reason of the fact that they will come directly in touch with the methods used at the farm than through any other method of instruction they could receive.

Will Re-Elect Dargan.

Macon, Ga., May 12.—(Special.)—When the Southern Baptist convention meets in St. Louis May 16, it is expected that Dr. E. C. Dargan, pastor of the First Baptist church of Macon, will for the third time be re-elected president of the convention. Dr. Dargan, Rev. R. C. Granberry, pastor of the Tattnell Square Baptist church, and Dr. John E. White, pastor of the Vineville Avenue Baptist church, left today for St. Louis to attend the convention.

Washington Gets $20,500.

Macon, Ga., May 12.—(Special.)—H. J. Lamar Washington, of New York, will receive $20,500 as his share of the estate of his uncle, the late Henry J. Lamar, Jr., in settlement of his suit against the executors of the estate. Mrs. Julia Lamar and Henry J. Lamar.

WOULD-BE JACK TARS GREET HEAD OF NAVY

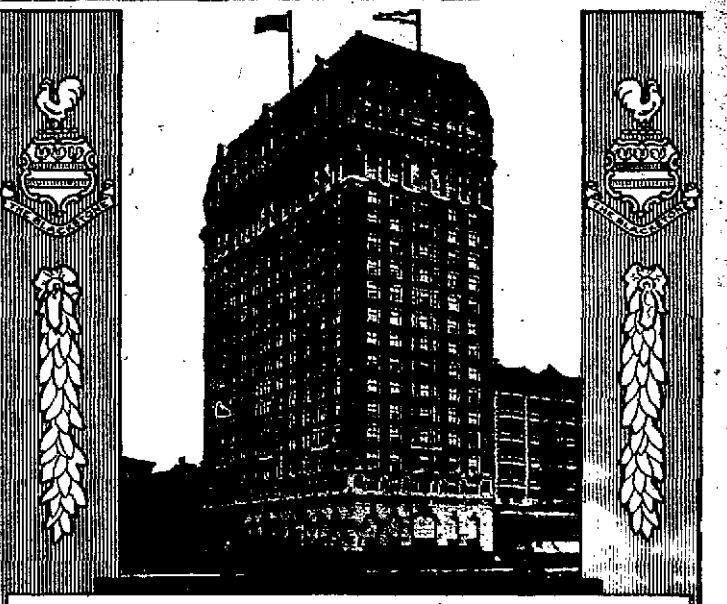

Savannah, Ga., May 12.—One of the most interesting points near Savannah visited by Secretary of the Navy Daniels, when he was here yesterday, was the Bethesda Orphan's Home for Boys.
"Boys," said the secretary, "how would you like, when you grow up, to enlist in the Navy?"
"All right!" shouted the boys. "It would suit us fine!"
One little fellow cried out: "But how about the Japs?"
"Are you afraid of the Japs?" inquired the secretary with considerable interest. "No," yelled out the juvenile chorus of patriotic young Americans.
"That's right," answered the secretary, "be good Americans at all times."

MRS. A. C. REYNOLDS DIES IN MARIETTA

The death of Mrs. A. C. Reynolds, widow of Dr. Reynolds, occurred yesterday morning at Marietta, at 7:30 o'clock. Mrs. Reynolds was 85 years of age, and a prominent church worker, having been a member of the Methodist church since childhood. She was devoted to her family and a large number of friends mourn her death.
She is survived by two grandchildren, Dr. Herbert L. Reynolds, of Atlanta, and B. C. McElatchey, assistant clerk of the Georgia legislature, and several children, Mrs. Charles H. Guyton, Mrs. J. H. Murray, Miss Gussie Mae Reynolds, Dr. A. Reynolds, Walter Reynolds, of Marietta.

The funeral will take place this afternoon at 3 o'clock from the Methodist church, Marietta, the services being conducted by Dr. Duvall and Dr. J. H. Patton.

Half-Price Millinery Sale

Maybe you have been awaiting this event—well you might. It is the "Grand Prix" of all millinery sales.

Nothing Atlanta knows approximates it. The hats it offers are those accepted as fashionable this season, correct, smart in unusual ways. The greater part—about all of them—comes from the little shop, Estelle Mershon, in the very center of fastidious New York, 20 E. 46th St.

Included are Street, Traveling and Dress Hats Until Now $12.00 to $30.00
Now $6.00 to $15.00

Some one hundred fifty in all—no describing them—but so varied are the shapes and trimmings that it will be like choosing from regular stock and paying just half.

Is the first spring hat beginning to look a little faded, are you going away this summer, does a newly acquired suit or dress call for a hat to match?

Here are splendid affirmative answers for these questions.

THE COLLEGE AND THE PRESS

Yesterday was first day on the job for the class of quick witted young men who have for the last year been studying journalism at Emory college under the direction of Dr. Wightman F. Melton. Else where is told in detail the story of the invasion of The Constitution by the journalistic students of the college. Emory is the only institution in the state maintaining a chair of journalism. Dr. Melton in charge of the department felt that his pupils would gain vast benefit by rounding out their study of theory with a chapter in actual practice. His first idea was that this practice should be obtained by watching the processes of issuing a typical twentieth century newspaper and he applied to The Constitution for that privilege. Knowing the divergence between theory and practice and that the best way to learn was in doing it oneself. The Constitution suggested that the college journalists themselves go through the experience of getting out the paper for one day.

In pursuance of that suggestion Emory's class in journalism yesterday assumed charge of all the news departments of this paper. Boys who throughout the scholastic year had drilled into their heads just what is news and the various values of news came in contact with that baffling commodity at first hand. The day's domes of a big city in unending intricacy unwound before them. History in the making in all parts of the world trickled under their fingers. They helped experts who with trained eye passed on myriad happenings at top speed. They wrote news themselves and had men who knew tell them when their treatment was right and when wrong and why. They were warned against certain omissions and commissions commended when they struck the right gait corrected when on a false lead. In other words they were like young students who had stepped straight from the law school into court or like the medical student sheepskin in hand called to treat his first patient. Just as the embryo lawyer and doctor however well schooled would find the philosophy of the text book vastly different from the philosophy of the event itself the Emory journalists in the making, under their discoveries yesterday and profited by them.
Every emergency these boys met with a splendid spirit and enthusiasm. They prove the intelligent care of Dr. Melton. The whole day proved the soundness of his belief that practice must be relied upon to perfect theory. And the paper which greets the public today—being an Emory production—proves that college journalism is a feasible reality and that the press has much to gain from the specialized candidate just as has the law medicine or any other profession.
These boys will return to the school room as The Constitution knew they would return with a working grasp of journalism which may influence many high careers in that exacting calling.

SIGNIFICANT.

Press dispatches affirm that a recent conference at Chicago looked to the end of reorganizing the republican party. Judging from the personnel of those in attendance the 'insurgent' element of the party has already captured the organization bag and baggage. Senator Albert Cummins, one of the original "progressives," was a leading spirit in the conference. Borah, another foe of the standpatters, aided him. And Gronna and ex-Governor Hadley, of Missouri, personal representatives of Roosevelt in the latest convention fight, were exceedingly active.

We did not observe that either Messrs
Lodge or Root, or even Smoot, were present.
In fact, none of the old guard were conspicuous, save by their absence. All that was needed to give the gathering the appearance of a first-class, back-to-Armageddon atmosphere was the presence of the colonel himself.

If these estimable gentlemen call themselves the republican party, what becomes of the other no-less estimable gentlemen who last year nominated Mr. Taft? We foresee either an absorption of the fragments by the Roosevelt wing or a lively fracas over the patent rights to the title which for fifty years served a militant and now decadent party.

ANOTHER SOB ARTIST

Even the gay and capering Life, the national humorous weekly, has fallen under the melancholy sway of the sob artists.
Witness the following extract from a recent issue in which Life refers to the famous Ollie Taylor case under the sarcastic caption, "Progress in Georgia."

Down in Georgia a 10 year old boy has been sent to prison for eleven years for stealing a five cent bottle of soda water and the sentence has been solemnly confirmed by the Georgia supreme court. Georgia is entitled to great credit for this for there is more in it than the mere upholding of the sacred majesty and benignity of the law or the protection of property rights. Georgia has been much criticised for the great numbers of child laborers within her borders and of course even in the most marble hearted of us there still lingers a slight embarrassment when we set out to justify child labor. Here however is a chance to preserve child labor and to punish horrible offenders at one fell stroke.
Under the supreme court decision there is no reason why there should ever more be a shortage of child labor in Georgia. It is the simplest thing in the world to induce a child to steal a little something. Then you have him and for as long as necessary.

The only trouble with Life's touching little effort is that it has absolutely no foundation in fact. The Constitution several weeks ago exposed the fallacy in the wild and maudlin stories about Ollie Taylor.
The theft of the bottle of soda is merely one incident in his career. Upon number less occasions he had shown himself incorrigible and entirely beyond the control of his relatives. His only contact with the courts is that they have quite mercifully given him an indefinite sentence in the state reformatory one of the best in stitutions of that kind in the south conducted by one of the most humane experts in the country. He will be released on parole the moment his conduct gives evidence of justifying that step.

What the Georgia courts have done for Ollie Taylor is, in all probability to save him from a life of crime and to transform him into a good citizen. Had not the state intervened there is every reason to believe this boy would have ended his days in the penitentiary.
The incident though is typical material for the sob squadders and throughout the country they grasped eagerly at and distorted it. Even the federal government was impressed and sent a representative to Atlanta to investigate. At the conclusion of the investigation the results of which were published in The Constitution and sent out by the Associated Press, this government representative reported that the melodramatic stories about Ollie Taylor were wholly untrue. The facts were set forth substantially as told in preceding paragraphs.

But what is all that to the sob squad?
Nothing! Here was an opportunity to write tears by the bucketful. D—n facts! Life's sob artist knew that a quick—if rather a crude—way to the reader was via his lachrymal glands. What mattered it if the civilization of an entire state was indicted?
The tear squeeze must be given right-of-way! That is simply an illustration of what the sob habit will do to an otherwise sane and refreshing publication.
The one consolation is that the country is getting on to the sob specialists. Their stead, monotonous and doleful chorus daily wins less attention and—fewer tears. The nation refuses to view life through artificial moisture and bids her professional sobsters chase themselves or take a pill.
This business of luring people into arriving at important verdicts by emotion rather than the truth is becoming unpopular. In the meantime the sob artists are tearing down reputation and ignoring good name—all for the sake of a little maudlin and quickly passing applause.

And in the name of the Great Horn Spoon can't the Tear trust find some state other than Georgia with which to lacerate the nation's emotions? It seems the entire energies of the weep brigade are centered on Georgia. Several times recently in quick succession this state has been placarded as the scene of outrages that never occurred but that sufficed to get sobs from the susceptible of the nation under false pretenses.
We protest! We protest against the libel-ing and against the silly, sickening sentimentality!

