

FIRST STATE BY FRANK DEFENSE

ALWAYS FIRST
THE SUNDAY AMERICAN
Order It Now
Both Phones Main 8000

THE ATLANTA GEORGIAN

Read for Profit--GEORGIAN WANT ADS--Use for Results

VOL. XI, NO. 265.

ATLANTA, GA., TUESDAY, JUNE 10, 1913.

Copyright, 1913, by The Georgian Co. 2 CENTS PER NO.

HOME EDITION

REVOLUTIONS RAY OUT IN ROW WITH WILSON

Attorney General's Split With President Open Secret at Capital--Resignation Expected.

WASHINGTON, June 10.—The first sign of the anticipated friction in President Wilson's Cabinet has made its appearance, and as a result Washington to-day confidently awaits the news that a member of the President's official family is remaining to resign. Attorney General J. C. McReynolds is the man who, rumor says, is getting ready to quit. The Cabinet because of troubles with his chief. The friction between the President and the Attorney General dates back almost to the inauguration. The President considers that the work of the Department of Justice should be kept entirely secret. "Pleaseas work," according to the President, is intended to apply to the operations of all of the governmental branches except the Departments of State and Justice—the former because international politics is not thought to be matters for exploitation in the public prints, the latter because the danger of warning those about to be prosecuted when the Government agents are on their trail. Leaks in Department. The Attorney General had other ideas, which he did not hesitate to express to his chief, who, as usual, "disagreed." Nevertheless, there was a number of "leaks" in the Department of Justice. The details of the proposed prosecution of the tobacco trust and a number of other legal steps which the Government intended to take against the financiers of the Sherman and Trust law found their way into the newspapers. President Wilson objected. The Attorney General replied that he was running the department, and intimating that should they resign, it would be done with the manner in which the trust prosecutions are being conducted, and as an open secret.

The President held several private conferences with his prosecutor last week. To-day he called him to the White House, early in the morning, and after several "maneuvers" designed to keep the interview private, finally consulted with the Attorney General in his study, after McReynolds had informed the newspaper men that he was leaving the White House "for the day."

That there is a breach between the President and his Attorney General is an open secret. Official Washington is waiting only to see how long it will last before widening to the extent of forcing a change in the Cabinet.

Infant Is Slain by Poisoned Needles

NEW YORK, June 10.—The disclosure by an autopsy that poisoned needles in the liver and stomach had caused the death of Anna, the infant child of Mrs. and Herman Sorrenson, Long Island, set the police to-day on the trail of a young woman, formerly employed in the Sorrenson household. The young woman was discharged after acting in an erratic manner.

Diphtheria Toxin Fatal to Well Boy

HUNTINGTON, IND., June 10.—Lusk O'Brien, five years old, is dead here as the result of the administration by physicians of diphtheria antitoxin.

Two members of the family had been attacked by diphtheria and the child also was treated for the disease, but later it developed that he was not afflicted with diphtheria.

ACUTE KILLED S. HURTS 6. KATHIE, WIS., June 10.—One man was killed, another was fatally injured and four others were seriously injured when their automobile slid into a ditch. Frank Bond, 24, was driver.

Court Holds Negro Is a Burglar for Stealing Own Shoes

Charley Tate, negro, is in the toils of the law, charged with burglary, because he stole his own shoes from a shoe shop on Peters Street, where he had taken them to be repaired. Charley admitted that he was brought before Judge Boyles on Tuesday morning, but said he was forced to steal the shoes, as he did not have the money to pay for the repairs and get them out. It is supposed that Charley's act was the result of the drop in temperature Monday night.

Since the law fails to take the weather into account, Charley was bound over on the charge of burglary.

Jim Ham Lewis to Speak at Athens

WASHINGTON, June 10.—Senator James Hamilton Lewis, of Illinois, one of the most picturesque men and ablest speakers in the United States Senate, who was reared and schooled in Georgia, has accepted an invitation to deliver the commencement address at the University of Georgia on June 18. The invitation was extended to him through Senators Smith and Bacon, of Georgia.

Senator Lewis and Senator Smith are old friends, the latter having represented Lewis' credentials to the Senate when he was received as a member.

Americans Vanish in Peruvian Wilds

Social Cable to The Atlanta Georgian. LIMA, June 10.—The Peruvian Government has sent out searching parties for two American expeditions which have not been heard from for many months. W. H. Cromer, of Chicago was in charge of the first, a scientific expedition, and the second, which was in search of rubber and mines, was headed by F. T. Grundlich, of Chicago, who did not lead it himself.

Couldn't Find Gems, So Steals Laundry

A daring burglar forced a window at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence May, 112 Myrtle Street, Monday night between 8:30 and 9:30 o'clock, lighted the house, which was vacant, and ransacked every drawer in a search for money or jewels. A basket of freshly laundered clothes was taken, but nothing else of value seemed to be missing.

Hazer Soars Titanic Survivor; Expelled

GRANVILLE, OHIO, June 10.—Kent Pfeiffer, a Junior at Denison University here, has been thrown out of school and ordered from town because he has been found guilty of leading six student hazers who brand Stuart Collet on the forehead with nitrate of silver, disfiguring him for life.

Still More Wives for the Matrimony Champions

Professor Lee Bernart casts the horoscope of America's favorite husbands, Nat Goodwin and De Wolf Hopper, and shows how the stars predict that there will be at least a sixth wife for Goodwin and a seventh for Hopper.

Read about it in next Sunday's dear-to-day, or call Main 8000.

INDICENT SUMMER TO OF FEEDER REPELSE' AND FAN ASKED

With blank bills of indictment against Attorney Thomas B. Felder and Police Commissioner W. F. Palm under consideration, the vice probe by the Fulton County Grand Jury took a sensational turn Tuesday.

Two witnesses told of disorder and rowdiness in a house at 40 East Harris Street, in which the Police Commissioner was said to have been invited to investigate, the Police Commissioner escaped arrest by getting in telephone communication with the department.

The witnesses said a repetition of the orgies occurred in April, with Commissioner Palm as participant, and that although the disorder was of an aggravated form, the Commissioner again escaped arrest.

Felder Witness Missing

When the Grand Jury began consideration of the charge against Colonel Felder for carrying concealed weapons, one witness gave the attorney a clean bill of health and the other and most important one could not be found.

'Man' Record Is Broken

It was the most interesting thing locally, however, from a strictly scientific viewpoint, is the fact that the minimum temperature of 42 degrees, registered at 7 a. m., smashes all existing records for June 10. The only other day of June 10, anywhere near to-day's record was that of the good year 1912, when a minimum of 50 degrees was registered.

Michigan Fruit Crop Is Damaged by Cold

DETROIT, June 10.—Reports today from the fruit growing sections of Michigan indicate that heavy damage to growing crops had been inflicted by the cold weather of the past few days.

Michigan Fruit Crop Is Damaged by Cold

DETROIT, June 10.—Reports today from the fruit growing sections of Michigan indicate that heavy damage to growing crops had been inflicted by the cold weather of the past few days.

Michigan Fruit Crop Is Damaged by Cold

DETROIT, June 10.—Reports today from the fruit growing sections of Michigan indicate that heavy damage to growing crops had been inflicted by the cold weather of the past few days.

Continued on Page 2, Column 5.

Judge Speer to Quit Court Bench in 1918

Macon, Ga., June 10.—Judge Emory Speer will retire from the bench of the United States Court for the Southern District of Georgia in 1918. He will then be 70 years of age, and will have served 33 years on the bench, thus being eligible for retirement on full salary. It is particularly of this that he is reported to have expressed his intention to the proposed division of the territory of his district.

Boys Voted More Apt Music Pupils

CHICAGO, June 10.—Boys are more worthy of a musical education than girls. This decision was reached by a jury of 400 persons who attended a church contest and voted, 186 to 164, in favor of the boys. Nineteen boys and nineteen girls all under 15, competed before the jury, interpreting vocal and instrumental music.

Biggest Liner Ready For Maiden Voyage

Special Cable to The Atlanta Georgian. HAMBURG, GERMANY, June 10.—The Hamburg American Line to-day formally accepted from her builders the new liner Imperator, the biggest and finest ship afloat.

'Philadelphia Jack' O'Brien Bankrupt

PHILADELPHIA, June 10.—A voluntary petition in bankruptcy was filed by Joseph P. A. Hagen, better known as "Philadelphia Jack O'Brien," in the United States District Court to-day.

Loebist Found Who Admits It

WASHINGTON, June 10.—In the presence of a small army of alleged lobbyists, the Senate today took up the long-delayed former Governor of Hawaii, Ives, from the Hawaiian Islands to argue the retention of a duty on sugar.

Michigan Fruit Crop Is Damaged by Cold

DETROIT, June 10.—Reports today from the fruit growing sections of Michigan indicate that heavy damage to growing crops had been inflicted by the cold weather of the past few days.

Michigan Fruit Crop Is Damaged by Cold

DETROIT, June 10.—Reports today from the fruit growing sections of Michigan indicate that heavy damage to growing crops had been inflicted by the cold weather of the past few days.

Michigan Fruit Crop Is Damaged by Cold

DETROIT, June 10.—Reports today from the fruit growing sections of Michigan indicate that heavy damage to growing crops had been inflicted by the cold weather of the past few days.

Continued on Page 2, Column 5.

Mrs. Hudson Can Wed Again Pretty Divorcee Freed by Court Will Seek Fame in Vaudeville

Mrs. Willie Hudson, pretty divorcee, who has won her suit to remove the marriage ban placed on her by the divorce court, and her four-year-old son, Scott Hudson, Jr., whose custody remains with his father, Lynn W. Hudson, wealthy Kentuckian.

'ROMANCE DEAD,' SAYS DIXIE BRIDE

Birmingham Beauty, Back From Europe, 'Just Got Married.' No Homeoney at All.

Suit by Former Wife of Rich Kentuckian Starts Rumor of 'Another Suitor.'

NEW YORK, June 10.—"A romance dead in America" is a question that has been asked frequently of late.

Loebist Found Who Admits It

WASHINGTON, June 10.—In the presence of a small army of alleged lobbyists, the Senate today took up the long-delayed former Governor of Hawaii, Ives, from the Hawaiian Islands to argue the retention of a duty on sugar.

Continued on Page 2, Column 5.

ROSSER ASKS GRAND JURY CALL FOR CONLEY

Why Has Negro Been Protected From Questioning by Impartial Body?

Luther Z. Rosser, chief of counsel for Leo M. Frank, issued the first public statement Tuesday that he has made since the arrest of the factory superintendent six weeks ago on the suspicion of being the murderer of Mary Phagan.

He took occasion to point out many of the absurdities in the stories of the negro Jim Conley, and said his respects in a forcible manner both to Chief of Detectives Lanford and Colonel Thomas H. Pender, who have been accusing each other of trying to protect Frank.

Mr. Rosser explained the violation of his invariable custom of insisting on absolute silence in regard to a case in which he was interested by calling attention to the prejudice that had been aroused in the public mind against Frank by the controversy between Lanford and Colonel Pender.

His statement, in full, follows: Mr. Rosser's Statement.

Editor Atlanta Georgian: Pender and Lanford, in an effort to make progress in their feud, charge each the other with giving aid to Leo Frank. Lanford charges that Pender was employed by Frank and is acting for that reason to shield him. Pender charges that Lanford aid his associates were also seeking, for some reason, to shield and protect Frank.

Both charges are untrue and, at a time when no harm could come to an innocent man, might well be treated as anecdotes to monotonize.

Unfortunately, however, the present situation is such that false charges are being made by these counter charges.

Pender does not, nor has he at any time, directly or indirectly, represented Frank. For Lanford to charge that the contrary does Frank a serious injustice.

Felder Against Frank. If Chief Lanford had been in a normal mood, he would have known that every act of Pender has been against Frank. The arrangement of the State Agency ought to have shielded Lanford. No detective agency of half-prudence would have double-crossed the Atlanta Department in the Phagan case. Nor did Pender have excuse for suspicion against Lanford. There was reason to suspect his fairness, his accuracy and the soundness of his methods, but not his reckless zeal against Frank.

Had Pender been in a calm mood, I am sure he would never have charged the Chief and his associates with intrusion to help Frank.

Lanford at once, as soon as Pender charged him with favoring Frank, settled in his mind the guilt of Frank, and from that moment has had every effort of his department, not in finding the murderer, but in trying to protect the public that Pender was wrong in charging him with intrusion to shield Frank.

