Richly Dressed Stranger With Blank Mind Is Being Treated at Grady Hospital.

A woman, richly dressed and of handsome appearance, whose mind has been a blank since her arrival in Atlanta Wednesday night over an Atlanta and West Point train, has presented the police department of this city with one of the most baffling mysteries which it has confronted in some time.

The woman is being treated at the Grady Hospital in an effort to restore her mentality and clear up the mystery of her identification and explain the peculiar circumstances under which she came to Atlanta.

At the hospital the patient at intervals has broken into speech, however her stories are conflicting.

Investigation through railway channels showed that the woman had boarded a train at Asheville, N. C., with a ticket for Atlanta.

FRANKING WILL BE KNOWN FRIDAY

Judge L. S. Roan, who has under consideration the motion for a new trial for Leo M. Frank, was in conference Thursday with Judge George L. Bell. Neither would discuss to what extent, if to any, the Frank case had been the subject of their talk.

Judge Bell, when questioned on the matter, said: "There was nothing to it. Judge Roan and myself have been friends a long time and ours was simply a friendly conversation.

Judge Roan will make the announcement of his decision Friday morning. He was given a copy of the amended motion Thursday afternoon.

Some of the leading lawyers of the city who have been following the case expressed the opinion that, disregarding the contention that error had been committed, the defense had established a powerful reason for a new trial in the alleged bias of A. H. Henkle.

Chances for New Trial. The chances for a new trial on this ground alone, they said, hinged on whether Judge Roan would accept the argument of Solicitor Dorsey that Henkle, even if he made the remark credited to him by the defense, would not have been prejudiced in the sense that he could not go into the jury box with mind open to the evidence, or whether the judge would hold with the defense that Henkle entertained an irreducible bias against the defendant.

The defense submitted affidavits from well-known citizens in Sparta, Monroe, Albany and Atlanta testifying that the signers had overheard Henkle not only express his belief in Frank's guilt, but roundly denounce him and say that he would like to have a hand in his punishment.

October Cotton Goes Down 57 Points as Longs Rush to Sell

NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—Though tremendous selling by the longs and general liquidation by the South sent October cotton here down 56 points from last night's mark, to 15.25, or a net loss of $2.45 a bale, while other positions suffered accordingly, a rise is anticipated because of continued bad weather throughout the cotton belt and the frost warnings issued overnight for Tennessee, North and South Carolina, Georgia, Alabama and Mississippi.

The activity of the longs was due mainly to the fact that October was on the eve of expiring and those who followed the advance of late were caught holding heavy lines, which were dumped upon the market at the opening.

ROAN UPHOLDS JURY VERDICT

DORSEY AGAIN VICTOR IN STATE'S GREATEST FIGHT FOR MAN'S LIFE

Leo M. Frank, convicted August 25 of the murder of Mary Phagan, and sentenced to hang, to-day was denied a new trial by Judge L. S. Roan.

Again in the shadow of the gallows from which he was reprieved by the motion for a new trial, Frank will be saved a second time by an immediate appeal to the Supreme Court by his lawyers.

The convicted man's friends and counsel declare that his case will be carried to the highest court in the land, if need be, to prove that he is innocent of the revolting murder of the little factory girl.

Bowed with grief in her home in Brooklyn, Mrs. Rae Frank, mother of the young factory superintendent, received the news of the failure of the long fight for another trial for her accused son.

Friends of Frank conveyed the news to him in his cell at the Tower. The prisoner received the news quietly and with the same calmness that he has met every new development in the sensational murder mystery.

"I am prepared for anything," he said. "I expected that I would be granted a new trial by Judge Roan, it seemed so palpable that I did not receive a fair trial. However, I know that it will come out all right in the end. My case is in the hands of my lawyers. I feel that ultimately they will be able to establish my innocence. I will say now as I said when I was arrested and as I said when I was on the stand, that I know absolutely nothing about the murder or the murderer."

The decision by Judge Roan ends another chapter in the prolonged fight for the life of the factory superintendent.

Counsel Array Brilliant

Few men in Georgia have had as distinguished and able counsel as have represented Frank in his long battle for life and liberty, Rosser and Arnold being recognized through the South as in the forefront of their profession. Their presence in a case, already notable from its highly tragic circumstances and the prominence of the accused, lent it additional notoriety and made it the South's greatest murder mystery.

Every stage in the development of the State's case and in the preparation of Frank's defense has been watched with the utmost interest, not only in Georgia and the other Southern States, but throughout the country.

After a postponement from the last week in June, Frank's trial was begun July 28, the jury being selected in an unexpectedly short time and the State beginning the outline of its case on the first day.

No more thrilling legal encounter ever has been witnessed in a Georgia court of justice than that of the two veterans, Rosser and Arnold on one side, and the young Solicitor General, assisted by Attorney Frank A. Hooper, on the other. Through four long weeks they battled, the fortunes of the contest appearing to shift from one banner to the other and back again.

Persons who fancied that the Solicitor General, inexperienced in comparison with his rival lawyers, would be ground to pieces by the ferocity of Rosser and Arnold's first onslaught, were to be proved vastly mistaken. If Dorsey was youthful, he also was a fighter. He seldom let his opponents "get set." He seldom permitted any of the expected onslaughts to get under way. The attacks upon the State's case not often gained much impetus before they were brought up short by the Solicitor's stubborn resistance.

The outcome of the trial which earlier had been predicted as another triumphant victory for the veteran lawyers, Rosser and Arnold, soon became a matter of doubt. When Frank made his address to the jury, probably the most wonderful and impressive statement ever delivered in Georgia by a person on trial for his life, the chances for an acquittal seemed to be greatly increased. Up to the time that Solicitor Dorsey began his argument Friday afternoon, August 22, the general impression was that there would be an acquittal or a mistrial.

But the majority of persons had not reckoned with the vitriolic denunciation and invective that the Solicitor General had in store for the defendant, nor with the strength of the chain of circumstances which he had welded about the accused man.

The lawyers for the defense charged in the arguments for a new trial that Dorsey warped and misrepresented the evidence in that last appeal to the jury; that he stated as facts things for which there was no vestige of warrant in the record and persistently misled the jurors by appealing to prejudice and fear of mob violence.

Whether or not their accusations had any foundation, it undoubtedly is true that this final savage attack upon Frank as a pervert and a degenerate and as the red-handed murderer of the innocent factory girl was the greatest factor in the verdict of guilty which was returned on the second ballot within a short time after the jurors had retired to their room.

Frank was not in the courtroom when the verdict was returned, his presence having been waived by his attorneys through fear of violence in case an acquittal was brought in. His mother and his wife, who had been with him in the court room every day of the four weeks he was on trial, heard the news at the Tower. Frank took the verdict calmly and comforted the two women, who were hysterical with grief.

Frank the next day was taken in an automobile from the jail to Judge Roan's court in the Throver building. Here the sentence of death was pronounced upon him. The hanging was set for October 10. Frank's attorneys made a motion for a new trial and announced that they would file an amended motion within a few weeks. Judge Roan fixed October 4 as the date for the hearing of arguments on a new trial.

It was not long before it became evident that the hearing could not be held on the date set because of the length of time for preparation needed both by the State and the defense. Judge Roan postponed the hearing to October 11, then to October 15 and finally to Wednesday, October 22, on which date the arguments were begun in the library of the State Capitol.

