MOOTHER DEFENDS YOUNG GIRL HELD FOR "SPOONING"

Assaults Police for Their Action, and Dr. McConnell for Making Alleged False Statements

"SPOONERS" ENGAGED AND WILL MARRY SOON

Mrs. Nathan Westman Says Daughter Met Sweetheart at Capitol Because Father Had Barred Him From the House.

In defense of her daughter, who was arrested for spooning on the capitol grounds, Mrs. Nathan W. Westman, 220 East Park street, told a Constitution reporter yesterday afternoon that the girl was engaged to Gus Meyer, the youth with whom she was taken into custody by the police.

Mrs. Westman explained to the reporter that the only apparent reason the couple could have had for seeking the capitol steps was the attitude of the girl's father, who, several months ago, had forbidden her to attend the Westman home, in effect, it is said, to prevent the marriage at such early age.

Regarding Dr. McConnell's sensational statement Sunday night from the pulpit of the Tabernacle that the Westman girl and her sweetheart had been given fair trial and were fined, Mrs. Westman had to say:

"I am sure that the girl and her sweetheart were given a fair trial and were fined. I am sure that the girl and her sweetheart were given a fair trial and were fined.

"I am sure that the girl and her sweetheart were given a fair trial and were fined. I am sure that the girl and her sweetheart were given a fair trial and were fined.

"I am sure that the girl and her sweetheart were given a fair trial and were fined. I am sure that the girl and her sweetheart were given a fair trial and were fined.

Major Woodward's letter to the minister of the gospel was as follows: "Ex-Detective Lincoln McConnell, Atlanta, Ga.—I notice by your morning paper, and I presume that you are correctly quoted, that I was partly the theme of your discussion last night at the Tabernacle.

"I am sure that the girl and her sweetheart were given a fair trial and were fined. I am sure that the girl and her sweetheart were given a fair trial and were fined.

The Atlanta Constitution—An Institution

THE Atlanta Constitution is today, as it has been for years, recognized as the newspaper most typical of Atlanta, of Georgia and of the South.

Its name is a hearthstone echo with the day-laborer and the clerk, the silk-hat man, the capitalist and the man behind the steam shovel.

It is the voice of Atlanta, of Georgia, and of the South, to the nation and to the world.

That is why it has come to be known as "The Georgia Bible." People do not use illustrations of that nature without careful thought and long comparisons. You swear folk on the Bible. The people of Georgia swear by The Constitution because of its accuracy, its truthfulness, its inspiration, its cleanliness and its usefulness.

Why is it that Atlanta, that Georgia and the South turn instinctively to The Constitution? Why do YOU personally like the newspaper? Why does the native-born Southerner, and the great mass of other Americans we are so rapidly assimilating, rely upon The Constitution as a sure guide to Southern sentiment and the spokesman of right public opinion?

Here are a few reasons. They will interest you, since they analyze to the furthest the psychology and anatomy of the personality of "The Standard Southern Newspaper."

The paramount reason is that The Constitution today, as always, issues a complete, sane resume of twenty-four hours' news. It is not scrambled together with news half told and features cramped from very frenzy of haste.

It is a Southern newspaper—with Southern instincts and Southern viewpoint.

The Constitution was started with a great mission. It was established in 1868. The year brought the high-tide of the miseries and the tests of Reconstruction. A whole people was being born again. Chaos ruled the land. Bitterness and fear lurked at every corner. A negroid government was upon the people. The institutions of centuries' growth were in the melting pot. On each side was misgiving. Upon every hand was the need for courage and for vision.

It was the privilege of The Constitution to serve the city, the state, and the South under these conditions.

It was its privilege to stiffen the backbone of the timid; to soften the asperities of the irreconcilable.

It was its right to sustain hope when hope appeared folly; when thousands in despair were abandoning the South.

Where concession was compatible with dignity it preached concession.

Where inflexibility was indicated it counseled a stand that was unreceding.

The Constitution found little difficulty in this task. It knew the mighty and unconquerable spirit of the Southern people. It knew the superabundance of the South's natural resources. In those dark days, it looked beyond and saw the destiny that lay on the other side of the abyss.

The man who is closest to you is the man who has stood at your elbow in the day of test. That is how The Constitution grew into the warp and woof of the confidence of Atlanta, of Georgia, and of the South. Its hold has steadily increased with the years.

When the "Force Bill" threatened to revive the nightmare of Reconstruction, it was the campaigning by The Constitution that so stiffened the spines of Southern congressmen that the fight ensued which sent that ill-advised measure to the discard.

In later days The Constitution's policy has uniformly been one of construction, as against destruction; of reconciliation, not of vindictiveness nor the role of the historic ghoul.

The Constitution's viewpoint is nation-wide, not provincial.