His department has exhausted itself in an effort to fix upon Frank an impossible life, on the theory that a violation of the Seventh Commandment will likewise murder. This effort has failed. No man in Atlanta has had more moral character subjected to the public than Pender, in the whole city of Atlanta a hundred men who could have more successfully stood the test.

His employees, without a single exception, have made affidavits to his upright character. Lanford's department subpoenaed every one of them before the coroner's jury, and after keeping them more than two days, did not dare to swear a single one of them.

Today and after the coroner's verdict this whole city will be made to know that the Chief and his associates were wrong in charging him with intrusion to help Frank.

Continued on Page 2, Column 5.

EYEWITNESS TO PLOTTING AND CONSPIRACY

Story That Companion of Conley Saw Him Strike Down Girl Opens New Clues.

combated with a fine-tooth comb and a like combing has been applied to Frankly, the city of Atlanta, to find something against the moral character of this man.

Conley's Actions. It is the case of a woman who did not see Lanford of Peeler's charge, that the woman who did not see Lanford of Peeler's charge, that the woman who did not see Lanford of Peeler's charge.

made for self-protection and for the good of the state, and for the good of the state, and for the good of the state.

Conley made no statement. He did not need the announced opinion of Lanford. He made another statement which was that he was not a party to the crime.

STOP THAT TITCH WITH RESNOLI! Brings Instant Relief and Quickly Cures Itchy Skin Eruptions.

The Georgian-American Pony Contest VOTE COUPON

Hearst's Sunday American and Atlanta Georgian PONY CONTEST VOTE COUPON, MONDAY, JUNE 9, 1913. 5 VOTES. NOT GOOD AFTER JUNE 24, 1913.

Vote for Address: HEARST'S SUNDAY AMERICAN AND ATLANTA GEORGIAN PONY CONTEST VOTE COUPON, MONDAY, JUNE 9, 1913. 5 VOTES. NOT GOOD AFTER JUNE 24, 1913.

STOCK EXCHANGE QUARTON MUST BE STOPPED BY RATE RULING

NEW YORK, June 10.—Stocks made sensational declines today and the exchange became a scene of confusion.

WASHINGTON, June 10.—The application for the writ of habeas in behalf of Porter Charlton, who was arrested in Italy, was denied by the Supreme Court.

NEW YORK, June 10.—The American team was composed of Harry Payne Whitney, captain; Ben Franklin Dreyfus and many other cities, in addition to New York, today left early for the scene of the polo match.

WASHINGTON, June 10.—The application for the writ of habeas in behalf of Porter Charlton, who was arrested in Italy, was denied by the Supreme Court.

WASHINGTON, June 10.—The application for the writ of habeas in behalf of Porter Charlton, who was arrested in Italy, was denied by the Supreme Court.

S. POLO STARS INDICATE OF MISEMANCEMENT OF POLICE COMMISSIONER

Society, Brilliantly Arrayed, Sees First of Matches at Meadowbrook Field.

NEW YORK, June 10.—The wealth, beauty and artistry of America were represented today in the immense crowd that arrived hours before game was called for the international polo match.

Weather is ideal. Social leaders from Philadelphia, Boston, Chicago, Cleveland, Pittsburgh, Montgomery, Denver and many other cities, in addition to New York, today left early for the scene of the polo match.

Weather conditions were ideal, and the fields were in lightning shape. Everything pointed to one of the most thrilling and spectacular polo matches since the Egyptians discovered the polo stick.

Contrary to expectation, there was little hitting. A number of wags among the spectators were in favor of the Britons, but there were only small amounts.

The American team was composed of Harry Payne Whitney, captain; Ben Franklin Dreyfus and many other cities, in addition to New York, today left early for the scene of the polo match.

WASHINGTON, June 10.—The application for the writ of habeas in behalf of Porter Charlton, who was arrested in Italy, was denied by the Supreme Court.

WASHINGTON, June 10.—The application for the writ of habeas in behalf of Porter Charlton, who was arrested in Italy, was denied by the Supreme Court.

2 Children Enough; Wife Seeks Decree

NEW YORK, June 10.—Mrs. Grace P. Goodheart filed suit in the Supreme Court today asking for a separation from Robert H. Goodheart, the elder head of the firm of R. M. Goodheart & Co., manufacturer of sporting articles.

Police Commissioner Accused of Misdemeanor in Alleged Occurrence in Resort.

Bank bill of indictment, charging Colonel T. B. Fidler with a misdemeanor, was presented to the grand jury today.

Another indictment in the wholesale vice probe was drawn today by the grand jury.

Another indictment in the wholesale vice probe was drawn today by the grand jury.

Another indictment in the wholesale vice probe was drawn today by the grand jury.

Another indictment in the wholesale vice probe was drawn today by the grand jury.

Another indictment in the wholesale vice probe was drawn today by the grand jury.

MAN POSING AS NEGRO IS SENT TO PRISON

Swindler Who Duped Many Catholics Given Three Years by Judge Newman.

Judge Newman Tuesday sentenced Thomas Kirby, alias Brother James, alias Rev. Brother James Brady and alias Father Kelly, a notorious priest who defrauded many prominent Catholics of Atlanta and other Southern cities, to three years in the Federal prison and imposed a fine of $1,000 for using the United States mails to defraud.

Under the name of Father James Kirby communicated in person and through the mails with C. J. Dockett, a prominent Catholic priest, in Atlanta, Ga., for the purpose of building a school in St. Leo, Fla.

Over their left shoulders the Atlanta men carried umbrellas and in their right hands, red, white and blue electric fans, on which were embossed the legend, "Atlanta Always Ahead." At the head of the parade were the Atlanta men.

Over their left shoulders the Atlanta men carried umbrellas and in their right hands, red, white and blue electric fans, on which were embossed the legend, "Atlanta Always Ahead." At the head of the parade were the Atlanta men.

Over their left shoulders the Atlanta men carried umbrellas and in their right hands, red, white and blue electric fans, on which were embossed the legend, "Atlanta Always Ahead." At the head of the parade were the Atlanta men.

Over their left shoulders the Atlanta men carried umbrellas and in their right hands, red, white and blue electric fans, on which were embossed the legend, "Atlanta Always Ahead." At the head of the parade were the Atlanta men.

Over their left shoulders the Atlanta men carried umbrellas and in their right hands, red, white and blue electric fans, on which were embossed the legend, "Atlanta Always Ahead." At the head of the parade were the Atlanta men.

White City Park Now Open

White City Park Now Open

White City Park Now Open

Advertisement for Dr. Whitlaw's Nervous People medicine, featuring a portrait of the doctor and text describing the benefits of the medicine for various ailments.

SEXY TO INDUCT FELD

ALWAYS FIRST
THE SUNDAY AMERICAN

THE ATLANTA GEORGIAN

Read for Profit--GEORGIAN WANT ADS--Use for Results

South Georgia
AFTERNOON EDITION

Order It Now
Both Phones Main 8000

VOL. XI, NO. 265.

ATLANTA, GA., TUESDAY, JUNE 10, 1913.

Copyright, 1913, 2 CENTS PER COPY.
By the Georgia

COLE FOLDER ACCUSED OF CARRYING PISTOL

Blank Bill of Indictment Drawn
Also Against Police Commissioner Fain

A blank bill of indictment, charging Colonel T. B. Forder with a misdemeanor in the carrying of concealed weapons, was presented to the Grand Jury when it met Tuesday morning in the Throver Building. The indictment is another chapter in the sensational Felder-Lanford controversy, which had its beginning in the publication of the details of a dictograph plot to obtain bribery evidence against Colonel Forder. A personal clash between Chief of Detectives Lanford and Colonel Forder during the Grand Jury hearing gave rise to the present action. Criminals and recommitments were flying back and forth when the two men leaped from their chairs in an ante-room and started toward one another.

Felder's hand is said to have reached toward his hip pocket. Dr. Horace Grant, who stepped between the angry men, has been subpoenaed as the principal witness, and it is understood that he will testify he saw the weapon exposed when Felder reached toward his pocket.

The Vice Probe. That the vice probe will be conducted with unabated vigor by the Grand Jury, as represented by the drawing of a blank bill of indictment against Mrs. N. P. Powell, convicted last week of the proprietor of a disorderly house and sentenced to twelve months in jail.

Many witnesses were on hand to testify against Mrs. Powell, and it is understood that many others will be called for indictment by the Grand Jury before the session is concluded. It is the intention of the Grand Jury to make the most thorough and sweeping sort of an investigation of the reports of widespread immorality in the city.

Excution was taken to the statement of Chief Beavers that he was accused of being the man who shot and killed a man in the city through an injunction of the Superior Court. It will be the purpose of the Grand Jury to show that the courts are not interfering in the closing of the immoral resorts.

Fain Also Accused. Another blank indictment in the wholesale vice probe was drawn against W. F. Fain, a member of the Police Commission, the date of whose alleged conduct in an Ivy Street resort started the Grand Jury last week. Fain was charged with a misdemeanor in the bill, and it is understood that the alleged occurrence in this resort was the basis.

J. A. Shages, of the Southern Express Company, and Allen Young, a real estate agent, were subpoenaed as witnesses. Fain's case was on the calendar after that of Colonel Forder. All witnesses reassembled at the residence of the grand juror.

Practically every witness who had testified was summoned again late Monday afternoon. Although neither Forder nor H. Beck nor Solicitor Hugh M. Dorsey would discuss the meeting, witnesses themselves were certain the jury had reached an eleven-hour decision to make an executive investigation of alleged vice conditions.

Chief of Police James I. Deaver, S. Colyar, Jr., and Colonel Thomas H. Felder were the only witnesses not subpoenaed. Dr. Lanford stamped with approval the Bryan ersatz juice high ball.

Diphtheria Toxin Fatal to Well Boy. HUNTINGTON, IND., June 10.—Luke O'Brien, five years old, is dead here as the result of the administration by physicians of diphtheria antitoxin. Two members of the family had been attacked by diphtheria, and the child also was treated for the disease, but later it developed that he was not afflicted with diphtheria.

Cost of Staples Up From May 1 Level

WASHINGTON, June 10.—The average of prices received by producers of the United States for staple crops increased about 1.3 per cent from May 1 to June 1, which compares with an increase of 3.4 per cent, during May of the past five years. On June 1, prices for staple crops averaged about 28.0 per cent lower than on like date of 1912, 5.1 per cent lower than 1911, 9.3 per cent lower than 1910, and 17.3 per cent lower than 1909, on like date. The average prices for meat animals decreased about 3.7 per cent from April 15 to May 15.

Free-for-All Battle Graduation Feature

SCRANTON, PA., June 10.—Maxwell L. Strunk, a member of the graduating class of the Nicholson, High School, refused to wear the traditional cap and gown at Commencement, and the class voted to refuse him a seat in the Throver Building. However, brought his three big brothers along, took his place on the stage and refused to leave. The average prices for meat animals decreased about 3.7 per cent from April 15 to May 15.

Morning Baths Cut Paris Water Supply

Special Cable to The Atlanta Georgian. PARIS, June 10.—The unexpected disclosure has been made that the shortage of water in Paris, which always slightly felt in the hot days, may be due in no small measure to the new Paris custom of taking a morning bath. Since Parisian men and women adopted the English custom of a morning hot bath ten years ago, every new house built in Paris has been furnished with hot water bathrooms, while all the hotels have made installations.

Americans Vanish in Peruvian Wilds

Special Cable to The Atlanta Georgian. LIMA, June 10.—The Peruvian Government has sent out searching parties for two American expeditions which have not been heard from for many months. W. H. Cromwell, of Chicago, was in charge of the first, a scientific expedition, and the second, which went in search of rubber and tin, was financed by P. T. Gundlach of Chicago, who did not lead it.

Couple Rewed After Thirty Years Divorce

BREDDING, CAL., June 10.—After having been divorced for more than thirty years, La Fayette Holt and Joan Holt, both past sixty years of age, were reunited in marriage here. For many years the two have lived in this city. Time had healed the breach of former days and the two were married the first part of this week, declaring that the declining years of their lives should be their real honeymoon.

Dutch Envoy Balked at Any Old Sponge

CHICAGO, June 10.—Dr. Jonker John Loudon, minister to the United States from The Netherlands, uses a certain kind of sponge in taking his morning bath. He forgot to bring one with him from Washington, and for more than an hour in his hotel waiting for a fellow to search the Bryan ersatz juice high ball.

Still More Wives for the Matrimony Champions

Professor Lee Bernart, incasts the horoscope of America's favorite husbands, Nat Goodwin and De Wolf Hopper, and shows how the stars predict that there will be at least a sixth wife for Goodwin and a seventh for Hopper.

