FRANK DEFENSE BUILDING UP STRONG ALIBI

Affidavits of Negro Conley Will Be Attacked and Discrepancies Pointed Out.

Minola McKenzie, the negro cook at Frank's home, made a statement in writing to the police Tuesday afternoon, following an hour's cross-examination. The woman was questioned by two men hitherto not connected outwardly with the Phagan case, who have refused to reveal their identity. Present at the examination was the Phagan woman's husband, Attorney George Gordon, who declares he has been retained as counsel for Minola, appeared at the police station, but was not admitted to the inquiry.

Development of a startling nature may be expected from day to day in the Phagan case, said Chief of Detectives Leland Tuesday morning. "They may be expected right up to the case that the fact of Frank's beard."

"That we feel practically have a conclusive case against the factory superintendent does not mean that we are resting in our laurels to the slightest extent. We are a little more alert to our minds than it is."

The detectives are working constantly on new clues that present themselves and are investigating every story that is heard, whether it is told by a witness, whether it is Frank of

Much chatter and gaiety marked the graduation of 21 girls from public to teachers Monday afternoon when the normal class of the Girls' High School held its commencement exercises in Browning Hall.

Dressed all in white, each with a bouquet of white flowers at her corsage, the heavy young women presented one of the liveliest graduation classes which has been seen in Atlanta in some time when they stepped down from the platform with their diplomas in hand, prepared to face the noisy problems of filling knowledge into the minds of young Americans.

Each girl was given a diploma by Judge W. R. Daley at the door of the building Monday afternoon when the occasion was presided over by Mayor Robert J. Dalton.

The young ladies who graduated are Misses Lillian Bloodworth, Caroline Campbell, Willie Carmichael, Sallie DeSaussure, Annie Ruth Esler, Clara May Fowler, Irene Hancock, Fannie Henley, Annie Whitefoord Hill, Sarah Holmes, Louise Leiper, Fannie Marshall, Ruth Miller, Lida Moore, Hortense Moran, Lillian Rodgers, Frances Smith, Virginia Stanard and Vivian Winslow.

The ceremony will be presented by the victims of drink-cracked Conley. From his hiding place near the stairs he saw her descending from the second floor. She was alone. He quickly slipped her down the ornate shaft, taking her purse and later disposing of her body.

The alibi which the defense will seek to establish are, of course, the weapons on which reliance will be placed to complete the riddling of Conley's testimony and affidavits.

Conley described at length his apartment conversation with Frank in the factory office after 1 o'clock. Frank said that he arrived home for lunch on 1129 o'clock and he is supported in his statement by five witnesses.

Seven witnesses are expected to testify at the time he is supported by telephone to Miss Mims. Frank said that he had been in the office at 11:45 and that the woman who was called to the door at 12:15 was not the woman who was called to the door at 12:15.

After this he would not take a cab but would walk to the factory. He would be observed by his movements from the factory by removing the dead body to a semi-public house near that of Mrs. Conley.

The argument of the defense will be that the woman who was called to the door at 12:15 was not the woman who was called to the door at 12:15.

The fact that Mrs. Conley, a witness in the Phagan case, has been summoned to the meeting at 10 o'clock, it was stated on reliable information, however, that her testimony will be given at 11 o'clock.

In connection with the latter accusations, Mr. Felder declared to the investigating body that he would submit documentary evidence showing the existence of vice in Atlanta.

Mr. Hutcheson's investigations are now in progress. He said that he had had several assistants and that the investigation was made with an idea of furnishing evidence that would indict everyone concerning whom it was procured.

"I never did," declared the attorney. "That the same, there are enough of that kind of women down there for everybody who wants to go there."

"You charged me with graft," continued Mayor Woodward, ignoring the Mayor's interruption.

"I have charged some of the police with it and I will prove it," answered Mr. Felder.

Felder—"I am going to tell you people something before this investigation is over."

It is understood that Mr. Hutcheson gave names and addresses and without number. He went so far as to display keys of rooms in the alleged disorderly houses that had been obtained by himself and others who assisted him in his investigation.

Some two or three months ago, it has been reported to the life insurance companies concerned, Painter began taking chloral, perhaps for nervousness. It is charged that shortly before his death, he became a very heavy user of the drug.

When his body was recovered from the St. Johns River, and the fact that it was not right became fixed in the minds of the insurance companies, it was determined to set on foot a rigid probe of his death, and its cause, also all the circumstances bearing upon it.