Wednesday and Thursday and most of Friday were consumed

JUDGE GIVES VERDICT AFTER LAWYERS END IMPASSIONED PLEAS

in coming to an agreement as to the facts of the case as contained in the 115 reasons advanced by the defense in behalf of a new trial. Solicitor Dorsey was particular as to the wording of every sentence, careful that the defense should not inject anything into their motion which he regarded as not conforming absolutely to the circumstances of the trial as they actually occurred. He was equally insistent that nothing should be omitted which he thought should be incorporated in the brief of evidence.

Arnold Delivers Philippic

Attorney Arnold, in a masterly address which was marked by unsparring criticism of the Solicitor for his so-called vindictiveness in the prosecution of Frank, made the opening plea for a new trial. He began Friday afternoon and spoke through Saturday and part of Monday, his argument consuming a total of nearly twelve hours in its delivery.

When Arnold was through, Dorsey had been described as a "head-hunter," a "prosecutor rather than a prosecutor," "a player to the grandstand," and had been accused of conspiring with the detectives to "get" Frank, innocent or guilty; of extorting false affidavits from Minnie McKnight and others; of using illegally and without warrant of law "third degree" methods in obtaining the sort of evidence he wanted; of departing from his functions as a prosecutor and maliciously and deliberately misrepresenting the testimony that was adduced during the trial, and of inciting the crowds to violence rather than using his official position to allay the mob spirit.

Arnold charged that Dorsey had determined upon convicting Frank because it was the popular wish and it served his own personal and political ambitions thus to play in with the popular desire.

The Frank lawyer contended that a new trial should be granted because of the unfairness of the prosecutor; because of the demonstrations made during the trial, which he said were sufficient to intimidate or unduly to influence the jury; because of certain phases of the judge's charge to the jury; because at least two of the jurors were prejudiced against the defendant before the trial began and because illegal evidence relating to Frank's conduct with women had been admitted into the record over objection of counsel for the defense.

Hooper Ridicules Defense

Attorney Hooper occupied only an hour in his argument against a new trial. He was followed by the Solicitor, Rosser, against the arguments with one of his characteristically bitter and sarcastic speeches.

Hooper scouted the charge of the defense that Heneslee or any other juror was prejudiced. He said that there was every reason to doubt the affidavits of the persons who had sworn to hearing Heneslee express his opinion of Frank's guilt before the trial.

He pointed out that one of the affidavits was that of Max Faroux, of Albany, a man of the same race and religion as Frank. A carbon copy of an order signed by Heneslee showed that the juror on July 5, the day he is said to have made the remarks denouncing Frank in the hearing of Faroux, sold eight buggies to Faroux. Hooper argued that this gave the lie to the defense's charges, as Heneslee never would have been able to sell the buggies if he had vilified Frank before Faroux, a co-religionist.

The lawyer for the prosecution also called attention to the statements of other witnesses who swore that Heneslee had told them that he had been summoned as a juror on a date, if afterward developed, some time before he was summoned or had any way of knowing that he was to be summoned. "If these witnesses are so certainly mistaken in respect to this part of Heneslee's conversation, it is fair to presume that they are no more accurate as to that part in which they think he expressed his belief that Frank killed the girl," said Hooper.

Solicitor Dorsey occupied practically an entire day in meeting the charges of bias and made a severe attack on three of the defense's witnesses against Heneslee—C. P. Stogard, a representative of the Masons' Amity; Sam Aaron, of No. 217 Crew street, and R. L. Gremmer, of Albany. He branded them all as not worthy of belief.

Rosser's Address Telling

After concluding his attempt to riddle the charges of prejudice, on which the defense was laying much emphasis in its arguments for a new trial, the Solicitor took up in turn the other contentions of the opposing lawyers and discussed them at length, declaring that they presented only the most fragile grounds for meddling with the verdict already returned.

Attorney Rosser made one of the most telling addresses of his career in presenting anew and summing up the reasons for demanding a new trial. Bitingly sarcastic, as is his custom, he was even more forceful than in his eloquent address to the jury last August. He made bitter comment on the conduct of the detectives and the Solicitor in the case and declared he never had encountered such outrageous prosecution as was being visited upon Leo Frank.

WILSON MAY RECOGNIZE REBELS

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31.—Strong evidence that President Wilson is planning immediate and forceful action against General Huerta, the Mexican dictator, was given to-day when he took up the question of recognizing the Mexican Constitution. He had a long conference at the White House with Acting Secretary of State Moore regarding the legal aspects of the situation. It is understood that the recognition of the belligerency of General Carranza was tentatively approved. It is said that one of the vital features of the President's new policy toward Mexico will be the support of the Constitutionalist cause by the United States Government in the same vigorous fashion that former Secretary of State Knox encouraged the anti-Zelaya movement in Nicaragua. Dispatches from General Carranza, in Hermosillo, Mexico, say that he has an army of 30,000 men in the field. Attaches of the Constitutionalist Continued on Page 4, Column 4.

Consideration of the suggestion of Mayor Woodward that the locker clubs of the city should be investigated before the licenses were renewed resulted in a declaration by Mayor Pro Tem James E. Alderman Warren said the best people of the city demanded that a number of the so-called clubs should have their licenses revoked. Chairman Colcord said a thorough inspection of the clubs would be made.

JUDGE L. S. ROAN, WHO RENDERED DECISION DENYING A NEW TRIAL

COUNSEL FOR DOOMED MAN BEGIN FIGHT FOR APPEAL IMMEDIATELY

Leo M. Frank was denied a new trial Friday by Judge L. S. Roan. Luther Z. Rosser, chief of counsel for the man convicted of the murder of Mary Phagan, made a request immediately upon the announcement of the decision that Judge Roan should not resign his seat on the bench of the Criminal Court until a bill of exceptions had been filed, taking the case to the Supreme Court. Rosser also insisted that Judge Roan's remarks with which he prefaced his decision and in which he expressed his uncertainty as to Frank's innocence or guilt should be incorporated as part of the bill of exceptions. This was strenuously resisted by Solicitor Dorsey, who maintained that the procedure was irregular and unusual, and that he was not aware that it ever had been done before. "Let's not quarrel over whether it ever has been done before," shouted Attorney Rosser. "Let's have the truth for once." In giving his decision Judge Roan had said: "Gentlemen, I have given this question long consideration. It has given me more concern than any other case I ever was in. And I want to say here that, although I heard the evidence and the arguments during those thirty days, I do not know this morning whether Leo Frank is innocent or guilty." "But I was not the one to be convinced. It appears that the jury was convinced and I must approve their verdict and overrule the motion." When the Solicitor objected to the admission of the court's uncertainty, Judge Roan replied: "Well, that's exactly the way I feel about it, gentlemen; you can do with it what you wish." The remarks will constitute a part of the bill of exceptions which will take the great murder case before the Supreme Court. Here is the formal order overruling the motion for a new trial: "Supreme Court, County of Fulton. "The State vs. Leo M. Frank. "After carefully considering the above and foregoing motion and amended motion, and the affidavits submitted by the State, the motion for a new trial is overruled and denied this October 31, 1913. Then you are going to elope." The girl, he said, confessed and abandoned the plan.

