Mrs. Crawford Attacked in Letter 'LID' ON TO STAY, SAYS BEAVERS

NOTE WARNS OF ACCUSED WOMAN

Missive Sent to Aged Capitalist Denounced as Work of Illiterate, Jealous Person.

An unexpected sensation was sprung in the bitter fight over the $250,000 will of "Uncle Josh" B. Crawford Friday morning when an anonymous letter, containing wild and startling charges against Mrs. Belle Crawford, battling to uphold the will in her favor, was admitted in evidence after a long legal wrangle.

The letter produced by the woman's counsel on demand of Attorney J. S. James, who represents the 48 heirs contesting the document before Auditor James L. Anderson, was denounced by Attorney Reuben Arnold, for Mrs. Crawford, as the venomous work of an illiterate, jealous, ignorant woman full of vile lies and wild charges.

There was no dispute about the illiteracy. Most of the words were misspelled, the writing was extremely poor and looked as if it might have been the work of a wholly uneducated person.

Letter Poorly Written. Here it is, with many of the words corrected:

St. Augustine, Fla., February 20, 1909. Mr. Crawford: Dear Friend—I will write to you to inform you of the plot that is laid for you in regard to Mrs. Savage, the fictitious name that she is going under in this town. Her right name is Mrs. Mc. Kinney, from Pittsburg, Pa. She is a married woman and has a man living, and she is had woman and a thief, and there is a warrant in Pittsburg for her arrest for false pretenses, and as she has told you her name is S. vage, that was her name by her first husband. She has been married two times and she don't live with her second man, so if there is any wedlock between you and her you better cut it out, for she will give you lots of trouble. You are a too good a man to be swindled out of your money in that way. Well, as I thought that I would take this on myself as I thought it my duty, you ask Lashby. He will tell you, for I told him all about it to-day. So he is some surprised to hear about it. This is all. FROM A FRIEND.

Second Letter Mentioned. A further sensation was suggested in Attorney James' demand for a second letter, said to have been written to Mrs. Crawford, then Mrs. Savage, by "Uncle Josh." Attorney Arnold denied any knowledge of the existence of this letter, but Attorney James insisted he had proved it existed. The auditor asked for proof of James' contentions.

The contestants also introduced Friday the interrogatories of Dr. Claude Griffin, a young physician of Carrollton, Ga., who saw the autopsy performed by Dr. Harris. Dr. Griffin said that in his opinion Crawford did not die of pneumonia, but was not very explicit in his testimony as to whether there was evidence of poisoning.

Doctors Testify for Widow. Dr. E. C. Thrash and Dr. Bates Block were placed on the stand by Mrs. Crawford's attorneys following the announcement by Attorney James that he had nothing further to offer at the present time, after submitting the anonymous letter received by Mr. Crawford.

Both physicians expressed the opinion that a color or qualitative test for poison four years after a body had

8 Die in Blizzard in West; Business in Denver at Standstill

DENVER, Dec. 5.—The great-snow-storm which to-day is sweeping Colorado already has cost eight lives. A report from Central City, in the mountains, says eight miners who formed a rescue party to find two lost men perished in the blizzard.

The snow in Denver reaches a depth of from two to five feet. Automobile and wagon traffic is impossible and street car service has been abandoned for sixteen hours. Passenger and freight service on all railroads entering Denver has been annulled until the storm abates. All schools in Denver are closed. The large department stores have taken entire hotels for housing their help until the situation improves.

Thinking Cannibals Had Eaten Fiance, Girl Weds Another

MIAMI, FLA., Dec. 5.—Believing that John Mills, to whom she was engaged, had been eaten by cannibals in the South Sea Islands, where he went last July with a party of scientists from Carnegie Institution, a report to this effect having been published in American papers, Miss Lynnwood Watters yesterday married R. C. Jester, of Woodruff, S. C., who won her affections by sympathizing with her in the supposed death of the explorer.

Dixie Man, Famed In Canal Work, Dies

BALTIMORE, Dec. 5.—Lieutenant Colonel David B. Gaillard, member of the Panama Canal Commission, died at the Phipps clinic of the Johns Hopkins Hospital this morning. He had been ill for a long time.

Colonel Gaillard was one of the three Southerners who have won fame by their work in building the canal, the others being Sbert and Gorgas, of Alabama. Gaillard was from Charleston, a member of one of the most prominent families in South Carolina.