In the politics of the city and state, The Constitution's attitude has been the same. It has conscientiously sought out and followed what it regarded as the best eventual interests of the majority. At the same time it has avoided intolerance.

The paper might be sincerely opposed to certain policies or candidates. That did not prevent it from doing its best to give them a square deal. The startling accuracy of its political prophecies has become proverbial.

The Constitution has always believed, and lived up to the belief, that while the editorial columns belonged to the paper, the news columns belonged to the people.

The Constitution has always recognized that the intelligence and strength of no community could be stronger than that of its farming element. It has always stressed its agricultural features.

It established first a Weekly and then a Tri-Weekly—which has grown into the greatest Tri-Weekly newspaper in all the world. It is preeminently the newspaper of the Southern farmer. It is the Southern farmer's every-other-day daily. It trails the rural carrier into 107,000 rural homes three times each calendar week.

This means, roughly estimated, and counting five members to the family, 530,000 Southern farmers and their families read The Constitution three times a week. The estimate is purposely conservative.

That is why the heart of the rural South, the feeders and largely the clothiers of the rest of us, look to The Constitution as the supreme court in all those functions a newspaper may discharge.

It is conceded that The Constitution's persistent propaganda is chiefly responsible for the diversification and the better farming methods that are gathering momentum in the South today.

This summarization explains why men, women and children through Atlanta, Georgia and the South regard The Constitution as the court of last resort for news, for breadth of opinion, for promptness, for education and for accuracy.

From the day in 1868, when the first crude sheet appeared, to this day, when the finished and expensive product leaves the great perfecting presses, The Constitution's efforts have always been to—

Keep close to the heart-beat of the people.

To make Ishmaelites of all the sharp-traders with the public confidence.

To sacrifice profit, if need be, for truth and for service.

To ignore gaudy and clap-trap methods, even though they brought a dearly-bought temporary success to competitors.

To keep jam up with progress, but never to mistake selfish hysteria for progress.

To cater to no class exclusively, but to be worthy of the friendship, or at least the respect, of all classes.

To hold such a course as to be regarded as the ever-advancing standard by which all other comparisons are made.

For forty-five years this policy has been religiously followed. That is why, whether people come from Atlanta, from Georgia, the South or the nation, they hail The Constitution unquestionably as fully entitled to be known as "The Standard Southern Newspaper."

That is why The Atlanta Constitution is something more than a newspaper. It is

A SOUTHERN INSTITUTION

It is that element of prestige, representing the confidence of the public for many years, that gives it an added value as a home newspaper, apart from its superiority in purely journalistic excellencies.

Its 50,000 circulation is superior for advertising purposes because its readers, probably half of whom have read the paper for a long period of years, instinctively give the advertising much the same credence as they do the news and editorial matters, being influenced by it in their purchases similarly as they are in other activities by the paper itself.

THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION

"THE STANDARD SOUTHERN NEWSPAPER"

BY FALSEHOOD AND TREACHERY

Every Relation of Mulhall's Life Is Marked, According to James Emery, Chief Agent of Manufacturers.

Washington, September 15.—The defense of the National Association of Manufacturers in the charges of a checkered and improper political career in Washington and elsewhere made by its former "chief agent," James A. Emery, yesterday, was concluded tonight by James A. Emery, chief agent of the association in the capital.

For nearly three hours Emery addressed the house lobby committee. He made a detailed detail of Mulhall's charges that the association packed congressional committees, that it roundbought over those members who opposed its legislative will, that it employed with "kickbacks" and all great expense to elect its favored congressional friends and that it spent several hundred thousand dollars "lobby work" through Mulhall himself.

With impassioned oratory Emery declared that the association never tried improperly to influence legislation. He pointed to the testimony of Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, before the committee to show that the manufacturers merely opposed the ideas of labor favoring legislation which Gompers and the unions campaigned so vigorously to get from congress.

Emery Denounces Mulhall.
Referring to Mulhall himself, Emery said in condemnation of any of the public men who have taken the stand during the investigation to attack the lobbyist's remarkable story. "The evidence before this committee conclusively demonstrates that the character of Mulhall's career is such that I believe him, nor is his written word worth more than his oral statement," said he. "By his own testimony against that of his letters by the faculty of their contents proved by independent witnesses, by the deception, treachery and falsehood that underlies every relation of his life, he is utterly unworthy of belief."

Denies Mulhall's Story.
During the day former Representative Ralph B. Cline, of Ohio, told the senate lobby committee, that he had never met Mulhall until after the publication of the charges. He denied that Mulhall helped him get his nomination to congress and that he received a general donation from the National Association of Manufacturers.

Mulhall once came to my office and started to tell me I must stop my fight on Speaker Cannon," said Cline. "I ordered Mulhall out and told him if he ever returned I'd throw him into the window. From that day to this I have never seen Mulhall. This was the first and the last time I ever talked with anyone from the manufacturers' association about legislation."

