LATEST NEWS

WASHINGTON, Dec. 19.—The Owen substitute for the House currency bill was adopted in committee of the whole of the Senate to-day.

NEW YORK, Dec. 19.—With a certified check for $15,000, President Charles H. Ebbets, of the Brooklyn club, to-day left for Cincinnati hoping to induce the Cincinnati club directors to change their minds and turn Tom Linker over to the Brooklyn club.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 19.—Making a false statement either verbally or in writing "for the purpose of bringing on a stringency in the money markets of this country" is made an offense against the Government punishable by not less than ten years imprisonment and a fine of not less than $5,000 in a bill offered in the House to-day by Representative Church, of California.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 19.—Senator Newlands this afternoon demanded that another Democratic conference be held on the currency bill to consider the number of regional reserve banks. Only ten names are required on a petition for a conference and the opinion was expressed that these names would be obtained, thus delaying the vote which President Wilson and the Administration leaders confidently hoped for to-day.

MEXICO CITY, Dec. 19.—War Minister Blanquet's famous regiment, the Twenty-ninth, which has taken part in more active fighting in the past three years than any other, was sent to-day to drive back the rebels from the Federal District. Two troop trains, carrying 200 soldiers, have left for Cuernavaca to give battle to the Zapatistas. Rebels have entered the city of San Luis Potosi and part of it has been looted.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 19.—Announcement was made this afternoon by Attorney General McReynolds that Special Assistant James W. Orr had about completed a petition providing for the separation of the Central Pacific Railroad from control by the Union Pacific. Such a suit will be filed by the Department of Justice within a short time.

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 19.—Denouncing the system of education taught by Dr. Maria Montessori as being valueless, Mrs. R. L. Craig, a member of the City Board of Education, to-day prevented the expenditure of more funds to experiment with the system. Supplies needed for promoting the instruction advocated by the noted Italian woman were denied the schools of Los Angeles by the board.

CHICAGO, Dec. 19.—A jury in Federal Judge Mack's court this afternoon returned a verdict of guilty in the case of Robert Linn, a mining promoter, charged with using the mails to defraud. The Government alleged that Linn attempted to sell $10,000,000 worth of stock in a mine that was valueless.

WARSHIPS ARE RUSHED TO TAMPICO; FIGHT RENEWED

Special Cable to The Atlanta Georgian, VERA CRUZ, Dec. 19.—Another assault upon Tampico is imminent or has begun. A wireless order was received here to-day from Rear Admiral Fletcher for the scout cruiser Chester to rush to Tampico under full head of steam. At the same time the British cruiser Suffolk, flagship of the British cruiser squadron in West Indian waters, received an order from Rear Admiral Sir Christopher Cradock to proceed to Tampico at full speed.

The Suffolk left shortly after noon, followed a little later by the Chester. The Chester had just arrived a few hours earlier for the purpose of taking off and receiving mails.

Huerta Opens Campaign on Spies.

MEXICO CITY, Dec. 19.—Rebel spies in this city, who are in the pay of General Emiliano Zapata, are keeping the Zapata insurgents in touch with the movements of the Federal troops.

General Huerta to-day ordered General Blanquet, the Minister of War, to overhaul his department thoroughly and arrest all on whom suspicion might fall.

The rebel bands are increasing in strength and are enlarging their activities. Twelve villages and hamlets have been wiped out in the past 48 hours within 25 miles of this city. Fifty non-combatants were killed and each place was looted before it was burned.

Federals Kept Divided.

By means of guerrilla tactics the Zapatistas have kept the Federal forces divided and by means of knowledge of troops' movements secured through secret channels they are enabled to ambush the Government troops in the mountain districts.

It is estimated that there are now 2000 Zapatista rebels within the Federal territory which surrounds this city. As Zapata is said to be cooperating with the northern rebels, the indications are that the capital will fall on the first assault made upon it.

Ammunition Short.

A grave ammunition shortage faces the Mexican Government. There are 100,000 rounds of cartridges left in the arsenal owing to the reckless use of ammunition by the Federals. This would be insufficient to resist a concerted attack on the city. No more ammunition can be secured unless it is taken from the Vera Cruz arsenal, which is already short. An ammunition shipment from Europe is not expected for some time.

Five Hundred Federal Soldiers Reported to Have Deserted at Axochiapan, near the border of the States of Mexico and Puebla, joining the Zapatistas.

The Government to-day advertised the gambling privileges of Federal districts for $50,000 and a share of the profits. This shows the dire financial straits of Huerta.

Shooting Results in Mexican Patrol.

PRESIDIO, TEXAS (By U. S. Miss Keller to Rest Before Appearance; Comes Saturday A. M.