The decision fell like a blow on the attorneys and friends of the convicted factory superintendent. They had hoped against hope for a new trial on at least one of the many grounds that had been advanced. It was apparent, however, that Rosser and Arnold were not without a premonition of the failure of their second hard fight for the life of their client. They came into Judge Roan's office with sober faces, and displayed little of the geniality that ordinarily marks their conduct. Solicitor Dorsey wore his usual complacent air and awaited the decision without any show of apprehension. The suspense in the hour and a half while the formalities of closing the hearing and approving the records were being completed was even greater than the time last August when the crowd was awaiting the verdict against Frank. Even more is at stake this time than before. If the motion for a new trial failed, it meant that another recourse in the battle for Frank's life and freedom had been exhausted. No one was in the office of Judge Roan save the judge, the lawyers for the defense, Solicitor Dorsey, several court attaches, one or two friends of Frank and the newspaper men. Impressed by the portentousness of the occasion, the few people in the room looked on in absolute silence and a certain dread expectancy. There was only the conversation of the lawyers necessary to the arrival at an agreement over the records and the Continued on Page 4, Column 4.

Seats for Women On Cars? Yes, if They Carry 'Em

Here's a new fad for Atlanta women! Who'll be the first to borrow the scheme?

An attractive young woman boarded an express train in New York in the rush hour and calmly and quietly took a little folding commode from under her arm, spread its legs on the floor and sat herself in comfort on her portable seat.

"I do not expect the men to give me their seats," she said to one who questioned her. "I work, as they do, and am entitled to no more. When a woman enters into competition with men, she should give and take with men and not look for special favors. But I have to go to work and come from work in the rush hours. So I carry my own seat--that's all."

Engineer and Fireman Lose Lives in Wreck

GRIFPIN, Oct. 31--Engineer Thomas Gay and his white fireman were killed this afternoon when Southern Railway passenger train No. 23, Columbus to Atlanta, was wrecked two and one-half miles above Knappton, near here. The engine jumped the track and overturned.

'Spook' Night To Be Ideal-Fair, Frosty

As 'twill be a fine night for spooks, Precursor Weatherman, of the Weather Bureau, issued the following prediction for Friday:

COME TAX BARS LOCAL BANKERS

Face Problem in Teaching Patrons New System, Which Levies on Interest Due Saturday.

The first effect of the income tax, touching the coupons and registered interest due November 1, was noted in Atlanta Friday in the number and gravity of the conferences in various banks, and particularly in the meeting of a Special Clearing House Committee, headed by Robert F. Maddox, of the American National Bank.

The bankers were in a flurry--at least, as nearly as a flurry as bankers ever get. The confusion spread also to other investment firms and centers, but most of the interest centered in the meeting of the Clearing House Committee, which would settle a uniform plan by which the Atlanta banks would cope with the situation.

Mother to Fight Suit, Once Mistried

It was believed Friday morning that the suit by Ralph Henderson, through the plaintiff, against A. C. Polk, a West End merchant, declared a marital Thursday, will be presided over by the plaintiff, who said punitive damages to the extent of $5,000.

JUDGE L. S. ROAN, WHO RENDERED DECISION DENYING A NEW TRIAL

"The jury was convinced; it is my duty to deny a new trial," said Judge Roan.

DEFENSE GETS READY FOR FINAL STAND IN FIGHT TO SAVE FRANK

Closed upon the defeat of their motion for a new trial, the attorneys for Leo M. Frank, convicted of the murder of Mary Phagan, began Friday the draft of the bill of exceptions which will take the case to the Supreme Court of the State.

The new trial was denied by Judge Roan with the remarkable statement that he himself was not certain of Frank's innocence or guilt.

Attorney Reuben R. Arnold had part of the draft prepared by noon. Leonard Haas, another of the lawyers for Frank, was busy making copies of the affidavits which figured prominently in the hearing for a new trial.

Indications Friday were that the arguments before the Supreme Court in behalf of a new trial would begin the last week in January or the first in February.

The clerk of the Superior Court has ten days in which to make a copy of the record to file with the Supreme Court. Because of its volume in the Frank trial, he will require all of the time given him by law.

To Reach Climax on Appeal

The Supreme Court, when the appeal is brought to its cognizance, will place it on its docket to be heard in January or February, it is believed. The decision of the Supreme Court will be handed down in from one to six months after the conclusion of the arguments.

The arguments, which have grown in intensity as the great murder trial has progressed through its various stages, will reach their climax before the Supreme Court, as this is regarded as practically the last stand of the lawyers who are fighting for the life of Frank.

Luther Z. Rosser, chief of counsel for the man convicted of the murder of Mary Phagan, made a request immediately upon the announcement of the decision that Judge Roan should not resign his seat on the bench of the Criminal Court until a bill of exceptions had been filed, taking the case to the Supreme Court.

Rosser also insisted that Judge Roan's remarks which he professed his decision and in which he expressed his uncertainty as to Frank's innocence or guilt should be incorporated as part of the bill of exceptions.

'Let Us Have Truth for Once'

This was strenuously resisted by Solicitor Dorsey, who maintained that the procedure was irregular and unusual, and that he was not aware that it ever had been done before.

"Let's not quarrel over whether it ever has been done before," shouted Attorney Rosser. "Let's have the truth for once."

In giving his decision Judge Roan had said: "Gentlemen, I have given this question long consideration. It has given me more concern than any other case I ever was in. And I want to say that, although I heard the evidence and the arguments during those thirty days, I do not know this morning whether Leo Frank is innocent or guilty."

"But I was not the one to be convinced. It appears that the jury was convinced and I must approve their verdict and overrule the motion."

When the Solicitor objected to the admission of the court's uncertainty, Judge Roan replied: "Well, that's exactly the way I feel about it, gentlemen; you can do with it what you wish."

The remarks will constitute a part of the bill of exceptions which will take the great murder case before the Supreme Court. Here is the formal order overruling the motion for a new trial: "Supreme Court, County of Fulton. The State vs. Leo M. Frank. After carefully considering the above and foregoing motions,

OPPORTUNITY MADE TO MEXICO

Wilson Considers Recognition of Carranza Forces.

SITUATION IN BRIEF.

President Wilson Friday took up the question of recognizing the Mexican Constitution, and it was indicated that he was planning for a future action against Carranza.

From Mexico City came the word that Huerta will defy President Wilson in the expected demand for his resignation.

The Frankfort Arsenal at Philadelphia is working night and day, and there is great activity at the League Island navy yard. This is regarded as most significant.

General Felix Diaz will take refuge in the United States. He will not go to Cuba, fearing he will be assassinated there, but instead will be put on the steamer to Mexico and brought to Galveston.

An attack of the Japanese embassy at Washington, it is disclosed, has been in Mexico City several weeks on a mission to Huerta.

Chihuahua City is reported to have been captured by a rebel army led by General Villa. The rebels are said to have retreated without firing a shot.

Constitutionalists attacking Monterrey are reported to be driving the Federalist defenders into the city's center. Fighting has been raging for five days.

The German gunboat Bremen is at Vera Cruz. It is reported that Japanese officials have been conducting secret negotiations with General Huerta at Mexico City and that the latter is being contacted by the situation which is puzzling diplomats of the world.

Italy has dispatched a warship to Mexico City to join the international fleet now forming there.