Cline Denies Mulhall's Story.
"I told you when I offered Mulhall to be my chief of staff," said Cline. "I was ready to tell me I must stop my fight on Speaker Cannon," said Cline. "I ordered Mulhall out and told him if he ever returned I'd throw him into the window. From that day to this I have never seen Mulhall. Former Democratic Chairman Resents Effort to Implicate Him in Sulzer Scandal.

Albany, N. Y., September 15.—Norman E. Mack, former chairman of the Democratic National Convention, today, failed to appear today before John A. Hennessy, Governor Sulzer's special investigator, to answer charges of having failed to account for money contributed to him in the gubernatorial campaign of 1912. Instead, Mr. Mack, who is secretary, arrived at 10 o'clock and nothing has been seen or heard of him since.

Why Mack Complains.
Mr. Mack complains that Hennessy has caused to be published charges in effect that the plaintiff unlawfully appropriated to his own use money contributed to other candidates in the race toward the election of John A. Dix as governor of New York, and that the plaintiff blackmailed individuals and corporations in connection with the collection of campaign funds.

The will was probated today. The instrument provided that the estate is valued at upwards of $600,000. It is said that Starr left more than $100,000.

WAGON BREAKS FINGER

Wood and Wagner Sign Contracts for Next Year

Boston, September 15.—The Boston Americans will play without the playing assistance of Manager Christian as a result of an accident today which threw him out of the game with a broken finger. Christian will be unable to play again this season, and in all probability will not be able to play at all next season. The accident happened in the seventh inning of a game between the Americans and the Boston Braves. Christian was thrown out of the game and was taken to the hospital. A doctor who examined the finger said it was broken. Christian will be out of the game for several weeks. Wood and Wagner signed contracts for next season with President McAleer today.

SHIVERS AND SHAKES FOR ATLANTA MONDAY

Is It Cold Because It's Cold, or Because "Uncle" Has Our Overcoats?

The weather is cold, and will continue cold, because the wind is blowing from the northeast, driving the cool Atlantic ocean air inland, sagely declared local Weather Forecaster von Herrmann late Monday.

Which may be heclety true, but—There is reason to believe, and the police invariably say, that the reason the weather is cold is because so many of us—very many of us—have of thoughtlessly neglected to get the top coat out of the moth balls or the hook shop, as the case may be.

Summer Haze Half Price.—There is a boon, however small, that greets the wearied and bedraggled pedestrian as he struggles manfully to hold down the edges of his overcoat and feels the chilly blasts playfully twice about his ankles, where the silk box and the half shoes still predominate, and it is this:

Know Aids, B. V. D.'s, sort collars and ice are now half price, and so are all the other things that were sold over the summer and remember that the straw that he saw up for sale at 45, and 50, questions, may not be taken home in a paper sack for 50 cents, there is still something to live for.

So far as can be determined from a lamp at the mere of one picture apparatus at the weather factory, it seems that Atlanta is in a better position in the shade when it comes to pleasant weather for at least two more days.

The nearest approximation that the weather chaps give to a suddenly arriving public is that it will continue chilly and cold until Wednesday.

Equinoctial Period.—To slip across a little high tide information the weather builders call the present weather calmness the "Equinoctial" equinox. For the enlightenment of the low-browed sun center is now crossing the equator line or bearing it. Hence Monday's conditions of untamed wind and rain is the beginning of the equinoctial storm.

September 22 is roughly the equinoctial point, but just to make the time longer, the weather folks are hurrying up the exact time this year.

A year ago this time the city of Atlanta basked in the intermittent hot warm rays of the sun peeping from behind thin laden clouds. The sun was let down above on a grateful community, following an exceedingly warm spell which had lasted for a week.

The thermometer registered as high as 85 degrees over the city. The lowest the mercury went in the month was 79 degrees. It declines higher than the highest temperature of the month was 76 degrees.

In fact, a year ago the warm weather was general in Dixie, with pleasant days following pleasant nights.

MAKER OF MEDALLIONS OF CLEVELAND DYING

An interesting figure in Atlanta's athletic life is being laid to rest. The illness of A. Pelligrini for years a clay worker in the fine medallions of Cleveland. Mr. Pelligrini attracted national-wide attention when the country executive visited here several years ago.

Mr. Pelligrini is known that he resided, 481 Pulliam street, and the attending physicians give little hope of his ultimate recovery.

The noted clay worker came here in the early twenties establishing Atlanta's first terra cotta factory.

Self Help For Nervous Persons

Can often be achieved by a simple change of food and drink.

Much nervousness is caused by coffee drinking—eminent medical authorities having demonstrated that the coffee drug, caffeine, is a definite nerve poison to many persons.