Let the sob-artists find some spot other than Georgia over which to weep before the nation. Surely, in the other forty-odd states and in the far corners of the earth, is enough material for fake gloom, without centering the woes of the universe in this healthy and happy commonwealth!

To Frank L. Stanton.
Frank Stanton these, my Gedlings,
Can only chirp the song
That they have caught from Heaven's Gate
Where you have sung so long
On Jordan's stormy bank we'll stand,
And cast a wistful eye,
Until we find where Stanton sings
In woodlands of the sky
Then straight across the swelling flood,
With fearless wing and strong We'll take our hallelujah way
To join in Stanton's song

Fishin' Time in Georgia.
When the world is gay with flowers and the meadow's fresh and green
When a million buds and bowers crown their Honey Suckle Queen
When the sun is just a beamin' benediction through the trees
And the woodland goes to dreamin' to the music of the bees
When that lazy dazy feelin' takes a fellow by the spin
Oh it a fishin' time in Georgia, bait your hook and fling your line!
Yes, it a fishin' time in Georgia—you can tell it as a rule
When the children disobey you and refuse to go to school
You can tell by the swingin' of the blossom lady's brush
You can tell it by the sigen of the mockin bird and thrush
They all show it—ah you know it—and you're feelin' stupidy fine
For it a fishin' time in Georgia, bait your hook and fling your line
—TOM BURNSIDE

Yellow Jasmine
Now the winter's winds are sleeping
And the southern breeze is sweeping Flow you scatter these buds and peeping Forth their garlands to entwine
And the air is sweet and mellow
From the honey combs of yellow Haunted by the yellow jasmine
High upon the verdant vine
Golden flowers born of showers
With such charm and magic powers
How you scatter these buds and comfort
Thru the land of Georgia pine,
For our hearts with joy are bounding
When the call of Spring is sounding
From the golden little trumpets
Of the yellow jasmine vine
—TOM BURNSIDE

Anticipation
If I could sail on tireless wing
Above this earthly shore
And to the wondrous cloudland cling
I then should ask no more
But that the potencies of Fate
All befall me
Would I might see through the gate
Of my eternity
—RICHARD J. BROYLES

A Dirge
I held within my hand a withered rose
All crushed and slain
And as I blew upon its petals torn
A sweet refrain
Alone came to my sympathetic heart
It was a song
Like that in drooping swan when dying
It sang
A soft and long
It seem'd an echo from some foreign shore
Where lilacs blow
And fragrant bluish roses never die
So sweet and low
It wafted from the sunset hills afar
I thought it some Qual'd dirge as through the air the roses soul
Was flying lone

The Higher Call
Lead kindly light the poet wrote
Himself untried of by the night
But who will show the way remote
To those who have not found the Light?
The sacred star of Bethlehem
Is shining for all mankind
But who will behold the Lamb
Or strain a straying soul to find?
Can't you show down at Faith's pure shrine Content to find the way he must
And yet not heed the task divine
Of lifting others from the dust?

The Modest Violet

By GEORGE FITCH,
Author of 'At Good Old Savannah'

(Copyright 1913 for The Constitution)
At this time of the year the modest violet is being eulogized by a thousand poets and is being held up to mankind as an example by earnest teachers on every hand.
The modest violet is a short squat plant which gets out fairly early in the spring and grows to the dizzy height of two inches or more after it has finished its first attempts at skyscraping. It produces a number of beautiful blue blossoms which it usually hides under its leaves.
It is about the most modest thing in the world except the student who has just acquired a $1,000 bill and who would rather die than speak about it.
After the violet has blossomed it does not advertise nor beat a drum but continues to bloom in a quiet dignified way offering itself to the world with all the indifference with which a country grocer sells dried apples. Most of the violet in the world are eaten by us but sometimes the beautiful flower is discovered by man and he induces it to go into a green house and bloom in a businesslike and regular manner.
The hothouse violets are more beautiful than the country violets and are probably just as modest but not as far as price goes.
Along about Christmas time modesty comes about $3 per bunch and small bunches at that.
This teaches us a great lesson. Modesty is beautiful and does not harm anyone, providing he or she employs a good business manager.
Many an actress is so modest that she employs two stout men to chase admirers away from her private car and three pres-sents to see that the newspapers get the names of the admirers.
The most successful politician is the man who declines to become a candidate for Public honors until his campaign manager has perfected the irresistible demand of the people.
All violets are modest, but the ones which get the credit are the ones which hide themselves where they can be discovered in all their shyness.

Salutatory and Valedictory.

Not many editors have to say "Howdy-do" and "Goodby" in the same breath. The experience is novel.
If our part of today's Constitution is a success it is because the good people in The Constitution building helped us over the hard places. If our part is a failure, it is so because we did not know how to be helped over the hard places.
One thing is certain. We have learned more about practical journalism in those few hours than we have learned, or could learn, in as many months, or years, from books alone.
On one point the Sunday Constitution is mistaken. I am not a "veteran journalist." College professors for whom pensions are not provided, never grow old.
Fifty years from now, some member of this class will say to his grandchild, Yes, honey, your grandmother and I were married just one year from the day we brought out The Atlantic Constitution.

ENJOYING THINGS.

Nath Thompson a north Georgia circuit rider says it is funny how the last persimmon on the tree tastes better than any of the rest.
"Uncle Nath used to travel over the mountains alone much of the time, and on horseback, going from settlement to settlement, and from church to church.
This good parson is a 'possum about persimmions. After the frost sweetens the fruit he is at home in the woods.
One day when winter was far gone
Uncle Nath chanced to see on the top most twig of a tall sapling entirely bare of leaves a single huge persimmon. He may have thought to himself
And if I should live to be
The last persimmon on the tree'
What he actually did however was to dismount hitch his nag to a swinging limb heap some pine straw under the sapling and shake down the persimmon. He did not want the only persimmon left in Georgia to squash or get trashed upon it.
Down came the big persimmon and 'Uncle Nath having thought—if he did not say—grace over it went to work on it. His pleasure may best be expressed in his own words. I am telling you right now folks it certainly was good.
Sidney Lanier speaks of a bird the little Shakespeare of the tree transforming a grab worm into song. Uncle Nath's persimmon transformed him into a sage and a philosopher. It caused him to say Lord help me to enjoy everything in this world just as if it were the last and as if there were to be no more like it.
The good man decided then and there to begin enjoying life in earnest. He did and he says he has never having a good time ever since. And what he more he finds that the times are getting better.
A poor boy says. When the molasses gets low in the picher it is much sweeter than it was when the Jug was full. Uncle Nath would first practice then preach.
Enjoy every drop in the Jug just as if it were the last drop in the picher and as if there would never be any more molasses in the world.
Before the civil war an owner of negro slaves in Louisiana had on his place a small negro boy with a sweet tooth—he could never get enough sugar. Finally one day the planter made the little negro wash his feet perfectly clean and then had an older negro place the little one in a barrel about half full of brown sugar. The little negro was told to help himself to just as much as he wanted if it took all in the barrel. He went at it like fighting fire but in a few minutes quit. Being urged to eat more little Ham exclaimed Massa, it am done los its taste!
Uncle Nath would say. Don't be a pig even about sweet things. Go slow. There every grain in the barrel will taste as sweet as the first one die.
Any persimmon may be a man's last and all of them may taste as good as the last one. Any person little negro or big white man can get too much sugar.
Moderation in the use of the best things of life and gratitude to the Maker of all good things will make Uncle Nath's of us all—will teach us the happy art of ENJOY-ING THINGS.

THE JOURNALIST.

A little while ago (Friday evening July 26 1912) Lord Morley presiding at a complimentary dinner given to Sir Edward Cook and his newspaper editor who had just received the honor of knighthood said. No one who knows anything at all about it would deny that the editor of a seriously conducted paper is as patient and as accurate as laborious as much in earnest and as sincere as if he were the parliamentary head of a department of state.
There was a time when for purposes of convenience we spoke of the secular editor and the religious editor meaning to differentiate between the editors of religious and irreligious (not unreligious) newspapers.
That time has not entirely passed away but today the editor whose avowed motive is religious gives the secular news and the editor whose avowed motive is 'secular' gives the religious news. It has come to pass that the work of the secular editor is quoted freely by the religious editor with favorable comment and that the work of the religious editor is quoted freely by the secular editor with favorable comment.
Because religion of one type or another is the essential element in the hearts of all people and is expressed in store shop counting house courtroom on the farm, at the throne and in the newspaper office as well as in the sacred altar or in the sacred desk, no editor can be secular.
There is a difference between profanity and secularity. A profane journalist is a possibility. Such a man is immoral and un-religious.
The three chief public duties of the modern journalist are (1) to tell what the world is doing (2) to explain what the world is thinking (3) to mould opinion as to what the world ought to do and think.
The difference between the historian of fifty years ago and the journalist of today is. The historian was an old journalist and the modern newspaperman is a current historian going into details. We see God in the historian man in the journalist.
Fifty years from now the historian, looking over the newspaper files of 1913 will discover in those frayed and discolored sheets unmistakable tokens of the presence of Providence in the developments of former times.
The daily news in the secular press
then is but a record of the material intellectual and spiritual development of the people of today.
The secular journalist explains what the world is thinking. He gives the drift of public opinion. He records the state of moral sentiment and the movements of religious influences.
Some few journalists are either chronic or pessimistic. In the main however the opinion that the journalist is moulding is safe and sane. For illustration of this truth read the leading editorials in any first-class newspaper.
There are some 25,000 editors in the United States alone. (Many of these editors have from fifty to a hundred and more men in various departments under them.) A low estimate is 1,000 subscribers for each paper.
At least three people are influenced directly or indirectly, by each copy of a paper. It appears then that some three-fourths of our population get the news direct from the journalist. Each paper has its constituents who accept the explanation their editor gives of what the world is thinking. The opinions of all are moulded, either consciously or unconsciously by the quiet, unobtrusive and generally modest men with the pen the type machine the telegraph key, and the printing press.
Six days in the week 20,000,000 daily papers are issued in the United States. On Sundays the number is largely increased.
The journalists of our nation, as a rule,

PROF MELTON'S OPINION OF A STANTON POEM

For more than twenty years I have read poetry; studied poetry taught poetry and loved poetry. It is my deliberate opinion that no American poet has surpassed the beauty of Frank L. Stanton's Just A Weary
In For You. It is well worthy of a place beside the Home Sweet Home of John Howard Payne. Without the knowledge or consent of Mr. Stanton I take the liberty of reproducing the poem just as it originally appeared in The Constitution where I first saw it over twenty years ago.