Wilson Considers Recognizing Rebls. WASHINGTON, Oct. 21.—Strong evidence that President Wilson is planning immediate and forceful action against Carranza, the Mexican dictator, was given today when he took up the question of recognizing the Mexican Constitution.

FLAMES END LIFE OF LAY IN CRADLE

Frank Appeals to State Supreme Court for New Trial

MOTHER IN CRISIS HELD BACK

Flames Suddenly Burst From Home, and All Attempts at Rescue Prove Futile.

With a frantic mother restrained by force from leaving a raging fire to rescue it, the two-month-old child of John Shooman, No. 114 Mills street, was burned to death Friday afternoon as it lay in its cradle.

The mother was in the street when flames suddenly burst through the front window of the state home. Frantically rushed into the blazing structure to rescue the occupants, but a heavy chimney convinced them it was empty and they devoted their efforts to carrying out valuables.

The baby, a boy, lay asleep in a cradle in an inside room and when the crazed mother arrived on the scene the flames forced any attempt at a possible rescue.

J. O. Wilson, a nearby grocer and one of the first to enter the house, tried to get to the child when the mother implored aid, but found it impossible. Mrs. Shooman struggled frantically to enter the house.

When the flames were finally extinguished the child was found in the house, apparently dead.

During the fire a loaded revolver in the house exploded.

The cause of the fire is the exact cause of the blaze, but was revealed by a family grate fire.

The train operates between Columbia and New York, and was going at a high rate of speed when the derailment occurred.

Local officials of the Southern declared that Engineer Gray was one of the oldest men in point of service on the road.

The body of Pearson was taken to the undertaking establishment of Harry H. Poole.

INCOME TAX FOR MADE BANKERS

Face Problem in Teaching Patrons New System, Which Levies on Interest Due Saturday.

The first effect of the income tax, touching the coupons and registered interest due November 1, was noted in Atlanta Friday in the number and gravity of the conferences in various banks and particularly in the meeting of a Stockholders' Home Committee, headed by Robert P. Maddox.

The conference opened also to other investment firms and centers, but most of the interest centered in the meeting of the Clearing House Committee, which would settle a uniform plan by which the Atlanta banks would meet the situation.

"It means a huge middle of accounting and bookkeeping," Mr. Maddox said, "there will be a great burden of extra work in the banks, and a lot of bookkeeping among the investors—a new kind of bookkeeping."

All kinds of incomes included. The income tax of itself is not hard to understand and to a certain class of citizens does not seem unpleasant. It means any and all incomes of any person who enjoys a yearly revenue of $500 or more if married.

If the person, single or married, enjoys less than the prescribed limit, he (or she) does not figure in the details of the government.

But the situation that confronts the clearing house is largely one of acquiescing the customers of its members with the new legislation, which goes into effect on the 1st of November.

Mr. Maddox said, "The idea of the government will tax the income at its source. This the corporation will pay for the interest on its bonds, which will be taken out of every coupon from the bank. The bank will pay the interest on its bonds, which will be taken out of every coupon from the bank."

ATTORNEYS COMPLETE BILL OF EXCEPTIONS IN BATTLE TO SAVE FRANK

The bill of exceptions which will take the case of Leo M. Frank to the Supreme Court of the State of Georgia, was completed Friday afternoon in record time by the attorneys for the man convicted of the slaying of Mary Phagan.

The signature of L. S. Roan, presiding judge at the trial and at the hearing for a new trial, will be obtained at once. Judge Roan then will be free to resign from the judgeship of the Stone Mountain Circuit and will take his position on the State Appellate Bench to which he was appointed some time ago by Governor John M. Slaton.

Asserting that their confidence in ultimately proving their client innocent was unshaken by the decision, Frank's lawyers, twice defeated in their battle to free the young factory superintendent, entered the fight with fresh vigor although the instant that the ruling was handed down.

Attorney Reuben Arnold immediately began the dictation of the bill of exceptions and by late in the afternoon had completed his work. Leonard Haas finished the copying of the affidavits at about the same time. The bill of exceptions will comprise 40 or 50 typewritten pages.

To Reach Climax on Appeal
The new trial was denied by Judge Roan with the remarkable statement that he himself was not certain of Frank's innocence or guilt.

Attorney Reuben E. Arnold had part of the draft prepared by noon. Leonard Haas, another of the lawyers for Frank, was busy making copies of the affidavits which figured prominently in the hearing for a new trial.

Indications Friday were that the arguments before the Supreme Court in behalf of a new trial would begin the last week in January or the first in February.

The clerk of the Superior Court has ten days in which to make a copy of the record to file with the Supreme Court. Because of his volume in the Frank trial, he will require all of the time given him by law.

Atlanta Engineer And Fireman Dead In Griffin Wreck

Engineer Thomas H. Gray, No. 622 Washington street, and his fireman P. C. Pearson, No. 119 South Fryer street, were killed when train No. 28 of the Southern Railway was derailed near Griffin, Ga., shortly after noon Friday.

The engine plunged down an embankment, and overturned. The two men were crushed beneath it.

Several of the passenger coaches are reported to have overturned. However, at a late hour, no report of other fatalities or injuries had been received in Atlanta.

The train operates between Columbia and New York, and was going at a high rate of speed when the derailment occurred.

Local officials of the Southern declared that Engineer Gray was one of the oldest men in point of service on the road. He is survived by a widow and two children. Pearson is survived by the wife and an invalid mother.

The body of Pearson was taken to the undertaking establishment of Harry H. Poole.

Family Destitute, He Steals Coal; Is Freed

In a two-room shack on lower Marietta street his wife and two children were starving from the cold. There was no fuel nor food in the house.

A block away, a mountain of coal towered above the fence of a coalyard on West North street.

Local officials of the Southern declared that Engineer Gray was one of the oldest men in point of service on the road. He is survived by a widow and two children. Pearson is survived by the wife and an invalid mother.

Seats for Women On Cars? Yes, if They Carry 'Em

Here's a new fact for Atlanta women: They'll be the first to borrow an engine!

An attractive young woman board an express train in New York on the rush hour and calmly and quietly took a little folding commode from under her arm, spread its legs on the floor and sat herself in comfort on her portable seat.

"I do not expect the men to give their seats," she said to one who questioned her, "work as they do, and she entitled to no more. When women enter the competition with men and not look for special favors. But I have to go to work and come home with my own seat—that's all."

Hubbard Tried to Shoot Her, She Says
Charging she awoke at 4 o'clock on the morning of October 21 to find her husband standing by her bed pointing a pistol at her and swearing, Mrs. Lullie Cook here filed petition for divorce from J. T. Cook.

"I truly and drinker are among other charges in the petition. At the same time, the custody of three children is asked by the mother."

Society Woman Is Held on Charge of Giving Bad Checks

Mrs. Ruth Stallard, of Ogden, Ga., daughter-in-law of a leading society woman of Atlanta, was arrested in Jacksonville Friday, charged with passing worthless checks to the amount of nearly $200.

Mrs. Stallard was in difficulty with a local dry goods firm here October 15, when she furnished goods amounting to $100, giving a check to cover the amount.

Mrs. Stallard gave the firm some of her best references in this city, including her mother-in-law. The checks came back from the bank at Jacksonville, Ga., and she came to her assistance and made the firm believe her references were correct.