Miss Helen Keller and her teacher, Mrs. Macy, will arrive in Atlanta on Saturday morning, ready for the lecture in the Auditorium-Armory Saturday night.

They will stop at the Hotel Ansley, where they will rest until evening. The public appearances are somewhat of a strain on the highly sensitive nature of Miss Keller, and rest prior to her lectures is necessary.

The Atlanta Chapter of the Daughters of the Confederacy prevailed on Miss Keller to come to Atlanta before she retired permanently from the lecture platform, and she will appear under the auspices and for the benefit of this organization.

PROPER TANGO STEPS SHOWN BY MISS BAIN

must accompany all of the dance movements. That the combination of grace and precision works toward the best possible result Miss Bain establishes quite convincingly by her own dancing. She will continue at the Piedmont Driving Club until December 27.

Expert Lays Particular Emphasis on Grace and Precision of Each Movement.

There is tangoing and tangoing.

This much Atlanta society has learned in the brief time that Miss Donna Bain has been giving explications of the modern dance steps at the Piedmont Driving Club.

Dancing, of course, is not a diversion with Miss Bain. It is a profession. Consequently, it is not surprising that she glides and dips and floats about a ballroom floor with confidence and grace that the mere amateur.

Young society women—and the young men as well—have been greatly impressed by the dances shown by Miss Bain. They have wondered that there could be so much difference in the tango as it commonly is danced at all of the society functions and as it is demonstrated by this young woman whose home was in Atlanta until six years ago, when she went to New York and then abroad to make a close study of the various dances of the world.

The tango, for example, Miss Bain dances with a rhythm and grace that takes away from her interpretation of it the suggestion of a callisthenic exercise or a drill that a studied precision ordinarily gives a dance step. Miss Bain is precise. There is no question about that. Those who sit at her feet to learn find that she insists upon doing it "just so." But while she is a stickler for the fundamental principles of the dance, she lays just as much emphasis on the grace that

Gen. Wood to Head Eastern Division

WASHINGTON, Dec. 19.—Major General Leonard Wood, chief of staff of the army, will succeed Major General Thomas H. Barry as commander of the Eastern Division, with headquarters at Governors Island, N. Y., immediately upon the expiration of his term as chief of staff. It was announced by Secretary of War Garrison to-day.

General Wood had planned to tour Europe and Asia, but at the request of Secretary Garrison he will remain. Major General Barry has been ordered to the command of the Philippines Division to succeed Major General Franklin Bell.

HOBSON EVADING ISSUE, SAYS DONOVAN

"Captain Sidestepping as Usual," He Says of Debate Challenge Acceptance.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 19.—"Hobson is now on his way to get his attendance record to seven hours a session," to-day declared Representative Donovan, of Connecticut, who, after several tilts with Representative Richmond P. Hobson yesterday, challenged the Alabama to a joint debate on the subject of absenteeism.

"The genial Captain Hobson is sidestepping as usual," said Donovan. "I challenged him to debate the question. Resolved, That absence from Congress by Representatives in good health is honest and justifiable," with Hobson taking the affirmative. Hobson came back with the statement that he will debate the question of criminality, to include appearances before grand juries on charges of irregularities in the liquor traffic.

"I have no knowledge of the workings of a grand jury—that is to say, none has ever passed on any acts of mine at any time—and I can not debate a question I am not familiar with."

"The issue between Hobson and me has been absenteeism and there has been no evasion of the issue on my part. It seems pitiful to be obliged to address these matters to Alabama instead of to Washington, where Hobson's duties demand his presence."

Shopping for personal belongings is nearly always a matter of necessity with a man. To do it for him in the perfectly satisfactory way is the great certain way of pleasing.

The great certain place is MUSE'S, where everything a man may wear is shown in the good form and the good quality that can't miss his approval.

Full Dress Appointments

It would be a truly happy thought to present some good man with a perfectly new outfit for evening—Full Dress Suit or Tuxedo, if you like—or maybe a handsome waistcoat, a modish soft silk shirt or pearl dress set; ribbon watch cord with gold slide dress set; ribbon watch cord with gold slide; evening ties or silk muffler. All of these are full essentials that never grow out of favor

Little Toilet Luxuries

And these may be the silk socks and ties that come in pretty cases, the leather bag that will keep his collars in order, the tie rack for convenience sake; a box of handsome initial handkerchiefs, suspenders and garters that match; gloves, of course.

And These for a Certainty

The house coat of beautiful, becoming color, suits his honest vanity—the soft comfort of the new bathrobe helps his daily habits, and the slippers of ease will surely help to keep him home at night.

All gifts that go out from Muse's do credit to him who gives. Turn this over in your mind before you go to sleep to-night.