BITTER FIGHT CERTAIN IN TRIAL OF FRANK

Developments of a startling nature may be expected from day to day in the Phagan case, said Chief of Detectives Lanford Tuesday morning. "They may be expected right up to the date that the trial of Leo Frank begins. "That we feel we practically have a conclusive case against the factory superintendent does not mean that we are resting in our labors to the slightest extent. We are a little more at rest in our minds than we are constantly on new news that present themselves and are investigating every story that is heard, whether it is told by a witness favorable to Frank or unfavorable to him. "We are prepared to establish our case against Frank so that not a doubt of his guilt will be possible. That is all we care to do. It is all up to the jury as to what he is guilty of and how he is guilty of it. "With the continued activity of the detective, it has become noticeable in the last few days that the defense has been on its feet. Both sides are preparing for a titanic battle when Frank is put on trial for his life this week in this month. Frank's cook is still held at police headquarters.

To Omit Time Differences. Differences in the time given by Jim Conley in his affidavit and the testimony of Coroner's jury witnesses will be pointed out in the defense of Leo Frank against the charge of killing Mary Phagan. It was revealed that the affidavits of the superintendent's innocence because of their many eccentric deviations from fact. "One of the most glaring was the negro's declaration that while he was Mrs. Corfield's maid and Mrs. Emma Clark entered Conley said that she was 11 o'clock or a few minutes after. But Miss Hall had left the building more than an hour before according to her own testimony before the Coroner's jury. "When time was it when you left the factory?" Coroner Doneho asked Miss Hall when she was on the stand at the inquest. "A quarter to twelve," she replied. "I looked at the clock when I came down." The negro said that he looked at the clock when he went in the office and that it was just four minutes of 1 o'clock. He had been in there a few minutes, he asserted, when the voices of Miss Hall and Mrs. Clark were heard. Another statement which will be refuted in Conley's declaration that he assisted in taking the body from the second floor down to the basement of the elevator. To Testify Elevator Did Not Run. Two witnesses will be called to prove that the elevator did not run that day at the time the body is said to have been disposed of. The witnesses are Harry Denham and Arthur White. They were on the fourth floor from early in the forenoon until after 3 o'clock in the afternoon. If the elevator had been run they say they would have known it. The experiment of running the elevator has been tried since the murder. It is said that it can not be run without the persons on the fourth floor being aware of it. The theory that will be presented by the defense is that Mary Phagan was the victim of drink-cramped Conley. From his hiding place near the stairs he saw her descending from the second in Illinois was defeated in the House today.

Other militants fired a building at Emson Colgate, doing $15,000 damage.

Special Cable to The American. The Medical Academy of Rome has accepted the theory and will shortly apply preventive method.

Mercer Frats Get New Lease on Life

MACON, GA., June 3.—Trustees of Mercer University have indefinitely postponed a resolution to abolish Greek letter fraternities at the school. The proposal to eliminate fraternities was brought before the board of trustees at their meeting here last night. They will be used as indications of the superintendent's innocence because of their many eccentric deviations from fact. "One of the most glaring was the negro's declaration that while he was Mrs. Corfield's maid and Mrs. Emma Clark entered Conley said that she was 11 o'clock or a few minutes after. But Miss Hall had left the building more than an hour before according to her own testimony before the Coroner's jury. "When time was it when you left the factory?" ### GRAND JURY GIVE VICE FACTS BY FELDER

Attorney Boldly Declares That Police Are Protecting Houses in Our Midst!

Accusations that Atlanta is honeycombed with vice and that the police and detective departments deliberately protect and encourage these conditions were made before the Grand Jury of Fulton County by Colonel Thomas B. Felder and Carl Hutchinson Wednesday morning. Both men declared they had conclusive proof to establish the truth of their charges, and that they had submitted sufficient evidence to the Grand Jury to indict every one of the 20 or more proprietors of disorderly houses whose names and addresses they have with the members of the Grand Jury.

Felder Boldly Charges Graft. Colonel Felder came out boldly and charged graft of the worst sort and asserted that he had given the Grand Jury affidavits showing the alleged connivance between the police department and the houses of disorderly vice, as well as by reputable citizens who were aware of the conditions.

The Medical Academy of Rome has accepted the theory and will shortly apply preventive method. The Grand Jury probe that the vice conditions of the city would be the only matter taken up at this time. Foreman Beck said that the jury was following the charge delivered by Judge W. D. Hill, who urged the Grand Jury, in view of the Mary Phagan tragedy, thoroughly to investigate the reported spread of vice in the city since the wiping out of the restricted district.

Jury After the Real Truth. "We have resolved ourselves into a committee of the whole to follow the instructions of Judge Hill," said Mr. Beck. "We propose to sift the mass of charges and counter-charges that have been made and get at the real truth. If it is possible, we want to know if vice is protected and if it is, we propose to indict those who are involved in the disgrace."

Boisterous Colonel Felder and Mr. Hutchinson, Mayor Woodruff, who long has disagreed with Chief Beavers' vice policy, and C. C. Jones, owner of the Box Station, were called before the Grand Jury. The Mayor and Mr. Hutchinson were before the jury about an hour each. The Mayor is said to have given the Grand Jury a great amount of information in the possession, much of which has been published in connection with his controversy with Chief Beavers. The Mayor was questioned closely as to his knowledge of existing vice.