Mrs. Stallard's mother died two years ago, and she had been in Jacksonville for several years. She had been in Jacksonville for several years. She had been in Jacksonville for several years.

Man Facing Gallows Sells Body for $100

WHEATON, ILL., Oct. 31—Henry Wheeler today sold his acceptance of $100 cash for his body after he was hanged for the murder of Mrs. Milton Allison, Secretary of the Chicago Y. W. C. A.

D. J. Campbell, of New Orleans, the Chicago Y. W. C. A. secretary, said he would turn it to those by the proceeds from the Y. W. C. A. building fund.

"Let Us Have Truth for Once."
This was strenuously restated by Solicitor Burgess, who maintained that the procedure was irregular and unusual, and that he was not aware that it ever had been done before.

"I am not quarrel over whether it ever has been done before," said the Y. W. C. A. secretary. "Let's have the truth for once."

In giving his decision Judge Roan said: "Gentlemen, I have given you the truth for once."

FORMER PRISON EMPLOYEES TO TESTIFY

Despite Efforts of Warden Meyer to Block Penitentiary Inquiry, Probe Is Ordered.

An investigation of the Atlanta Federal Penitentiary ordered by Attorney General McReynolds, despite the efforts of Warden William H. Meyer to obstruct a probe and minimize the importance of the charges made by Julius Hawthorne, Dr. W. I. Morton and a number of former employees of the institution, interest has centered in the testimony seven discharged guards of the institution are expected to give when the investigation is under way.

These men lost their jobs because, Warden Meyer claims, they were responsible for the charges made by Hawthorne and Dr. Morton, who, he says, assailed his administration of the prison at the instance and request of the disgruntled guards. The discharged guards, since they left the prison, have maintained that they have a complete knowledge of the hardships of the institution, and that they are ready to tell what the proper time comes, and to the proper people.

will lose his official head if the charges are sustained. Julius Hawthorne, the novelist whose release from the prison precipitated the scandal, has written to friends in Atlanta within the last few days, advising that the prison here conditions at the institution will be thorough, and that it undoubtedly will result in the prisoners being given better care. Hawthorne writes also that he intends to make the cleaning up of the Atlanta prison his sole purpose in life, and that he will continue the agitation until an investigation has been made and his charges sustained.

PYTHIANS START $50,000 FUND FOR HOME

Great Enthusiasm Is Displayed for Project at Rally of Fifth District Knights.

The Knights of Pythias are going to build a home in Atlanta. The building is to cost $50,000 and of this amount $5,000 of stock has already been subscribed. The plans were formulated at the semi-annual meeting of the various lodges of the Pythian Knights embracing the Fifth Congressional District Wednesday. Two sessions were held in the lodges in the Kiser Building.

Officers elected for the coming year are: Russell K. Smith, president; Newman Lasser, first vice president; W. G. Moore, second vice president; Young H. Frazer, secretary; Leon G. Greer, sergeant-at-arms; Ray Frank, inner warden, and Wallace Rhodes, chaplain. These officers were elected for one year each. A charter has already been obtained for a $10,000 country for the purchase of a suitable lot and for the building of the new Pythian home. Just as soon as the necessary amount is subscribed work will start on the new building. The $1,000 subscribed was put up in advance of $100 each. It is believed the entire amount will be raised in the next few weeks. The Wednesday evening meeting brought out good, hot and straight-from-the-shoulder speaking, and the enthusiasm of the Knights grew until the building fund will cheer. Mayor Woodward, who delivered the address of welcome, J. W. Austin, Shepard Bryan, Hamilton Douglas, Frank Hooper and Russell Smith were the principal speakers. Each speaker, announcing that he was in favor of the plan for the new Pythian home, was loudly applauded. "Our order stands for everything that is good and righteous, and every true Pythian endeavors to live up to his oath and teachings," spoke Austin. "The time has come when we have reached the stage of development where a commodious home worthy of the noble order in which we all are brothers, is needed."

'LET US HAVE THE TRUTH FOR ONCE,' SAYS ROSSER, APPEALING Frank Attorney Insists on Judge's Remarks With Decision Going Into Record and amended motion, and the affidavits submitted by the State, the motion for a new trial is overruled and denied this October 31, 1913.

The decision fell like a blow on the attorneys and friends of the convicted factory superintendent. They had hoped against hope for a new trial on at least one of the more grounds that had been advanced.

It was apparent, however, that Rosser and Arnold were not without preparation of the failure of their second hard fight for the life of their client. They came into Judge Roan's office with sober faces and displayed little of the geniality that ordinarily marks their conduct.

Even more so at this time than before, if the motion for a new trial failed, it meant that another recourse in the battle for Frank's life and freedom had been exhausted. No one was in the office of Judge Roan save the judge, the lawyers and the defense. Solicitor Dorsey, several court attaches, one or two friends of Frank and the newspaper men.

Impressed by the portentousness of the occasion, the few people in the room looked on in absolute silence and a certain dread expectancy. There was only the conversation of the lawyers necessary to the arrival at an agreement over the records and the grounds of the amended motion.

Deathlike Calm in Court As Decision Is Rendered

It was passing 10 o'clock in the chamber of Judge Roan, and the arguments were done. The lawyers for Leo Frank and the lawyers for the State of Georgia waited for the ruling. The last word had been said in the motion for a new trial. The final objection by the Solicitor General had been made.

CRAWFORD CASE TO GO TO GRAND JURY SOON

Port to Indict Woman for Husband's Death Likely to Be Made Early Next Week.

With the hearing of the motion for a new trial in the Frank case concluded, the next big case to occupy the attention of the Fulton County grand jury will be the Crawford case.

An attempt to indict Mrs. Marie Crawford as the slayer of her husband, "Doc" Crawford, this case is expected to be one of the first cases before the new Grand Jury which convenes Monday.

The action on the wife's behalf has been deferred, awaiting the action of the grand jury. Mrs. Crawford's attorneys are demanding an immediate investigation, while the attorneys for the heirs are also attempting to hurry the consideration of the case.

It is believed the deliberations of the grand jury will have a decided effect upon the outcome of the civil suit, which is for the division of the $250,000 estate left by Mr. Crawford.

The case was held complicated by a number of settlements having been made with some of the heirs, who are now attempting to break the agreement under which these settlements were made.

The greatest worry to the heirs at this time is to obtain a Solicitor general to handle the criminal prosecution of the charge against Mrs. Crawford, who is at liberty under $50,000 bond, made by her when she waived preliminary hearing.

Solicitor theory is prevented from handling the case, as his law firm is connected with Mrs. Crawford's defense in the civil action. Attorneys before Arnold Fisher, Towner and Barton Smith, and Colonel P. H. Brewster, Howell & Hyman, are the Crawford attorneys. Colonel J. S. James represents the Crawford heirs.

Solicitor General Reed, of the Stone Mountain Club, was named Solicitor general by Judge Ellis, but his appointment is expected to be refused by the court. Judge L. S. Ross, who was one of the Court of Appeals, has made it necessary to obtain another man for Solicitor pro tem.

Lad of 51 'Cuts Up' Dad Calls in Police

CHICAGO, Oct. 21.—John B. Palmer, 50, is having trouble with his boy William, 51, again. The lad has wanted work, according to his father.