Arsonettes Avenge Pankhurst's Arrest

Special Cable to The Atlanta Georgian. GLASGOW, SCOTLAND, Dec. 5.—Militant suffragettes to-day began taking their revenge for the arrest of Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst. Kelly House, an untenanted mansion, at Memys Bay on the Firth of Clyde, was fired, with $100,000 loss.

Upon the lawn a number of cards, bearing suffrage inscriptions, were scattered. One of them said: "No peace or truce until Mrs. Pankhurst is free."

$250,000 a Year for One Woman's Clothes! That's the startling total of the wardrobe cost for an American millionairess, according to a Parisian editor. The joy or woe of it all—depending on whether you are man or woman—will be detailed in Next Sunday's American Order from your dealer or by phone to Main 100.

CITY CLEAN NOW, SAYS CHIEF

"The Law and Noble Policemen My Weapons in Fight," He Writes in Magazine.

"All the good people of any city have to do is to stand together and the gates of hell will not prevail against them—the good people of Atlanta would never tolerate a return to old conditions under any circumstances." This declaration as to the moral status of Atlanta is made by Police Chief James L. Beavers in a special signed article in The Detective, of Chicago, which has devoted an entire section of its December number to a history of the Atlanta police department.

As to the importance of activity on the part of the good people in crushing vice, the chief says: "Our cities of to-day are going through a cleaning and renovating that has long been needed, and the officers whose duty it is to do this work are going at it in some way in most every city in the country. But some of them are more backward about it than others, and I think the cause of this is largely due to the attitude of the citizens in the community toward these reforms."

Two Kinds of Cowards. "There are very few officers but who will do their duty if they know that the people and the officers over them will back them up in these reforms. But where there is doubt in the officer's mind about this, he naturally will hesitate, especially when he thinks that his job is at stake. It is hard for him to do a thing that would deprive him of his position—but when we fail to do what we know to be our duty on this account, we are nothing less than cowards."

There are two kinds of cowards: the moral and the physical coward. Everybody would say that a coward was not fit for a police officer. The physical coward runs when he sees that he is in danger of being shot. The moral coward joins in with and consents to things that his conscience tells him are wrong when he sees an opportunity to get money and position thereby.

"The only trouble with our cities is that the criminal class and their sympathizers are always awake to their interests. They try to make politicians believe that they can not be elected without they get their support, and with decent people in different and taking no interest in their community's welfare. It is about

PET KITTEN! FLEAS! OIL! MATCH! CHOMSKY! COURT!

A. S. Chomsky, a merchant at No. 72 Houston street, was bound over under $500 bond by Judge Broyles Friday on a charge of cruelty to animals, preferred by Mrs. J. Stansell, who resides above the Chomsky store.

Mrs. Stansell charged in court that the merchant had set fire to her pet kitten after she had soaked it in oil at his suggestion to eradicate the fleas.

The feline was discovered in the middle of the street late Thursday afternoon, a small ball of fire, doing gyrations in the air and emitting piercing cries. Mrs. Stansell, who saw the sight from her bedroom window, recognized the blaze as her pet, and, rushing downstairs, put it out of its misery with the aid of a broom.

Then she charged Chomsky with the deed. In court Mrs. Stansell declared she had conferred with the merchant as to the best method to rid her pet of insects. Chomsky, she said, had advised saturating the kitten with kerosene.

Mrs. Stansell purchased a quantity of kerosene and gave the kitten a bath. An hour afterward the little animal strolled into Chomsky's store, its fur still wet with the oil. A few minutes later pedestrians saw the cat rushing madly out of the store, its coat a mass of fire.

Chomsky explained the origin of the blaze in this manner: He said he was lighting a cigar as the kitten came strolling in; that as he threw the flaming match to the floor the playful cat pounced upon it, and its oil fur caught the flames.

The merchant denied emphatically that he set the cat on fire for the sport of seeing it burn, as was charged.

Mrs. Pankhurst on Hunger-Thirst Strike

Special Cable to The Atlanta Georgian. EXETER, ENGLAND, Dec. 5.—Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst, famous militant suffragette leader, who was arrested yesterday under the "cat and mouse act," has gone on a hunger and thirst strike. The jail authorities said to-day that Mrs. Pankhurst has refused to eat or drink any liquid since she was placed in jail.