Catch Tarpon and Pelican? We Know Darn Well We Can

Atlantans are figuring conspicuously this year in the tarpon fishing of the west coast of Florida. The St. Petersburg Independent, in a current issue, tells how H. W. Brown, of Atlanta, who was fishing off Panama-Grille with George Lisotte, landed four big ones in one day.

Mr. Lisotte, the genial Frenchman who makes two stone-crabs grow where only one grew before, is well known to Atlantans. The only thing more plentiful than tarpon this year on the west coast are pelicans. Mr. Brown is said to have a copy of a limerick just composed by Lisotte, in which the latter thus epitomizes the noble food. The limerick follows: "There's a curious bird called the Pelican, Whose mouth holds more than his belican. He stuffs into his beak Enough grub for a week, Though I don't see how in helican."

Cattle and Wheat To Go on Free List

WASHINGTON, June 3.—The free list of the Underwood tariff bill will be augmented by the addition of cattle and wheat, according to a statement of Senator Simmons, of North Carolina, after a conference with President Wilson today. Senator Simmons today said the chief executive had signified his willingness to have the duty removed from both.

It is not expected that President Wilson will assent to any further changes in the measure.

Clark Picks Oct. 1 as Adjournment Date

WASHINGTON, June 3.—Speaker Clark's prediction that Congress will be in session until October 1 is believed to forecast a long winter over-currency reform and a record-breaking debate on the tariff in the Senate. While the Democratic caucus was adopting a resolution to limit the legislative program in the House, Speaker Clark observed that, with the work already cut out for it, Congress "will be here until about October 1." Congress has been in almost continuous session for five years.

Atlantans Says U. S. Sailors Robbed Him

NEW ORLEANS, June 3.—Losing his way in Audubon Park here, W. E. Shifflet, of Atlanta, approached four sailors. He asked the way to the Westwego ferry and as soon as he turned his back he was beaten to the ground and robbed of $100, his watch and stickpin. Charging that the sailors wore caps on which was "U. S. Amphitrite," Shifflet and a policeman had the gunboat captain line up the entire crew. He couldn't identify any as his assailants.

Bathing at Piedmont All the Rage Fair Swimmers Come in Shoals

2,000 Daily, Present Mark, Expected To Be Increased to 3,000 This Month.

Bathing at Piedmont Park has become the rage. From the moment the life-saver gets on his job in the morning until the closing time at night the beautiful pond is literally alive with bathers. The daily average thus far has been something above 1,500, but Superintendent Dan Carey, of the Park Commission, expects the number to go well above 2,000 before the end of June—and then some. Attendance Records Broken. Never, says Mr. Carey, has the sport been so popular. For the early season—winter is still far away—all records are smashed higher than a kite, and there is some talk of keeping a lower level in the pond for a while, that an unexpected excess in the number of bathers would make it rise above the banks. Such things as aquatic records are yet to be established and smashed for the season. Right now there are some likely contenders for each and every one of the swimming and diving events, and they are not necessarily of the stranger sex. Pond Is Making Good. But most important of all is the fact the pond is making good. The water is just delightful and the most timid bather will dive in head first without the customary taking of temperature with the big toe as a thermometer. Women go to Piedmont Park in as large numbers as the men. In fact, says Mr. Carey, the women and girls hold the attendance records this far, and, unless something entirely unforeseen happens, they will come very near capturing the aquatic records when the most is held later in the year. HELD ON GIRL'S CHARGE. HUNTSVILLE, ALA., June 3.—C. H. Hambrick is held here, being held for the authorities at Chasefield, N. C., where he was indicted on a charge made by a 12-year-old girl.

FLORIDA MAN HAD OVER $1,000,000 ON HIS LIFE, TAKEN OUT THIS YEAR

Fell Off Ferryboat and Was Drowned. Alleged to Have Taken Drug--Organs Lost on Way for Analysis. Insurance Companies Probe Death.

JACKSONVILLE, FLA., June 3.—Did E. O. Painter commit suicide? That is the question everybody here is asking. Painter carried $1,178,000—perhaps more—on his life, most of which was taken out in the past four months. His death was unexpected and mysterious. One more mystery has been added to it by the disappearance of the dead man's heart, stomach and kidneys, forwarded from this city to the Johns Hopkins University for analysis.

Painter's death, so the life insurance companies suspect, was produced by an overdose of chloral, which overwhelmed him when he toppled overboard from a ferryboat ostensibly on the way to his factory. INQUEST AWAITS ANALYSIS. Those most free to talk of his death seem inclined to one of two theories, suicide or insanity, and the suicide theorists seem to be in the majority. But there are many who scout at either of these opinions and steadfastly maintain that his death was purely accidental.