Last August William was arrested at his father's request, but the judge he hit the road. Palmer told Municipal Court Judge J. W. Taylor he had the old habit of drunkenness originating the court over thirteen to the bridge will for 180 days.

Frank Rehearing Again Halts Dodd Will Litigation

The arduous attention which Luther Dodd has accorded the Frank case is responsible for the further postponement of the sensational Dodd will case, which was set for a hearing before Judge Ellis the first thing Thursday morning. It was decided Friday to post the hearing over until next Monday, when it is believed Mr. Dodd will be able to take up the case.

The will case is expected to be seriously contested. Mr. Dodd represents the defense, and the main contention of the case is that Mrs. Philip Dodd ordered cause No. 1277 returned to kill her husband. The estate is estimated at $100,000.

The case was argued from the district court and will be defended by the executor, who has retained Mr. Towner.

Greek King's Castles Bequeathed to Sons

Special Cable to The Atlanta Georgian. COPENHAGEN, Oct. 21.—The will of the late King George of Greece, disposing of his large Danish estates, The splendid summer castle, Glaxen, is left to Prince George of Greece, who will live in the castle. King George's main palace, next to Amalensborg, the Danish royal palace, is bequeathed to his four sons.

The will was opened to-day by the Supreme Court of Denmark and contains some famous Gobelin tapestries.

Billy Papke Is After Go With George Chip

NEW YORK, Oct. 21.—Papke has proclaimed the title of woman's midwife, weight champion, although he was announced a back number last winter. Papke remained in obscurity until Frank Klaus who held the title was knocked out recently by George Chip.

Now Papke wants to fight Chip, who is a middleweight champion, and a tough customer. The middleweight title has been held by him ever since the death of Stanley Ketchel.

Union Men Make Last Payment on Temple

The Atlanta Labor Temple Association, which has been building a new union labor home at No. 117 Trinity street, has given the association a free title to a valuable property.

The association, composed of all the leading union labor organizations in the city, was chartered May 25, 1918.

Wilson Gets Possum From Former Slave

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21.—President Wilson's coat received a possum from John Farrow, of Malabar street. Farrow is an aged colored man, who once was a slave.

The President had written him a letter of thanks for his gift.

SIDELIGHTS on GEORGIA POLITICS

By JAMES B. NEVIN

General Joseph Van Fleet, Naam, Georgia's "Secretary of War," returned from Savannah today, where he wound up an official tour of inspection of State troops that included Brunswick, Milledgeville and the famous named city.

General Naam expressed himself as highly pleased with the status of Georgia's military, and gave it as his opinion that the same is now in shape to respond readily and efficiently to any call that might be made upon it.

"If this nation should be called upon to make war on Mexico, which is not impossible by any manner of means, perhaps I know that Georgia would be ready to respond," said General Naam.

In the event of a declaration of war the National Government would have the right to call upon the various States organized under the Dick bill for their respective quotas of troops, and that undoubtedly is the first thing the National War Department would do.

"Those who are interested in the military and take any degree of pride in the same, which includes very many Georgians, I am happy to say, may rest assured of one thing—if Georgia were called upon here officers and men would be quick and ready to answer the call, and they would give an account of themselves, too, to Georgia's great gratification and satisfaction," he thinks.

The militia of this State is now in fine shape—I have no hesitancy in saying that, unqualifiedly—and that state of affairs is due in no small measure to the patriotism and self-sacrificing pride of the officers and men who go to make it up."

There did crop out some Legislative questions, but it seems rather to be crystallized sufficient to work the present organization and particularly the militia at present is a credit to the State, and very well answered while from every standpoint.

Those who keep tabs on the maneuvers of James D. Price, the Commissioner of Agriculture, have discovered great evidence of a high order of business lurking within his green and are now arguing among themselves whether he would be a better Ambassador to the Court of St. James than Commissioner of Agriculture.

Price was out at a young fair, Commissioner Price was made lord of a baby. There were fifteen entries, and they all looked good to the eye. There were some very fine entries, and they all looked good to the eye. There were some very fine entries, and they all looked good to the eye.

Price announced that he would make known his award this afternoon, and after he could only say he went up, bought twenty odd pairs of blue flannel, and that.

Officers Preparing For Church Meeting

Dr. H. M. Bell, president of Deacons University, Deas Moines, Rev. R. G. Frank, of Liberty, Mo., and E. B. Elliott, of Kansas City, are in Atlanta today to complete their plans for the 1914 Christian Convention to be held in this city next October. The Rev. Mr. Frank is executive secretary of the convention, and Mr. Elliott is railroad secretary for the denomination.

Dr. Bell was elected president of the general convention for 1914 at the annual convention of the Deacons of Christ in Toronto a few weeks ago. The convention here will be held in the Auditorium.

"I am glad to see you," said Mr. Price, "and I hope you will make a fine success of it."

A. V. Jones, chairman of the National Board of Education, is leaving for his home in New York after a tour of inspection of the State's educational system, which he completed a few days ago.

There is no question whatever that the election of Mr. Williams for Governor some two years ago, is being mentioned for purposes of comparison, provided the faithful can find a sure way to invest the present Republican holder of the job.

"There is no question whatever that the election of Mr. Williams for Governor some two years ago, is being mentioned for purposes of comparison, provided the faithful can find a sure way to invest the present Republican holder of the job."

Volney Williams possesses every attribute of confidence, consideration and business sense necessary to such position, and the world will be widespread that he may be given the assignment.

NEW ST. AUGUSTINE OFFICIALS. ST. AUGUSTINE, Oct. 21.—Dr. Bell was elected by City Council to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Alderman W. H. Allen. Lawrence Towner was elected to fill the vacant term of the late J. M. G. Carter as City Clerk.

U. S. Plans to Unite Labor and Capital

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21.—The United States Government has inaugurated a movement to reconcile labor and capital. This work will be undertaken by the new commission on industrial relations. Leaders on both sides will meet this winter.

Among those who will attend according to present plans, are Harrison Gray Otis, Charles M. Schwab, Samuel Gompers, Eugene V. Debs and William D. Haywood. Mrs. J. Rufus Harrison, of New York, will be resident commissioner in Washington.

Boston Girls Hire As Strikebreakers

JACKSONVILLE, Oct. 21.—Two women, members of the Boston Orchestra, have been secured by Manager Charles Leach, of the Orpheum Theater, as vaudeville house girls to break a strike of union musicians who quit on 24 hours' notice when the manager refused to increase the pay of the men in the pit to the advanced union scale.

Four more attractive girls are said to be on the way from Boston to play in the theater and a mercy war is expected, as neither side to the controversy is inclined to give in.

Dice Shooters in Road Blocked Churchgoers

WINECOFF HOTEL OPENING IS GAY SOCIAL EVENT

Throng Inspect Beautiful New Hostelry, Test Cooking and "Break In" Ballroom.

From the most prominent societies of Atlanta and right down the list to the gentlemen and their friends who wouldn't know whether "the migron" was a new fruit or a hair tonic, the crowds swarmed into the new Winecoff Hotel at the big opening celebration Tuesday night. A tremendous party for more than a block in front of the new hostelry. The society folks, gathered in the very latest of new fangled ideas in vesting, tattered, turkey trotted and dab-walked in the new ballroom on the mezzanine floor and then did it all over again.