Just A-Weary'n' for You
Just a weary'n' for you
Just a weary'n' for you
All the time a feelin' blue Wishin' for you wonderin' when
You'll be comin' home again
Rightless don't know what to do
Just a weary'n' for you
Keep a mopey day by day
Dull—in everybody's way Folks they smile and pass along Wonderin' what on earth is wrong
Wouldn't help em if they knew—
Just a weary'n' for you
Rooms so lonesome with your chair
Empty by the fireplace there
Just can't stand the sight o' it Go out doors and roam a bit
But the woods is lonesome too
Just a weary'n' for you
Comes the wind with sound that's jes
Like the rustlin' o' your dress
An the dew on flower an' tree
Twinkles like your steps to me
Violets like your eyes so blue—
Just a weary'n' for you!
Mornin' comes the birds awake—
Lead to sing so for your sake
But there's sadness in the notes
That come trillin' from their throats
Seem to feel your absence, too—
Just a weary'n' for you!
Evenin' comes I miss you more
When the dark glooms round the door Seems just like you orter be
There to open it for me
Lath' goes tinklin' thrills me through Sets me weary'n' for you
Just a weary'n' for you
All the time a feelin' blue
Wishin' for you wonderin' when
You'll be comin' home again
Rightless, don't know what to do,
Just a-weary'n' for you.

Teaching Journalism.

The best place in which to learn the newspaper business is the newspaper office.
The best place in which to learn the elementary things, preparatory to journalistic work, is in college. A department of journalism, in a college remote from news-gathering and news-publishing centers, cannot hope to do more than give a little training in theory.
An ideal school of journalism would be an institution in which are combined class rooms for instruction in language, history, logic, psychology, economics, sociology, mathematics, etc., and a live, up-to-date newspaper plant where theories could be tried out and put into practice. Such a school of journalism will yet be established.
Next to the ideal school of journalism would be a correlation of such a college with a progressive newspaper plant.
At Emory we do not claim to have a distinct department of Journalism. Realizing that professional training is as necessary for the journalist as for the lawyer the doctor, the teacher the minister the rural economist and the dairyman we began two years ago to give instruction in journalism.
The time we have been able to devote to the work amounts to only about one third of a regular course. The first year there were twelve men in the class. This year there are twenty-eight. A number of inquiries came last summer, from young men in Georgia, Alabama and Florida, wanting a full course in Journalism. We could do no more than offer them what we have, and then cite them to the University of Missouri and the Pulitzer school of Columbia university.
Emory college is justly proud of her splendid staff of preparing men for the professions of teaching the ministry law medicine etc. The real importance of journalistic training becomes apparent however when we consider that two or three Emory journalists may have larger audiences seven days in the week than the combined audiences of all the other Emory men in all the other professions.
Some of these days Emory may be able to establish a full department of journalism.
If she will then equip a print shop from which all the publications of the college can be issued, she can then offer a class of work that will be highly practical as well as dignified theoretical.
The thirst for information is now universal. Emory desires to do her part in training men to tell things tersely and accurately to explain what it all means and to be leaders in developing proper opinion pertaining to the many problems which affect all the people.
For any institution to be great and prosperous nowadays extensive and judicious advertising is an absolute necessity. A department of publicity such as a school of journalism is a splendid advertising medium—in addition to preparing men for one of the most important professions of modern times.
The opportunity we have had today to advertise Emory college can scarcely be estimated in dollars and cents. A conservative business man in no way connected with either The Constitution or the college, puts it at $5,000. It has cost us only gratitude to the generous Journalist, Editor-in-chief of The Constitution, Clark Howell.

"DARKEST" GEORGIA.

By Philip Weitzner, Secretary Prison
Association of Georgia.

Hercules was set to clean the Augean stables. The general assembly will find a more difficult task in cleaning up the prison system of Georgia.

Zera was a simple country negro. The great bulk of him had bent over his plow year in and out. One day he came to town to visit his old grandmother. She had raised him from a baby. His mother dropped dead on the depot plaza. It was a case of epilepsy of which Zera had shown strains even as a child. Just as he got into town he was overtaken by a fit. A policeman promptly dubbed the case a drunk and "ran him in." Zera was bound over for vagrancy and finally was sent to the chain-gang. They dolled him out in stripes and chains and drove him to his task. While at work he fell rolling over and over in the throes of his malady muttering senseless things mixed curses and reckless imbroglios. Great flocks of roan rose to his lips, and he gnashed his tongue until it bled.

When it was dusk they carried him back to camp. His tongue was so swollen he could not speak. One of the guards claiming that Zera had cursed him, marked him for the lash. They took the negro out and ganged him stretching him out on the dirt. His body bare, two prisoners holding his head and two his feet. The captain stood over the quivering body and beat him into obedience, leaving two great wounds on his back. His eyes for mercy were unheeded. Down came the lash. Blow followed blow. Then the body lay still.

Nightfall came. The prisoners lay on their bunks asleep except this epileptic, whose moans broke out from time to time quickly to be hushed by the guard who paced the floor.
The policeman who made the arrest did not stop to find the real trouble. Zera was hustled off to the calaboose. The recorder was not informed. The solicitor and the judge did not take time to look at the great nitch in his tongue. He was hurriedly put through the grind men call the "wheels of justice." In the camp, who cared? The captain and the guards were paid, not to make men but to make roads. They were hired to shackle their prisoners and drive them like dumb cattle to their work. What chance did Zera stand?

Men speak of justice. Justice wisdom and moderation' is the legend adorning the seal of the state. The people pay millions that it might prevail. Yet we fine imprison-—and damn. No wonder that half the convicts as soon as released take up anew their war on mankind. Wouldn't you?

TO BEAT SWORDS INTO PLOWSHARES

Bryan Tells Peace Delegates at Washington Spirit of War Must Yield to Spirit of Peace.

Washington, May 12.—"We are here to substitute the spirit of peace for the spirit of war. The ideals of peace are greater than the ideals of war. We know of no cause that cannot be settled better by reason than by war."

These were some of the sentiments expressed tonight by Secretary Bryan, who said he spoke for the president of the United States and for the administration under which he holds office. He was addressing the gathering at the banquet given by the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace for the delegates from Great Britain, who are here to prepare plans for the celebration of the one hundredth anniversary of peace among English-speaking nations and the signing of the treaty of Ghent.

The secretary began his address with a third welcome, as he expressed it, to the British and other delegates, he having welcomed them recently in New York, and again when he received them in his office today. Mr. Bryan said he wishes to present three thoughts on the subject of peace between Great Britain and the United States:

That proposed monuments along the Canadian border would testify to merits of the living and the worth of the dead of a century ago; that these monuments would give the lie to the thought that man must have war to be strong, and that the two nations would, in the days to come, set before the world a higher ideal than the ideal of war.

Root Wants Great Celebration.

In his introductory remarks, Senator Root, who presided, said that this peace of a hundred years should be the occasion for such a celebration as the world has never seen.

Lord Weardale, head of the British delegation, replied on behalf of his countrymen and country, as also did the new British ambassador, Sir Arthur Cecil Spring-Rice. These speakers were followed by representatives of Austria, Newfoundland and the municipality of Ghent.

In the course of his remarks, Charles A. Magrath, delegate from Canada, said it was one of the greatest misadventures that have just closed in New York, as some had supposed, to bring about an alliance both offensive and defensive between the two great English-speaking nations.

Andrew Carnegie, the last speaker of the evening, declared that the United States ought to build fewer battleships and more embassies abroad for the housing of its diplomatic representatives. The giving up of one battleship, he said, might mean the construction of sixty embassies abroad at a cost of $250,000 apiece. Mr. Carnegie argued that this would save the United States from the necessity of sending millionaires abroad as ambassadors. "Beware of millionaires," humorously remarked Mr. Carnegie in conclusion.

The delegates called upon Secretary Bryan immediately after their arrival this morning and were received by him in his offices in the state department. Mr. Bryan spoke a word with each as he shook hands and later briefly addressed the delegates as they gathered about him. He declared that in the long continued peace between the United States and Great Britain there was a lesson for all nations and this theme he elaborated later in his address at the banquet. Lord Weardale, head of the British delegation, made a brief response in behalf of his visitors.

When the party arrived at the capitol later the house of representatives was about to convene, but the delegates were received by Speaker Cannon in his office. He had them escorted to the house gallery, where they remained until the brief session ended. A visit to the Congressional library occupied a brief interval, and a visit to Vice President Marshall was made.

Mr. Marshall addressed his callers and apparently what he had to say made a deep impression upon the delegates. There were several of audible comments, agreeing with expressions of the vice president. Mr. Marshall said he was convinced that practically all differences between nations are possible of settlement if submitted to the arbitration of fair-minded men. Again Lord Weardale replied for the assembled delegates.

They were accompanied by two members of the team, Willard Irvine and Harold Saxon.

ANTI-GAMBLING WAR DECLARED BY FRANCE

Paris, May 12.—Gambling in France may be subjected to still more sweeping restrictions than those recently proposed by Jacques Poin in the chamber of deputies. The amendment to the gambling bill introduced Friday last, will be taken up for further consideration Wednesday. It seeks to revoke all gambling licenses granted under the law of 1907. If this enactment is favored by the chamber, Deputy Charles Dumas announces he will submit a more drastic amendment, forbidding betting at race courses and roulette in private clubs. It also will provide that the government take measures to prevent French citizens from enjoying the Monaco casinos.

AGED WIFE-BEATER MUST SERVE 6 MONTHS

New York, May 12.—Edward Holahan, 82 years old, was sent to prison today for six months for beating his wife.

PULP AND PAPER FREE FROM THE OLD WORLD

Washington, May 12.—The customs court today decided that European nations are entitled to the free entry of wood pulp and paper under the "most favored nations clause" of their commercial treaties with United States because the free entry privilege is granted to Canada under the only reciprocity clause of the Canadian reciprocity agreement.

The court also held that the treasury department had placed a correct interpretation upon the Canadian reciprocity act by immediately adding wood pulp and paper free without reciprocal action by Canada. Dissenting opinions were delivered.

Norway, Russia, Austria-Hungary and Germany claimed the right of free entry of wood pulp and paper from their respective countries. Former President Taft declined to grant the request, and referred the question to the courts.

It cannot be stated whether the treasury department or the department of justice will appeal the case to the supreme court. It has been the attitude of the government to oppose any appeal from the customs court because it is creating a precedent, says the decision of the customs court shall be final. The fact that the question involves the interpretation of treaties may cause the government to appeal.

NAVAL CAPTAIN SMITH FACES COURT-MARTIAL

New York, May 12.—Captain Roy S. Smith, U. S. N., today faced a general court-martial in the Brooklyn navy yard. He is charged with negligence in running his ship, Arkansas, on a shoal off the coast of Cuba, February 13, last.

The specifications are that Captain Smith is charged with deliberately choosing a hazardous course through Cuatro Reales channel and in close proximity to Cuba bank, when he might have gone around it, that he failed to use a large scale chart, selecting another less adapted to his purposes, and that he neglected to use all proper precautions. Captain Smith contends that he was under rush orders, and although he used the best available chart, the Arkansas struck an uncharted coral reef. The cost of repairs to the Arkansas amounted to about $50,000.

The court-martial will continue tomorrow. Rear Admiral Aaron Ward is president of the court.