In the meantime expert physicians and chemists in Baltimore are ready to analyze the brain, heart, liver, lungs, stomach, and other organs of the dead man to determine whether they contain evidence of poison or disclose any other condition to explain his death. While these analyses are in progress Coroner C. D. Abbott, of Duval County, is holding in abeyance an inquest over the dead man. A jury has been impaneled but has gone no further than to view Painter's body.

This autopsy was performed by four physicians, two of whom were acting at the instance of the Painter family, one for the State and the fourth called in by the others. But the body was dissected before the Coroner had seen it and had an opportunity to subpoena a jury. Painter met his death in the river at 9:30 o'clock in the morning. His body was recovered and in an undertaker's morgue by 11 o'clock that afternoon and the autopsy was performed. The removed organs were sealed in a conveyer in the express office and billed to Baltimore before night. The two physicians representing the family, Dr. P. C. Perry and John Cay Boyd, went to Baltimore at the same time to be present at the analysis.

The shipment was made to Dr. Charles Simon, of Baltimore, but he is in Nova Scotia, and his assistant, Dr. C. E. Haas, notified the Jacksonville authorities that he was instructed to turn the shipment over to Dr. Charles Glazer, of Johns Hopkins Hospital, who refused to undertake the analysis until Coroner Abbott had a representative present. The Coroner designated a Baltimore attorney to represent him, and the analysis proceeded. The beneficiaries named in the policies were either some member of his immediate family—his wife or daughter—or his firm. The total amount was divided about equally between them.

Some two or three months ago, it has been reported to the life insurance companies concerned, Painter began taking chloral pills, and he became a very heavy user of the drug. When his body was recovered from the St. Johns River, and the suspicion that all was not right became fixed in the minds of the insurance companies, it was determined to set out for a rigid probe of his death, and its cause, also all the circumstances bearing upon it. Paid No Heed to Rescuers. Although Painter was an expert swimmer when he fell from the ferryboat, he is said to have sunk like a log. A rope was thrown to him, but he paid no attention to it. He had been brought violently just before he fell into the water, and it was to relieve this cough that he is supposed to have taken chloral. Apparently, so those on the boat say, the man was dead before he struck the water. It is theorized that his system had been overwhipped with chloral, and that his death was directly due to that drug, rather than to drowning.

These initial circumstances were held for the authorities at Chasefield, N. C., where he was indicted on a charge made by a 12-year-old girl.

Insurance inspectors Active. The medical report is not expected here for another two days and the Coroner nor others interested will

He said that Mrs. Fomby, a witness in the Phagan case, has been summoned, gave the meeting an air of mystery. It was stated on reliable information, however, that her testimony would have nothing to do with the Phagan case. It is understood that her name was one on the list that was to be furnished the police department by Carl Hutcheson, who is receiving police protection. It was also said that the woman was not out of the city as hinted a few days ago, but had merely changed her address and given the new location to the solicitor.

BITTER FIGHT CERTAIN IN TRIAL OF FRANK

"Developments of a startling nature may be expected from day to day in the Phagan case," said the defense attorneys Lanford Tuesday morning. "They may be expected right up to the date that the trial of Leo Frank begins."

"That we feel we practically have a conclusive case against the factory superintendent does not mean that we are resting in our labor to the slightest extent. We are a little more at rest in our minds, that is all."

"The detectives are working constantly on new clues that present themselves and are investigating every suspicion that is heard, whether it is told by a witness favorable to Frank or against him. We wish to go into court prepared to establish our case against Frank so that not a doubt of his guilt will be possible. That is, of course, if it still appears at that time as certain to us that he is the guilty man as it does now."

"With the continued activity of the detectives, it has become probable in the last few days that the defense is at work on its case. Both sides are preparing for a titanic battle when Frank is put on trial for his life. Frank's case is still held at police headquarters."

To Cite Time Differences.

Differences in the time given by Jim Conley in his affidavit and the testimony of Coroner's jury witnesses will be pointed out in the defense of Leo Frank against the charge of killing little Mary Phagan, it was revealed Tuesday. They will be used as indications of the superintendent's innocence because of their many recurring deviations from fact.

One of the most glaring was the Agro's declaration that while he was in Frank's office to write the notes Miss Corbin, Betts and Mrs. Emma Clark entered. Conley said that this was 1 o'clock or a few minutes after, but Miss Hall had left the building more than an hour before, according to her own testimony before the Coroner's jury.

"What time was it when you left the factory?" Coroner Conroy asked Miss Hall when she was on the stand at the inquest.

"I quit at twelve," she replied. "I looked at the clock when I came down."