Blalock Returning With Sack of 'Plums'

With a pocket full of income tax deputy appointments, A. O. Blalock, Collector of Internal Revenue, is expected to return from Washington Friday night. There are nearly 1,000 applications for the seven positions. Mrs. Pankhurst collapsed late this afternoon and a physician was called in to attend her.

Atlanta Mailing Its Xmas Gifts Early

Christmas packages continue to pour into the postoffice and Postmaster Jones Friday said he believed the mailing room would be able to handle all the Christmas work without the usual "swamp" a day or two before Christmas. Next week four more weighing machines will be placed in the lobby to assist in expediting the mailing of packages.

President Wilson Still on Sick List

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5.—President Wilson still was on the sick list to-day. All his engagements and his regular Cabinet meeting were canceled. It developed to-day that President Wilson is suffering from a slight touch of fever due to an attack of the grip, lodged in his nose and throat.

600 GIRLS TO WRITE ON CHILD-WELFARE SHOW

Prizes Offered for Best Essays by Pupils. Elaborate Daily Program for Exhibit.

Six hundred Atlanta school girls are busy Saturday arranging their notes on the Child Welfare exhibit and Public Health exhibit which they visited Thursday as guests of the show, and preparing to write essays on the features of the exhibit that made the greatest impression upon them.

Walter H. Rich, of the firm of M. Rich & Brothers Company, has offered $25 in prizes for the best written essay, by high school girls and girls from the seventh and eighth grades. It is hardly probable that the essays will be completed and the awards made before the holidays.

The interest which the school authorities are taking in the exhibit is gratifying to the committee in charge of the show, and it is expected that the visit of the High School and grade school girls will be of great benefit to them. The girls were in charge of Miss Jessie Muse, principal of the High School, and were shown every department and feature of the exhibit.

Smith Again Wins Handball Title

Carlton Smith retained the title of handball champion of the Atlanta Athletic Club in the challenge match, played Friday afternoon with M. E. Keeler, who won the recent tournament which decided the challenger for the title match.

The match was hard and fast in the extreme, going the full five games. Keeler started with a rush, and won the first two games. Then Smith settled and his experience and condition gave him the next three games, and the match, after a grand uphill battle, a big gallery watched the play.

Mayor to Approve Salary Increases

Mayor Woodward gave assurance Friday that he would approve the action of Council and the Aldermanic Board providing for increases next year in the salaries of school teachers, firemen and policemen. Also he will approve the payment of $7,000 to the Ivy street property owners, the amount left over from the $30,000 fund subscribed by private citizens for that improvement.

The schoolboys of the city also will be shown through the show. The pupils of the four high schools of the city are to be guests of the show Monday, and on a later day the boys of the seventh and eighth grades will be there.

Lectures are given daily by prominent physicians and others, and in the basement are educational moving picture shows that are attracting much attention. Classes of little girls and boys from various Atlanta orphanages and schools are shown at their work in the various departments of the exhibit.

The regular kindergarten classes, with a demonstration by the home-makers' class, will occupy the morning hours on Saturday, and in the afternoon two addresses of unusual interest will be heard. Dr. Claude Smith will speak on "How to Select Your Milk," and Mrs. Spiker, president of the Drama League, will tell the story of the "Blue Bird."

Southern Officials to Greet Harrison Here

Local officials of the Southern Railway are preparing for the visit of Fairfax Harrison, the new president of the road, when he comes to Atlanta soon after Christmas on a tour of inspection.

Atlanta Parks Are Worth $1,200,000

In preparing his annual report, Dan Carey, General Manager of Parks, has compiled interesting figures. There are 32 parks, totaling 840 acres. Their cost to the city was $1,865,654 and their present value is approximately $1,200,000.

JACKSONVILLE FUGITIVE CAUGHT.

JACKSONVILLE, Dec. 5.—Crawford Vassar, a negro, wanted for murder in Savannah, was arrested here by Detective J. Q. Quattlebaum to-day.

U. S. PENAL HEAD AND HOWARD CONFER

Congressman, on Request of Department of Justice, Starts Compilation of Data.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 5. Demanding a prompt investigation of the affairs at the Federal Penitentiary in Atlanta, Congressman William Schley Howard held a long conference this afternoon with Assistant Attorney General Graham, under whose department comes the Federal penal institutions.

The Assistant Attorney General requested Congressman Howard to present the Department immediately with all the evidence in his possession regarding conditions at the penitentiary.