ON THE PICKPOCKETS CHICAGO MAKES WAR

Chicago, May 12.—Mayor Harrison today took a hand in state's Attorney Hoynes' campaign to rid the city of thugs and pickpockets. The mayor appeared before acting Chief of Police Egan with a list of forty persons whom he charged with being well known pickpockets, and who, he declared, had evinced remarkable ability at getting out of jail after being arrested charged with picking pockets.

Mayor Harrison, Mr. Hoynes and the heads of the police department at a conference agreed upon a comprehensive system of warfare upon the pickpockets. Judge Poell, of the superior court, also issued an order that hereafter the police must make a written return on every habeas corpus writ that is issued. Many pickpockets arrested have obtained their immediate releases by habeas corpus.

Lost Life Seeking Eggs.

Salem, N. J., May 12.—William Crispen lowered himself 100 feet by a rope in the Pocono mountains near Easton, Pa., last Friday, in quest of eagles' eggs, and fell 200 feet to his death. News of the accident became known today. Crispen, 33, had collected birds' eggs all over the country.

FIRE AND DYNAMITE USED BY THE WOMEN

Suffragettes Continue Their Campaign of Destruction in Great Britain.

London, May 12.—One of the bands of militant suffragettes assigned to interfere with the pastimes of the men of the British Isles, celebrated Whit Monday, which is a general holiday here, by burning down the headquarters of the Nottingham Boat club on the banks of the River Trent. The structure, which contained many valuable race and other effects, was destroyed, the loss being $10,000.

Officers of the Midland railway received an anonymous letter today saying: "It is my duty to inform you that a desperate act will be attempted in a few days to wreck a main line express."

The railway authorities think the letter may be a hoax, but they are taking precautions.

A bomb operated by clockwork was discovered today under the veranda of the pavilion of the Lincolnton Tennis club in Surrey. Suffragette literature found nearby indicated that an explosion had been planned by the militants.

Women to Stop Dublin.

Dublin, May 12.—The recent outbreak of militantism is only a forerunner of a campaign which, according to information received by the police, the suffragettes have planned to carry out in Dublin to show their resentment of the action of the nationalistic members of parliament, whom they hold responsible for defeat of the suffrage bill.

Several expert militant firebugs are here from England for the fixed purpose of organizing the incendiary feature of the campaign. These militants are being closely watched and elaborate precautions were taken tonight to guard the theaters, music halls and picture shows.

MAGISTRATE ARRESTED FOR RELEASING ADAMS

Asheville, N. C., May 12.—Magistrate M. A. Creamer, who issued the warrant last Saturday for W. S. Adams, of Star, S. C., on the charge of bribing and intimidating a witness in the John Huff case, and who at 10 o'clock that night heard the case without the prosecutor being present and released Adams, was arrested here tonight on a bench warrant, issued by Judge W. J. Adams and held to answer to the charge of violating his oath of office. The warrant was procured by Solicitor Robert R. Reynolds this morning, after the prosecutors of Adams, with the witnesses, appeared before Magistrate Creamer to try the detective and were told that he had been released. The facts were immediately laid before Judge Adams in superior court and the bench warrant followed. Creamer is one of the most prominent men of the county.

STERILIZE CRIMINALS, SAYS MUSCOGEE JUDGE

Columbus, Ga., May 12.—(Special.)—Judge S. F. Gilbert, in charging the grand jury at the beginning of the spring term of Muscogee superior court today, advocated sterilization of criminals as a means of reform. He said that civilization was giving in-tense thought to methods of reducing crime and that it is very probable that sterilization would prove effective. Judge Gilbert was particularly strong in his condemnation of the pistol-toting habit, declaring that it caused more sorrow and trouble than any other one thing.

Mrs. A. P. Coles Is Re-elected Head of Atlanta Woman's Club

Mrs. A. P. Coles was re-elected president of the Atlanta Woman's club yesterday by a unanimous vote. She has ably served the club for 1912-1913, and her election yesterday was a well-deserved compliment from the largest organization of Atlanta's eighty-two federated clubs. Mrs. Coles accepted the office in a graceful expression of appreciation and introduced the newly-elected officers as follows:

First vice president, Miss Alice Baxter; second vice president, Mrs. Linton Hopkins; recording secretary, Mrs. Lott Warren; assistant secretary, Mrs. Albert Akers; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Victor Kriesshaber; treasurer, Mrs. M. M. Davies; auditor, Mrs. Arthur Powell.

Interesting Announcement.
An interesting announcement which was made and which will inspire interest throughout the state was that of the essay contest on southern literature, which will be promoted by the Georgia Federation of Women's Clubs, under the direction of the following committee: Miss Alice Baxter, Mrs. James Jackson, Mrs. Lott Warren, Atlanta; Miss Louise Hays, Thomasville, Ga.; and Mrs. M. A. Lipscomb, Athens, Ga.

The prize is a complete set of the books comprised in the "Library of Southern Literature" published by the Martin-Hoyt company and presented by them to the Georgia Federation of Clubs. Literature bearing upon the subject will be sent through the federated clubs into all parts of the state.

Conditions of Contest.
The conditions governing the contest were announced as follows:
1. Contestants in the preparation of their essays are expected to deal with each phase of literature suggested by subheads.
2. The contest is open to all young men and women (white) of Georgia who are 18 and not over 25 years of age.
3. Each contestant shall use a pseudonym for signing the essays and in a separate sealed envelope, accompanying same, shall write plainly both the fictitious and real name with full address. These sealed envelopes will be opened only by the central committee and after the selection of the best essay has been decided, but it will be under-

MOULTRIE MAN SHOT OVER OLD LAWSUIT

Fist Fight on Main Street Ends in Shooting—May Be Fatal.

Moultrie, Ga., May 12.—(Special.)—A shooting scrape, which may prove fatal, occurred in the business district of the city today at noon, when J. I. Battle, a wealthy livestock dealer and real estate owner, fired a bullet at close range into W. P. Brown. A law suit between these parties was tried at the last term of the superior court, and is said to have stirred up bad blood between them.

It culminated in the shooting today when Battle stopped Brown on the street and asked him if he had made a certain remark that had been credited to him. Brown replied in the affirmative and Battle is said to have passed the lie and to have been instantly knocked down by Brown, who proceeded to administer a severe thrashing. During the melee Battle pulled his gun and fired one shot, the bullet entering Brown's left side and passing through his left lung. The men were pulled apart and Brown was carried to a sanitarium. The bullet was removed from each congressional district, from which number will be selected the prize essay.

COURT ORDER HALTS CHANGE IN AFFAIRS FOR GEORGIA LIFE

Macon, Ga., May 12.—(Special.)—The Georgia Life insurance company was this morning restrained temporarily from changing its name to "The Georgia Casualty Company" on petition of three stockholders, T. L. Bell, J. H. Holloway and J. R. Sanders. The restraining order also holds up the proposed reduction in the capital stock from $500,000 to $300,000. The stockholders of the company are to meet Tuesday, and the changing of the name and reduction of the capital stock were the two principal matters expected to be passed upon.

The restraining order was granted by Judge H. A. Matthews, in the superior court and the officers of the company are cited to appear on June 13 and show cause why they should not be permanently enjoined from taking such action.

The company recently sold its life business to a Maryland company, and is now writing only casualty business. It is for that reason that it is desired to change the name.

No Mount Vernon Sunday.

Washington, May 12.—The question of opening Mount Vernon to the public on Sundays, advocated by the Daughters of the American Revolution, will not come formally before the board of regents of the Ladies' Mount Vernon association during their annual meeting now in progress. Some members favor the movement, but it was today announced that the board was "practically unanimous" against it.

What to Do With a Lunatic Not a Citizen of Georgia, Puzzles Savannah Courts

Savannah, Ga., May 12.—(Special.)—For want of jurisdiction Judge McAlpin today dismissed lunacy proceedings against J. Homer Meachum, the actor who tried to commit suicide by drinking wood alcohol behind the scenes of a theater here last week. Meachum has been locked up since last Friday when his wife swore out a lunacy warrant against him.

It developed after the case was taken out that Meachum was not a resident of Georgia, and that he could not be committed to the state sanitarium for treatment. It was deemed advisable to hold him for a short time, however, to see if he would not get better. His wife, who was a member of the company which has been performing in Savannah, says that she has enough of Meachum, and he will be sent back to his home on Long Island, N. Y. His mind has been affected and his wife does not believe it is safe for her to live with him longer.

Fifty-Mile Record Broken.

London, May 12.—A new world's amateur running record for 50 miles was made today by E. W. Lloyd, who ran the distance in 6 hours, 13 minutes and 58 seconds.

The old record was made by J. E. Dixon in 1885, and was 4 minutes and 28 1-5 seconds slower than Lloyd's time today.

JURY REFORM FIGHT WON BY THE PRESIDENT

Washington, May 12.—President Wilson viewed with satisfaction the passage of a jury reform bill today by the New Jersey house.

Party leaders telephoned the president that the measure passed by the lower house and scheduled to pass the senate tomorrow, would provide for juries no longer to be drawn by sheriffs, but by commissioners selected by the state chancellor in conference with the supreme court justices of the various counties. The whole proposal, however, would be submitted to a state-wide referendum vote next November.

The white house looked upon the bill as a victory for the efforts of the president in his trip to New Jersey. Mr. Wilson had declared he would favor a referendum if it were genuine and opposed previous proposals because a percentage of the electorate, rather than a majority of all votes cast, was to decide the issue.

CITY'S BIG NEED

President Wilmer L. Moore Thinks City Should Have Free Baths for Whites and Negroes.

When a city has no public comforts the stranger has but two choices—the hotels and the saloons which usually are the only places where a man then feels obliged to buy a drink.

Atlanta has no public comforts at all other cities in fact most cities have and some of them are as large as Atlanta. As the city grows year by year the needs of the poor men, commercial travelers as well as picnickers, who should be placed all over the city, all in the business district.

Public Baths Needed

Mr. Moore says that public baths are needed where the mass of the people are congested, such as the business street district.

Public baths in the city are a necessity. The city is practically without them, the only one being at the old city park for summer swimming.

In building public baths for the population should be considered. We cannot afford to build up a large part of the public parks. We must be careful. This will be a decided step toward the city's health.

A Nation-Wide Movement

A city's health is its life. This movement in Atlanta is a part of the nation-wide movement that is sweeping over the city. Improved health naturally follows improved health conditions. The city must look after the health of its people.

LOOKS FOR NO UNION AT THIS ASSEMBLY

Chicago Pastor Thinks Action Immature at Present—He Favors Union

Dr. Albert Joseph McCartney, pastor of Kenwood church in Chicago, an interdenominational institution arrived yesterday to attend the opening session of the general assembly of the Presbyterian church.

He is interested in advancing the union of the Presbyterian churches of America.

Kenwood church of which Dr. McCartney is pastor is known as the Kenwood Evangelical church and was organized as a community church in 1887. It is one of the best of that character which has met with more or less success.