The Agro said that he looked at the clock when he went in the office and that it was just four minutes of 1 o'clock. He had been in there a few minutes, he asserted, when the voices of Miss Hall and Mrs. Clark were heard.

Another statement which will be referred to in Conley's declaration that he assisted in taking the body from the second floor down to the basement on the elevator.

To Testify Elevator Clerk's Role.

Two witnesses will be called that day at the time the body is taken to have been disposed of.

These two witnesses are Harry Denham and Arthur White. They were on the fourth floor from early in the forenoon until after 3 o'clock in the afternoon. If the elevator had been running they would say they would know it will run Normandy and Nova Scotia to get local color.

Bessell could have arranged with the Hippodrome to produce a sketch on the suffrage question a fortnight from now.

U. S. Biggest Market Place for Canada

WASHINGTON, June 3.—According to a report made public today by the Department of Commerce, the United States ranks second as a customer for Canadian products and first as a supplier of Canadian needs.

Canada exports more from the United States than from all other nations combined. We also would take the bulk of the exports except that Canada has little to sell that is not produced also in our own country.

The larger part of Canadian wheat constitutes the principal factor that makes England loom larger in the export trade.

POLICE TRY TO BREAK THROUGH NEGROES' ALIBIS

Stevens Suspects Cover in Cell in Fear of Lynching—Concession Expected.

With Walter Wilkes and Ernest Maynard, negroes under suspicion in the Stevens murder, covering in their cells in the DeKalb County Jail, with guards posted to prevent a repetition of Monday's attempted lynching by neighbors of the Stevens family, detectives on Tuesday began trying to break down the alibis put forward by the negroes to account for themselves on the night of the murder.

Both Wilkes and Maynard were still badly frightened Tuesday morning, and rumors are being circulated that of their grey Monday afternoon by the revolver of Detective Chief Lanford, Sheriff McCurdy and Detective Rosser, they are planning to come on mischief to a system of phonetic spelling, which he devised himself. Most of the manuscript is being kept in a safe, deposit vault, while the four books of the Gospels and the book of Acts are being put into type.

Mr. Jones began his work in 1908, one year ago, when he was sixty years old, and he has devoted most of his time since to his translation.

FELDER SAYS HE WILL TAKE CASE TO 'STARTLING' POLICE GRAFT PLANS'

Attorney Ready to Go Before Grand Jury, but Has Not Been Called; Hutcherson, Summoned in the Airing of the Dictograph Controversy.

Colonel Thomas B. Felder appeared before the Grand Jury Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock, prepared, he said, to substantiate every charge he had made against the police department and its heads, and promising to open the eyes of the city to a condition of affairs that was startling in the extreme.

"I have not been served with a subpoena to go before the Grand Jury," Colonel Felder said, "but Mr. Hutcherson has been, and I will be in case I am called upon. The people of Atlanta have no idea how far-reaching this thing will be. I will show the conditions as they are, and the men higher up will not escape. If the grand jury takes up this thing fully it will be the most sensational probe that has ever been made into affairs in Atlanta."

The announcement that the Grand Jury would take up the Felder-Bessell-Lanford dictograph controversy with the attending charges of corruption and bribery was made late Monday afternoon when Foreman L. H. Beck had the assistant solicitor general serve a number of subpoenas to those concerned.

The family in City.

The fact that Mrs. Fombly, a witness in the Phagan case, has been summoned, gave the meeting an air of mystery. It was stated on reliable information, however, that her testimony would have nothing to do with the Phagan case. It is understood that her name was on the list that was to be furnished to the police department by Carl Hutcherson, in which the attorney alleged she was receiving police protection. It was also said that the woman was not out of the city as hinted a few days ago, but had merely changed her address and given the new location to the solicitor.

Whether the chief Beavers and Chief Lanford that Attorney Felder offered a bribe of $1,000 to Lanford's stenographer, February, or the counter charges on the part of Colonel Felder and Attorney Hutcherson, would not be discussed by the Foreman.

Chief Beavers, Chief Lanford and C. C. Pennington, Lanford's secretary, were served Tuesday morning. Pennington's subpoena demanded that he bring the dictograph and documentary evidence he had taken in the affair.

A. B. Colyar, Jr., had not been served, but Deputy Plennie Minor stated he would locate him during the morning.

"I want the truth of this whole affair to be known. If there is rottenness in the department, I certainly want to find out about it and get it out. I want the jury to have close to the line and let the chips fall where they may."

Can't Locate Gentry.

The dictograph stenographer, George Gentry, could not be located and it was reported he had left the city. Colonel Felder said he knew of the location of this stenographer, but there was some probability of his being brought into the case in a new capacity.

Foreman Beck would not discuss the Grand Jury meeting at all. He denied on several occasions that it was his intention to take up the matter until it was presented by the Solicitor General. He certainly was absolutely nothing of the nature of the meeting until informed by his assistant late Monday afternoon. He said then that he did not know positively the Grand Jury would take the matter up, but intimated if it did it would conduct its own investigation.