Mr. Howard began a compilation of this data to-day. He is willing to give the Department of Justice an opportunity to take the initiative in an investigation, but unless it acts he will seek a Congressional probe.

United States Wants Facts. Although it is known that the department has done little toward investigating the prison, and seems disinclined to do so, Mr. Graham told Congressman Howard to-day that the department wanted the facts, and would institute an inquiry if it is warranted. He suggested that it is unnecessary for the House to act in the premises, as the Department of Justice stands ready to consider any evidence laid before it, and to give it genuine and impartial consideration.

Under this promise Mr. Howard will withhold for the present his resolution to have Congress look into prison affairs as administered under Warden Moyer. Mr. Howard said to-day:

To Let Department Proceed. "I have had a long talk with Assistant Attorney General Graham, and am to supply him with all the data in my possession. He assures me that if there is anything wrong at the Atlanta prison the Department of Justice wants to know it and is capable of handling the situation. In view of such a statement, I regard it as fair to give the department a chance and shall soon present the charges formally to Mr. Graham.

"In the event the department should decide not to go into the matter, I should deem it my duty finally to ask action from Congress, as there undoubtedly should be a probe."

Park Also for Probe. Congressman Park, the new member from the Second Georgia District, told The Georgian correspondent to-day that he is considering the introduction of a resolution similar to that suggested by Congressman Howard.

Mr. Park, former judge of the Albany Circuit, said he had read the Hawthorne charges and had determined to write the author, who served a term in the prison, for a definite statement of his allegations. Judge Park said he would approach the question with an open mind and would hear both sides before taking action, if he decides to co-operate with Mr. Howard.

Congressman Howard is aware that present officials of the departments seem rather averse to starting an investigation, but he was more encouraged after the talk with Assistant Attorney General Graham. Mr. Howard's further action depends upon the attitude of the Department of Justice after going over his papers.

RELICION ON GEORGIA FARMING

Colonel Charles Jackson Shipp, who ran for Railroad Commissioner in the last State primaries, and didn't get elected, evidently has not become a pessimist because of that.

On the contrary, Colonel Shipp, forsaking the vexing and fretting thoughts of politics and politicians, of late has turned his attention and his talents to the grower and mar-ker simpler things of life, and where once he thundered political opinions and conclusions from the stump, now he sings vociferously of the festive permissim and the rare delights of autumn merging serenely into winter.

In the current issue of The Cordele Rambler, Mr. Shipp's article is and always interesting little newspaper, that gentleman poetically observes: "This is permissim season in Georgia. If the traveler along a November road hears a soft thud, so gentle indeed, as to be scarcely audible, he has only to look on either side, to locate the gaunt, bare limbs to which still cling like huge drops of amber the yet unripe permissims. Then gaily scaling the fence let him pick up the luscious mouthful that has fallen; for that is the test of the ripe permissim—it never falls until it is primed for consumption."

"Many detractors of the permissim don't know this. If they did, instead of slandering and maligning a noble fruit and heaping ridicule and contumely upon it, they might join the acclaim of those who know better. To put it otherwise, never climb a tree for a permissim. The permissim is never ready to perish for the joy of humanity until it drops."

"That sly connoisseur, Mistah Possum, knows all about the permissim, and when the occasion arises, he never fails to get away from the dogs."

Blessed are the Charles Jackson Shipp, who can lose, and never bat an eye!

Owes Her Life to This Lung Medicine

The manufacturers of Eckman's Alternative, a medicine for Throat and Lung Affections, regret that all sufferers of these serious troubles do not take the trouble to investigate for themselves what this medicine has accomplished during the past fifteen years in a number of cases. Read this: "Gentlemen: About September 10, 1908, my mother-in-law was taken sick with Catarrhal Pneumonia, which developed into Lung Trouble. In January, when Rev. Wm. Berg, of St. Michael's Church, at Rehersville, Ind., prepared her for death, he recommended that I get Eckman's Alternative and see if it would not give her some relief. The attending physician declared she had Lung Trouble and was beyond all medical aid. So I immediately had Rev. Wm. Berg to send for a bottle. Practically without hope for recovery, I insisted that she try the Alternative, which she did. I am glad to say that she soon began to improve. Now, she works as usual as ever, and weighs twenty pounds heavier than she ever did before she took sick, and is in good health."