It includes in its membership representatives of all Christian denominations who accept the general faith. Its standards are constituted on the beliefs that are held in common by the Christian denominations.

The church has been remarkably successful in maintaining the spirit of peace and good will that it has fostered notwithstanding the many denominations from which its membership is made up.

It contributes annually in benevolence a budget of $1,000 which is distributed through the channels of different denominations and boards.

It gives its foreign mission contribution through the American board of Christian education and the interdenominational board of Christian education.

Although interdenominational in character the church has always had Presbyterian ministers. The present pastor is one of the best of his denomination and is the son of a Presbyterian minister.

In discussing the position of Presbyterian union Dr. McCartney says that he does not believe that there will be any very definite action taken toward union at this assembly other than mutual discussion of the matter.

He also stated that he would regret any premature attempt at union but says that a great deal has been done at the convention held in Atlanta this week to bring about a friendly understanding and a better understanding of the differences that have separated the churches in the past and that they will have a stronger appreciation of the things that they have in common.

Dr. McCartney will top the Piedmont during his stay in Atlanta.

DR H M DUBOSE LAUDS COURSE IN JOURNALISM

Dr. H. M. D. Bose, pastor of the First Methodist church, views the innovation of journalism being taught in the colleges of America with a great deal of interest and rejoices in the fact that Emory college has taken up the phase of college work.

Dr. D. Bose discussed the enterprise of the promoters of this course with interest. I believe he said in it as I am a practical journalist myself having been in the church newspaper work for twenty years.

Our young men in entering journalism should take the same view of their work as when entering the ministry, teaching, or any other profession—go into it to do the best they can for themselves and the public.

"Newspapers should be guarded by the canon of correct education, ethical responsibility and personal honor. And with these three factors journalism will rise to the plane of one of the highest factors in our modern civilization."

NEEDS NEW BUILDING

Superintendent Slaton Tells of Remarkable Growth During Brief Space of Time

By George MacDonnell Slaton

The English Commercial high school forms its curriculum along vocational lines and meets the demands both of progressive American cities and of modern educational thought.

The school has grown so rapidly that it is greatly embarrassed by the lack of a suitable building. At present it occupies two separate rented buildings on the lot of the St. Paul Hotel. It is only a half block from the Washington viaduct where waves of dust disturb and where the noise of traffic surges in drawing the curtains of a horse and carriage.

The rooms are cramped and small. Some of the classes sit in a kitchen which has been converted into a small school room. The wireless rights of the narrow and dank rooms are so sanitary appointments as to be sufficient and there is nothing inspiring in the place itself to the student.

The English Commercial high school is the first of its kind in the city. It is a model of modern educational thought and is a credit to the city.

Desires To Be Added

The school is in need of a new building. It is a model of modern educational thought and is a credit to the city.

Should Teach Cooking and Sewing

This school is now teaching a variety of bookkeeping, penmanship, arithmetic, English grammar, English literature, French, history and commercial geography.

In addition to these studies it is important that the schools should teach dress cutting and fitting and making sewing, millinery and cooking.

The knowledge of household economies will be of infinite value to these young ladies throughout life. A well married woman knows more and every intelligent man knows.

It is so necessary to a well educated woman that she should be able to do these things. It is a national high school for girls in the present contracted quarters.

Building for Girls Needed

Superintendent William M. Slaton of the board of education, Mayor J. C. Woodward and the federated women's clubs of Atlanta reinforced by an influential public opinion urge the erection of an English Commercial high school building for girls.

A council of the city is urged to appropriate $75,000 for that purpose in the June appropriation sheet.

Superintendent Slaton expresses the earnest hope and belief that the city council, if aided by patriotism and wisdom will see that this school is properly provided for in June.

FARMERS ARE GLOOMY OVER LONG DROUGHT

Showers Expected Today But Only Enough to Settle the Dust

By Tel. Clarence Kimball

The weather bureau predicts no appreciable rainfall within the next four hours. It is estimated that the total rainfall for the past six weeks is only 1.1 inches.

The normal rainfall for April is 3.4 inches. For the first thirteen days of this month the rainfall has been only 0.4 inches, making 1.86 inches for the same period last year while the normal rainfall for the entire month of May is 3.99 inches.

Only twice within the last thirty days has the rainfall for April been so light. In 1918 the normal rainfall was 3.5 inches and April 1919 it was 3.1 inches against 3.4 inches of this April.

In May 1897 the rainfall was 3.1 inches for the first four days while the rest of the month it was less than an inch. More than half the month it may remain but it is not likely that the total rainfall will reach anything like the normal.

The record of last year's crop is a record of disaster. It is estimated that the loss to the cotton crop is $100,000,000.

Dr. H. M. D. Bose would make a statement as to the effect of the drought on the crop conditions but he did not do so.

He stated that his experience has been that a dry April and May has a good crop and a wet June and July has a poor crop.

Local farmers however report from various sections still show uneasiness and say that the crops cannot come up until it rains. The cotton plants are very bad on cotton.

CAPITAL CITY CLUB PROPERTY PLANS STILL UNDECIDED

By I. E. McKellar

When asked what he would do with the property on which the old Capital City Club stood, Asa G. Candler said Monday that he did not know.

This is most valuable property and of great value in real estate circles. Being asked if he might build and improve, or sell at once, Mr. Candler repeated "I don't now know what I shall do with it."

CERTIFICATION SYSTEM MEETING WITH FAVOR

Dozens of Letters Are Received Daily by State Department of Education

By Tel. Clarence Kimball

The state department of education has considerable variation from its usual correspondence these days by reason of the new system of certification just adopted by the state board.

Every mail brings dozens of letters of inquiry from teachers and others on this subject.

Until this year no examination or test of qualifications in any way has been required of high school instructors except in three or four city systems.

Now however all this has changed and teachers doing high school work must be certified to do so to competence and qualifications just as those in primary and general elementary work.

The new system gives credit for diplomas from colleges and normal schools in addition to the old requirement of examination merely.

It is set forth in full in a little pamphlet published by the state superintendent and from the simplest and most rudimentary system of certification in the country brings Georgia up to one of considerable complexity and much higher standard of excellence.

BLUE SKY LAW TO BE DISCUSSED THIS AFTERNOON

By Thomas E. H. Magath

At 4:30 o'clock this afternoon a special committee meeting with H. M. Willet as chairman will meet in the rooms of the chamber of commerce for a discussion of the blue sky law.

The bill will be proposed in the coming session of the legislature, and all the influence of the chamber will be directed toward its passage.

DENTAL INSPECTION NEEDED IN SCHOOLS

Dr. Thomas P. Hinman Declares Health of Children Will Profit Greatly

By H. W. Shaver

I think that Atlanta should adopt and rigidly enforce dental inspection in the public schools of the city.

Dr. Thomas P. Hinman, one of the leading dentists of Atlanta, in speaking of the plan that will be argued before the chamber of commerce tonight.

"We are not aware of the amount of disease and of the injury done to the health of children by neglect in this important matter. More dangerous germs find lodgment in the teeth and permanently injure the health than the public are aware of."

Intelligent care of the teeth will prevent many diseases and lengthen life.

Dr. Hinman quotes Dr. William Osler, formerly of the Johns Hopkins university, now professor emeritus at Oxford university, England, when he says "mouth infections cause more injury to the human race than alcohol."

If so eminent an authority as Dr. Osler makes this statement the city ought to do its share toward the prevention of disease by compulsory dental examination of the mouths of the pupils.

"When I was in Cincinnati last year for myself the value of dental instruction in the schools of the city, continued Dr. Hinman. When I examined a grade that had dental instruction and examination I found forty or more pupils with almost perfect teeth."

The teacher reported practically no absence for the term because of sickness. I went to another room where dental hygiene was not taught and found that the record for absences was high.

The mouths of the pupils were in a deplorable condition and the general health was bad. This shows why dental instruction should be compulsory in the public schools.

"A great many diseases can be traced to defective teeth. Dental inspection is, indeed, something the four schools should have, and I favor it most heartily."

by dental experts. This committee was instrumental in having the schools examined last year, which showed the necessity for dental inspection.

Mystery Within a Mystery Now Baffling Newspaper Men Working on the Phagan Case

By Thomas E. H. Magath

A veil of mystery so dense as to completely shut off the light from all newspaper men surrounds the identity of the detective who has been employed by Solicitor General Dorsey.

So far nothing can be learned except that the mysterious detective has worked on the case only one week and is now not in Atlanta, but some distance away working on another case.

This detective, one of the best in the country, quotes Mr. Dorsey, did not give up the case because of inefficiency. He says the solicitor general is absolutely satisfied with his work and hope he will continue work on the case.

Where Did He Come From? Where this detective came from is known only to Mr. Dorsey. He declared in an interview on Monday that he had divulged the name to no one and that his movements were unknown to all save himself.

If the detective has discovered anything definite it is not to be told until the whole matter has simmered down and all the evidence that can be gotten together is in hand. Hundreds of affidavits have been pouring in many of which will be excluded.

Case Before Jury Friday. Mr. Dorsey further stated in the interview that it was not likely that the case would come before the grand jury until Friday, and that Frank and Lee would both probably be considered at once although if a true bill were found against them he could not say which would be tried first.

Wholesale Grocers Are Joyous Over the Business Outlook

By H. W. Shaver

The leading wholesale grocers of Atlanta declare that business is on the boom and that the prospects for a prosperous fall season are bright.

There is an increase in the sales over the corresponding period last year in unison they declare that business is in a very healthy condition despite the bad crops of last season. Although money has been more tight than usual the people will have to rely more upon their resources.

J. G. Oglesby of the Oglesby Grocery company says "There is good outlook for the fall and every indication points to a prosperous fall season. More corn has been planted this year than heretofore and we will have a greater diversity of crops."

IN ATLANTA THEATERS

Tabloid at the Bijou and Stock at the Lyric Announced for Summer.

By Irvia Ennis

If the plans and prospects for Atlanta playhouses, as stated by Hugh Cardoza are carried out the city will soon see several changes in the theater world.

A dramatic stock company will very probably be installed at the Lyric in a short while. Emma Bunting will not appear in this company according to Mr. Cardoza. Its leading actors will be procured from the established theaters and will appear only in farces and light comedies.

Beginning next Monday at the Bijou the nature of the attractions there will be entirely changed. A season of tabloid musical comedy will be installed. The cast will be made up of eighteen to twenty people with a chorus of from twelve to fourteen girls.

There will be no change from the present prices or schedule of performances. The future of the Grand is altogether speculative. There is the city large at theater in the country, having three thousand seats. This fact Mr. Cardoza believes is declared by the management to be a handicap as the public feels more at home when closely segregated. It is possible if a high-class opera can be obtained that moving pictures will be run there during the summer. The McWickers in Chicago and the Broadway in New York have already adopted this plan.

The regular Keith vaudeville will continue at the Lyric during the summer season.