Methodists Conduct Mission Pilgrimage

A "pilgrimage" to various countries where the women of the Methodist Episcopal Church South support missions will be conducted by the Women's Missionary Society of the Epworth Church Tuesday.

The "pilgrims" will visit 15 Mill Avenue, the exhibit there representing the negro and mountain life in the North in October. A guarantee of 2,000 rooms, necessary should the 1914 convention come to the Gate City, was declared an easy arrangement by the hotel men, and a committee was appointed to end these accommodations.

1914 Bankers' Meet

A campaign to secure the 1914 convention of the American Bankers' Association for Atlanta was inaugurated at the monthly meeting of the Atlanta Hotel Men's Association Monday night at the Georgian Terrace.

Present were a number of bankers who will attend the bankers' convention in the North in October. A guarantee of 2,000 rooms, necessary should the 1914 convention come to the Gate City, was declared an easy arrangement by the hotel men, and a committee was appointed to end these accommodations.

BITTER FIGHT CERTAIN TRIAL OF FRANK

"Developments of a startling nature may be expected from day to day in the Phagan case," said Chief of Detective Landford Tuesday morning. "They may be expected right up to the date that the trial of Leo Frank begins."

"That we feel we practically have a conclusive case against the factory superintendent does not mean that we are resting in our laurels to the slightest extent. We are a little more at rest in our minds, that is all."

"The detective are working constantly on new clues that present themselves and are investigating every story that is heard, whether it is told by a witness favorable to Frank or against him. We wish to go into court prepared to establish our case against Frank to the satisfaction of his guilt will be possible. That is, of course, if it still appears at that time as certain to us that he is the guilty man as it does now."

With the continued activity of the detective, it has become noticeable in the last few days that the defense is at work for a static battle here in Atlanta on its trial for his life the third week in this month. Frank's case is still held in police headquarters.

To Cite Time Differences.

Differences in the time given by Jim Conley in his affidavit and the testimony of Coroner's jury witness will be pointed out in the defense of Leo Frank against the charge of killing Little Mary Phagan, it was revealed Tuesday. They will be used as indications of the superintendent's innocence because of their many seeming deviations from fact.

One of the most glaring was the negro's declaration that while he was in Frank's office to write the notes on Corbin Hall and Mrs. Emma Clark entered--Conley said that this was 1 o'clock or a few minutes after that Miss Hall had left the building more than an hour before the coroner's own testimony before the jury.

"What time was it when you left the factory?" Coroner Donohoe asked Miss Hall when she was on the stand at the inquest.

"A quarter to twelve," she replied. "I looked at the clock when I came down."

The negro said that he looked at the clock when he went in the office and that it was just four minutes of one o'clock. He had been in there a few minutes he asserted, when the voices of Miss Hall and Mrs. Clark were heard.

Another statement which will be referred to is Conley's declaration that he assisted in taking the body from the second floor down to the basement on the elevator.

To Testify Elevator Didn't Run.

Two witnesses will be called to prove that the elevator did not run that day at "the time the body is said to have been disposed of."

These two witnesses are Harry Denham and Arthur White. They were on the fourth floor from early in the forenoon until after 3 o'clock in the afternoon. If the elevator had been run they say, although the K knows it. The experiment of running the elevator has been tried since the murder. It is said that it can be run without the persons on the fourth floor being aware of it.

The theory that will be presented by the defense is that Mary Phagan was the victim of drink-crazed Conley. From his hiding place near the water he saw her descending from the second floor. She was alone. He quickly stunned her with a blow over the head, the defense will suggest, and toppled her down the elevator shaft, locking her nurse and later disposing of her body.

The alibi which the defense will seek to establish are, of course, the weapons on which reliance will be placed.

MRS. GRACE REJOICES AS DIVORCE IS ASSURED

"Woman With Money Mark for Designing Men," She Says. "I've Learned a Lesson."

PHILADELPHIA, June 3.—The appointment of a master in the last month in the case of Daisy Grace, who, in September of last year, filed suit for divorce from her husband, Eugene Grace, will be asked for by Mrs. Grace's counsel some time this week.

Grace failed to reply to notice of the action and a verdict for the plaintiff virtually is assured.

If Grace fails to appear at the hearing before a master Mrs. Grace will be called to the stand, but she is expected to read, and after she has been sworn, the divorce likely will be awarded her by default.

Personal service was not obtainable, because the respondent failed to come within the jurisdiction of the county courts here, and, under the law, it was necessary to advertise the suit to local papers in the newspapers.

Take Testimony Next.

This advertising was made returnable yesterday, and the next move will be for the court to appoint a lawyer to take testimony on the charges of fraud and barbarous treatment, on which the woman, who figured in one of the most sensational trials in recent years, bases her suit.