BROYLES TO SEEK HILL'S PLACE IN APPEALS COURT; JUDGE ROAN UNDECIDED

Recorder Broyles will be a candidate at the Democratic primaries for the unexpired term of Judge Ben H. Hill on the Court of Appeals. He announced his intentions in an open letter made public Friday.

General report has been since Judge Roan's appointment to the Appellate bench that he would be a candidate at the primaries for the remainder of Judge Hill's unexpired term.

Only second in interest to the hot fight that would develop between Recorder Broyles and Judge Roan, in the event that the latter decides to enter the lists, would be the scramble for the recordership left vacant by Broyles.

Seven already are in the race. They are William M. Smith, attorney for Jim Conley in the Frank case; John V. Smith, selected as the prosecutor

In the criminal action against Mrs. Mary Belle Crawford, accused of the poisoning of her aged husband, Joshua Crawford, Thomas H. Goodwin, ex-Councilman from the Third Ward; Carl Guesse, also an ex-Councilman; George E. Johnson, member of the Police Commission; Wyatt P. Kelly, an Atlanta attorney, and Judge W. H. Preston, Recorder Pro Tem, twelve years and clerk of the Police Court for three years.

Because of the number of candidates it is probable that this contest will be as spectacular as that for the Appellate Court position. Preston has had the advantage of a great deal of experience in the Police Court. William M. Smith previously has been a candidate for the office, running at the time Recorder Broyles was opposing Judge J. R. Potts for a place on the Court of Appeals.

Broyles Recorder 15 years. Broyles has been Recorder fifteen years. In this time he has attracted State-wide attention through the vigorous aid he has given Chief Beavers in the vice crusades that have swept Atlanta and the part he has taken in other civic reforms.

Judge Roan, who resigned his position as Judge of the Stone Mountain Court to take the appointment to the Appellate bench, has stood at many of Georgia's famous criminal trials, closing his career in the lower courts with the Frank trial.

Recorder Broyles said in the announcement of his candidacy: "To My Fellow Citizens of Georgia."

DOCTORS THANK ATLANTA FOR FINE TIME

Officers Named, and Asheville Is Next Meeting Place—Second Largest Crowd Here.

While many of the surgeons in attendance on the convention of the Southern Surgical and Gynecological Association left for their homes Thursday night, quite a few remained in Atlanta Friday to take in the interesting sights of the city.

With the adoption of resolutions of thanks to the local medical fraternity and Dr. Floyd McRae especially, and resolutions of appreciation for the courtesies extended them by Manager A. R. Keen, of the Georgian Terrace, the association concluded its twenty-sixth annual session late Thursday afternoon.

The election of officers consumed a good portion of the time earlier in the day, and the afternoon session was presided over by the new president, Dr. John Wesley Long, of Greensboro, N. C.

Other officers elected were: Vice presidents, Arthur Carroll Scott, Temple, Texas, and James F. Mitchell, Washington, D. C.

Secretary, W. D. Haggard, Nashville, Tenn.; re-elected. Treasurer, LeGrand Guerry, Columbia, S. C.

Council, Stuart McGuire, Richmond, Va.; Bacon Saunders, Fort Worth, Texas; Rudolph Matas, New Orleans; J. M. T. Finney, Baltimore; John Young Brown, St. Louis.

Chairman of arrangements committee, Hubert A. Royster, Raleigh, N. C.

Asheville, N. C., was named as the next place of meeting. The convention had the second largest attendance of any in its history, the 1929 meeting holding the record.

Police Seek Youth And Girl Who Took Auto for 'Joy Ride'

Police are searching for a young man with eyeglasses, a fur-lined overcoat and a derby hat, and a young woman in a blue hat, a gray suit and a crimson undershirt which peeps out from a slit skirt.

They are supposed to have taken a touring car belonging to E. C. Rupley from in front of the Atlanta National Bank Building late Thursday and then returned it after "joy riding" for an hour and a half.

The theft of the automobile was noticed by a traffic policeman. He declared he saw the young man and the girl step into the automobile shortly after Rupley left it standing in front of the building, and that they drove slowly up Whitehall street, saluting him as they passed.

TURNER BEGINS FIGHT FOR RAISE

Electrician, Angered at Action of Aldermen in Turning Down Increase, Seeks Referendum.

City Electrician Turner is busy preparing to have the question of the increase in the salary of his office referred to the voters.

"I don't see what right a man like Alderman C. H. Kelley has to turn down a salary raise of an official elected by the people," said Turner. "He wasn't elected by the people; he was elected by Council."

The electrician was piqued by the vote of Aldermen Ringsdale, Kelley and Warren, which killed his raise. According to City Attorney Mayson, the salary of the office must be fixed the year before election by a charter provision.

Unless the electrician can get an election on the matter before the first of the year or have a special meeting of the City Council called and the matter reconsidered, there seems to be little chance for him to get the increase.