Read about it in next Sunday's American. Order for your dealer, to-day, or call Main 8000

SNOW FALLS JUNE 10 AS MERCURY DROPS

Atlanta Has Its Record Summer
Cold Wave—Thermometer Hits 54 Mark.

Snow was falling in Atlanta at 8 o'clock Tuesday—at least nine out of ten persons said it was snow, and it fell like it.

At 8 o'clock Tuesday morning the thermometer registered 54 degrees on the downward path in what promises to be the coldest period of weather Atlanta has ever experienced in the month of roses.

Standing at 57 degrees Monday night the mercury tumbled three degrees by morning. A cold rain, taken by many for snow, driven on a high wind presaged a still lower register throughout Tuesday. That the average will run below that of Monday, which was 58, is almost certain.

Atlantians came forward nobly with flannels and cold storage overcoats in the morning to meet the frigid blast. From the dusty shelves down at "Uncle Ben's" hundreds of heavy garments were redeemed by those who had laid them away at a financial profit until heat winter. Others, more fortunate, hunted up the keys to the cedar chests and took out their heavy garments. Along Peachtree Street as the shoppers appeared the scent of the moth ball was present.

Shoppers Lid Disappearing. Conspicuous by their absence were straw hats and light suits. With the wind blowing a safe few women were on the streets.

The greatest sufferers probably were the "newbies," whose bare feet however toughened under the hot sun and on rough pavements, could not withstand the biting cold. In every doorway the youngsters hovered.

According to the weather man, Atlanta is in for a slice of cold weather, and for the next four or five days it is thought the temperature will fall. While no storms are predicted, it is probable that southerly weather will comb back in Georgia.

Weather Observer Vonlifermer declared Tuesday morning that the sudden drop in temperature was caused by some disturbance in the Gulf of Mexico. No explanation of the origin, however, has been given.

According to Mr. von Hermann, Monday was the coldest night of June in Atlanta's history. The previous low record for this day was on June 9, 1897, when the average temperature for the day was 41 degrees.

Farmers Might Suffer. Commissioner of Agriculture J. J. Connor, in his office at the Capitol Tuesday morning, declared that if the cold continued farmers would suffer damage to their crops.

Continued on Page 2, Column 5.

Tuesday Most Gala Day of Tech Anniversary Celebration Brilliant Reception at Governor's Mansion to Mark Entertainment

Young women who are prominent in the social gayeties which are marking the big Tech celebration. At top left to right, Miss Alice Parks, Miss Jane Cowles, Miss Louise Jones, Miss Mary Hurst. Below—Miss Jane Cowles and Mr. Ed Carman.

Distinguished Speakers Feature the Program at the Founders' Exercises.

Their ardor undampened by the rain and the cold weather, nearly a thousand students, alumni and visitors crowded the building and the campus of the Georgia School of Technology Tuesday for the gala day of the twenty-fifth anniversary celebration. The day's exercises formed the most elaborate college celebration ever held in Georgia.

Beginning with the annual meeting of the Alumni Association at 9:30 o'clock, at which A. R. Colcord, of Atlanta, welcomed the visitors, interesting events will follow one after the other until the late hours of the night. The day will be brought to a fitting close with a reception at the Governor's Mansion, when Governor and Mrs. Joseph M. Brown will host the members of the graduating class, the faculty and the distinguished visitors.

Founders' Day Exercises. The men who made Tech and the men who are now directing the destinies of the school were brought together at the annual Founders' Day exercises, held in the Y. M. C. A. Auditorium Tuesday morning. The principal speakers, Dr. L. C. Hopkins and Judge N. E. Harris, were greeted by the students and alumni with a

POLO MATCH ODDS AGAINST U. S. TEAM

NEW YORK, June 10.—The "big four" of international polo—Harry Payne Whitney, Devereux Milburn, Larry Waterbury and J. M. Waterbury—today reported to be in fair shape and will defend the Westchester Cup against England this afternoon at Meadow Brook. Betting odds are 2 to 1 that the Britons will regain the title.

The "big four" will be in the same positions they played when they brought the cup from England in 1909 and when they successfully defended it two years later. Harry Payne Whitney will again act as captain of the American team.

The veteran four have been assigned to the following positions: No. 1, Lawrence Waterbury; No. 2, J. M. Waterbury; No. 3, H. P. Whitney; back, D. Milburn. Whitney a Tower of Strength. Putting the old team back on the firing line was the only wise solution of the exceedingly difficult problem created by the accident that put Fox-Kelley out of play. To put two men back and to leave the other two in the saddle could mean a sure defeat of America and the loss of the trophy.

BULGARIA NEAR GLASH WITH SERVIA

Russia Tries to Pacify Balkan States, but Danef Says Serbs Never Will Yield.

Special Cable to The Atlanta Georgian. SOFIA, June 10.—A situation bordering on a state of war exists between Bulgaria and Serbia. Europe, notably Russia, is trying to prevent a formal declaration of hostilities between the two Balkan states, but the indications today favored war. Dr. S. Danef, a leading Bulgarian statesman and chief of the Bulgarian press, today violated the covenant which was drawn up before the war, and he will be the right man to direct the play at the critical time. When Whitney led the team in England four years ago, when it brought the cup home, he did great work as captain in the eyes of the Briton, who admitted that for all-around formation the American excelled anything they had ever seen. AGAIN in 1911 Whitney accepted himself with distinction in commanding the play, and once, when it looked like a win for England, his plan carried the day and his men scored when nothing was visibly needed.

Waterbury Not at Best. Another man who is far from being at his best is "Monty" Waterbury. Yet sooner than allow the Englishmen a soft thing he consented to take the line with his old comrade. A dashing horseman and a sure hitter when in fettle "Monty" has been effective at No. 2 in all the big matches of the past.

Devereux Milburn was always distinguished as a back and there is a well-wisher of the Yankee team but who will be glad to see him swinging his stick in the old position.

Even though the "big four" may be defeated with heavy loss of life, MASON, June 10.—Cantaloupes, melons and peaches will be distributed during the delegates' attendance upon the National Banana and Plantain convention at Nashville, Tenn., during the week of June 23 by the Mason delegation, who hope to land the Mason convention. Mason will send 50 delegates to the convention.

EYEWITNESS TO PLAGAN SLAYING SOUGHT

Story That Companion of Conley Saw Him Strike Down Girl Opens New Clues.

Jim Conley, whose sensational story has made him an accessory after the fact in the murder of Mary Phagan, is sticking closely to the details he unfolded in his remarkable affidavit, according to his attorney, William M. Smith.

Mr. Smith said Tuesday morning that Conley has varied in no essential particular from the original tale of his part in the disposal of the body of the strangled girl, under the direction of Leo Frank. To Mr. Smith and others who have interviewed the negro in the last few days he has begun at the time when Mary Phagan was the little form lying limp and inert at the rear of the second floor, until he declares he wrote the mysterious notes at Frank's dictation in the National Pencil Factory office.

All his story there has been practically no conflict or contradiction with the affidavit to which he swore before the detectives after a half day's grilling. Mr. Smith said he believed his client was telling the whole truth.

Despite the unabated story of Conley, as he told it after making previous statements, admittedly, a rumor has been in persistent circulation since last week that the detective who saw Conley in a hallway when she came down the stairs of the factory with her silver meat bag in her hands.

Although it is reported that this negro has been apprehended and is now in custody at Atlanta, the authorities deny any knowledge of such a person. Attorneys for Frank will admit only that they have had a rumor, but they assert that they have no definite knowledge of the arrest of a negro who is alleged to have been an actual witness of the murder.

Through all of the conflicting stories to which the excitement of the hunt for the slayer has given rise, Leo Frank has remained silent, his original story told before the coroner's jury undisturbed and uncontradicted in any detail. While the detectives have torn Conley's first statements to shreds, they have been unable, so far as the public knows, to find a single statement in the story made by Frank at the inquest.

Since then, on the injunction of his counsel, Frank has had no comment to make. Stories have been spread that were most damaging to his general character, but he has remained mute. He has told his friends that he committed the horrible deed, but he has not admitted it.

Frank has made no public announcement of the fact, but it is known that he privately has signified his willingness to confront Conley and listen to the negro's story, and to repeat his own if destroyed. His only stipulation is that the meeting shall not be in the nature of one of the star chamber sessions at police headquarters, at which the detectives only are present. Frank would insist that certain public officers be present, and that there would be no opportunity for the manufacture of evidence colored in any particular way. With these requirements he has said that he would be willing to be questioned as freely as he was at the coroner's inquest.

Nearly everybody in Atlanta reads The Sunday American, YOU are invited to the next issue with special code. Try it!

Melons and Peaches Bait to Get Baracods

Melons and peaches will be distributed during the delegates' attendance upon the National Banana and Plantain convention at Nashville, Tenn., during the week of June 23 by the Mason delegation, who hope to land the Mason convention. Mason will send 50 delegates to the convention.

WAVE OF PROSPERITY ON WAY TO SOUTH, SAY BRADSTREET MEN

ALWAYS FIRST
THE SUNDAY AMERICAN
Order It Now
Both Phones Main 8000

ATLANTA GEORGIAN

Read for Profit--GEORGIAN WANT ADS--Use for Results

EXTRA
Copyright, 1918, by The Georgia Co. 2 CENTS
FAYE WAIN

VOL. XI. NO. 264.

ATLANTA, GA., TUESDAY, JUNE 10, 1918.

CHEF TELLS U. S. POLICE HEADS OF ICE WAR

Beavers, at National Convention, Declares Atlanta's Crusade Has Been Successful.

Declaring that there is not one recognized house of vice in Atlanta and that not one would be tolerated, Chief of Police James L. Beavers, who opened the national convention of the International Association of Chiefs of Police in Washington, D. C., today.

The chief vigorously defended his policy as the only stand that could be taken by decent men, and declared that the movement against aggregation had been an entire success. He asserted that there were no more complaints from residential districts now than before the Tenderloin was abolished.

Here is the chief's address in full: Chief Beavers' Address, Mr. President and Gentlemen of the International Association of Chiefs of Police:

One of the most vital questions that is presenting our cities to-day is the social evil.

Visce commissions and investigating committees are being appointed by all of our large cities, and many reports have been made by them. Some recommend one thing and some another, but very few of them have recommended suppression.

Why is it that so many favor some other remedy? Is it because they are in favor of continuing the old way of aggregation as the best solution, or is it because they are influenced by our neighbors' daughter that they are recommending something else? I dare say that both have something to do with it in most instances.

How can any decent man say he is in favor of public indecency?

Before Children's Eyes.

Why should we maintain such a place before our children's eyes, for we do maintain them in it? If we are to put our boys that such houses are necessary, then we say to our neighbors' daughter that they are necessary, and we say to our neighbors' daughter that they are necessary, and we say to our neighbors' daughter that they are necessary.

Or can we segregate such places near our neighbors, be ever so humble, when we would not have them near our own doors, for you cannot have such places in a city without putting them near some decent home, or where they are exposed to the public gaze. Or can you have an standard for your boys, you set a low standard for your neighbors, you set a low standard for your boys, you set a low standard for your neighbors, you set a low standard for your boys.

Why should we not do unto others as we would have them do unto us? And why do we as avowed officers of the law set the low standard? The man has not yet been born who would dare to propose an ordinance of a city or a statute of a State a law legalizing white slavery and the betrayal of city or state.

Guilt Shared by All.

None of us are wholly free from guilt who permit the open shamelessness against such in every State in the Union, and of the laws are wrong, why do not change them, and if they are right, why do not enforce them? What respect have we for the man who lives on the rents of such places? You may have none, but still you allow him to carry on his nefarious business.

I do not say police officials can do anything with evil entirely, but I do say that it can be reduced to a minimum, and they can stop recognizing it as public officers, and thereby put their stamp of disapproval on it.

It might take a long time for doctors to cure the disease.

Continued on Page 2, Column 3.

Rambo Worst in Wordy Battle With Traffic Policeman

R. K. Rambo, clerk for the John Silver Company and prominent autoist, and Traffic Officer Jack Clark engaged in a spirited word battle before Recorder Broyles Monday morning when the officer arrested Rambo on a charge of disregarding traffic signals at Five Points.

Shaking their fingers in one another's face, each declared the other had "bailed him out."

"I'm not a member of this order of dictograph gang, but I'm sure Chief Beavers would appreciate it if I would report this officer's conduct," exclaimed Rambo.