Mrs. Grace said today: "I do hope to be free from that man forever. The world has never known that I had to endure from him, and now that I shall have the opportunity to tell what he did to me, I know that justice will change. It is true that sentiment was all against me, because of the fact that I was assumed to have taken in the amount."

Won't Wed Again, She Says.

"I have had enough of men like him. Since my acquittal I have been more careful than ever of my associates, and I tell you that the costly lesson I have learned has taught me to beware."

"When a woman has a little money she is a mark for designing men, and she is predisposed to that sort of thing."

"Once I am free again, I tell you it will be a long time before any man can court me."

Catch Tarpon and Pelican? We Know Darn Well We Can

Atlantans are figuring conspicuously this year in the tarpon fishing off the west coast of Florida. The St. Petersburg Independent, in a current issue, tells how H. W. Brown, of Atlanta, who was fishing off Pensacola with George Linotte, landed four big ones in one day.

Mr. Linotte, the genial Frenchman who makes two stone-catchers grow where only one grew before, is well known to Atlantans. The only thing more plentiful than tarpon this year on the west coast are pelicans. Mr. Brown has sent to Atlanta a copy of a poem just composed by Linotte, in which the latter thus epitomizes the noble fish: "The poem follows: "There's a curious bird, called the Pelican. Whose mouth holds more than his belly can. He stuffs into his beak Enough grub for a week. Though I don't see how he bellows."

Caught and Wheat To Go on Free List

WASHINGTON, June 3.—The free list of the Underwood tariff bill will be augmented by the addition of wheat and wheat, according to a statement of Senator Simmons of North Carolina, after a conference with President Wilson today.

Senator Simmons today said the chief executive had signified his willingness to have the duty removed from both.

It is not expected that President Wilson will sanction any further changes in the measure until the measure is passed.

2,000 Daily, Present Mark, Expected To Be Increased to 3,000 This Month.

Bathing at Piedmont Park has become the rage. From the moment the life-saver gets on his job in the morning until the closing time at night the beautiful pond is literally alive with bathers.

The daily average thus far has been something about 2,000, but Superintendent Dan Carey, of the Park Commission, expects the number to average well above 3,000 for the end of June and then some.

Attendance Records Broken.

Never, says Mr. Carey, has the sport been so popular. For the early season—winter is still far away—all records are smashed higher than a kite, and there is some talk of keeping a lower level in the pond for fear that an unexpected excess of the number of bathers would make it sink above the banks.

Such things of aquatic records are

MAJOR, FELDER AND FOLGER IN JURY VICE PROBE

Investigation of Reports That Disorderly Houses Again Are in Operation Begun--Foreman's Move Surprise. Dictograph Row Not Taken Up.

A broad and exhaustive probe into vice conditions in Atlanta was the unexpected turn taken by the Fulton County Grand Jury when it convened Tuesday morning supposedly to take up the Felder-Heavers-Lanford dictograph controversy with the attending charges of corruption and bribery of police officials. Foreman Beck himself conducted the inquest.

Witnesses who gave testimony at the morning session were asked for evidence pertaining to the existence of vice only. That the Grand Jury will conduct a sweeping investigation of new red light districts which are reported to have sprung up, despite the persistent warfare against such resorts by Chief of Police Beavers, is almost certain.

Major James G. Woodward, Colonel Thomas H. Felder and Carl Hutcheson, the lawyer who says he has a list of disorderly houses of holding forth by reason of police protection, were the men called to testify in the morning.

The Mayor was questioned largely as to his knowledge of existing vice conditions. He is said to have informed the grand jurors that his information was only hearsay. However, he says out what he had heard in full. The Mayor also pointed out to the jurymen possibilities for the existence of such practices. The examination of Mr. Woodward continued for more than an hour.

Colonel Felder was before the Grand Jury for ten minutes. The attorney was not subpoenaed to appear at the hearing, but presented himself voluntarily. He is said to have outlined his own position in reference to the bribery charges and also the wholesale charges of corruption which have been made against the police.

Felder Offers Evidence.

In his earlier accusations, Mr. Felder declared that he would submit documentary evidence showing the existence of vice in Atlanta to prove his previous assertions.

It is believed that Carl Hutcheson, the young attorney in Felder's office, is counted upon to supply this evidence. Mr. Hutcheson was called before the grand jury shortly before noon. While he did not carry in with him the list of resorts said to be operating now in this city, which he has compiled, he declared that the document were asked for by the jurymen he would hand it over to them.

That the Grand Jury was in possession of sufficient information to indict the keepers and proprietors of at least 30 houses of disreputable character was the announcement made by Mr. Hutcheson when he emerged from the session chamber after he had been before the jurors for more than an hour.