Vick's Vap-O-Rub Croup and Pneumonia Salve Relieves by Inhalation and Absorption. No Dosing. When Vick's "Vap-O-Rub" Croup and Pneumonia Salve is applied externally, the body warmth releases vapors of Pine Tar, Camphor, Thymol, Eucalyptol and Eucalyptol. These vapors are inhaled direct to the lungs and air passages where internal medicines can not go. They loosen the phlegm, open the air passages and stimulate the mucous membrane to throw off the disease germs. For catarrh and head colds melt a little in a spoon and inhale the vapors. For asthma apply the nostrils. For asthma and hay fever follow the instructions given above and also rub

GIRL TELLS HOW SHE FOUND BODY OF DR. KNABE

Important Witnesses Are Heard in Trial of Dean Craig at Shelbyville.

Dr. Elmo Ballew, one of the political "war horses" of grand old Gordon County, is attending the boys' corn show in Atlanta.

The doctor specializes in corn culture, among other things, and is something of a noted agricultural sharp in his vicinity of endeavor. As surprisingly fair, however, as his broad and untarnished scepticism is in the matter of farm lore, he still scorns not to take advice from younger men.

In order to anticipate as much as possible the run for new automobile numbers, which must be secured for the year 1914, Secretary Phil Cook of the State Department will have the new law goes into effect on January 1, and cars without new numbers on March 1 will be outlawed.

It looks a little as if the pressure brought to bear upon President Wilson in the matter of Judson C. Clements' proposed retirement from the Interstate Commerce Commission may bear fruit. The friends of Judge Clements have taken hope of late, and now believe that there is at least an even chance that things may fall his way, and reappointment be tendered.

There seems to be a feeling throughout all Washington, not only in Congress, but in the various departments, that failure to reappoint the Georgian now would work irreparable injury to the Commission. It is the opinion of many members of whose experience is long and who know the ins and outs of the Commission's work thoroughly. To drop him now would be to leave the Commission without one member thereon who is ultimately qualified for the position. Moreover, there has been much resentment manifested here, and there that Clements seemingly was considered for the discards mostly in order that a nice, comfortable berth might be supplied to former Governor Glenn, of North Carolina.

The reappointment of Judson C. Clements to the Interstate Commerce Commission apparently will be highly gratifying to Georgia, and in the ratio would his turning down likely be heartily protested and resented.

Byron Williams, of Meriwether, spoken of frequently and favorably of late as a member of the next Senate, is in Atlanta. Few men are better known throughout Georgia, and if he runs for the office stated, there is no doubt whatever that he will be a most formidable candidate. Moreover, he holds from one of Georgia's star counties, politically speaking—the county that has furnished Governors and other Statehouse officers. The present Governor was born in Meriwether, and several more came from that same vicinity of the vineyard.

MONTGOMERY, ALA., Dec. 5.—Members of the Alabama Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church South went on record to-day as being opposed to the proposed changing of the name of the church to the Methodist Episcopal Church in America. The vote stood 139 to 58 against the change.

Birmingham Urges Assembly Session

MONTGOMERY, ALA., Dec. 5.—Governor O'Neal returned at noon to-day from Birmingham, where he conferred with a citizens' committee relative to calling an extra session of the Alabama Legislature. The city of Birmingham is in dire financial straits and only a session of the Legislature, it is claimed, can give the needed relief.

Policeman, Shot in Raid, Is Near Death

BIRMINGHAM, Dec. 5.—A J. L. Moore, a policeman, who was dangerously shot to-day while in a house belonging to Lucile Spraggins, was still alive this afternoon, but little hope was expressed for his recovery. While the statement is made that the shooting resulted during a raid and that the woman was shot and she in turn shot the officer, Coroner Spain is working along other lines.

Think Drowned Man Missing Check Raiser

MEMPHIS, Dec. 2.—A body found in the Mississippi River and buried to-day on Island Forty is believed to be that of C. M. Avert, a real estate broker, who strangely disappeared a week ago, after raising several checks by which his employer says he secured $2,000. Parties who found the body say that they took $300 from the coat.

Graft Is Hinted in Hospital Site Deal

COLUMBUS, GA., Dec. 5.—The purchase of a site for the new $50,000 hospital to be built by the city, has been a bone of contention for several months. Now that a site has been selected, charges are being made that the lot, which cost the city $12,250 had been previously offered the city for $11,500, and that a certain city official obtained an option on it and sold it to the city for the price mentioned above.