The ambitious climber, who have had the attached the lights on which their goal is fixed, mingled with the real set and danced with them and away they started.

The lobby in all its splendor of Italian marble, oriental rugs and palm trees, was packed from 5 o'clock until after midnight. Until far in the morning the mezzanine floor, with its dainty furniture and costly decorations, was crowded. The Italian-etc. and set in old French style, was crowded as long as the law allowed. The hope to be.

This building is occupied by the Supreme Court of Denmark and contains some famous court cases.

DIXIE GIRL INCENTIVE TO YOUTH'S $55,000 THEFT FROM EMPLOYERS

NEW YORK, Oct. 31.—Telling a story of how the sweetening smile on a Tennessee girl's lips and the charming challenge in her eyes had made him steal thousands from his employers to pose as a millionaire spend-thrift for her benefit, only to be traced down after a few weeks of life in the bright lights, revealing how he had become a fugitive on two continents and had a dozen countries, only to give up at last and return home a penniless, John A. Schildknecht, today declared he prefers a prison cell with its certainty to a life of stolen pleasures with his fears.

The young man on August 21 was a trained employee of the Washington-Crosby Flour Company here. He suddenly disappeared. His accounts were found to be $55,000 short.

Search of the country was made for him and Effie McMin, the Tennessee girl he had lived with at the Garden City Hotel all summer and on whom he had married, together with her car and automobile.

The search was fruitless until a few days ago, when the young man was found in a Brooklyn rooming house. He cheerfully surrendered. His only schedule was for the air, but he had no money to pay for it.

"If I only could see you," he declared, "I could go to prison happily. In his case he told a remarkable story of his flight and his return. He told that after months of life as a hawker, he found himself in Montevideo, Paraguay, with only 15 cents. He then determined to come home and

STATE'S BANKERS TO CONVENE HERE

Meet, Which Probably Will Be Held in May, Will Bring More Than 500 Delegates.

Fred Hooper, secretary of the Atlanta Convention Bureau, received notice Friday from Colonel Robert J. Lorry, president of the Lower National Bank, that the executive committee of the Georgia Bankers' Association had decided to hold its 1914 convention in Atlanta. The dates for the gathering have not been selected, but probably will be in May. Atlanta is now the meeting through the joint efforts of the Convention Bureau and the Clearing House Association. Secretary Hooper, of the bank, asked the clearing house and leading Atlanta bankers to aid him, and the invitation was extended by Colonel Lorry.

The convention will bring between 500 and 700 of Georgia's most prominent citizens to Atlanta for three days. Haynes McFadden, of Atlanta, is secretary of the association, and L. P. Hillier, of Macon, is president. Mr. Hooper distributed the program for the convention, which is to be held in the Georgia Commercial Building, in Atlanta, November 13, in the new city of Georgia, Chamber of Commerce, in the Hotel. The meeting will be preparatory to the main meeting that are to be held throughout the State on the evening of November 18.

I heard a young mother talking to her little son about his teeth—telling him how important it is that the teeth be kept clean.

"If you want to be a big, strong man," she said, "and to be a big, strong man, you must have good teeth. And to keep your teeth clean, you must remember now, while you are a little boy, to brush them twice a day."

The young mother told me that it's important to have the best toothbrush and that this had helped her in inducing him to brush his teeth with this daily care. Then she said: "I also added, 'I have the best toothbrush ever.'"

"HAVE THIS MIND IN YOU"

"For your sakes, He became poor, that you, through His poverty, might become rich."
--II Cor. 8:9

"Have this mind in you, which was also in Christ Jesus: 'Who existing in the form of God, counted not the being on an equality with God, a thing to be grasped. 'But emptied himself, taking the form of a servant, being made in the likeness of men, 'And being found in fashion as a man, He humbled Himself, becoming obedient even unto death, yea, the death of the cross."

God's word for you: "Have this mind in you." Hear Him. You, too, should be obedient, ready to die upon the cross to save your fellowman.

Jesus said: "You are my friends, if you do whatsoever I command you." Are you His friend and follower? What have you ever done for Him? What would you give? What would you do? Would you sacrifice your life to save your fellowman? Surely, then, you bear your share in the support His church—His means for the saving of multitudes of men, women and children.

You are ever ready to help the fallen woman. Jesus was. You would save the man in prison, and not destroy him by senseless cruelty. Your Saviour said, "I was in prison." And you could never knowingly share in the money gained by ruining girls.

You could not willingly take for your own use the gold that comes from a brewery, bar or distillery: every penny of this is wet with the tears of women and children and red with the blood of your fellowman. You would not say that the "mind which was in Christ Jesus" would approve the liquor trade or the brothel.

For the brothel tolerated by a city makes every citizen responsible for the betrayal of sufficient girls to supply the trade. AND, WHEN YOUR CITY, YOUR COUNTY, YOUR STATE OR COUNTRY LICENSES, THAT IS, SELLS FOR A MONEY CONSIDERATION TO MEN THE PRIVILEGE OF BREWING BEER AND DISTILLING SPIRITS, AND THE RIGHT TO SELL THESE POISONS, YOU BECOME A PARTY TO THE ACT OF THE DRUNKEN NEGRO, THE LIQUOR CRAZED WHITE MAN—YOU ARE RESPONSIBLE FOR THE WRECKED HOMES AND UNTOLD AGONY WHICH THESE SIN-CURSED PEOPLE LEAVE IN THEIR WAKE.

The man drunk sinned. Yes, but what of him who sold him the liquor? What of the landlord who rented the place in which the stuff that stole the man's brain away was sold? What of the city, the State, the country which permitted the man's brain to be destroyed in order that other men may make money by that which benefits none, but harms all who touch it?

The brothel, the brewery and the bar? What think you of these? Sunday go to your church. There in God's house of prayer in the light of the cross of Christ, think of these things for which you as a citizen are responsible. What will you do? Hear God, not man, saying: "Have in you this mind which was in Christ Jesus." What would Jesus do? Go you and do likewise.

WOMAN SOUGHT AS WINECOFF PICKPOCKET

Quick Tipt of Insurance Man Leads to Capture in Atlanta's New Hostelry.

Detectives Friday got three alleged pickpockets arrested in the Howard Hotel Thursday night through the "third degree." It is believed a woman is in league with the men arrested, and the police want to get her, if possible. The three men were arrested while the "meritment" of the woman's possession was being made. D. Gilbert, a fire insurance man stopping at the Howard Hotel, discovered the woman's pockets picked in Macdonald street, and last night while watching the fun at the hotel he recognized the four men who had stolen from him. He says he knows they are the men who pilfered a tin of a white containing $80.

The suit grows out of what Mrs. Henderson declares a false charge and imprisonment about three months ago, when the boy, 15 years old, was accused by Polk of a theft of $5 on information received from a negro. Boehling Is Best of Youngsters Great Future for Griff's 'Find'

By J. W. McConaughy. A TRAVELING salesman, manager of a ladder in a quiet way, had business in Richmond this past summer. Leaving the station, he asked several persons where the Confederate Capital was located, and where was the house in which Joe Boehling lived. Nine of the ten persons questioned knew all about the home of Boehling, and but one knew where the site of the one-time Capital was—and to make things even explained that he did not know Boehling, that the town was getting too full of strangers.