$3,349 IS ADDED TO FUND FOR CHAMBER

$5,874 of $12,500 From Atlanta Now in Treasury of the State Organization.

A clean-up of $3,349 was reported at 1 o'clock Friday afternoon at the inception of the "whirlwind campaign" committees of the Georgia State Chamber of Commerce...

With the $2,525 already subscribed, the total to noon Friday amounted to $5,874, leaving $6,626 yet to be subscribed.

The majority of the subscriptions, however, were for three years, so the amounts received really made a very impressive showing...

W. F. Parkhurst, in making the report for his committee, stated that an Atlanta man who wished his name not to be made public had agreed...

Following are the amounts reported by the various committees: W. F. Parkhurst, $280; St. Elmo Massengale, $475; Harris G. White, $280...

WINNER IN GIFT CONTEST WILL BE TOLD SATURDAY

By MARY LEA DAVIS.

There was a veritable avalanche of letters on the closing day of the Christmas present contest. All letters which came yesterday will be considered, but none after that...

This has been the most successful contest ever inaugurated by The Georgian's magazine page. It certainly was popular. I can attest to that part, because I received and read every one of the letters.

And the idea itself was a success. I know of a good many married people who were aided in solving the Christmas gift problem by reading the suggestions offered by our readers.

Here are some of the last letters received: A MAN'S IDEA. Miss Mary Lea Davis: The most appropriate gift a husband could give his wife would be to give her free access to his pocketbook...

FOR A HUSBAND. Miss Mary Lea Davis: In selecting a Christmas present, remember the recipient, not the giver, should be pleased. If husband likes to smoke, give him a nice pipe...

FOR A WIFE. Miss Mary Lea Davis: I shall present my wife on Christmas Eve a check larger than I can afford for a single present, being fortified with the knowledge that the greater part of it will go into the common exchequer...

A SURPRISE FOR WIFE. Miss Mary Lea Davis: I shall present my wife on Christmas Eve a check larger than I can afford for a single present, being fortified with the knowledge that the greater part of it will go into the common exchequer...

Books and Magazine. Miss Mary Lea Davis: I will give my husband a year's subscription to The Georgian. He will appreciate a paper he can take time and read after supper...

A DAILY PAPER. Miss Mary Lea Davis: I will give my husband a year's subscription to The Georgian. He will appreciate a paper he can take time and read after supper...

A COMFORTABLE CHAIR. Miss Mary Lea Davis: I know my husband would like to have a Morris chair, a lounging robe and a year's subscription to The Georgian...

A PIECE OF GOLD. Miss Mary Lea Davis: I think a gold piece of money, any amount, earned by the wife, would certainly make a husband feel good on Christmas morn. It would be very useful to some husbands and quite a help to the family.

A PLEDGE OF LOVE. Miss Mary Lea Davis: An appropriate gift for a wife would be for her husband to place at her plate on Christmas morning these words written in his own hand: "I love you better to-day than ever before..."

A JUNIOR. Miss Mary Lea Davis: The most perfect gift to a husband on Christmas morn would be a beautiful blue-eyed boy—W. J., Jr. MRS. W. J. R. Gainesville, Ga.

FOR HER HUSBAND. Miss Mary Lea Davis: I think to make something useful and pretty, a tie rack, and buy some nice ties, a pair of cuff buttons, a year's subscription to The Georgian, his favorite daily paper, and to be kind and show by words and actions that you love and appreciate him, is a good Christmas gift.

CHICKENS FOR WIFE. Miss Mary Lea Davis: I will look at The Georgian want ads and see where I can buy some good chickens for my wife, as she enjoys the outdoor exercise caring for them. I will also give her a year's subscription to The Georgian, as she has learned how to raise chickens from this paper and has made a great success.

HAS SOLVED HIS PROBLEM. Miss Mary Lea Davis: I have solved the Christmas present problem for myself, knowing that my wife would appreciate nothing more than a complete toilet and manure set or a pair of gloves. These will be my present to my wife this Christmas.

HER SUGGESTION. Miss Mary Lea Davis: I wish to suggest that a subscription to The Georgian would make an appropriate Christmas gift.

APPRECIATION. Miss Mary Lea Davis: A gift that a husband will enjoy, appreciate and find useful is one that means love, devotion and sacrifice. Something useful, as well as ornamental, and always within bounds of income. Pledge to him your best efforts to be the best wife that both in your power, and assure him of your appreciation of him and his efforts.

A COMFORTABLE CHAIR. Miss Mary Lea Davis: I know my husband would like to have a Morris chair, a lounging robe and a year's subscription to The Georgian.

A PIECE OF GOLD. Miss Mary Lea Davis: I think a gold piece of money, any amount, earned by the wife, would certainly make a husband feel good on Christmas morn.