No Roof Gardens Here

The question of a roof garden in Atlanta has been many times discussed. Such a form of amusement in Atlanta is altogether out of the question, declared Mr. Cardoza yesterday. It would cost four thousand dollars a week to run it. This would mean that 2,000 people a night at 20 cents admission would be required to make it pay. There is no roof in Atlanta nor elevator service that could accommodate such a mass.

Public taste has already made unprofitable the maintaining of amusement parks except on the water fronts. Even Coney Island and Philadelphia's Willow Grove are deteriorating. The skating rink and the roller rink are also dead and there is little left to make such parks attractive to the public.

Atlanta is undoubtedly one of the best cities for theatrical productions in the country. There is room for every theater here if the right productions are staged. The public taste is undoubtedly in favor of vaudeville. This is because the great variety in the vaudeville attractions appeal to every class. Then too the public has come to the time when it attends the theater to laugh rather than to be thrilled through the artistic productions of a Shakespeare drama.

Melodrama Dead

"The old-fashioned melodrama has been killed by the tremendous growth of the moving picture business. The vaudeville and musical comedy will never be interfered with in this way, as it is impossible to portray the spirit of such amusement on a picture sheet."

The moving picture shows are the incubators of the theater. There the public gets the habit of being amused and becoming tired of the movies seeks the theaters.

VETS CELEBRATE 49TH ANNIVERSARY OF SPOTTSYLVANIA

By Thomas E. H. Magath

A number of veterans of the civil war called upon Colonel W. H. Harrison and Commander General W. A. Wright at the state capitol, yesterday to recount and discuss the experiences of the battle of Spotsylvania Court house, Va. which was fought on May 13, 1864.

Yesterday was the fifty seventh anniversary of this battle and for years these veterans at the capitol have met and spent enjoyable hours recounting the experiences of their leaders and comrades.

The design for the monument of General Gordon on the capitol grounds was secured from an experience in this battle in which General Gordon prevented General Robert E. Lee from leading his men into battle to restore the line broken by the assault of Hancock's corps and where an entire division of Lee's army had been captured.

INTERCOLLEGIATE ATHLETICS DISCUSSED

By I. E. McKellar

There is a movement among some of the alumni and many of the students of Emory college looking to a trial of intercollegiate athletics at Emory. They intend to ask for three years trial under proper faculty supervision.

Asa G. Candler who is president of the board of trustees of the college when asked his opinion of the matter said he was not in favor of it, and thought it would never come.

He says it is opposed to the history and traditions of the past and contrary to the hopes of the future. "Some young men are agitating the question but they will never succeed," said he. "I don't think they will ever get it."

business will be the largest in many years because buyers are conservative and our farmers are living more economically than in any other time. He adds "Although business is not quite as large as it has been heretofore we expect a very large crop if weather conditions permit and brisk business this fall. We can never tell what the outcome of the year will be. The present indications I feel optimistic about the outlook."

John A. Manget of the Browder Market Grocers company is very optimistic about business in the coming fall and stated to a reporter that the wholesale grocers expect a good business this fall from present indications. Crops are getting along well and fall business will be one of the best in years. If present indications amount to anything.

With indications of a good crop the wholesale merchants are preparing for a heavy fall trade. Buying has been about normal even after the bad crop of last fall. This indicates a large crop and prosperity to all merchants in the state. The wholesale grocers are optimistic, and they are the barometers of business in the state.

Biggest Business in Years.

Dallas, Texas, May 12.—(Special.)—It is declared a certainty that Atlanta will be selected as the place of Shrinism for 1914 on the first ballot. Memphis, Tenn., is putting up a strong fight, and the tie is between these two southern cities. The patrol and drum corps of Yarnab temple arrived this morning, and all day have been carrying on a vigorous campaign, giving exhibitions in the lobby of the leading hotels, where they have been received with an ovation on every side.

Ernest J. Curtis, of Savannah, Ga., a member of the Imperial council, arrived at 2 o'clock today, and is doing good work for Atlanta among the imperial officers and representatives. Potomac sharrab, of Oak Temple, Hammond, Ind., is predicting that Atlanta will win on the first ballot.

The patrol and drum corps are quartered at the Morris Hotel, and are highly pleased with the provisions made for their comfort.

Adair Certain of Victory.

Potomac sharrab is more than confident that the efforts of his delegation will meet with success. The booklet issued by the Atlanta convention bureau, giving views of hotels and public buildings, falls into the hands of his and a copy of same has been placed in the hands of every representative. A great many of the wives and daughters of visiting Shriners have asked for these booklets.

"We have a great advantage on our side," said Mr. Adair, "and I believe this assures the 1914 meeting for Atlanta."

Memphis is putting on a big "outside show" in an effort to get the votes, while Atlanta is relying on the inside show. The Atlanta men believe they have enough pledges to win.

Two Memphis camels arrived today. Tonight the Memphis crowd opened a real side show, and Memphisites are spreading everywhere among the Shriners.

Marching must awaken a large portion of the population of Dallas, which is expected to arrive for the thirty-ninth annual convention of Shriners. Twenty-six special trains arrived today.

"Morris" Sings.

A feature of the city's entertainment is the making of every one of its 100,000 population an official member of the entertainment committee and the slogan of the convention. "Morris" sang and drummed in front of automobiles and in all sorts of places throughout Dallas. This slogan drew a $25 prize when it was selected from several hundred other welcoming greetings submitted in competition about a week ago.

Wednesday was the main business of the opening session today. Tuesday will be parade day, Wednesday business will be finished and Thursday an important tour of the state will begin.

Montgomery, Ala., sent a delegation of 50 Shriners to attend the imperial officers that Montgomery's request for the establishment of a temple there is the only unfinished business left over from last year's meeting in Los Angeles.

A telegram today from Charles E. O'Neil, Mayor of San Diego, Calif., announced that the Shriners of Los Angeles and San Diego had also a prisoner aboard their special train and warned Dallasites that as soon as they hear the song, "I Love You, California," they may have to be ready to fight.

They have arrived and had better "chain down everything movable unless it is red-hot."

Summary Supplement Band.

A Summary Supplement Band appeared on the streets today, each man wearing a multi-colored sash, uniform, a metal protected helmet, and each played an accordion. They were unlabelled, but some of them were recognized as Italian Shriners.

More than 10,000 babies had registered up to noon today. In fizzes, stinks and pushes they overrun the business section of the city, turning the street into a merry-making carnival and when the sun got hot they began marching, singing and band playing in the business buildings.

Mexico at Shoot.

Washington, May 12.—Mexico has been added to the list of countries which will send rifle teams to compete in the international shooting competition to be held at Camp Perry, Ohio, next fall. Other Pan-American countries which will be represented are Argentina, Peru, Chile and Cuba.

As Emory Artists Saw Tag Day

Tag Day and the Pretty Workers As Seen By the Boys From Emory

By J. R. Bink.

On one of the main streets in Atlanta yesterday a small two-passenger auto rolled up to the curb. A pretty "little girl" approached the driver with these words: "Please buy a tag pennant for your pretty automobile. You see every one is selling them, but it will look lots prettier if you get it from me." Upon seeing a look of perplexity appear on his face, she explained to him in full the purpose of "tag day"—that it was for the benefit of the Sheltering Arms.

"What's your price?" was his question after she had finished her few persuasive remarks.

"Just a dollar," she said.

"Oh, Mother," he said, at the same time starting his car. Before going far he put on the brakes and looked around. The girl was looking at him with a look of disappointment on her face. He mentioned her to come forward, while handing her two crisp $1 bills for two of her pennants, he said, jokingly:

"What do we care for expenses? We all know its tag day."

She replied to increase the street car service, says Preston S. Arkwright, "as soon as the various lines show the need of quick schedules. All the new cars bought will probably be of the type of car for better than this is developed in the near future."

"We are going to meet the demands of the public as far as we reasonably can," Mr. Arkwright intends to have signs on the sides of all cars, as well as on the front.

The street railway company has no other plans for the improvement of the street car service other than that which they and the railroad commission agree upon. We do not contemplate the construction of any new lines other than completing the line which is now being built to Stone Mountain. This line will be opened to the public about September 1. If the needs of Clarkston do not give us any trouble about the right-of-way through that town. We do not know whether we will extend the line to Stone Mountain or not at present, but are going to give consideration of that for the future.

"Statistics show that Atlanta has the best street car service in the country in proportion to population."

By Tom Burnside.

"Won't you please buy a tag?" asked a charming lady of a robust looking man who rode up in an automobile in front of Bikins' drug store.

"No, I haven't time," he said. "I'll be back in a little while and buy one."

After a short while the man came riding up, getting out of the machine came and bought one for a dollar.

"I'll tell you," he said, "I am going to come back this afternoon and buy another from you," as he drove away.

The young lady said:

"Just like a man."

In a short time the gentleman came again. Getting out he came up to the young lady.

By Richard J. Broyles.

A handsome young man dressed in the height of fashion with no less suitable charming manners, switched across Five Points' busy way. On reaching the curbing of a densely populated corner, he was assailed by an especially charming young lady, who boldly, though kindly, demanded that he allow her to tag him.

Immediately fascination set in, and the young man's tongue, as if by magic, spontaneously began to move.

"Do you think me lost?" he asked, and an easily perceptible grin played across his face.

"Yes, sir," she replied. "You are lost in Atlanta on tag day without a tag."

This seemed to please him and, becoming excited over the situation, his tongue lost its smoothness. "There was no longer philosophy in his utterances. His tongue became uncontrollable, and when he meant to pass her the delicate compliment of calling her a fair damsel, he most discourteously called her a "dam fairzell." Powerful siff of the tongue! No success in love! Utter failure, and untold embarrassment. But worst of all, a forthright "capp" was said, and he heard it all. The reader may surmise the remainder.

"Back to the Farm," Sounds Good Declares "Little Joe" Brown

By Cranston G. Williams.

Will the popular call of today, "back to the farm," govern the future of Governor Joseph M. Brown, whose term of office expires in a few weeks? Speculation is rife in political circles as to the correct answer for this query, although surmises are on all hands with no direct statement as to the governor's course when he loosens himself from the duties of Georgia's chief executive.

Governor Brown greets the question with a smile and the comment that it is too far ahead to speculate on his public life, especially as any election that he might interest himself in takes place a good many months off.

The governor is very ready to say that he will immediately return to his farm in Cobb county when Hon. John M. Slaton takes the oath of office. His private affairs have suffered to a great extent because of the necessary time he has devoted to the duties of his office, and his first task will be to devote himself to this work.

"Georgia has had too much politics in the last few years, and they deserve a rest," was the comment made on Georgia's present political situation by Governor Brown. Continuing, he said: "The primaries, and so many of them, have diverted the minds of the hard-working people of the state. In these modern days of telegraph, telephone and rural-free delivery the people in

FIGHT TO CLIMB TO THE TOP IS ADVICE OF ASA G. CANDLER TO COLLEGE JOURNALISTS

By I. E. McKeller.