PENSACOLA BANK SHUTS ITS DOORS

PENSACOLA FLA., Dec. 5.—After a conference lasting from yesterday morning to midnight, it was announced to-day that the Pensacola State Bank capitalized at $100,000, had suspended business pending an examination by the State Comptroller. President F. E. Brawner issued the following statement: "It has been considered advisable to call on the State Comptroller to make an examination of the affairs of the Pensacola State Bank. In consequence the business of the bank will be temporarily suspended. I feel sure arrangements will soon be made so all depositors will be paid."

A representative of the State Comptroller has arrived in the city. A meeting of the stockholders was held this afternoon. The city of Pensacola has on deposit in the bank more than $100,000 but it is said that fund is protected by bond. However, this is not certain, as some claim the bond has expired. The bank is seven years old, and has had several reversals, but recently was supposed to be doing better. Other banks in the city are not affected and not much financial excitement has resulted.

PRESIDIO, TEXAS, VIA MARFA, Dec. 5.—Couriers traveling in advance of the caravan of refugees from Chihuahua rode into Presidio to-day with tragic stories of hardship and distress. They said that the main body of the fugitives would reach the border late this afternoon. The fleeing Federal soldiers seized whole families along the way as hostages to prevent any attack by the Constitutionalists.

For more than a week the refugees, soldiers and civilians (men, women and children), have plodded over the 180 miles of Mexican desert and mountain land lying between Chihuahua and the border.

Exhausted men and children, foot-sore and worn out by hardships and lack of water and food, were left by the wayside to die slowly of thirst and hunger.

Treasure Left in Flight. Some of the rich members of the fleeing army—for there are a number of wealthy Mexican families among the refugees—were compelled by General Mercado's soldiers to kill their horses and mules for food. Even the pack animals carrying a treasure in bullion and plate owned by the Terrazas and other rich Mexican families were slain for food.

Straggling bands of soldiers flanked the caravan, and acted as advance and rear guard to prevent any attack by bandits.

When the flight started, many of the wanderers threw away arms, provisions and clothing in panic. When the mountain country was struck, the weather became very cold and exposure added to the distress of the fugitives.

U. S. to Aid Refugees. Examples of noble sacrifice among the civilians were common. Fathers and mothers discarded their own clothing that their children might be warm.

The United States military and civil authorities are co-operating to care for the hungry and penniless refugees. An emergency camp has been established by Captain Goings, of Troop E, Fifteenth United States Cavalry.

Throughout the night a number of Mexican residents of Ojinaga crossed the border of Presidio because of reports that Constitutionalists were advancing upon the town to attack the Federal soldiers.

Boys Go Home Elated.

Georgia Corn Club boys were returning to their homes Friday with the happy thought that they had participated in the most successful corn show and the best parade since the organization of the corn clubs in the South. It was a great parade. It obtained its pre-eminence from the great crowds that watched it as well as from the herds of joyful corn clubs and high school boys that had a part in it.

Traffic halted. The street railway company was powerless. The boys simply pre-empted the streets and the crowds did the rest. There was no piercing the solid blocks of humanity that congested the crossings and refused to move until the boys had passed by.

Winners Lead Parade. The 85 husky farm lads who had succeeded in reaching or passing the 100-bushel-per-acre mark were the recipients of the most generous showers of cheers and applause from the crowds that lined the streets all the way from the Capitol, where the parade had its beginning, to the point where the happy marchers broke ranks.

Each of the envied boys was represented by a large white sign held aloft to tell his name to all the world and to relate just how many bushels from all of the Southeastern States. He was at the Capitol Friday to procure the pick of the boys' exhibits to take with him to Dallas.

Salts Harmless to Flush Kidneys and Neutralize Uric Acid, Thus Ending Bladder Trouble.

When your kidneys hurt and your back feels sore, don't get scared and proceed to load your stomach with a lot of drugs that excite the kidneys and irritate the entire urinary tract. Keep your kidneys clean like you keep your bowels clean, by flushing them with a mild, harmless salt which removes the body's urinous waste and stimulates them to their normal activity. The function of the kidneys is to filter the blood. In twenty-four hours they strain from it 500 grains of acid and waste, so you can readily understand the vital importance of keeping the kidneys active.

Prominent Persons in Parade.

Superintendent Slaton rode at the head of the division made up of the corn club boys, the boys of the public schools and the Boy Scouts. The boys had prominent people with them in the big parade. 55 SUFFRAGISTS WILL WAIT TO SEE WILSON

President Will, Women Vote to Leave Committee to Talk to Him When Well.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5.—"We are sorry President Wilson is ill, but if he can not see us, he may hear from us without granting us a reception at the White House."