AT BAY A Thrilling Story of Society Blackmailers

(Novellized by) ... From the play by George ...

TODAY'S INSTALLMENT.

"It is very human, my child, I can scarcely advise you to do less." ... "What's the matter?" asked the Captain, cheerily.

"My name! The man has my name written in a red morocco book. You see I am caught in the toils." ... "I have that also, and a box of black, mauling letters. Here they are."

"The girl looked up at him as if he were a work of beautiful magic." ... "Through the chain of all her fears she felt the enveloping strength of a tenderness greater than she had dreamed."

"His simple nobility never led her to her final revelation." ... "I have the one that belongs to me. Will you read it?"

"And so at last Aline Graham took up her cross." ... "The length of the great table separated Aline from the man she loved."

"Very low and quiet and controlled had been her voice as she held out her won letter—the letter for which Flagg had died—and said, 'Will you read it?'" ... "How He Knew."

"And now in a deeper, stronger, more controlled voice Holbrook replied: 'Why should I read it?'" ... "It will tell you why I was there—in Flagg's house," said the girl in deepening shame.

"Does Father Shannon know?" asked the man. ... "Then you need speak no word to torture yourself, my lady, for this index told me a secret marriage."

"The girl lifted her sad eyes to the mystery of a great love. Even in her greatest hour of sorrow there was to be a man whose love she could trust." ... "The words tore themselves from the girl's spent heart and forced their way past sob-sacked throat and trembling lips."

Seeking a Husband

By CONSTANCE CLARKE.

I HAVE met him. He's a doctor and I know he's the right one, principally because he's so different from Dick." ... "The first time I looked at him I really didn't see anything at all out of the ordinary."

"I was doing to tell of all the things I was interested in, but I decided that it was none of his business anyway, and I hated his air of polite interest." ... "I was tired of having the nurses make remarks about my velvet tam and stumping sport coat."

Just Before Christmas

By FRANCES L. GARSIDE.

I AM buying only sensible presents this year," said the woman, who is the heroine in this little tale, and then she went down into her shopping bag for the money to pay for a little tin man, who, when wound up, worked a saw back and forth for fully a quarter of a minute." ... "She duplicated her gifts all day and reached home that night with tin express wagons for decrepit kin and lounging robes for relatives who never had time to lounge, and manicure sets where she had intended in anti-buying wisdom to give carpet sweepers."

Rough on Samuel. The screams which were issuing from the little house were heartrending. It seemed as if a terrible tragedy must be in progress and an anxious knot of people gathered in front of the house and wondered why someone had not sufficient courage to enter and rescue the victim." ... "What's going on in your house?" he asked. "What's the meaning of those fearful screams?"

Advice to the Lovelorn

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX.

CALL AT THE HOUSE. DEAR MISS FAIRFAX: I am twenty and in love with a girl the same age, and would like to call on her, but she lives with her sister, and keeps house for her, and is dependent on her sister and brother and brother-in-law for her support; and her sister refuses to let her receive or meet gentlemen friends. What would you advise me to do to meet her without doing so in secret? L. S. K.

AM pleased with your frankness: it indicates an honesty of purpose that should disarm the girl's relatives. "Call and let your intentions be known: surely if you prove yourself a worthy young man the sister will not deny the girl her chance at happiness."

MAKE BOY FRIENDS. DEAR MISS FAIRFAX: I am a young man of seventeen, but look older and have older habits. I am a decent fellow and don't go around with other lads. I have tried hard to make girl

THE MANICURE LADY

By WILLIAM F. KIRK.

THAT must be some book you are reading," said the Head Barber. "You ain't took it away from your nose for an hour." ... "It is a fine story," said the Manicure Lady. "All romance and adventure. Gee, George, I guess I ain't never going to get past the age when I was here, and her mother took the ship and sailed away. It says a college education but he is a bad egg and has a island in the South Seas and a great launch and a crew of hard men that he rules by fear."

"To-morrow that white line of surf will be thundering on the same shore, casting up its spray and making tiny rainbows, but you will not be here. The breeze will sway the palms to-morrow, rustling through the green leaves with a touch as gentle as a baby's kiss, but you will not hear it." ... "I suppose she done the right thing going away," said the Head Barber. "A pirate wouldn't make no good husband. Every time he went out anywhere she would have to be shivering at home and wondering if he was going to get pinched before night and be sent up the river to the gray walls."

Of Course. "I didn't know Bloggs was married," "Oh, yes?" "Who's his wife?" "Mrs. Bloggs."

Uu and Down. "I'm going to get married soon and settle down," remarked young Debtleigh. "All very well," replied his tailor, "but I'm far more interested in learning when you're going to settle up!"