"Climb to the top of the mountain, for that's where the world needs you most."

Twenty-three young men heard these words of inspiration breathed into their ambitious souls yesterday by a man who has himself climbed to the top of the mountain—Asa G. Candler, president of the board of trustees of Emory college.

The young men were the students of journalism at Emory college, and Mr. Candler's address was the feature of a luncheon at which the class was entertained in the Kimball house at noon by The Constitution, which had extended the invitation for the boys to edit the Tuesday morning's edition of The Constitution.

Mr. Candler was the only outside guest. Present from The Constitution were Business Manager Halstead, Miss Isma Dooly, Managing Editor Gortatowsky and the host, Clark Howell. With the class from Oxford came Dr. Melton, of the chair of English, who has taken such interest in this department.

Just before entering the private dining-room the twenty-three students gave nine "rahs" for The Constitution and Mr. Howell with much enthusiasm.

Mr. Howell introduced Mr. Candler, who addressed the company. Mr. Candler's talk was a gem of fatherly advice, and was listened to with eager ears by every one of the young men gathered around the table.

A vast training ground.

"You are in the midst of a wonderful opportunity in your college work, and you should strive to get out of it every bit that you can," said Mr. Candler. "While I never had a chance of attending college myself, and got most of my learning from the law and the law firm, still I have come to realize since then what a vast training ground the college is, and I have been doing all I can to encourage this phase of American life, and I am glad to do more for Emory—something that I hope will ever link my name with its glorious work."

"Now, in your youth, you are getting the inspiration for great work and an accomplishment. When you get out of business you must fight to climb upward in spite of the snags and cliffs that will beset your path. If a mountain rises before you, but it behind you by climbing to its top."

Practical The Constitution.

"And just here let me say," continued Mr. Candler, "that you have come to the right place to get the best insight of all that is best in modern journalism. I refer to The Atlanta Constitution. (Applause.) For all these years it has stood for everything that is best in American tradition and for southern advancement. It is as much a part of our fundamental system here in Georgia as the state constitution itself. It was an inspiration for The Constitution to send for these Emory boys to show them the inside workings of a great newspaper, and it is a rare privilege for every boy who is here to take advantage of this opportunity." (Applause.)

Mr. Dooly spoke of the woman's department, and how it began and ended in home affairs. This phase of the newspaper is now one of the most important.

Mr. Halstead and Mr. Gortatowsky responded, each representing his department. Mr. Halstead reminded the boys that there is room at the top

GOSSIP AT CAPITOL

By Cranston G. Williams.

The state railroad commission and several prominent officials of the Georgia railroad and Central of Georgia railroad held a conference at the capitol yesterday to discuss the agitation of a new depot for Macon. The officials are now working on plans to improve the railroad facilities at Macon. A union station, for the use of all railroads entering the city, will probably be built. The station will be built on the site of the old depot.

Those present at the conference besides the members of the railroad commission were: President C. H. Markham, of Chicago; Vice President W. A. Winburn, Vice President A. R. Lawson, General Manager T. S. Molise, Chief Engineer C. K. Lawrence, of the Central of Georgia railroad, and Vice President H. B. Spencer, of the Southern railway.

Quail Destroying Crops.

State Game Commissioner Jesse E. Mercer has received numerous complaints from citizens of Wilcox county to the effect that the quail of that section are becoming so numerous as to destroy the young corn. These become necessary to plant the fields three or four times.

Commissioner Mercer has granted the farmers permission to trap the birds, and to use any kind of traps they may use, and directing that the birds may be fed and watered until he could take possession of them. He intends to send the birds to those sections of the state which have few quail.

To Pass on Fee System.

The state supreme court will very probably hand down its decision on the constitutionality of the law passed by the legislature which put the officials of Fulton county dependent upon a salary instead of fees.

Nothing has been made public or any intimation received from the higher courts as to the result of the action, but there is a general belief that the constitutionality of the law will be upheld.

United States Officers for Riverside.

United States naval academy of Gainesville, Ga., will be under partial control by the United States government immediately after the school is taken in charge by Professor Sandy Beaver and Colonel J. G. Nash, of New Smyrna, Fla.

A naval official will be detailed to inspect the school and its work. The promoters of Riverside intend making the school a plan for the training of young men.

Professor Beaver is now at the University School for Boys at Stone Mountain, but will take charge of Riverside at the opening of the next scholastic year. No announcement has been made as to Professor Beaver's successor.

L. B. Hutcheson.

The funeral of L. B. Hutcheson will be held this afternoon at 3 o'clock in the chapel of Greenberg and Berry. Hugh Walker will officiate. Interment will follow at Oakland cemetery.

"Four 1/4-page ads have 1 1/2 times stronger memory-value than one full-page ad."

This statement was made by Hugo Munsterberg, professor of psychology at Harvard university. It is based on experiments made by him with advertisements on average men and women readers, and proves the value of constant repetition.

Psychology is the science of the mind. Successful merchants, consciously or unconsciously, use this science in their business. Successful salesmen use it every day. Knowledge of it enables them to influence "the other man" to the benefit of both.

When an eminent scientist like Hugo Munsterberg—a man renowned throughout the world—makes actual tests in a psychological laboratory to determine the value of certain size ads, it is surely time that you, Mr. Merchant, awake to the value of persistency in your advertising.

One big ad, like a 13-inch guz, will make a "big noise," but the noise soon dies. But many medium-size ads published in a good newspaper like The Constitution, like many Springfield rifles fired one after the other, will attract more attention.

Don't splurge with one big ad, but urge with many medium-size ads, and you'll get more business.

BILLY MUST GET SOME PITCHERS QUICK

WHIFFS

Time for Action. BILLY SMITH must get some "real" pitchers, and that quickly. The time for experimenting is passed.

A Wretched Staff. OUTSIDE of Brady and Price, the Crackers have no pitchers who can be depended upon.

Bill Is Vindicated. BILLY SMITH has been vindicated. Harblson back from the New York Americans some fans raised a howl that went to the skies.

Sign Two New Ones. KIL ELBERFELD is strengthening his ball club. He has secured two new players, one an outfielder named Eisecher.

How Now, Roger? ROGER BRESNAHAN must view with alarm the rise of the Cardinals with Miller Huggins handling the whip and spur.

Wager On Golfer. CAN A GOLFER tee a ball on the home plate at the Polo grounds and drive it over the centerfield fence 165 yards away?

College Protege. DAVE ROBERTSON, the great right fielder of the Mobile club, is a college protege. He attended the North Carolina Agricultural and Mechanical college two years ago.

Original Come Back. CY FALKENBURG, of the Cleveland Naps, is the only man "come back" of the season.

A Disappearance. MOLESWORTH is worrying about the disappearance of Outfielder Bodus, the youngster whom he picked up this spring.

Ready June 1. RAY BOYD, the Birmingham pitcher, will be ready for duty June 1. The Birmingham fans sent the big fellow to Bonsetter house for treatment.

It Is To Be Hoped. "SWALLOW" SMITH was not badly hurt Sunday. This is joyous news to Atlanta fandom, who feared that their big third sacker and a tower of strength of the team would be out for some time.

GEORGIA-ALABAMA

Tallahassee 5, Gadsden 4. Gadsden, Ala., May 12.—(Special.)—Tallahassee took the first from Gadsden in the twelfth inning today 5 to 4.

Opelika 5, Newnan 3. Newnan, Ga., May 12.—Opelika defeated Newnan this afternoon by the score of 5 to 3. The game was featured by three home runs, Swartz and Ery each poking one over for the visitors.

BILLY MUST GET SOME PITCHERS QUICK

Turtles Overcome Five-Run Lead and Beat Locals 8 to 5; Errors Help in the Downfall. Memphis, Tenn., May 12.—(Special.) After scoring five runs in the third inning, while the locals failed to tally, Atlanta lost to Memphis in the opening game of the series, score, 8 to 5.

Wattie Back Today. Harry Watie got back in the game today, playing right, though he limped at all times. A long double, which netted a run, marked Watie's re-entrance into the game.

Parsons Pitched for Memphis, and, with the exception of the third, was a baffling puzzle. An error on Graham's grounder started the fun.

Turtles' Big Round. Turtle tallies were registered in the fifth, sixth and seventh. It was the scoring in category that made the seventh ornate that beat Smith's squad.

College Protege. DAVE ROBERTSON, the great right fielder of the Mobile club, is a college protege. He attended the North Carolina Agricultural and Mechanical college two years ago.

Original Come Back. CY FALKENBURG, of the Cleveland Naps, is the only man "come back" of the season.

M'CARTY STARTS WORK FOR PELKEY BATTLE

Calgary, Alberta, May 12.—Luther McCarty, who meets Arthur Pelkey in a ten-round bout here May 24, arrived last night from New York. He will get into good shape in two weeks, he said. He will open training quarters this afternoon. Pelkey has been working with Tommy Burns for ten days, and already is showing great improvement. Odds have shortened to 10 to 7, with McCarty the choice.

You Beer Drinkers

Read THIS!

"Beer acted upon by light soon takes up the very disagreeable so-called 'light taste,' and also a repulsive skunk-like odor.  Beer so affected is offensive to the palate of most consumers.  Beer should not be exposed to light, especially to direct sunlight, as it will thereby be detrimentally affected; the light having an influence upon the albuminoids in beer, causes the beer to become hazy. ***"

O'Connor Due Yearly Salary for Being Fired.

St. Louis, May 12.—The St. Louis American League Baseball club must pay Jack O'Connor $5,000, the amount he would have received in salary had he not been discharged as manager prior to the 1910 season, a jury in the circuit court decided tonight.

The trial, which had occupied the court all day, came to a close with unexpected suddenness. The jurors were out only thirty minutes.

O'Connor was called to the stand in rebuttal as the last witness. He denied the testimony of Sidney Cook and Julius Cronheim, baseball writers, that they had, from the grand stand, overheard O'Connor give orders that enabled Napoleon Lajoie, of the Cleveland team, to almost tie the batting average of Ty Cobb for the 1910 season.

Cook testified that he heard O'Connor instruct Pitcher Malloy to give bases on balls to certain Cleveland hitters and in one instance heard him instruct Malloy to hit Manager McArthur, of Cleveland, with the ball. Malloy, the witness said, hit McArthur in the groin. The effect of these instructions, the witness said, was to bring Lajoie to bat every other inning.

Cook also testified that he heard O'Connor swear at Third Baseman Corridor, getting his hand on a ball hit by Lajoie, thus causing Lajoie to be credited only with a sacrifice.

Julius Cronheim, who sat in the grand stand with Cook, testified that he heard the instructions to the players similar to those testified to by Cook, but said he was not sure of the values of the speakers as was his companion.

A deposition filed in the case today by President Baz Johnson, of the American league, stated that Johnson ordered the dismissal of O'Connor on the ground that he had instructed Third Baseman John Corridor to play back of the base when Napoleon Lajoie was at bat for Cleveland, thereby enabling Lajoie to run up his batting record.