This was the veiled threat made today by Dr. Anna Howard Shaw, president of the National Woman's Suffrage Association, when she learned that the White House physicians had ordered the President to stay in bed.

Following a report from Mrs. McCormick, it was unanimously voted to appoint a committee of 55 women to remain in Washington to await the recovery of President Wilson and such time as he will receive them to hear their arguments for the "cause."

Mrs. McCormick in proposing the appointment of the committee said: "I have just learned at the White House that the President is still ill, not able to leave his room, and will probably not see anyone until Monday. I therefore propose the following resolution:

"Resolved by this convention, That a committee of 55 women be appointed to await the pleasure of the President and his recovery from illness, and then to call upon him, impress upon him the importance of woman suffrage and urge him to make woman suffrage an administration measure."

The resolution went through amid the cheers of the delegates.

Attack Mrs. Catt in Fight Against 'Votes.' WASHINGTON, Dec. 5.—Attacking Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, who, she declared, had said that the convention should be torn up as it does not fit the necessities of the day, Mrs. William P. Scott of New York, today appeared before the House Rules Committee to protest on behalf of the anti-suffragists against the proposal to create a special committee on woman suffrage.

Mrs. Scott declared that this showed to what extremes the suffragists would go.

"We are quite clear," she said, "that there is no need of a committee on woman suffrage unless Congress can exercise the power to determine the qualifications of State electors. The question for determination is really the right of non-competents to assume control of government."

CUNNINGHAM TO LOSE SEVERAL STARS FOR 1914

Eight Georgia Players Almost Sure To Be Missing From Team Next Season.

ATLANTA, GA., Dec. 5.—Coach Cunningham left this week for Independence, Kans., where he will spend two months with his children before returning to Georgia to take up the work of baseball coach. Before he left he took stock of his football material for another season and finds that he will be minus several of his star players when the season of 1914 arrives.

Captain McWhorter, right half-back; Conklin, end; DeLaperriere, center; McKinnon, guard; Conyers, guard; Flournoy, quarter; Malone, guard; Hitchcock, end. These eight players are almost sure to be lost to the Red and Black.

McWhorter has played four years and is ineligible, DeLaperriere will not return to college, though he has two more years of football; McKinnon graduates with a B. L. degree; Conyers will complete his course and will hardly return; Flournoy graduates; Malone enters business in Monticello and Hitchcock receives his degree. All these players were regulars with the exception of Flournoy and Hitchcock, who will be a heavy one to the Georgians.

TURNER, who has played a brilliant tackle, may not be back, while Paddock, who has just been elected captain, is an uncertainty, but it is thought that he will return to lead the Red and Black's last year in Southern athletics.

Those who are counted on as a nucleus for 1914 are Henderson at tackle, Thrash at guard, Smith at end, Logan at end, Powell at full, Crump at half, Thompson at half, Purcell at guard, Owens at end, Dorsey at quarter, and Turner and Paddock.

This finds Georgia pretty well fixed in the backfield with Paddock at quarter, Thompson at half, Crump at right end, Powell full, but center; the guard positions and one tackle will be open, with the end positions pretty well looked after by Owens, Smith and Logan.

THE Red and Black schedule will be announced soon after the S. I. A. meeting in New York. It is reported that some radical changes are to be made from the schedule of former years. The Georgia authorities are considering a game with the Carlisle Indians early in the season and have taken up the matter with Coach Warner. Warner was coach of Georgia in 1912 and the Georgia team was turned out by the University, and he is anxious to play a game in Atlanta in October.

Under the present schedule Georgia is without a Thanksgiving game and if Auburn refuses to come to Athens next year some other team will be taken on for Turkey Day and there seems to be a possibility of the Georgia-Tech game being arranged for that day.

COMING from an authority at Georgia, it is reported that the S. I. A. A. will take under consideration at the coming meeting the passing of a one-year college rule as is in force in the Northern and Eastern colleges. If such a rule passes it will be necessary for a player to remain in college one year before he is eligible to play on the varsity. This will work a hardship for the first year or two, but will eliminate much of the ground for ineligibility of new players, and since it has come to a pass that the college making the highest bid usually gets the prop stars of the South such a ruling should do much toward the uplift of Southern athletics.