"You're the man who did the calling down," retorted Clark vigorously.

Judge Broyles ruled that it is important that traffic regulations be strictly obeyed to prevent accidents, remarking that a traffic officer occupies the position of an umpire. He imposed on Rambo a fine of $25.

Vincent's Remedy for Typhoid Is Success

Special Cable to The Atlanta Georgian, PARIS, June 9.—At the great Pasteur Hospital de la Pitié, Dr. Théophile Vincent has just concluded a series of experiments with the anti-typhoid vaccine discovered by Professor Vincent, of Val de Grace.

The success of these experiments convinces Dr. Théophile that Vincent's vaccine affords immunity against the fever and also cure.

All students and nurses under Dr. Théophile have been inoculated and are immune. When the vaccine is injected into typhoid patients they recover in 17 days in most cases.

Here is the chief's address in full: Chief Beavers' Address, Mr. President and Gentlemen of the International Association of Chiefs of Police:

One of the most vital questions that is presenting our cities to-day is the social evil.

Visce commissions and investigating committees are being appointed by all of our large cities, and many reports have been made by them. Some recommend one thing and some another, but very few of them have recommended suppression.

Why is it that so many favor some other remedy? Is it because they are in favor of continuing the old way of aggregation as the best solution, or is it because they are influenced by our neighbors' daughter that they are recommending something else? I dare say that both have something to do with it in most instances.

How can any decent man say he is in favor of public indecency?

Before Children's Eyes.

Why should we maintain such a place before our children's eyes, for we do maintain them in it? If we are to put our boys that such houses are necessary, then we say to our neighbors' daughter that they are necessary, and we say to our neighbors' daughter that they are necessary, and we say to our neighbors' daughter that they are necessary.

Or can we segregate such places near our neighbors, be ever so humble, when we would not have them near our own doors, for you cannot have such places in a city without putting them near some decent home, or where they are exposed to the public gaze. Or can you have an standard for your boys, you set a low standard for your neighbors, you set a low standard for your boys, you set a low standard for your neighbors, you set a low standard for your boys.

Why should we not do unto others as we would have them do unto us? And why do we as avowed officers of the law set the low standard? The man has not yet been born who would dare to propose an ordinance of a city or a statute of a State a law legalizing white slavery and the betrayal of city or state.

Guilt Shared by All.

None of us are wholly free from guilt who permit the open shamelessness against such in every State in the Union, and of the laws are wrong, why do not change them, and if they are right, why do not enforce them? What respect have we for the man who lives on the rents of such places? You may have none, but still you allow him to carry on his nefarious business.

I do not say police officials can do anything with evil entirely, but I do say that it can be reduced to a minimum, and they can stop recognizing it as public officers, and thereby put their stamp of disapproval on it.

It might take a long time for doctors to cure the disease.

Continued on Page 2, Column 3.

COOL BLOCKS 100 FT. GAP TO RIVER

Mrs. Ethel Smith, Grieving Over Son, Huris Self From Trestle, But Is Saved.

Dependent because she had not heard from her 8-year-old son in a reform school at Athens, Mrs. Ethel Smith attempted suicide Monday by leaping into the Chattahoochee River from the highest point of the railroad bridge, but was saved by her husband, who, acting as a parachute, kept her afloat until aid arrived.

For something like ten minutes Mrs. Smith was kept afloat by the bluing raincoat until a rescue was effected by a soda and a life preserver.

When placed safely on the shore, however, the woman begged to be allowed to drown, saying she did not want to live. Further evidence of suicidal intent, in the shape of a blind disk, was found in the woman's pocket. Dependence upon the death of her husband is given as the reason for the attempt at suicide.

She had been going shopping.

"According to a statement of her mother, Mrs. Lida Arnold, who is deeply shocked at the tragedy, Mrs. Smith left home about 8 o'clock Monday morning for the city, where she was going shopping. This was the last heard of her until news of the leap into the river was brought home.

Mrs. Arnold immediately called the Georgian to learn the details of the affair. She said she could describe the reason for the act of her daughter. Others say, however, that the woman was dependent upon the death of her husband last July.

Mrs. Smith has four little children—two boys and two girls—all between the ages of 4 and 9 years. A pitiful scene was enacted when the little family was acquainted with the news.

Rescued Only Eye-Witness.

Mr. Harrison was the only eye-witness. Mrs. Smith's leap into the river, which occurred at the foot of the bridge, where the river flows deep. Harrison says he heard a cry and looking up he saw a woman shooting into the water.

One of the county police who arrived shortly after the rescue was effected took charge of her and carried her in an automobile to her home.

Mrs. Smith is a pretty woman with black hair and eyes, of slender build. She is 24 years old, and lives with her mother at 219 Rosser Street.

PROSPERITY THE WAY TOWARD DIXIE

Bradstreet Men, in Meeting Here, Predict Greatest Fortune Tide in Dixie's History.

Atlanta and the South are being swept toward one of the highest tides of prosperity ever known in Dixie, according to representatives of the Bradstreet Company in the South, who opened their annual convention here Monday morning.

Officers of the company's branches in thirteen Southern cities, covering practically the entire South, were present. From each came glowing prophecies of a spectacular rise from the last depression of finance and general slump of operations.

J. E. C. Pender, division superintendent of Bradstreet's, with offices in the Empire building, where the meeting was held, declared that Atlanta and surrounding districts were in the process of a wonderful advancement.

Mr. Pender dwelt somewhat on the depression of industrial conditions and business "activity" of the last two years, but said the crucial point had been passed and a general rise to normal and above was on its way.

"I do not see any cloud on the financial horizon of Atlanta or, in fact, the South in general, to cause any alarm," declared Superintendent Pender. "The short crisis and low prices for many commodities have affected all lines of business, with the consequence that there have been numerous failures and a general liquidating up of money, causing slow collections and very slow buying."

"In the early spring of the present year conditions did not look favorable for an average crop, but that changes have been wrought in the past three weeks. The States have had good rains, seed has germinated well, and the land on account of the drouth having been well cultivated, has afforded abundant riches for crops."

"The South has gone right ahead by leaps and bounds. There will be more development in all lines, more building, more activities amongst the railroads, etc."

"As for Atlanta, the city has broken all records along all lines of industrial development, and will continue its forward march. It will surpass the highest mark of prosperity it has ever attained."

"The convention will be in session three days. These present include George A. Fells, of the Jacksonville, Fla., office; George M. Williams, Birmingham; J. H. Snowwater, Winston-Salem; John A. Singleton, Greensboro; B. C. George, A. Bailey, Mobile; J. H. Berns, Augusta; A. J. Eppelson, Birmingham; J. H. Tilton, Tampa; John L. Wray, Chattanooga; and Lee A. Roper, Albany.

"Southern Cities Growing."

Following are excerpts from the reports which they have brought from their districts:

JACKSONVILLE: "In its municipal operations and finance Jacksonville displays a progressiveness. The total bank clearings for the year 1917 were $18,248,841, a fall of $12,000,000 from 1916. Industrially Jacksonville has made rapid and important advancement during the past decade."

MEMPHIS: "The city has undertaken the construction of city docks at a cost of $1,000,000."

Continued on Page 5, Column 3.

Buffalo Bill Wouldn't Dictate Any Man's Drink Isn't Strong for Either Grape Juice or T. R. Punch

Colonel William F. Cody (Buffalo Bill) and Leonard Abbey Jr., 16 West Alexander Street, snapped at the Piedmont before the Wild West parade.

UNKISSED BRIDE SUES GAMBLER FOR GIFTS

Former Atlanta Girl, Now Selling Automobiles in West, Again in Limerick.

Mrs. Edith Russell Gambler, the "unkissed bride," has returned to the spotlight through the institution of a lawsuit, according to New York newspaper agents, after her husband, Edward Victor Gambler, the New York banker, from whom she obtained a separation two years ago.

Her marriage as an Atlanta girl to the well-known New Yorker was a brilliant social event, and the subsequent separation provided a sensation in the society circles of the two cities. It was during the highly interesting hearing of her suit that the evidence won her the sobriquet of the "unkissed bride," by which title she was known to all her acquaintances.

This time she wants the wedding presents she says her husband has retained since the separation. They include a diamond ring, a watch, a pair of silverware, cut glass and jewelry, and are of considerable value, she declares.

Mrs. Gambler has visited relatives several times in Atlanta since leaving her husband, but she is reported to be in the West now, where she has made a decided success in selling automobiles.

Col. William F. Cody, Here With Wild West Show, in Best of Health.

"Let the people drink what they want—grape juice if they are willing to stop at that—but don't say to them drink this or drink that, for nine times out of ten they'll do just the opposite."

Colonel W. F. Cody, better known as Buffalo Bill, in Atlanta Monday afternoon, declared he was in the best of health, and that he would not dictate to any man what to drink.

Mr. Bryan on the grassy slope with T. R. on the milk punch.

"I have always adopted the policy of letting people—especially the people who are associated with me—do what they want to do and drink what they like," continued Colonel Cody. "I want to say, too, that I have found this policy to be the best. For if you say to a fellow, do this or drink that, it's a pretty sure bet that he isn't going to do it."

COURT DENIES MARRIAGE MAN OF ZORIGHT TO REWED

John O. Brewer Asks Removal of Disabilities When Wife Gets Divorce for Desertion.

John O. Brewer, 70 years old, asked the Superior Court Monday morning to remove his disabilities so that he could marry again, when it granted his wife, Mrs. Mary J. Brewer, a divorce for desertion.

It was the third case called on the undefended calendar of more than 100 divorce cases that will be disposed of the first three days of this week.

Judge W. D. Ellis told the jury that at the age of 70 the removal of disabilities was of no consequence and the jury found a verdict for the defendant, declining to give his sanction to any third contemplated matrimonial venture on the part of the man.

Mrs. Brewer said she married the defendant in 1910 when she was 69 and he was 83. She said she could not enable him to carry on the business until after the marriage, when she had to buy him a horse and wagon and make him to carry on the business. She said she asked her to mortgage her home and give him funds, and when she declined he deserted her. Both were married before, she said.

Mrs. Annie H. Hanes obtained a divorce from J. B. Hanes on the grounds of desertion. She said she had not heard from him in three years until April, 1913, when she saw a reward of $50 offered for his capture for deserting from the army.

Other divorces granted were Mrs. Ruth L. Fuller vs. H. L. Fuller and Mrs. Annie D. Wilson vs. Eugene Wilson.

EXPERT MARKSMAN DIES

HAMMOND, N. Y., June 8.—The death of a world-famous expert marksmen, who was shot while hunting, was announced today.

He was shot while hunting in the woods near his home here this morning.

FOREIGNER TELLS WHY HE HOLDS CONLEY GUILTY

R. P. Barnett, in Letter to Georgian, Gives Reasons for Suspecting Negro of Crime.

R. P. Barnett, foreman of the metal department at the National Penitentiary, in a letter to The Georgian Monday, gives his reasons for believing that Jim Conley, negro seaman at the plant, attacked and strangled Mary Phagan.

It was Barnett who found the strands of hair on the labing machine in his department. This is supposed to be where the girl was thrown against the machine in her struggle.

Later Barnett testified positively that the blood stain in the second floor was not there before the crime. He is certain that the girl was attacked on the second floor and just as certain that Conley, not Frank, was the slayer.

The letter reads:

Editor The Georgian:

I would like to make a statement in regard to the Mary Phagan murder.

If Jim Conley found Mary's body in the plating department near the ladies' toilet, why wasn't he caught carrying the body there? He said that he carried the dead girl to where the blood was found, but it looks to me as though he must have let her fall with some force to cause all that blood. Why did he not have some work when he says she was found.

If Jim Conley wrote that note reading "this girl fell back on her head," why didn't he stand at the head of the stairs and let Jim hold her, "Come on and help me she is too heavy." Nor do I think that Mr. Frank would carry the dead girl to the elevator where there were people working on the top floor who might come down at any minute and see him carrying the body. It seems to me that if Mr. Frank committed the murder of Mary Phagan, he would have let her body in the metal department. No, Jim carried her to the basement, where the night watchman found the body, and I will tell you how I found it.

Why Did He Go to Basement?

He went from the second floor to the basement. He crawled through the scuttle hole, about 2 1/2 feet square, and went down to the basement. He was then there for about 1 1/2 hours. He was then there for about 1 1/2 hours. He was then there for about 1 1/2 hours.