Says He Furnished Proof.

He said that he had furnished positive evidence that these resorts and houses of assignment existed and that the policemen on the beats knew of their existence.

"But did you give them positive information that Chief Heavers and Lanford were connected with the workings of the men under you?" he was asked.

"I told them enough so that they must believe that these resorts exist and Lanford could hardly help but know," he replied. "The heads of departments always are responsible for the workings of the men under them."

Mr. Fomby in City.

The fact that Mr. Fomby, a witness in the Phagan case, has been subpoenaed for the meeting is an item of mystery. It was stated on reliable information, however, that his testimony would have nothing to do with the Phagan case. It is understood that he was so furnished the police department by Carl Hutcheson, in which the attorney alleged she was receiving police protection. It was also said that the woman was not out of the city, as hinted a few days ago, but had merely changed her address and given the new location to the Solicitor.

Chief Beavers, Chief Lanford and G. C. Feary, Lanford's secretary, were served Tuesday morning. Before going into the Grand Jury room Chief Beavers made the following statement:

"I want the truth of this whole affair to be known. If there is rottenness in the department I certainly want to find out what it is and get it out. I want the jury to have close to the line and let the chips fall where they may."

The dictograph stenographer, George Gretry, could not be located and it was reported he had left the city. Colonel Felder said he knew of the young man's movements, however, and there was some probability of his being brought into the case in a new capacity.

Foreman Beck would not discuss the Grand Jury meeting at all. He denied on several occasions that it was his intention to take up the matter until it was presented by the Solicitor. The Solicitor, however, knew absolutely nothing of the nature of the meeting until informed by his assistant late Monday afternoon. He said then that he did not know positively the Grand Jury would take the matter up, but intimated if it did it would conduct its own investigation until such a time as it called upon him for advice.

It is not probable the jury will be enabled to examine all the witnesses or the testimony in the case Tuesday, and it is likely several days will be taken before some decision can be arrived at.

FRANK FRANK'S SUSPECTS

NECKS ARE SAVED BY DEFEATERS' PISTOLS

With the ropes around their necks, Ernest Maynard and Walter Wilkes, the negroes suspected of the murder of Mrs. William Stevens and her daughter, Nellie, who were found in the ruins of their home near Constitution, were saved from lynching late this afternoon at the point of detective's guns.

The negroes had been taken to the scene of the crime by Sheriff McCurdy and Detective Ross and were tied to a tree while the officers scoured the neighborhood for clues.

A party of about twenty framers, determined on vengeance, rushed them to a nearby barn. The two ropes were slung over a tree and the ends slipped about the negro's necks.

Chief of Detectives Lanford, heading another party arrived in an automobile just as the proposed lynching was about to be consummated. At the point of a revolver he held the would-be lynchers at bay and aided by Deputy Sheriff P. H. Lively, Sheriff McCurdy and Detective Ross saved the two men, rushing them back to Atlanta in an automobile.

The men will be sheltered at police headquarters where they have been since their arrest Monday.

Both of the suspects, who were picked up Saturday afternoon on the identification of Wade Stevens, son of the murdered woman, have denied any knowledge of the crime.

Revelations taken by Son.

The detectives' hunt for Mrs. Stevens' missing diamond ring, gold watch and revolver, which were supposed to have been taken by the murderer, came to a sudden halt Monday morning when young Wade Stevens, 16, explained their disappearance.

Stevens said that he sold the diamond ring and the watch in Chattanooga two years ago, letting the ring go for $10. He said he took the revolver away with him when he went to Chattanooga last Tuesday night, the date of the murder, and sold it there for 50 cents.

Despite the clearing of this phase of the mystery, the officers still are of the opinion that the motive for the crime may have been robbery, as the murderer may have had an idea that Mrs. Stevens kept a large sum of money in her home.

Wilkes and Maynard were kept in solitary confinement over Sunday. No one went near them to question them. It was thought that a day of almost absolute isolation would put them in a frame of mind where they would be the more easily worked upon Monday.

After they have been taken to the scene of the murder, it is probable that they will be removed to the DeKalb County jail in Decatur.

Caught in Lies, Says Sheriff.

The promoters have said that they didn't have anything to do with the killing of Mrs. Stevens and the girl, said Sheriff McCurdy, "but they already have been trapped in several misstatements of lies."

It took suspicion that they were together when captured. They were in a hurry to say that they had just happened to meet a few minutes before.

Wilkes, when he was first taken, denied for a time that he was seen by young Stevens Tuesday night as Stevens had claimed, but afterward admitted that this was true.

Young Stevens said that Wilkes asked whether anyone was with Mrs. Stevens and finding that Mr. Stevens had gone to bed, he went to the grate room, said that he succeeded in getting the gold watch and the diamond ring, although we expect to get much more positive evidence.
