She Swears She Paid Own Way From Atlanta to Jacksonville With Borrowed Money.

Jacksonville, Fla., September 23.—Fred Sims, the young man who was accused in a white slavery case here, this afternoon acquitted himself of the charge of "woman in the case." She swore that she borrowed the money from a friend in Atlanta to come here, and consequently Sims could not be held on the charge.

STANFORD WHITE'S SLAYER BREAKS DOWN AS COUNSEL PLEADS AGAINST RETURN TO NEW YORK.

Concord, N. H., September 23.—The duty of the state of New Hampshire toward Harry E. Thaw was the subject of an exhaustive argument before Governor Felker today. The legal battle, in which William Travers Jerome, special deputy attorney general of New York state, seeks to obtain the extradition of Thaw as a fugitive from justice, was pitted against three of the finest array of counsel, was dramatic at times and near the close came dangerously near to being personal. At one time during the plea of his counsel Thaw, who was accompanied by his mother and brother, was in tears. The judge held that he had no authority to subpoena and was moved by ulterior motives, and was granted a writ of return Thaw to Mattawan insane asylum. Jerome retorted with unusual force and the state of New York would not permit its justice to be defeated by the course of the proceedings.

Don't make the mistake of thinking you can't be fitted in ready clothes. It is sometimes quite a costly mistake, you'll pay a good deal more to have your clothes made-to-measure than for equal quality, ready, and you can get just as good a fit in ready clothes as a custom tailor can give you.

There's an easy way to prove it; because fit is something you can see for yourself. Go to some good clothier where our clothes are sold; ask to see a suit or overcoat at $45; make some comparison of style, material, tailoring, with the made-to-measure suit or overcoat at $40. If it doesn't fit, don't buy it.

You'll find suits and overcoats of ours at $18 and $30 and up to $50.

SULEZKA TO HIGH COURT BUT SEEKS TO ESCAPE TRIAL FOR MISUSE OF CAMPAIGN FUNDS—COURT TO DECIDE MATTER TODAY.

Albany, N. Y., September 23.—After a day spent in listening to lengthy arguments the high court for the trial of the impeached ex-governor William Sulezka adjourned tonight without having decided whether the impeached executive will have to answer charges involving the misuse of funds contributed for his campaign last fall. It is expected, however, that the court will reach a decision early tomorrow.

This counsel for the assembly managers are confident the court will not dismiss the three articles as evidenced by the fact that they have not made any motion. Sulezka, Henry Morgenthau and others who were called to the stand to testify, would be the first witness for the defense. A contribution of $5000 for Sulezka's defense was not mentioned in the report of the election expenses filed by the governor.

Governor Sulezka today submitted to the assembly the high court to decide whether the constitutional rights of the impeached ex-governor were made the opening of court by Judge P. O'Leary, chief counsel for the impeached ex-governor, who stated that the governor will show to the court that he is innocent of the charges.

PACKER PROPOSES NOVEL PLAN TO AVERT THREATENED MEAT FAMINE.

Chicago, September 23.—It is the duty of the United States to stock its country with work as cowboys to handle the animals, supply the packers with this meat, so that the price would be lowered to the people, and a threatened meat famine due to six or eight years' starvation, in the opinion of M. M. T. Packard, is a disaster to the American meat packers' association, who today declared that only by some drastic action could the meat shortage be prevented.

"This suggestion is perfectly simple," said Mr. Packard. "The government lands that are now being used for grazing, which are made into great pastures, are situated on the public domain. To relieve the present meat shortage, the government should acquire this land, and sell it to the packers at a price that would be no more than the value of the land as grazing." "I have taken this up with some of the packers, and they are all in favor of it. I am sure that it is the best thing we can do to relieve the present meat shortage."

Governor Sulezka today submitted to the assembly the high court to decide whether the constitutional rights of the impeached ex-governor were made the opening of court by Judge P. O'Leary, chief counsel for the impeached ex-governor, who stated that the governor will show to the court that he is innocent of the charges.

Two Newspaper Enterprises

Which Demonstrated The Atlanta Constitution's Extraordinary Hold Upon Its Constituency of Readers

THE M. & M. CONTEST

In the winter months of 1912-13, ending on February 14th, The Atlanta Constitution conducted a Merchants and Manufacturers' Contest, an ingenious joint advertising and selling campaign in which many manufacturers of trade-marked products, with national distribution and a number of Atlanta retail businesses, participated.

A voting contest, with $6,000.00 in cash and other prizes, was the means by which the interest of the readers of the paper was concentrated upon certain lines of goods and particular stores. Many Church societies, lodges, charitable organizations and under special terms, individuals, competed for prizes.

Votes in the contest were given only for labels and cartons from trade-marked merchandise and for invoices, receipted bills and cash register tickets from retail stores which were brought to The Constitution office and deposited. Every vote represented the actual sale of merchandise.

The total vote represented the sale of $494,039.00 in grocer, drug, food and beverage products;

$757,554.00 in retail store merchandise;

$1,251,593.00 was the aggregate business done by the advertisers participating as a direct result of the campaign. The indirect benefits in new trade and additional publicity were incalculable.

At the close of the campaign four large rooms and a great deal of overflow space in The Constitution building were occupied by tons of labels and cartons.

These were the results for a few of the products:

1,900,000 labels, representing $95,000.00 of Uncle Sam Bread.

1,000,000 bottle caps, representing $50,000.00 of Red Rock—a 5c drink.

6 truck loads of carton lids, representing $100,000.00 of Cottolene.

100,517 bands, representing $10,517.00 of the Web-ster Cigar.