Why did Jim Conley come down to the metal department the day that he was arrested? He came down to wash his shirt. Why didn't he do that on some other floor? He knows that he came to our department to watch and see if they had found Mary's hat and shoes. He probably knew that they had.

Jail Forger Suspect After 4-Year Hunt

A four-year chase by detectives was ended Sunday by the capture of M. Cox, charged with forging, at 408 Whitehall Street, where he had returned with his wife and child.

His wife sought to prevent the officers, entering, declaring her husband was not there. Cox was behind a door. He made no resistance. Cox was arrested on an indictment made 1913 charging him with uttering a forgery for $50 on the Coker Banking Company in Central Avenue.

How can any decent man say he is in favor of public indecency?

Before Children's Eyes.

Why should we maintain such a place before our children's eyes, for we do maintain them in it? If we are to put our boys that such houses are necessary, then we say to our neighbors' daughter that they are necessary, and we say to our neighbors' daughter that they are necessary, and we say to our neighbors' daughter that they are necessary.

Or can we segregate such places near our neighbors, be ever so humble, when we would not have them near our own doors, for you cannot have such places in a city without putting them near some decent home, or where they are exposed to the public gaze. Or can you have an standard for your boys, you set a low standard for your neighbors, you set a low standard for your boys, you set a low standard for your neighbors, you set a low standard for your boys.

Why should we not do unto others as we would have them do unto us? And why do we as avowed officers of the law set the low standard? The man has not yet been born who would dare to propose an ordinance of a city or a statute of a State a law legalizing white slavery and the betrayal of city or state.

Guilt Shared by All.

None of us are wholly free from guilt who permit the open shamelessness against such in every State in the Union, and of the laws are wrong, why do not change them, and if they are right, why do not enforce them? What respect have we for the man who lives on the rents of such places? You may have none, but still you allow him to carry on his nefarious business.

I do not say police officials can do anything with evil entirely, but I do say that it can be reduced to a minimum, and they can stop recognizing it as public officers, and thereby put their stamp of disapproval on it.

It might take a long time for doctors to cure the disease.

Continued on Page 2, Column 3.

Say Pope Pius May Proclaim New Dogma

Special Cable to The Atlanta Georgian, MILAN, June 9.—The Vatican in a message to the Atlanta Georgian says that there is a probability that Pius XI will proclaim shortly the traditional assumption of the Virgin Mary into heaven as a dogma of the church.

The last dogma proclaimed was by Pius IX, that of the immaculate conception in 1854, and the infallibility of the Pope in 1870. No dogmas were proclaimed by Leo XIII.

Father Slain After Threatening Suicid

RICHLAND, Ga., June 9.—Reverent attention that a youth named Alton paid his pretty young daughter, Sam Bruce, of Red Hill, stopped Alton and Bill Tim Holoman and threatened to kill both, but was shot down by Holoman before he had a chance to draw his pistol. The shooting occurred while Alton and Holoman were driving to Richland. Bruce died instantly, and Alton and Holoman immediately reported the affair to the Sheriff, neither has been arrested. Bruce is said to have suffered from mental aberration.

What Death Has Brought to the Two Mrs. Astors

To Mrs. Astor No. 1, everything that was brought by divorce— even social leadership, and not a single reminder of her late husband.

To Mrs. Astor No. 2, social ostracism in a lonely Fifth Avenue palace, harassed by fears for the safety of her tragic babe.

Read about it in next Sunday's American. Order from your dealer to-day or call up Main 8000.

Miss Eleanor Wilson Student of Society

WASHINGTON, June 9.—Miss Eleanor Wilson is keeping a diary of her daily life as daughter of a President of the United States.

Since March 4 much curiosity has been expressed as to what Miss Wilson will make of the numerous social events at the White House, even at dances and other events. She carries a very tiny gold leaf pencil and a small piece of paper folded in the palm of her glove. That society man and women who are discussed in a forthcoming book is generally believed.

Evelyn Thaw Wins London as 'Unknown'

LONDON, June 8.—Unheralded and unannounced, she has even lacking from the program, Evelyn Thaw quietly slipped into London and made her debut on the English stage Saturday night in the cast of the musical revue "Come Over Here."

She danced the tango and turkey trot with Jack Clifford, and although not a dozen persons in the audience were aware of her identity, she was warmly received.

Unkissed Bride Sues Gambler for Gifts

Mrs. Edith Russell Gambler, the "unkissed bride," has returned to the spotlight through the institution of a lawsuit, according to New York newspaper agents, after her husband, Edward Victor Gambler, the New York banker, from whom she obtained a separation two years ago.

Her marriage as an Atlanta girl to the well-known New Yorker was a brilliant social event, and the subsequent separation provided a sensation in the society circles of the two cities. It was during the highly interesting hearing of her suit that the evidence won her the sobriquet of the "unkissed bride," by which title she was known to all her acquaintances.

This time she wants the wedding presents she says her husband has retained since the separation. They include a diamond ring, a watch, a pair of silverware, cut glass and jewelry, and are of considerable value, she declares.

Mrs. Gambler has visited relatives several times in Atlanta since leaving her husband, but she is reported to be in the West now, where she has made a decided success in selling automobiles.

Unkissed Bride Sues Gambler for Gifts

Mrs. Edith Russell Gambler, the "unkissed bride," has returned to the spotlight through the institution of a lawsuit, according to New York newspaper agents, after her husband, Edward Victor Gambler, the New York banker, from whom she obtained a separation two years ago.

Her marriage as an Atlanta girl to the well-known New Yorker was a brilliant social event, and the subsequent separation provided a sensation in the society circles of the two cities. It was during the highly interesting hearing of her suit that the evidence won her the sobriquet of the "unkissed bride," by which title she was known to all her acquaintances.

This time she wants the wedding presents she says her husband has retained since the separation. They include a diamond ring, a watch, a pair of silverware, cut glass and jewelry, and are of considerable value, she declares.

Mrs. Gambler has visited relatives several times in Atlanta since leaving her husband, but she is reported to be in the West now, where she has made a decided success in selling automobiles.

Unkissed Bride Sues Gambler for Gifts

Mrs. Edith Russell Gambler, the "unkissed bride," has returned to the spotlight through the institution of a lawsuit, according to New York newspaper agents, after her husband, Edward Victor Gambler, the New York banker, from whom she obtained a separation two years ago.

Her marriage as an Atlanta girl to the well-known New Yorker was a brilliant social event, and the subsequent separation provided a sensation in the society circles of the two cities. It was during the highly interesting hearing of her suit that the evidence won her the sobriquet of the "unkissed bride," by which title she was known to all her acquaintances.

This time she wants the wedding presents she says her husband has retained since the separation. They include a diamond ring, a watch, a pair of silverware, cut glass and jewelry, and are of considerable value, she declares.

Mrs. Gambler has visited relatives several times in Atlanta since leaving her husband, but she is reported to be in the West now, where she has made a decided success in selling automobiles.

FRANK CHEERFUL AS HIS FRIENDS VISIT HIM

Prisoner Declares He Has Told His Story Completely, and Foresees Acquittal.

Continued From Page 1.

found her money, for money is not a good thing to lay hands on.

Frank M. Frank maintained his cheerful and optimistic attitude during the visits of mourning friends and relatives Sunday and Monday.

Among them was Mrs. Frank, with whom he dined in the afternoon. He had little to say to any of his visitors directly in regard to the charges which have been made against him.

Frank's appearance bears out his statement that he is not worrying about the outcome. He is a man of silence. He has done no talking since he was lodged in a cell at the Sababu jail—that is, he has had nothing to say in regard to the crime.

"I have told my story completely in detail," he said. "I will tell the same story, no matter how often I have to repeat it. It is the absolute truth, and it is impossible, therefore, to trap me on any of its details."

New Law Takes His Confession Philosophically, even though no charge is held against him. He is willing to appear in court as a material witness.

Prominent Lawyer Calls Third Degree Barbarous.

"The State has no more right to kidnap a witness and put him to the third degree than has the defense," said one of the most prominent lawyers in Atlanta, discussing the law in a court as a material witness.

"No one but the presiding judge or a court of justice has the right or legal power to detain a witness."

"No one but the presiding judge or a court of justice has the right or legal power to detain a witness," said one of the most prominent lawyers in Atlanta, discussing the law in a court as a material witness.

"No one but the presiding judge or a court of justice has the right or legal power to detain a witness," said one of the most prominent lawyers in Atlanta, discussing the law in a court as a material witness.

"No one but the presiding judge or a court of justice has the right or legal power to detain a witness," said one of the most prominent lawyers in Atlanta, discussing the law in a court as a material witness.

"No one but the presiding judge or a court of justice has the right or legal power to detain a witness," said one of the most prominent lawyers in Atlanta, discussing the law in a court as a material witness.

"No one but the presiding judge or a court of justice has the right or legal power to detain a witness," said one of the most prominent lawyers in Atlanta, discussing the law in a court as a material witness.

"No one but the presiding judge or a court of justice has the right or legal power to detain a witness," said one of the most prominent lawyers in Atlanta, discussing the law in a court as a material witness.

"No one but the presiding judge or a court of justice has the right or legal power to detain a witness," said one of the most prominent lawyers in Atlanta, discussing the law in a court as a material witness.

"No one but the presiding judge or a court of justice has the right or legal power to detain a witness," said one of the most prominent lawyers in Atlanta, discussing the law in a court as a material witness.

"No one but the presiding judge or a court of justice has the right or legal power to detain a witness," said one of the most prominent lawyers in Atlanta, discussing the law in a court as a material witness.

"No one but the presiding judge or a court of justice has the right or legal power to detain a witness," said one of the most prominent lawyers in Atlanta, discussing the law in a court as a material witness.

"No one but the presiding judge or a court of justice has the right or legal power to detain a witness," said one of the most prominent lawyers in Atlanta, discussing the law in a court as a material witness.

"No one but the presiding judge or a court of justice has the right or legal power to detain a witness," said one of the most prominent lawyers in Atlanta, discussing the law in a court as a material witness.

The Georgian-American Pony Contest VOTE COUPON

Hears's Sunday American and Atlanta Georgian PONY CONTEST VOTE COUPON, MONDAY, JUNE 9, 1913 5 VOTES

Vote for _____ Address _____

Heart's Sunday American and Atlanta Georgian Pony Contest Vote Coupon, Monday, June 9, 1913. 5 VOTES

Vote for _____ Address _____

SCHOOL BOYS' AND GIRLS' BALLOT.

FIVE COLD DAYS BEAVERS TELLS PROMISED FOR OFFICE WAR AT ATLANTA

Declarer at Convention of Police Heads of U. S. That Atlanta Winter Weather. Now Is Clean.

Get out your overcoat, for cold weather's only starting. Odds of chills are promised by Weather Bureau.

Chill out your overcoat, for cold weather's only starting. Odds of chills are promised by Weather Bureau.

Chill out your overcoat, for cold weather's only starting. Odds of chills are promised by Weather Bureau.

Chill out your overcoat, for cold weather's only starting. Odds of chills are promised by Weather Bureau.

Chill out your overcoat, for cold weather's only starting. Odds of chills are promised by Weather Bureau.

Chill out your overcoat, for cold weather's only starting. Odds of chills are promised by Weather Bureau.

Chill out your overcoat, for cold weather's only starting. Odds of chills are promised by Weather Bureau.

Chill out your overcoat, for cold weather's only starting. Odds of chills are promised by Weather Bureau.

Chill out your overcoat, for cold weather's only starting. Odds of chills are promised by Weather Bureau.

Chill out your overcoat, for cold weather's only starting. Odds of chills are promised by Weather Bureau.

Chill out your overcoat, for cold weather's only starting. Odds of chills are promised by Weather Bureau.

Chill out your overcoat, for cold weather's only starting. Odds of chills are promised by Weather Bureau.

Chill out your overcoat, for cold weather's only starting. Odds of chills are promised by Weather Bureau.

Chill out your overcoat, for cold weather's only starting. Odds of chills are promised by Weather Bureau.

Chill out your overcoat, for cold weather's only starting. Odds of chills are promised by Weather Bureau.

Chill out your overcoat, for cold weather's only starting. Odds of chills are promised by Weather Bureau.

Chill out your overcoat, for cold weather's only starting. Odds of chills are promised by Weather Bureau.

Chill out your overcoat, for cold weather's only starting. Odds of chills are promised by Weather Bureau.

Chill out your overcoat, for cold weather's only starting. Odds of chills are promised by Weather Bureau.