EVANS PRAISES BIG SOUTHERN GOLF OFFICIAL

H. F. Smith, of Nashville, Given Credit for Rapid Growth of the Game in Dixie.

By Chick Evans. CHICAGO, Dec. 15.—Long articles are constantly being written concerning the brilliant deeds of our greatest golfers, but a few lines are usually considered sufficient for the acts of the officials who provide the scene and the setting for all the spectacular golf that is played.

When Mr. Smith became president of the S. G. A. it was a very small organization compared with the mammoth association of to-day, and the association is so convinced that Mr. Smith is indispensable that it will not permit him to resign.

Herzog Selected to Manage Cincinnati Team Next Season

CINCINNATI, Dec. 15.—Charles Herzog, former member of the New York and Boston (National League) clubs, will be manager of the Cincinnati team for the season of 1914. After a conference with the board of directors and a second conference with President August Herrmann and Secretary Harry Stephens last night, Herzog signed a contract as a player for a year, and then was officially made manager.

Herzog steps into the position made vacant by the sale of former Manager Joe Tinker to the Brooklyn club. He will play at shortstop, as did Tinker, and guide the team on the field. Herzog outlined his plans for a winning team to the board of directors and they were approved.

Herzog is 28 and was born in Baltimore. He is a graduate of Maryland University, and after a short minor league experience was signed by Manager McGraw for the New York team, with which he played in 1907 and 1908. He was traded to the Boston (National League) team and played with that club through the season of 1910 and about half of the season of 1911, when he was brought back to New York by a deal made for him by McGraw.

Georgia Basket Ball Team Plans Games

ATHENS, GA., Dec. 15.—Manager Tom Brand, of the university basket ball five, has planned a fine schedule for the Georgia five. The first intercollegiate game is to be here January 18, when Auburn comes to Athens for a game. Two trips are arranged tentatively—one through the Carolinas and one to Augusta and Savannah. They will play games with Vanderbilt, Tech and other S. I. A. A. five also. Coach Howell Peacock has Brand, Carrier, Peacock, Crump, Lester, Rawson, Cox, and Van Strycken, Brown and Rothchild working out for the team.

FOOD FOR SPORT FANS

WORRY. "I am worried," spoke Joe Tinker as he read the sport page over. "For this talk about ten thousand shovels has troubled me full sore. I will get ten thousand shovels of the price they paid for me. If I sign to play in Brooklyn far across the bounding sea. But if Herrmann amputates himself from that amount of dough I am fearful that the poor old gent will not survive the blow."

While Mr. Tinker undoubtedly is gratified to read that he is about to be handed $10,000, he is also aware that it is practically impossible to get the rent with conversational money. "My hands are tied," quoth Mr. Murphy, who evidently has learned to run the typewriter with his feet.

Shafer Through With Game; McGraw Must Get Third Baseman

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 15.—That he told McGraw to look for another infielder for the 1914 season was the statement made to-day by Art Shafer, star utility man of the New York Giants. Shafer says he has quit baseball for good. McGraw has traded Herzog to Cincinnati, and with Shafer refusing to play the National League conqueror is up against it for a third baseman.

Americus and Strangler Lewis have a perfect right to hurl challenges at Frank Gotch, but if they do not have a care he may accept. One might become interested in the rumor that several Giants are on the market—that is, one might if one were in the ivory business. The loaded ball has been expunged from the game of bowling, but the loaded bowler goes on forever.

Walsh Brothers Sign Contracts Here's One on Larry McLean

By O. B. Keeler. W HATEVER may happen to the rest of the rather lengthy roll of Cracker athletes for the team of 1914, the Walsh brothers are hooked.

Their contracts were received Thursday afternoon by President Callaway. There still is some doubt around headquarters as to the division of labor by the pair. Their names are Edward M. and James E., but which is the catcher and which the infielder nobody seems positive, not even Billy Smith.

COUNT CASTRO, the celebrated orator and suds-passer, is claiming a good deal of credit for the hooking of the Walsh family. "It's better to claim the credit before the practice season," said the Count sagely. "Then, if they make good, you can say, 'I told you so,' and if they don't pan out, why, most folks will have forgotten by that time who tipped the club off to 'em."

AS a matter of fact, it was Mike Donlin who slipped Castro the lunch, under the impression that the Count was going to operate a Virginia League club in the coming season.

"Mike says they're a great pair," said Lou. "They're kids; just 20 and 21 years old. I understand. And Mike says they are centers—young and ambitious and full of the old pep. Charley Grapevine thinks a lot of 'em, too. And those two birds are pretty wise when it comes to spotting a ball player."

So Lou, feeling kindly disposed to the Atlanta club—1 was before he signed with Chattanooga—and not having any use at that moment for the Messrs. Walsh, told Bill Smith to ask the brothers, and Billy decided to take a chance.