President Hedges, of the St. Louis team, denied he discharged O'Connor at the end of the season. He also said that he gave $200,000 and $300,000 had been invested in the St. Louis American and that in the last three years $100,000 had been spent in strengthening the team. Mr. Hedges said he accepted the manager's resignation and at the time made no protest at the work of the St. Louis players.

Lanett Wins.

The Lanett Cotton Mills defeated the strong Longdale club today by the score of 12 to 0 in a very one-sided game, featured by the good hitting and team work of Lanett. Holliday struck out seventeen men and allowed two hits.

Adairsville 10, Rome 1.

Adairsville, Ga., May 12.—(Special.) The Adairsville team defeated a picked team here today from Rome by the score of 10 to 1. The batting and pitching of Franklin was the feature, getting three hits out of four times at bat, letting his opponents down with one hit and striking out 11 men.

Score by innings: R. H. E.
 Adairsville . . . 10 0 0 0—10 8 2

G. O. P. ELEPHANT TO BE HARNESED

that "it meant just what it said, but that no lengthy talk had been indulged in about inviting members of the progressive party to return to the republican ranks."

As chairman of the conference, Senator Sherman, of Illinois, was authorized to appoint a committee of five members who, with the state members, give out today as a basis, are to draft an address to the public and to the members of the national committee.

Senator Borah, of Idaho, is opposed to calling a republican national conference. He has asserted that it would be useless to attempt to reorganize from the top down, as any meeting held at this time would be controlled by the same men who dominated the convention last June.

He was the center of discussion when he advanced a plan for the direct election of delegates to national conventions, standing practically alone on his feet.

Hostility to National Committee.

Hostility to the present national committee has been openly expressed by several of the progressives. Senator Kenyon's statement that most of us would have no objection to resignation of the national committee resigning, is backed up by Senator Sherman, of Illinois, who said:

The feeling is that the national committee should be less inflexible and more amenable to public opinion. One of the aims of the conference is to curtail the powers of the existing national committee. Interviews have disclosed that the consensus of opinion favors following the rule adopted by the progressive and democratic national conventions, providing that members of the national committee shall assume their duties immediately upon election, instead of waiting until the dissolution of the committee at the close of the national convention.

The attendance of Senator Gronna, of North Dakota, is said to have the disapproval of Senator La Follette, who is not in sympathy with the gathering. The two have been strong political allies and he reports that the determination of Senator Gronna to attend has caused dissension.

Stripes for Bank Officers.

New Orleans, May 12.—Eugene F. Buhler and Joseph H. Gomilla, convicted officers of the defunct Teutonia Bank and Trust company, which failed on April 15, 1912, with a loss of more than half a million dollars to depositors and stockholders, will have to serve the seven years' prison terms imposed by the trial court. The supreme court today affirmed the judgment of the lower court.

St. Louis, Mo., May 12.—Groom was in great form today and easily beat St. Louis, Washington winning 2 to 0. Mitchell pitched great ball for St. Louis, but an error by Pratt allowed Washington to score in the second. Groom tried to get Pratt out and scored when Pratt fumbled. Moeller grounded. Moeller took second on a balk and scored on Schaefer's single. Washington had numerous chances to score in the later innings, but Mitchell's accuracy tightened up with men on base.

Tigers 3, Red Sox 7.

Detroit, May 12.—Fighting an uphill battle all the way and tying the score in the eighth inning with four hits, Detroit defeated Chicago in a trot today defeated Boston 3 to 7 in the second game of the series. The contest was marked by hard hitting when hits were needed most.

Detroit used three pitchers and Boston two. Lakewood, in his last two innings for the locals and successfully stopped the attack of the champions, while Wood, who succeeded Leonard, was the victim of the winning rally. Three hits brought Boston three runs in the second after Bush gave Detroit a tally in the first by stealing home. In the fourth Cobb slid safely across the plate, although the ball had been returned to Carrigan. Carrigan pitched a sacrifice fly to Lewis.

Chicago, May 12.—Chicago outthrew Philadelphia today but the luck of the game broke in favor of the visitors, and the locals were shut out, 3 to 0. Russell outpitched the veteran Bender, but the fielding behind the Indian made that overcome this, while that behind Russell was weak.

Philadelphia earned but one of its runs; that was in the sixth when Oldring's double, a sacrifice and Baker's single registered a tally. Three times Chicago got men as far as third base, but failed to deliver a hit in the ninth, even though Manager Callahan called in his pinch hitters, Basterly and Boston.

Phillies 6, Pirates 5.

Philadelphia, May 12.—Philadelphia defeated Pittsburgh in an eleven-inning contest today 6 to 5, Lobert scoring the deciding run by reaching third when he stole by Butler, three errors and sending a sacrifice to Wyatt. Pittsburgh took a lead of two runs in the first inning, but the home team forged ahead in the fifth on Paskort's triple. Knabe's double and Masego's home run, a single by Butler, three errors and two sacrifices gave the visitors two more runs in the sixth. Kelly scored in the eighth on his triple and Carey's single. A pass to Dooin and E. Miller's double scored the former in the eighth. Knabe's home run tied the score in the ninth. Mayer, who succeeded Moore in the ninth, held Pittsburgh safe, while O'Toole took Adams' place in the sixth.

Polo Ponies Arrive.

New York, May 12.—Forty-four polo ponies, which will be ridden by members of the English team in the international matches with the United States team on the field at Meadow Brook, Long Island, in June, arrived tonight aboard the steamer Minneapolis from London. The ponies will be quartered at the Piping Rock Country club, where the English team will practice.

Brooklyn, N. Y., May 12.—The Brooklyn made it two straight from Cincinnati today, winning 4 to 3. Brooklynn took a lead of three runs off Johnson by hard hitting in the second and fourth inning. Rucker had a bad inning in the fifth and before he could settle down Cincinnati had the score tied. With one out, Marsans walked and Grant was safe on an error by Daubert. Singles by Clarke, Johnson and Bates followed rapidly. Three runs resulted. Rucker then pulled himself together and two force-outs checked the visitors. Brooklyn came right back with the winning run in its half of the fifth on hits by Miller and Rucker. Berghamer's wild throw and a wild pitch.

Giants 5, Cubs 1.

New York, May 12.—New York today knocked Lew Ritchie out of the box in five innings and won from Chicago with ease. The score was 5 to 1. In the five innings Ritchie pitched, New York made 10 hits for a total of 17 bases. Meyers started Ritchie's downfall in the fourth when he tripped, scoring Merkle and Herzog, and tallied himself on Shafer's single. Mathewson pitched his usual strong game for New York, holding Chicago to one hit. The Cubs scored their only run in the seventh when Zimmerman singled and came all the way home when the ball got away from Shafer.

Manager Evers was put off the field in the fourth inning, protesting a decision at second base. He reappeared in centerfield in the eighth and the umpire would not allow the game to continue until he left the field.

Philadelphia, May 12.—Philadelphia defeated Pittsburgh in an eleven-inning contest today 6 to 5, Lobert scoring the deciding run by reaching third when he stole by Butler, three errors and sending a sacrifice to Wyatt. Pittsburgh took a lead of two runs in the first inning, but the home team forged ahead in the fifth on Paskort's triple. Knabe's double and Masego's home run, a single by Butler, three errors and two sacrifices gave the visitors two more runs in the sixth. Kelly scored in the eighth on his triple and Carey's single. A pass to Dooin and E. Miller's double scored the former in the eighth. Knabe's home run tied the score in the ninth. Mayer, who succeeded Moore in the ninth, held Pittsburgh safe, while O'Toole took Adams' place in the sixth.

Brooklyn, N. Y., May 12.—The Brooklyn made it two straight from Cincinnati today, winning 4 to 3. Brooklynn took a lead of three runs off Johnson by hard hitting in the second and fourth inning. Rucker had a bad inning in the fifth and before he could settle down Cincinnati had the score tied. With one out, Marsans walked and Grant was safe on an error by Daubert. Singles by Clarke, Johnson and Bates followed rapidly. Three runs resulted. Rucker then pulled himself together and two force-outs checked the visitors. Brooklyn came right back with the winning run in its half of the fifth on hits by Miller and Rucker. Berghamer's wild throw and a wild pitch.

New York, May 12.—New York today knocked Lew Ritchie out of the box in five innings and won from Chicago with ease. The score was 5 to 1. In the five innings Ritchie pitched, New York made 10 hits for a total of 17 bases. Meyers started Ritchie's downfall in the fourth when he tripped, scoring Merkle and Herzog, and tallied himself on Shafer's single. Mathewson pitched his usual strong game for New York, holding Chicago to one hit. The Cubs scored their only run in the seventh when Zimmerman singled and came all the way home when the ball got away from Shafer.

Manager Evers was put off the field in the fourth inning, protesting a decision at second base. He reappeared in centerfield in the eighth and the umpire would not allow the game to continue until he left the field.

William Burns Secured
William J. Burns heralded an American's greatest detective in personally leading a hunt for the murderer of Mary Phagan. Upon his arrival from Europe in New York this afternoon it is said he will come immediately to Atlanta.

Colonel Thomas B. Felder who has been retained in the Phagan mystery by relatives and friends of the slain girl is responsible for the engagement of the famous sleuth. Several days ago he journeyed to New York

An Ounce of Prevention Is Worth a Pound of Cure

Especially when it comes to teeth. Better PREVENT trouble than cure it. That is what we do for patients every day—prevent trouble.

Neglect your teeth and you are on the slide to ill health. Sound teeth and health are associates.

We'll Examine Your Teeth FREE

If they are O. K. we'll tell you so. We don't make business by digging around good teeth. If treatment is necessary we'll tell you how long and how much and put your teeth in proper condition. Cleanliness Through Sterilization.

Knows Dorsey's Sleuth
Chief Newport A. Lanford in charge of the detective department at police headquarters told a reporter for The Constitution last night that he would reveal the identity of Solicitor Hugh Dorsey's mysterious sleuth who has been heralded as a world beater.

Has Never Failed on a Case
The noted detective's reputation of having never personally undertaken a mystery which he did not solve inspires hope in the thousands throughout the city and state who have become interested in the baffling case.

No New Developments
The Phagan mystery remained in its normal unsolved state Monday although the detectives worked diligently throughout the day no new clues were discovered or no developments unearthed. Solicitor Dorsey spent the day examining witnesses and preparing evidence at hand for submission to the grand jury.

Character Testimony
Although three witnesses with testimony of that nature were introduced in the coroner's inquest and detectives have obtained a park policeman as a witness character testimony cannot be introduced by the prosecution unless Frank's character is put into issue by the defense.

SHOT IN COW TRADE
Franklin Ga. May 12—Brooks Lane a prominent young farmer was shot and killed today on his plantation near here by Sam Owensby, a negro. The trouble resulting from a trade for a cow. The negro claims he shot in self defense.