Elks Plan Tribute to 'Old Glory' Secure Noted Flag Day Orators

Society Belle to Feature Program

MISS REGINA RAMBO, Atlanta society girl, who will give history of "Old Glory" at Flag Day ceremonies in Elks Club house on June 14, when other noted orators, including Rabbi Marx, also will take part.

Expected Witnesses Will Be Summoned Tuesday if Criminal Business Is Completed.

The Grand jury will more than likely decide to continue the vice inquiry when it meets Thursday, according to a statement from Foreman L. H. Beck Monday morning.

The Grand jury will more than likely decide to continue the vice inquiry when it meets Thursday, according to a statement from Foreman L. H. Beck Monday morning.

The Grand jury will more than likely decide to continue the vice inquiry when it meets Thursday, according to a statement from Foreman L. H. Beck Monday morning.

The Grand jury will more than likely decide to continue the vice inquiry when it meets Thursday, according to a statement from Foreman L. H. Beck Monday morning.

The Grand jury will more than likely decide to continue the vice inquiry when it meets Thursday, according to a statement from Foreman L. H. Beck Monday morning.

The Grand jury will more than likely decide to continue the vice inquiry when it meets Thursday, according to a statement from Foreman L. H. Beck Monday morning.

The Grand jury will more than likely decide to continue the vice inquiry when it meets Thursday, according to a statement from Foreman L. H. Beck Monday morning.

The Grand jury will more than likely decide to continue the vice inquiry when it meets Thursday, according to a statement from Foreman L. H. Beck Monday morning.

The Grand jury will more than likely decide to continue the vice inquiry when it meets Thursday, according to a statement from Foreman L. H. Beck Monday morning.

The Grand jury will more than likely decide to continue the vice inquiry when it meets Thursday, according to a statement from Foreman L. H. Beck Monday morning.

The Grand jury will more than likely decide to continue the vice inquiry when it meets Thursday, according to a statement from Foreman L. H. Beck Monday morning.

The Grand jury will more than likely decide to continue the vice inquiry when it meets Thursday, according to a statement from Foreman L. H. Beck Monday morning.

The Grand jury will more than likely decide to continue the vice inquiry when it meets Thursday, according to a statement from Foreman L. H. Beck Monday morning.

The Grand jury will more than likely decide to continue the vice inquiry when it meets Thursday, according to a statement from Foreman L. H. Beck Monday morning.

The Grand jury will more than likely decide to continue the vice inquiry when it meets Thursday, according to a statement from Foreman L. H. Beck Monday morning.

The Grand jury will more than likely decide to continue the vice inquiry when it meets Thursday, according to a statement from Foreman L. H. Beck Monday morning.

The Grand jury will more than likely decide to continue the vice inquiry when it meets Thursday, according to a statement from Foreman L. H. Beck Monday morning.

The Grand jury will more than likely decide to continue the vice inquiry when it meets Thursday, according to a statement from Foreman L. H. Beck Monday morning.

The Grand jury will more than likely decide to continue the vice inquiry when it meets Thursday, according to a statement from Foreman L. H. Beck Monday morning.

The Grand jury will more than likely decide to continue the vice inquiry when it meets Thursday, according to a statement from Foreman L. H. Beck Monday morning.

The Grand jury will more than likely decide to continue the vice inquiry when it meets Thursday, according to a statement from Foreman L. H. Beck Monday morning.

The Grand jury will more than likely decide to continue the vice inquiry when it meets Thursday, according to a statement from Foreman L. H. Beck Monday morning.

The Grand jury will more than likely decide to continue the vice inquiry when it meets Thursday, according to a statement from Foreman L. H. Beck Monday morning.

The Grand jury will more than likely decide to continue the vice inquiry when it meets Thursday, according to a statement from Foreman L. H. Beck Monday morning.

JURY PROBABLY WILL RESUME VICE PROBE

Expected Witnesses Will Be Summoned Tuesday if Criminal Business Is Completed.

The Grand jury will more than likely decide to continue the vice inquiry when it meets Thursday, according to a statement from Foreman L. H. Beck Monday morning.

The Grand jury will more than likely decide to continue the vice inquiry when it meets Thursday, according to a statement from Foreman L. H. Beck Monday morning.

The Grand jury will more than likely decide to continue the vice inquiry when it meets Thursday, according to a statement from Foreman L. H. Beck Monday morning.

The Grand jury will more than likely decide to continue the vice inquiry when it meets Thursday, according to a statement from Foreman L. H. Beck Monday morning.

The Grand jury will more than likely decide to continue the vice inquiry when it meets Thursday, according to a statement from Foreman L. H. Beck Monday morning.

The Grand jury will more than likely decide to continue the vice inquiry when it meets Thursday, according to a statement from Foreman L. H. Beck Monday morning.

The Grand jury will more than likely decide to continue the vice inquiry when it meets Thursday, according to a statement from Foreman L. H. Beck Monday morning.

The Grand jury will more than likely decide to continue the vice inquiry when it meets Thursday, according to a statement from Foreman L. H. Beck Monday morning.

The Grand jury will more than likely decide to continue the vice inquiry when it meets Thursday, according to a statement from Foreman L. H. Beck Monday morning.

The Grand jury will more than likely decide to continue the vice inquiry when it meets Thursday, according to a statement from Foreman L. H. Beck Monday morning.

The Grand jury will more than likely decide to continue the vice inquiry when it meets Thursday, according to a statement from Foreman L. H. Beck Monday morning.

The Grand jury will more than likely decide to continue the vice inquiry when it meets Thursday, according to a statement from Foreman L. H. Beck Monday morning.

The Grand jury will more than likely decide to continue the vice inquiry when it meets Thursday, according to a statement from Foreman L. H. Beck Monday morning.

The Grand jury will more than likely decide to continue the vice inquiry when it meets Thursday, according to a statement from Foreman L. H. Beck Monday morning.

The Grand jury will more than likely decide to continue the vice inquiry when it meets Thursday, according to a statement from Foreman L. H. Beck Monday morning.

The Grand jury will more than likely decide to continue the vice inquiry when it meets Thursday, according to a statement from Foreman L. H. Beck Monday morning.

The Grand jury will more than likely decide to continue the vice inquiry when it meets Thursday, according to a statement from Foreman L. H. Beck Monday morning.

The Grand jury will more than likely decide to continue the vice inquiry when it meets Thursday, according to a statement from Foreman L. H. Beck Monday morning.

The Grand jury will more than likely decide to continue the vice inquiry when it meets Thursday, according to a statement from Foreman L. H. Beck Monday morning.

The Grand jury will more than likely decide to continue the vice inquiry when it meets Thursday, according to a statement from Foreman L. H. Beck Monday morning.

The Grand jury will more than likely decide to continue the vice inquiry when it meets Thursday, according to a statement from Foreman L. H. Beck Monday morning.

The Grand jury will more than likely decide to continue the vice inquiry when it meets Thursday, according to a statement from Foreman L. H. Beck Monday morning.

The Grand jury will more than likely decide to continue the vice inquiry when it meets Thursday, according to a statement from Foreman L. H. Beck Monday morning.

The Grand jury will more than likely decide to continue the vice inquiry when it meets Thursday, according to a statement from Foreman L. H. Beck Monday morning.

The Grand jury will more than likely decide to continue the vice inquiry when it meets Thursday, according to a statement from Foreman L. H. Beck Monday morning.

The Grand jury will more than likely decide to continue the vice inquiry when it meets Thursday, according to a statement from Foreman L. H. Beck Monday morning.

Blind Student Made Law Class Secretary

Water Bain McDonald, of Augusta, the noted blind student in the University of Georgia, has been elected secretary-treasurer of the law class for next year.

Water Bain McDonald, of Augusta, the noted blind student in the University of Georgia, has been elected secretary-treasurer of the law class for next year.

Water Bain McDonald, of Augusta, the noted blind student in the University of Georgia, has been elected secretary-treasurer of the law class for next year.

Water Bain McDonald, of Augusta, the noted blind student in the University of Georgia, has been elected secretary-treasurer of the law class for next year.

Water Bain McDonald, of Augusta, the noted blind student in the University of Georgia, has been elected secretary-treasurer of the law class for next year.

Water Bain McDonald, of Augusta, the noted blind student in the University of Georgia, has been elected secretary-treasurer of the law class for next year.

Water Bain McDonald, of Augusta, the noted blind student in the University of Georgia, has been elected secretary-treasurer of the law class for next year.

Water Bain McDonald, of Augusta, the noted blind student in the University of Georgia, has been elected secretary-treasurer of the law class for next year.

Water Bain McDonald, of Augusta, the noted blind student in the University of Georgia, has been elected secretary-treasurer of the law class for next year.

Water Bain McDonald, of Augusta, the noted blind student in the University of Georgia, has been elected secretary-treasurer of the law class for next year.

Water Bain McDonald, of Augusta, the noted blind student in the University of Georgia, has been elected secretary-treasurer of the law class for next year.

Water Bain McDonald, of Augusta, the noted blind student in the University of Georgia, has been elected secretary-treasurer of the law class for next year.

Water Bain McDonald, of Augusta, the noted blind student in the University of Georgia, has been elected secretary-treasurer of the law class for next year.

Water Bain McDonald, of Augusta, the noted blind student in the University of Georgia, has been elected secretary-treasurer of the law class for next year.

Water Bain McDonald, of Augusta, the noted blind student in the University of Georgia, has been elected secretary-treasurer of the law class for next year.

Water Bain McDonald, of Augusta, the noted blind student in the University of Georgia, has been elected secretary-treasurer of the law class for next year.

Water Bain McDonald, of Augusta, the noted blind student in the University of Georgia, has been elected secretary-treasurer of the law class for next year.

Water Bain McDonald, of Augusta, the noted blind student in the University of Georgia, has been elected secretary-treasurer of the law class for next year.

Water Bain McDonald, of Augusta, the noted blind student in the University of Georgia, has been elected secretary-treasurer of the law class for next year.

Water Bain McDonald, of Augusta, the noted blind student in the University of Georgia, has been elected secretary-treasurer of the law class for next year.

Water Bain McDonald, of Augusta, the noted blind student in the University of Georgia, has been elected secretary-treasurer of the law class for next year.

Water Bain McDonald, of Augusta, the noted blind student in the University of Georgia, has been elected secretary-treasurer of the law class for next year.

Water Bain McDonald, of Augusta, the noted blind student in the University of Georgia, has been elected secretary-treasurer of the law class for next year.

Water Bain McDonald, of Augusta, the noted blind student in the University of Georgia, has been elected secretary-treasurer of the law class for next year.

Water Bain McDonald, of Augusta, the noted blind student in the University of Georgia, has been elected secretary-treasurer of the law class for next year.

Water Bain McDonald, of Augusta, the noted blind student in the University of Georgia, has been elected secretary-treasurer of the law class for next year.

Water Bain McDonald, of Augusta, the noted blind student in the University of Georgia, has been elected secretary-treasurer of the law class for next year.

GOL. CODY PAYS FRIENDS HERE A CALL

Continued From Page 1.

charge down at the show grounds where things were about as busy as they ever get to be. Here the Par

charge down at the show grounds where things were about as busy as they ever get to be. Here the Par

charge down at the show grounds where things were about as busy as they ever get to be. Here the Par

charge down at the show grounds where things were about as busy as they ever get to be. Here the Par

charge down at the show grounds where things were about as busy as they ever get to be. Here the Par

charge down at the show grounds where things were about as busy as they ever get to be. Here the Par

charge down at the show grounds where things were about as busy as they ever get to be. Here the Par

charge down at the show grounds where things were about as busy as they ever get to be. Here the Par

charge down at the show grounds where things were about as busy as they ever get to be. Here the Par

charge down at the show grounds where things were about as busy as they ever get to be. Here the Par

charge down at the show grounds where things were about as busy as they ever get to be. Here the Par

charge down at the show grounds where things were about as busy as they ever get to be. Here the Par

charge down at the show grounds where things were about as busy as they ever get to be. Here the Par

charge down at the show grounds where things were about as busy as they ever get to be. Here the Par

charge down at the show grounds where things were about as busy as they ever get to be. Here the Par

charge down at the show grounds where things were about as busy as they ever get to be. Here the Par

charge down at the show grounds where things were about as busy as they ever get to be. Here the Par

charge down at the show grounds where things were about as busy as they ever get to be. Here the Par

charge down at the show grounds where things were about as busy as they ever get to be. Here the Par

charge down at the show grounds where things were about as busy as they ever get to be. Here the Par

charge down at the show grounds where things were about as busy as they ever get to be. Here the Par

charge down at the show grounds where things were about as busy as they ever get to be. Here the Par

charge down at the show grounds where things were about as busy as they ever get to be. Here the Par

charge down at the show grounds where things were about as busy as they ever get to be. Here the Par

charge down at the show grounds where things were about as busy as they ever get to be. Here the Par

charge down at the show grounds where things were about as busy as they ever get to be. Here the Par

Alabama Planning Great Highways

MOBILE, June 9.—To map out a system of trunk highways, one of which will extend from Nashville to Mobile, passing through Gadsden, Birmingham, Montgomery and Selma to Mobile, and three other trunk roads to extend across northern, central and southern sections of Alabama, a party of State highway officials, composed of State Highway Engineer, W. S. Keller and Captain John Craft, of the State Highway Commission, left here today in an automobile to go over the proposed routes.