94,428 cartons, representing $9,442.00 of Post Toasties.

100,000 wrappers, representing $6,000.00 of Cleaning Soap.

$23,000.00 of Gold Medal Flour.

These two enterprises, both of them completed in the ensuing calendar year, have unusual significance when the complete facts about them are stressed in relation to The Constitution as an advertising medium.

So far as can be ascertained, The Constitution sold more merchandise, a total of $1,251,593.00, in the M. & M. Contest than was ever sold by a similar plan in this country.

The Woman's Edition was the most successful from a journalistic as well as a financial standpoint of any similar enterprise ever undertaken in this country.

WHY? Constitution readers are its loyal friends. This is especially true of the women. It is able to secure from them, for any enterprise for which it stands sponsor, a large enlistment, because of its hold upon them through its character, its journalistic excellencies, and all the elements that make it a fine family newspaper.

No other newspaper of relative size could have sold $1,251,593.00 in merchandise through such a selling plan because its prestige with its readers would not be strong enough to enlist enough people in buying certain brands of products and trading at certain stores.

No other newspaper enjoys the relationship with as strong and powerful organization as The Georgia Federation of Women's Clubs, as to have made The Woman's Edition the notable success it was.

If the readers of The Constitution, particularly the women, by their attachment to it, enable the paper to accomplish these two remarkable things upon its own initiative, does it not signify that they read the paper, that they have confidence in it, that they give advertising addressed to them a sympathetic interest that can scarcely be secured in any other advertising medium?

THE WOMAN'S EDITION

On June 4th, The Federated Women's Clubs of Georgia issued The Woman's Edition of The Atlanta Constitution, which has been for years the official newspaper of this body of women's clubs, the largest and strongest in the United States, embracing 118 clubs and 18,000 members, as well as The Daughters of the American Revolution and The United Daughters of The Confederacy. Special departments, edited by club women, in which all the organization announcements, addresses by the officers, etc., are printed, are prominent features of the Sunday paper.

The primary object of the edition from the Federation's standpoint was to obtain the nucleus of the Ella F. White Memorial Endowment Fund for the maintenance of the state work.

The Federation, through its permanent organization, as well as a special organization created for the purpose, not only wrote and edited all the news and editorial matter, but sold the advertising and 15,000 copies of the edition. The women were entirely responsible for its success, except in the preliminary plans and some guidance from time to time in the technical phases of the production.

The Woman's Edition was 126 pages in size, the largest single issue of a newspaper ever printed in the state and one of the largest in the history of journalism. It had a circulation of 60,000 copies. Each copy weighed two pounds. It contained 8,258 inches of advertising. The Federation of Women's Clubs participated in the profits substantially.

From every journalistic standpoint The Woman's Edition was notable. It was entirely different from the usual type of newspaper special editions. All the matter was of the most interesting character. The women did real newspaper stunts in the way of interviewing prominent men on delicate political subjects, attended police court as reporters, and obtained striking photographs. The art work, the typographical make-up and the arrangement was exceptionally fine from every critical viewpoint.

The issue attracted national attention. There was scarcely a newspaper of importance in the United States that did not comment upon it as a remarkable achievement, both for the Women's Clubs and The Constitution.

Exchange Diamonds Before Prices Advance

Every solitaire sold by us is exchangeable at full purchase price in part payment on a more expensive diamond.

The difference can be paid in cash or in monthly payments. Your diamond will be accepted in lieu of a cash payment.

As all goods are marked in plain figures you have the assurance of knowing you are getting the larger stones as cheaply as though you paid all cash.

You can save fully 20 per cent by buying before the first of October.

Net prices and full particulars given in our booklet, "Facts About Diamonds." Call or write for one of these booklets. If out of Atlanta, write for a selection package.

TATE'S RESIGNATION ASKED, SAYS REPORT

Henley, Angier and Howard Tate Deny That They Have Been Requested to Quit.

Press telegrams from Washington yesterday stating that the department of justice had asked the resignation of Carter Tate, federal district attorney, could not be confirmed at the United States building yesterday, because of the absence from the city of Mr. Tate.

In the absence of Mr. Tate neither John W. Henley, E. A. Angier nor Howard Tate, assistants to the district attorney, would discuss the rumored resignation request.

The reports reaching Atlanta also said that the request was accompanied by similar communications to Mr. Henley and Mr. Angier for their resignation. It was also stated that the resignation requested had been sent on to Washington.

Head of State Farm Society Pioneer in Move to Make Prison Board Road Board, Too

"Until the Constitution called my attention to the fact, I did not know that the law empowered me to exercise the functions and authority of a central road board."

The Commission's Charge. Mr. Williams read carefully the law creating the prison commission, and empowering it to employ not more than four supervisors who, if practicable, shall be civil engineers.

These are the sentiments of John T. Williams, of Mount Oak Grove, and they are given special pertinence by two facts: He is the president of the Georgia State Agricultural society, and must, therefore, know the conditions of which he speaks; and he holds from a country county Jones, which he admits, has wasted thousands of dollars in unscientific road-building.

Mr. Williams' law is in commendation of the plan taken by Senator C. O. Miles, of the 15th district and by the Constitution.

COTTON ADVANCED ON SPOT DEMAND

Market Unsettled Until in Late Trading When Improved Spot Demand Reports Sent Prices Up.

New York, September 23.—The cotton market was extremely nervous. Unsettled during today's trading, and fluctuations were irregular. In a general way there seemed to be heavy trading by old hands, including some of the higher interests, while house connections were and domestic trade connections were supposed to be in the way of venturing up accounts, pending some definite action by Washington.