"I MET one of the boys while I was up East," is Bill's testimony. "I didn't see him working, but I talked to him, and he looks like a regular ball player. I haven't any confidence in this fellow Castro, you know. He's played ball for me—that is, he drew a salary from the club, which he transferred in the way of fines to the president of the league. But he's a pretty good sort, and some folks think he knows a ball player when he sees one. Lou thinks so, for instance."

HERE'S a Stove League yarn about Long Larry McLean, the celebrated ex-banded warehouse. It's an old one, dating back to the first year of the White Hope craze, at which time Larry was a member of the Seattle ball club, out on the Coast. Being several inches better than six feet long, and bulky in proportion, McLean was exploited by a Seattle writer as a likely White Hope, and some pictures were published of him in boxing poses.

THE idea came up, and, not to be outdone, a Portland sport writer began to tout Rube Vickers, a big chap, formerly a pitcher for the Athletics.

Jimmy Hughes, the exploiter of McLean, was justly indignant. "That guy's stealing your stuff," he told Larry. "What do you think of it?"

"It's the limit," Larry agreed. "Well, now, here's what you do," said Larry's friend. "You just call his bluff. Portland plays here Friday. You get a set of boxing gloves, call Vickers into the clubhouse, put on one pair and throw the others down in front of him, and dare him to put 'em on. How do you like that idea?"

"Fine," said Larry, "but suppose the blamed cuss puts 'em on?"

MISSISSIPPI After Game With Sewanee MEMPHIS, TENN., Dec. 15.—The University of Mississippi football team, just reinstated into the good graces of the Southern Intercollegiate Athletic Association, is endeavoring to arrange a football schedule for next fall.

One of the moves of the management of that team is to try to stage a game with Sewanee here in October if the Tigers will not accept the game Arkansas will probably be taken up by Ole Miss.

BRICKLEY ELECTED Captain of Harvard CAMBRIDGE, MASS., Dec. 15.—Charles E. Brickley, a member of the last two Harvard football teams, was elected captain of the 1914 eleven last night. Walter H. Trumbull, of Salem, who played center this year, was the other candidate for the captaincy. In addition to Brickley and Trumbull, two players received votes. They were H. R. Hardwick, said to be the personal choice of Coach Percy D. Houghton, and F. J. Bradlee.

Big Trades Add Interest to Race Brooklyn Fans Look for Flag

By Sam Crane. NEW YORK, Dec. 19.—The sweeping changes made in managers and the line-ups of so many National League teams will lend much additional interest to the championship race of the present baseball organization, and speculation will be rife from now on to the start of the championship season. While the magnates are not prone to hand out news during their annual meetings, still they are very well aware that all the newspaper publicity their league gets during the winter months adds very largely to the gate receipts in the spring, and the club owners at their meeting recently closed played their points for the publicity end with exceeding shrewdness, even if it was not intended. Charley Murphy of Chicago, himself, who is possibly the best publicity promoter in baseball, could not have done it better, and although Charley was not on hand more than a day or so, he can be depended on to get into the spotlight from now on. I look for him to launch forth more typewritten statements from the Wrigley City than he has heretofore been famous for. Murphy feels loss of Tinker. Murphy will have more than usual to work on, too, for without doubt the sale of Joe Tinker to Brooklyn was as much of a surprise as a disappointment to the Continental tourist, and if he does not consider it a throw-down then he has changed in disposition to a surprising, if not sad, degree. So we can expect with confidence assurance that many things red hot will emanate from the headquarters of the Chicago Cubs. Over in Brooklyn the supporters of the home club are more than enthusiastic in the securing of Tinker—they are crazy with delight and anticipation of the Superbas finishing in the first division. In fact, the more enthusiastic are counting on a pennant, and are already making bets that way—as they were last spring, when the home team was only one game behind the Phillies for first place. Well, the more of that kind of fans the merrier, for it is guaranteed that there will be more "big business" between the Giants and Superbas, and when there is a baseball boom in Greater New York, the whole country gets a good whack at the boom, if not a fifty-fifty divvy. It must be acknowledged to the credit of Charley Ebbets and his liberal partners, the McKeever brothers, not alone in Brooklyn but throughout the big league circuits, that the owners of the Brooklyn club got the cream of the advertising of the sensational deals that have made in the Superbas, and they will be deserving of all the success that may accrue to them and the club, and in my opinion they will get lots of it, both financially and artistically. Becher Trade Looks Good. The New York club was not in a position to promote many deals, owing to McGraw's absence, but the one trade it did make—Herzog and Hartley for Becher—looks uncommonly sweet and ought to strengthen the team in what McGraw demands—speed. Becher was handicapped last season by a bad leg that prevented him from being at his best in his strongest point—base stealing, but he says he will be as good as ever next season, and if that is so the Giants will find in him a thoroughly valuable man and a winning one. There may be other deals made when McGraw returns from his long trip, but neither President Hemstead nor Secretary Foster was in a frame of mind to go beyond the instructions left by McGraw before his departure, which goes to show that McGraw still has full charge of the Giants, the authority being made absolute when he signed a new contract with the club last January at an increased salary.