The last route provided for the survey of the proposed State road.

Athletes Bear Bier Of Trainer Murphy

PHILADELPHIA, June 9.—The last rites over the body of Michael C. Murphy, trainer of athletes and maker of the last year's title in boxing, were held here today in a church. The body will be taken to Hopkinton, Mass., for interment.

Six athletes of the University of Pennsylvania, where Murphy spent the last year of his life as coach and trainer, carried the bier to and from the church.

We Have Beautiful Bedding Plants, 3c Each

Atlanta Floral Co., 555 E. Fair Street.

Atlanta Floral Co., 555 E. Fair Street.

The Hills Are Always Healthy

The mountain people are proverbially strong and sturdy. The dry high altitudes are a balm to the system. If you're spent and worn, if your mind is sluggish, if your ideas come slowly, if you're jaded, tired and draggy—it's time to cut the traces of your tasks and strike out for Colorado.

Don't get the best trip to your expense account—enter it as an investment. You'll do much more for the rest of the year—you'll work so much better—so much faster, you'll think so much more clearly, you'll be so much more efficient and alert that you'll profit both physically and financially. The through sleeping car to Colorado offers the best service to the Rockies. Electric lighted, fan cooled sleeper through to Colorado Springs, Denver and Pueblo, via Memphis and Kansas City. Dining car service all the way.

Rock Island Lines

The Colorado Flyer from St. Louis and the Rocky Mountain Limited from Chicago, one night on the road trains—offer splendid service for those desiring to go by St. Louis or Chicago.

If you can afford to go anywhere, you can afford a Colorado vacation Board and room $7 per week up.

Hundreds of good hotels and boarding houses offer good board for a low cost $7 per week, and rooms at $1 per week.

Low Fares Daily, June 1 to September 30

Write or call for handsome Colorado books and let this office help you plan your trip.

H. H. HUNT, District Passenger Agent 18 North Pryor Street, Atlanta, Ga. Telephone, MA. 811

Stock Company For The Dutch Mill

Manager Glenn, of the Dutch Mill, has established a traveling (tabled morning) comedy and institute of stock company for composed of eight beautiful girls who are interested in singing, dancing and dancing, and there is nothing else to be done at the Dutch Mill.

The entertainment is clean, fresh and healthy, and a touch of the blue or are very interesting and recreation, go to the Dutch Mill.

White City Park Now Open

White City Park Now Open

White City Park Now Open

White City Park Now Open

White City Park Now Open

White City Park Now Open

White City Park Now Open

White City Park Now Open

White City Park Now Open

White City Park Now Open

White City Park Now Open

White City Park Now Open

White City Park Now Open

White City Park Now Open

White City Park Now Open

White City Park Now Open

White City Park Now Open

White City Park Now Open

White City Park Now Open

White City Park Now Open

White City

PHAGAN CASE IS ANALYZED BY APPEAL

Letter by Lawyer Gives Legal Facts as They Concern Leo M. Frank and Conley.

Continued From Page 1.

believe Frank guilty. And there is little doubt that if the two men had been imprisoned in an unpopulated town they would have been lynched with enthusiasm and excitement.

Prizes Newspaper.

This mental state of the community did not last, however. The remarkable evidence of the local press in taking and publishing every detail of the evidence of the detectives and the reading public to weigh the testimony by process. It is safe to say that there have been many more persons who have been from the first hesitated to accept the theory of the guilt of Frank.

upon the poor girl as a spider would upon the web of her life. She was the sole basis of the opportunity to commit the crime, and with all the precautions going to prevent her from killing the young girl, especially on the part of the police, she was the seal of the secret service men in leading to cover criminals who effect getaways. It is to be commended that the work of building a successful prosecution upon a mere case of suspicion was not made a precedent.

The testimony of Frank before the jury, in which he gave, with conspicuous consistency and openness, an account of his actions and whereabouts on the day of the crime, created a favorable impression on the public mind.

Strengthened by Witnesses.

It was strengthened by the corroboration of his statements as to the time and place of the crime by the testimony of Frank before the grand jury. It seems to me, however, that the psychological impression of the jury for the negro Conley to admit that he had been in the room with the poor girl's body, and the comparison of his handwriting with that of the man who had been named in the indictment, had become enmeshed in the mind of the jury.

Two things, it seems to me, would be sufficient to clear Frank in the eyes of the jury. The first is the work done by him on his books at the pencil factory on the morning of the killing and subsequent to the time which is testified by common consent to the occurrence of the deed.

That a man could go to the delicate task of preparing a set of books, account books, the record and figures of a factory, and then, in the same day, could have committed a crime of such a nature, involving numerous financial details, and requiring four or more hours of steady work, and that he could do it, is a fact which is not to be overlooked.

What is called the "humanity of the law" is a fact which is not to be overlooked. It is a fact which is not to be overlooked. It is a fact which is not to be overlooked.

That a man could go to the delicate task of preparing a set of books, account books, the record and figures of a factory, and then, in the same day, could have committed a crime of such a nature, involving numerous financial details, and requiring four or more hours of steady work, and that he could do it, is a fact which is not to be overlooked.

That a man could go to the delicate task of preparing a set of books, account books, the record and figures of a factory, and then, in the same day, could have committed a crime of such a nature, involving numerous financial details, and requiring four or more hours of steady work, and that he could do it, is a fact which is not to be overlooked.

That a man could go to the delicate task of preparing a set of books, account books, the record and figures of a factory, and then, in the same day, could have committed a crime of such a nature, involving numerous financial details, and requiring four or more hours of steady work, and that he could do it, is a fact which is not to be overlooked.

That a man could go to the delicate task of preparing a set of books, account books, the record and figures of a factory, and then, in the same day, could have committed a crime of such a nature, involving numerous financial details, and requiring four or more hours of steady work, and that he could do it, is a fact which is not to be overlooked.

That a man could go to the delicate task of preparing a set of books, account books, the record and figures of a factory, and then, in the same day, could have committed a crime of such a nature, involving numerous financial details, and requiring four or more hours of steady work, and that he could do it, is a fact which is not to be overlooked.

That a man could go to the delicate task of preparing a set of books, account books, the record and figures of a factory, and then, in the same day, could have committed a crime of such a nature, involving numerous financial details, and requiring four or more hours of steady work, and that he could do it, is a fact which is not to be overlooked.

That a man could go to the delicate task of preparing a set of books, account books, the record and figures of a factory, and then, in the same day, could have committed a crime of such a nature, involving numerous financial details, and requiring four or more hours of steady work, and that he could do it, is a fact which is not to be overlooked.

That a man could go to the delicate task of preparing a set of books, account books, the record and figures of a factory, and then, in the same day, could have committed a crime of such a nature, involving numerous financial details, and requiring four or more hours of steady work, and that he could do it, is a fact which is not to be overlooked.

That a man could go to the delicate task of preparing a set of books, account books, the record and figures of a factory, and then, in the same day, could have committed a crime of such a nature, involving numerous financial details, and requiring four or more hours of steady work, and that he could do it, is a fact which is not to be overlooked.

That a man could go to the delicate task of preparing a set of books, account books, the record and figures of a factory, and then, in the same day, could have committed a crime of such a nature, involving numerous financial details, and requiring four or more hours of steady work, and that he could do it, is a fact which is not to be overlooked.

That a man could go to the delicate task of preparing a set of books, account books, the record and figures of a factory, and then, in the same day, could have committed a crime of such a nature, involving numerous financial details, and requiring four or more hours of steady work, and that he could do it, is a fact which is not to be overlooked.

That a man could go to the delicate task of preparing a set of books, account books, the record and figures of a factory, and then, in the same day, could have committed a crime of such a nature, involving numerous financial details, and requiring four or more hours of steady work, and that he could do it, is a fact which is not to be overlooked.

That a man could go to the delicate task of preparing a set of books, account books, the record and figures of a factory, and then, in the same day, could have committed a crime of such a nature, involving numerous financial details, and requiring four or more hours of steady work, and that he could do it, is a fact which is not to be overlooked.

That a man could go to the delicate task of preparing a set of books, account books, the record and figures of a factory, and then, in the same day, could have committed a crime of such a nature, involving numerous financial details, and requiring four or more hours of steady work, and that he could do it, is a fact which is not to be overlooked.

That a man could go to the delicate task of preparing a set of books, account books, the record and figures of a factory, and then, in the same day, could have committed a crime of such a nature, involving numerous financial details, and requiring four or more hours of steady work, and that he could do it, is a fact which is not to be overlooked.

That a man could go to the delicate task of preparing a set of books, account books, the record and figures of a factory, and then, in the same day, could have committed a crime of such a nature, involving numerous financial details, and requiring four or more hours of steady work, and that he could do it, is a fact which is not to be overlooked.

That a man could go to the delicate task of preparing a set of books, account books, the record and figures of a factory, and then, in the same day, could have committed a crime of such a nature, involving numerous financial details, and requiring four or more hours of steady work, and that he could do it, is a fact which is not to be overlooked.

The Georgian-American Pony Contest VOTE COUPON

Hearst's Sunday American and Atlanta Georgian PONY CONTEST VOTE COUPON, WEDNESDAY, JUNE 11, 1913. 5 VOTES. NOT GOOD AFTER JUNE 25, 1913.

Vote for Address CARRIERS AND AGENTS' BALLOT.

Hearst's Sunday American and Atlanta Georgian Pony Contest Vote Coupon, Wednesday, June 11, 1913. 5 VOTES NOT GOOD AFTER JUNE 25.

Vote for Address SCHOOL BOYS' AND GIRLS' BALLOT.

upon the poor girl as a spider would upon the web of her life. She was the sole basis of the opportunity to commit the crime, and with all the precautions going to prevent her from killing the young girl, especially on the part of the police, she was the seal of the secret service men in leading to cover criminals who effect getaways.

The testimony of Frank before the jury, in which he gave, with conspicuous consistency and openness, an account of his actions and whereabouts on the day of the crime, created a favorable impression on the public mind.

Strengthened by Witnesses. It was strengthened by the corroboration of his statements as to the time and place of the crime by the testimony of Frank before the grand jury.

Two things, it seems to me, would be sufficient to clear Frank in the eyes of the jury. The first is the work done by him on his books at the pencil factory on the morning of the killing and subsequent to the time which is testified by common consent to the occurrence of the deed.

That a man could go to the delicate task of preparing a set of books, account books, the record and figures of a factory, and then, in the same day, could have committed a crime of such a nature, involving numerous financial details, and requiring four or more hours of steady work, and that he could do it, is a fact which is not to be overlooked.

What is called the "humanity of the law" is a fact which is not to be overlooked. It is a fact which is not to be overlooked. It is a fact which is not to be overlooked.

That a man could go to the delicate task of preparing a set of books, account books, the record and figures of a factory, and then, in the same day, could have committed a crime of such a nature, involving numerous financial details, and requiring four or more hours of steady work, and that he could do it, is a fact which is not to be overlooked.

That a man could go to the delicate task of preparing a set of books, account books, the record and figures of a factory, and then, in the same day, could have committed a crime of such a nature, involving numerous financial details, and requiring four or more hours of steady work, and that he could do it, is a fact which is not to be overlooked.

That a man could go to the delicate task of preparing a set of books, account books, the record and figures of a factory, and then, in the same day, could have committed a crime of such a nature, involving numerous financial details, and requiring four or more hours of steady work, and that he could do it, is a fact which is not to be overlooked.

That a man could go to the delicate task of preparing a set of books, account books, the record and figures of a factory, and then, in the same day, could have committed a crime of such a nature, involving numerous financial details, and requiring four or more hours of steady work, and that he could do it, is a fact which is not to be overlooked.