Coffee has no food value whatever, and is a delectful irritant. Under its use the nerves first become irritated, then so sensitive and "on edge" that a slight variation from general health often appears most serious to its victim.

However, Nature responds quickly to common-sense treatment, and right living frequently does more than medicine. So, if you value peace and comfort, try this easy experiment.

Stop coffee entirely and have hot, well-made

POSTUM

This pure food-drink made from prime wheat has a Java-like flavor and a fine, dark brown color which changes to rich golden brown when cream is added.

It contains the genuine nourishing elements of the grain, but is absolutely free from the coffee drug, or any other harmful ingredient.

Postum comes in two forms. Regular Postum must be well boiled. Instant Postum is a soluble powder. A spoonful dissolves quickly in a cup of hot water, and, with cream and sugar, makes a very palatable beverage instantly.

Thousands have been wonderfully benefited by using Postum instead of coffee—

Conspicuous nose pores
How to remove them
Complexions, otherwise flawless, are often ruined by conspicuous nose pores. In such cases the small muscular fibres of the nose have become weakened and do not keep the pores closed as they should be. Instead these pores collect dirt, clog up, and become enlarged.

Begin tonight to use this treatment
Wring a cloth from very hot water, lather it with Woodbury's Facial Soap, then hold it to your face. When the heat has expanded the pores, rub in very gently a fresh lather of Woodbury's. Repeat this hot water and lather application several times, stepping at once when your nose feels sensitive. Then finish by rubbing the nose for a few minutes with a lump of ice.
Woodbury's Facial Soap cleanses the pores. This treatment with it brings the blood to the nose and promotes a better circulation. It strengthens the muscular fibres of the nose so that they can contract properly. But do not expect to change in a week a condition resulting from years of neglect. Use this treatment persistently. It will gradually reduce the enlarged pores and cause them to contract until they are inconspicuous.

For 10c you will send a sample cake. For 10c samples of Woodbury's Facial Soap, Facial Cream and Facial Powder. For 30c, a copy of the Woodbury Book and samples of the Woodbury preparations. Write today to the Andrew Jergens Co., Dept. 300 Spring Green Avenue, Cincinnati, Ohio.

HER STATEMENTS DESERVE NOTICE
Mrs. Walls Makes Public Some Interesting Facts Which Should Interest All Women.
Lelair, Tenn.—Mrs. Martha Walla, of this town, makes the following statements for publication: "I feel it my duty to tell you what your medicine, Cardui, the woman's tonic, has done for me.
For four (4) years, I suffered terribly with womanly troubles, and I found no relief in different medicines which I took. Finally, I began to take Cardui, the woman's tonic, and after taking six bottles I am completely cured. I feel like a different person altogether. All the pains are gone and I am in better health than I have been in for four years. Have gained a great deal in weight.
I still take Cardui as a tonic. My husband, as well as myself, cannot praise it too highly.
I hope this letter will induce other poor, suffering women to try Cardui, for it is the best medicine in the world for women's troubles.
If you suffer from any of the numerous ailments so common to all women, why not take this lady's advice, and try Cardui? It has helped her, as well as a million other women in the past half century. Why shouldn't it do the same for you? You feel sure it will. Reading of Mrs. Walla's helpful experience should encourage you to try what this medicine will do for you.
Get a bottle of Cardui from your druggist today. You won't regret it.

MONEY IS NEEDED FOR CHARITY WORK

Associated Charities May Discontinue Unless Subscriptions Are Promptly Paid.

The Associated Charities is due more than $2,000, which was subscribed for the year 1912, and which still remains unpaid. Unless this money can be collected at once, it is estimated that the organization will be forced to discontinue its operations.

The Atlanta organization has about twice as many subscribers as the similar organizations in other cities of the same size. The Atlanta subscribers are practically all small ones, many of the wealthiest people giving only $5 per year.

Through the efforts of the Associated Charities a great many people have been made self-sufficient. The work it has done has been of a permanent nature. In many cases it has been given to thousands of cases, and in each instance the unfortunate has been kept under observation and assisted until provision could be made to enable them to become self-sufficient. In this way the citizenship has been improved, and the entire community benefited.

You Have Not Really Started Until You Own a Home. Atlanta people, above all other city dwellers, should OWN their HOMES.

Property values are high, close to town in Atlanta. City property is growing more valuable every day and rents will increase.

Suburban property follows city values upward; but at present real estate men, through the classified columns of The Constitution, are constantly offering wonderful inducements for SALARIED WORKERS to begin PURCHASING their HOMES.

At the rapidly increasing value of Atlanta property, workers buying today should be able in a FEW YEARS to PAY FOR their HOME by the NATURAL INCREASE in its value.

A Want Ad will put you in touch with all the property around the city, providing you do not see advertised exactly what you want. It is a good idea to advertise a FEW TIMES YOURSELF before buying, just to CHECK UP on the offers made to you.