BASEBALL Diamond News and Gossip

ONLY A NAME. We noticed that McCormick for his club was out to buy a player from the Giants whose moniker was Ebbets. The boss of Chattanooga has been waiting this long while to land a chap who shows the speed and class of this guy Ebbets. But now, he says, he has him—he will surely be the found, which is the And all around the South they'll hear about this new man, Phyl. FAMOUS LAUGHS. The managers of the Cincinnati ball club. The directors of the Cincinnati ball club. The owner of the Cincinnati ball club. The Cincinnati ball club. Cincinnati. The National League has certainly prepared a nice little housewarming for President Tener. If you listen closely you will hear a harsh, uncomely sound which is the sardonic laughter of the last president, Mr. Lynch—who spoke of "dignity" in his swan song. Tilly Shaffer, of the Giants, announces again that he is through with baseball. As this is about the fourth occasion, we trust he will get away with it this time. We are glad to learn that Mr. Herrmann has had nothing to do with running the Cincinnati club, as it enables us to think better of Mr. Herrmann than heretofore. If Mr. Ebbets is not careful, Tinker will double cross him and accept his terms. Then that $25,000 might never return. The University of Pennsylvania is going in for cricket, having apparently abandoned hope of doing much in football and baseball.

"AWAY ABOVE EVERYTHING"

UHLAN—World's Greatest Trotter

BILLINGS' trotting gelding, Uhlman, made historic the 1911 meet at Cleveland, when, on August 11, he lowered the world's record held from 1906 by Major Delmar, by covering the half-mile to wagon in 56 1/4 seconds. This clipped 3 1/2 seconds off Major Delmar's mark. Uhlman's new record is not only the world's trotting record to wagon, but even faster than Major Delmar's record of 59 1/4 seconds to sulky and only a quarter of a second slower than Dan Patch's paced half-mile to sulky behind a wind shield.

REAL ESTATE AND CONSTRUCTION NEWS

Big Development of Piedmont Ave. Tract; Streets 80 Feet Wide

Woodland Hills Company to Begin Operations January 1—Loan Money Rate Drops to 6 Per Cent. One of the biggest developments in years of suburban property will be begun about January 1 on Piedmont avenue at Chesire Bridge road.

The Woodland Hills Company will set up a large tract of land, widening Piedmont avenue to 80 feet. The Chesire Bridge road has already been widened to 80 feet for some distance east of Piedmont and will be continued at this width to Peachtree road.

Highland avenue will be connected with the Chesire Bridge road, this road having already been deeded jointly by the Woodland Hills Company and the Land Lot 3 Realty Company. Highland avenue will connect with the Chesire Bridge road at a width of 100 feet.

This connecting link will enable the people who lives in Inman Park to go out Highland avenue to the Chesire Bridge road and on to the proposed Ogilthorpe University on Peachtree without having to come to Peachtree at Ponce DeLeon avenue. It will also open up some of the finest territory around Atlanta.

The concern has been granted a charter by the Superior Court, and has a permit from the Water Board to lay a water main from Ansley Park out Rock Springs avenue into Piedmont avenue, and along the Chesire Bridge road and Piedmont avenue to Peachtree road, making a complete water circuit.

Money at 6 Per Cent. No extraordinary sign of prosperity is evident in Atlanta to-day than the availability of money loans at smaller rates of interest than formerly.

Improving Eleventh Street. The County Board has begun the resurfacing with macadam and an oil preparation West Eleventh street between the Peachtrees. The county has put twelve men to work on the job.

Spinners' Takings for Week Shows Increase

According to Secretary Hester, the visible supply of American cotton during the week shows an increase of 1,432,344 bales, or the same as the increase in 1912 and an increase of 159,123 bales during the corresponding week of the year.

World's supplies of American cotton for the week decreased 126,137 bales, as compared with an increase of 343,564 bales during the same week last year, against an increase of 250,122 bales for the corresponding week in 1911.

NEW YORK, Dec. 19.—In sympathy with better Liverpool cables, the cotton market opened steady to-day, first base Thursday's fine. There was very little snip to the market and trading was very light.

After the call bears seized the opportunity to sell on the hard spots and prices broke sharply, showing a net decline of 4 to 12 points from the opening within fifteen minutes after the movement started.

Conservative operators believe that the market is overvalued and are gradually before the movement. Liverpool cables that there is more doing in Manchester.