That a man could go to the delicate task of preparing a set of books, account books, the record and figures of a factory, and then, in the same day, could have committed a crime of such a nature, involving numerous financial details, and requiring four or more hours of steady work, and that he could do it, is a fact which is not to be overlooked.

That a man could go to the delicate task of preparing a set of books, account books, the record and figures of a factory, and then, in the same day, could have committed a crime of such a nature, involving numerous financial details, and requiring four or more hours of steady work, and that he could do it, is a fact which is not to be overlooked.

That a man could go to the delicate task of preparing a set of books, account books, the record and figures of a factory, and then, in the same day, could have committed a crime of such a nature, involving numerous financial details, and requiring four or more hours of steady work, and that he could do it, is a fact which is not to be overlooked.

That a man could go to the delicate task of preparing a set of books, account books, the record and figures of a factory, and then, in the same day, could have committed a crime of such a nature, involving numerous financial details, and requiring four or more hours of steady work, and that he could do it, is a fact which is not to be overlooked.

That a man could go to the delicate task of preparing a set of books, account books, the record and figures of a factory, and then, in the same day, could have committed a crime of such a nature, involving numerous financial details, and requiring four or more hours of steady work, and that he could do it, is a fact which is not to be overlooked.

That a man could go to the delicate task of preparing a set of books, account books, the record and figures of a factory, and then, in the same day, could have committed a crime of such a nature, involving numerous financial details, and requiring four or more hours of steady work, and that he could do it, is a fact which is not to be overlooked.

That a man could go to the delicate task of preparing a set of books, account books, the record and figures of a factory, and then, in the same day, could have committed a crime of such a nature, involving numerous financial details, and requiring four or more hours of steady work, and that he could do it, is a fact which is not to be overlooked.

That a man could go to the delicate task of preparing a set of books, account books, the record and figures of a factory, and then, in the same day, could have committed a crime of such a nature, involving numerous financial details, and requiring four or more hours of steady work, and that he could do it, is a fact which is not to be overlooked.

That a man could go to the delicate task of preparing a set of books, account books, the record and figures of a factory, and then, in the same day, could have committed a crime of such a nature, involving numerous financial details, and requiring four or more hours of steady work, and that he could do it, is a fact which is not to be overlooked.

That a man could go to the delicate task of preparing a set of books, account books, the record and figures of a factory, and then, in the same day, could have committed a crime of such a nature, involving numerous financial details, and requiring four or more hours of steady work, and that he could do it, is a fact which is not to be overlooked.

That a man could go to the delicate task of preparing a set of books, account books, the record and figures of a factory, and then, in the same day, could have committed a crime of such a nature, involving numerous financial details, and requiring four or more hours of steady work, and that he could do it, is a fact which is not to be overlooked.

That a man could go to the delicate task of preparing a set of books, account books, the record and figures of a factory, and then, in the same day, could have committed a crime of such a nature, involving numerous financial details, and requiring four or more hours of steady work, and that he could do it, is a fact which is not to be overlooked.

That a man could go to the delicate task of preparing a set of books, account books, the record and figures of a factory, and then, in the same day, could have committed a crime of such a nature, involving numerous financial details, and requiring four or more hours of steady work, and that he could do it, is a fact which is not to be overlooked.

That a man could go to the delicate task of preparing a set of books, account books, the record and figures of a factory, and then, in the same day, could have committed a crime of such a nature, involving numerous financial details, and requiring four or more hours of steady work, and that he could do it, is a fact which is not to be overlooked.

DAUGHTER HEAD BARRAVERS HERE PRELECT BIG BUSINESS COMPANY

Stockholders Choose Girl President of Drowned Man's Fertilizer Concern.

JACKSONVILLE, June 11.—Miss Okie Painter, daughter of the late E. O. Painter, was elected president of the E. O. Painter Fertilizer Company at a meeting of the stockholders held last night.

Reports submitted at the meeting declared the condition of the business of the company to be flourishing and 10 per cent annual dividend was declared.

Miss Painter announced, after the meeting, that the business of the company would be conducted upon the same plan as heretofore under the presidency of her father, who was drowned in the St. Johns river May 22, the cause of which is still a mystery.

Trained for Place. No one other than Miss Painter was considered for the work of the dead father than Miss Painter. Since finishing school she has occupied a place in her father's office.

Looking for Good Times. "We need a good crop. It looks as if we are about to get it. When it is in I look for excellent times," Captain James W. English, president of the Fourth National Bank, is most optimistic.

"We have not refused a legitimate demand for money this year. We have advanced a customer who has taken care of the country banks up to the limit of their demands," he said.

"Manufacturers, jobbers and retailers in Atlanta who are our customers are looking for good times. We have taken care of their accounts. We hear no complaint from them."

"There is considerable building going on in the city, one of the best indications of business conditions."

"The volume of loans varies very little from last year's figures. There has been no unusual demand for money."

"This is not a time for undertaking great business. It is a time for making a good business, as we call it, and he will begin to look more cheerful also."

Looks for Good Times. "We need a good crop. It looks as if we are about to get it. When it is in I look for excellent times," Captain James W. English, president of the Fourth National Bank, is most optimistic.

"We have not refused a legitimate demand for money this year. We have advanced a customer who has taken care of the country banks up to the limit of their demands," he said.

"Manufacturers, jobbers and retailers in Atlanta who are our customers are looking for good times. We have taken care of their accounts. We hear no complaint from them."

"There is considerable building going on in the city, one of the best indications of business conditions."

"The volume of loans varies very little from last year's figures. There has been no unusual demand for money."

"This is not a time for undertaking great business. It is a time for making a good business, as we call it, and he will begin to look more cheerful also."

Looks for Good Times. "We need a good crop. It looks as if we are about to get it. When it is in I look for excellent times," Captain James W. English, president of the Fourth National Bank, is most optimistic.

"We have not refused a legitimate demand for money this year. We have advanced a customer who has taken care of the country banks up to the limit of their demands," he said.

"Manufacturers, jobbers and retailers in Atlanta who are our customers are looking for good times. We have taken care of their accounts. We hear no complaint from them."

"There is considerable building going on in the city, one of the best indications of business conditions."

"The volume of loans varies very little from last year's figures. There has been no unusual demand for money."

"This is not a time for undertaking great business. It is a time for making a good business, as we call it, and he will begin to look more cheerful also."

Looks for Good Times. "We need a good crop. It looks as if we are about to get it. When it is in I look for excellent times," Captain James W. English, president of the Fourth National Bank, is most optimistic.

"We have not refused a legitimate demand for money this year. We have advanced a customer who has taken care of the country banks up to the limit of their demands," he said.

"Manufacturers, jobbers and retailers in Atlanta who are our customers are looking for good times. We have taken care of their accounts. We hear no complaint from them."

"There is considerable building going on in the city, one of the best indications of business conditions."

"The volume of loans varies very little from last year's figures. There has been no unusual demand for money."

Miss Marie Wright Who will be married Wednesday evening to James Thomas Selman. A series of parties have been tendered Miss Wright for the past two weeks.

Photo by Wesley Hinkley.

VIZIER OF TURKS ASSASSINATED IN REVENGE

Mahmud Shevket Pasha, Man Behind Sultan, Was Military Dictator of Empire.

Special Cable to The Atlanta Georgian. LONDON, June 11.—Mahmud Shevket Pasha, Grand Vizier of Turkey, and his military aide were shot to death today by two assassins in the streets of Constantinople.

Mahmud Shevket Pasha was first received here in private dispatches. Later it was officially confirmed.

Mahmud Shevket Pasha, who came to power in February, has been exercising the prerogative of military dictator. He was one of the chief leaders of the Young Turk party, and the closest adviser of Enver Pasha, the commander-in-chief of the Turkish army.

The Grand Vizier was undoubtedly slain in revenge for the murder of Avni Pasha, War Minister and commander-in-chief of the Ottoman army, who was shot down by Enver last winter.

Deaf Mute Apologizes For Mistreating Wife

MACON, June 11.—A. H. Wainwright, deaf-mute, who created a disturbance at his home on Forsyth street Sunday morning because his wife was slow in responding to his knock on their door door, upon his return from work, has made an apology through the newspapers for the way he treated her.

He says if he had been sober at the time he would not have accused his wife of having someone in the room with her, and that as soon as he regained his proper senses he realized his mistake.

Slaton to Keep All Brown's Aids but 1

Although no official statement has been given out, it may be taken as a fact that Governor John M. Slaton will retain all of Governor Brown's immediate official family, with one exception.

Colonel Jesse Perry will continue as private secretary and Harry Tim as executive secretary. Miss Alma Norris of Marietta, will continue as official stenographer.

Dr. J. S. Hopkins, of Atlanta, will replace W. R. Power, of Marietta, as medical officer and requisition clerk.

GIRDARD POSTMASTER NAMED. WASHINGTON, June 11.—Josephine Carlisle has been nominated for postmaster at Girard, Ala., a suburb of Columbus, Ga.

U. S. Troops Prepare To End Moro Revolt For Forest Reserve

MANILA, PHILIPPINE ISLANDS, June 11.—Brigadier General John Pershing, commander of the department of Mindanao, has made arrangements to begin a decisive fight against the Moro rebels entrenched at Bagdad, under the Sultan of Jolo.

A stubborn resistance to the advance of the American troops was expected, and a strong force had therefore been assembled.

"If a man would set off a cannon cracker in a New York hotel nowadays, the officers would set their heads on a block over their heads and say: 'That is history.'"

"Business is moving along very well. The volume of loans varies very little from last year's figures. There has been no unusual demand for money."

"This is not a time for undertaking great business. It is a time for making a good business, as we call it, and he will begin to look more cheerful also."

Looks for Good Times. "We need a good crop. It looks as if we are about to get it. When it is in I look for excellent times," Captain James W. English, president of the Fourth National Bank, is most optimistic.

"We have not refused a legitimate demand for money this year. We have advanced a customer who has taken care of the country banks up to the limit of their demands," he said.

"Manufacturers, jobbers and retailers in Atlanta who are our customers are looking for good times. We have taken care of their accounts. We hear no complaint from them."

"There is considerable building going on in the city, one of the best indications of business conditions."

"The volume of loans varies very little from last year's figures. There has been no unusual demand for money."

"This is not a time for undertaking great business. It is a time for making a good business, as we call it, and he will begin to look more cheerful also."

Looks for Good Times. "We need a good crop. It looks as if we are about to get it. When it is in I look for excellent times," Captain James W. English, president of the Fourth National Bank, is most optimistic.

"We have not refused a legitimate demand for money this year. We have advanced a customer who has taken care of the country banks up to the limit of their demands," he said.

"Manufacturers, jobbers and retailers in Atlanta who are our customers are looking for good times. We have taken care of their accounts. We hear no complaint from them."

"There is considerable building going on in the city, one of the best indications of business conditions."

"The volume of loans varies very little from last year's figures. There has been no unusual demand for money."

DESPITE THE WEATHER YOU'LL BE WISE TO BUY BAGGAGE NOW. Trunks, Traveling Bags, Suit Cases and all small goods are marked down for OUR ANNUAL TRUNK SALE. Wardrobe Trunks $45.00 values... $32.50. Suit Cases $10.00 values... $7.50. LIEBERMAN'S The Trunk Store 92 Whitehall

Mississippi to Raise Million for Levees. JACKSON, MISS., June 11.—The Mississippi Legislature convened in extra session yesterday to enact legislation enabling the Mississippi levee board to float bonds for improvement work made necessary by overflows. Still More Wives for the Matrimony Champions. Professor Leo Bernart casts the horoscope of America's favorite husbands, Nat Goodwin and De Wolf Hopper, and shows how the stars predict that there will be at least a sixth wife for Goodwin and a seventh for Hopper.

White City Park Now Open. $10 WRIGHTSVILLE BEACH AND RETURN $10. On sale Thursday. Through newspapers daily. Make reservations early. Office 53 Peachtree. BRABARD. EISEMAN BROS., Inc. 11-13-15-17 WHITEHALL Shoe Department--Main Floor Rear. Shoes for Men, Boys and Children

The "English" at its best! 3 Atlanta Girls to Graduate at Macon. MAON, June 11.—Misses Mary Lynch, Amelia Harwell and Virginia Poole, of Atlanta, will participate in the graduating exercises of Macon Business Academy, a Catholic school for girls, here this afternoon. The "Last" that is FIRST in the "Shoe Thoughts" of Men! Our line of the strictly authoritative "ENGLISH" Last Footwear for men is complete and effective. A stunning variety of the most fashionable shades of TAN; and the stylish and dressy black leathers.