EVERYBODY tells how very simple was the style of play exhibited by Virginia against Georgia last Saturday. Had they any other system of play than the one they have shown?

While Richey, an ex-reporter on Georgia did exceptionally well, and it looks like he will quit baseball.

That McWhorter's long range in the past have not been mere accidents—some would say he believes that young man simply demonstrated against the Virginia team when he was and got away from him.

LAST year Tech went down to Jacksonville in the last Saturday in October, and had a hard game with Florida.

It is all gone to show once more what has so often been said before—that no matter how PHARMACY material may be, it takes a year or two to get into the hands of the doctor.

RINGSIDE NOTES

Frank Foster, Athens promoter, was in Atlanta yesterday and closed all his business with the Michigan Aggie, while that same name Vanderbilt's little match.

The Madison will probably make his first night when he returns the night in St. Louis. Promoters there are after Joe to box Larry Tendler, Young Sae and Al Williams, at Knoxville.

The Milwaukee promoters who will put off the Kentucky championship at November 2 are trying to secure George Chip to be the other two-round contender.

U. S. PRISONERS IN PACT TO EXPOSE ABUSE OF MEN IN ATLANTA PENITENTIARY

Prisoners in the Federal penitentiary here have formed a pact by which they have sworn to reveal every detail of the abuses and bad food, just as soon as the doors of the Government institution open to the outside world.

Every man in the institution and who is ready and willing to tell what he knows about the same has been sworn to do so.

It was after making this statement, however, for several minutes, puffing a big black cigar, something he had not done in the past.

"The first thing I did after being released was to catch a car from town and go to a restaurant. I have been hungry ever since. I got out of that place, continued Ryan.

"The food is something terrible. Turnip greens and fat pork were had enough, but of late they have switched to corn meal, putting it supposed to be fed in nothing but cattle and fat pork. Four days out of every week the bread is about half cooked and is hard.

"I want to say something in regard to Warden Moore's statement about not knowing anything about the food since two months ago. I know all men who were confined in the penitentiary and let them out after they pointed out to me some of the food they had given them any black marks. This is what I called the strike." Ryan was asked.

"Well, I think the warden was trying to see how little food the men could really live on. They did not get anything enough to keep a small animal alive, to say nothing of big hardworking men.

"Then 20 men went to the Deputy Warden and demanded that the food supply be increased, or they would refuse to work. They were thrown into the hole for three days, then the Warden released them.

Ryan was a good prisoner and never was punished. Asked what he knew about cruelty in the prison, he said:

"I know many prisoners who served from three to one hundred days in the hole. In the morning they would be handed up with their hands high above their heads. There they would hang until night, when they were let down.

DIXIE LEAGUE DEMISE QUIET AND PEACEFUL

Inability to Gain Recognition and Get Star Players Figured in Reported Cessation.

By O. B. Keeler.

UNLESS our New Orleans correspondent has been slipped a boom-stick, the nice new Dixie League has blown up.

THE bulk of opinion seems to be that only Atlanta and Birmingham of the six Southern clubs were destined for double-team tactics.

Harry N. Parr, secretary of the league that "died a-borning," is unable to gain recognition from organized baseball and the Southern League.

THE original plan of the league, as set forth in this column, was to work in harmony with the Southern League.

PROBABLY the main obstacle was getting players. Many of them could be had, and they got good ones, too.

SO the new league had to fall through. It seems, though the official agencies still exist, that it may not be out of place to say that the Dixie League has been quietly and in order.

A Fine Array of Junior Suits Junior Department---Third Floor

It may be that we give more specialized attention to Junior Suits than do most stores, it may be that we go to smarter makers, the fact is that the Junior Suits we have gathered here seem a bit more for the money than is usually found.

It begins to show in suits at $15.00. As sturdy as they can be made---the materials are oftentimes Scotch mixture weaves---they are along trim lines, plain, unadorned, youthful.

Such suits that wear and look well all the while. School-going girls could hardly be better suited.

Then come the novelties at $19.75, $21.75, $25.00 up to those at $40.00 that are much like those little Miss Paris likes.

These are serges, corduroys, velvets, Scotch weaves, with coats that are cutaways, or blouses, with wide sashes, or back belts and with trimmings in the form of vestees and Oriental embroideries, with skirts draped smartly and gracefully.

It would seem there is a suit for every Junior Miss of Atlanta.

These Are the Junior Coats That Are "Taking"

Bright, attractive in fabric, in line, in trimming. Haste if them to meet all requirements. School coats, luxurious limousine coats. Boucles, Zibelines, Chinchillas, Cloths, Velvets.

Three-quarter lengths, often with a belt that is placed---by a smarter than usual maker---very low. Sport Coats that brighten the football crowds.

It's a showing of coats meant to settle happily the coat question of all who turn to it. Prices go gradually---for these---from $7.50 through $8.75, $10.00 to $15.00.

Wash Dresses at 98c and 49c

Sizes six to fourteen years. See them, then compare them with those you have bought at $1.25. The gingham, the trimmings, the stitching, the whole "get up."

MERCER RETIRES AS STATE GAME GUARDIAN

Commissioner Presented With Fine Token by Wardens—C. L. Davis Takes Office Saturday.

State Game Commissioner Jesse Mercer, of Fitzgerald, to-day closes his term of service, and to-morrow will turn over his high office to his successor, Charles L. Davis, of Warm Springs.

About noon to-day Commissioner Mercer was presented with a handsome silver loving cup as a gift from the various county wardens, all appointees of Mr. Mercer, as an evidence of their high esteem and affection personally and officially.

Mr. Mercer was overcome with emotion when the loving cup was presented, and responded delightfully to the words of the various wardens through a committee especially selected.

Mr. Mercer leaves his office after a little more than two years of service, with a record of which his friends are immensely proud.

He was the first Game Warden the state ever had, having been named by Governor Hoke Smith, after the enactment of the law setting up the department.

Mercer started with nothing to work upon, but to-morrow he will turn over to his successor $125,000 worth of property, including $25,000 worth of property in his hands as his successor.

In addition, he leaves more than $2,000,000 worth of property in the hands of his successor.

Mr. Mercer says the State is more than $20,000,000 in debt because of the creation of his department, and every county is thoroughly and completely organized for the enforcement of the law and the protection of game.

For more than a year Mr. Mercer served without salary, in his position, as the Legislature in creating the department provided no salary, and he had to provide a salary of $5,000 a year for himself.

Mr. Mercer's term of office nearly expired September 1, but he was permitted by Governor Skiles to serve longer, as there were some things which he wished to carry out before retiring, and of these plans the executive approved.

Charles I. Davis, who succeeds Mr. Mercer to-morrow, is one of the best known men in Georgia. He is recognized generally as the "father" of the State game laws, having been in a large measure responsible for the present law, under which Mr. Mercer served.

Tennesseean Gets 20 Years for Killing Wife

CHATTANOOGA, TENN., Oct. 31.—Charles W. Goodlake has been sentenced to twenty years for the murder of his wife at his summer home at Cottingham, Tenn., last spring. The jury returned a verdict of murder in the second degree.

Goodlake, who is prominently connected in this section, is charged with killing his son at the same time. He was captured after a half-hour's pursuit while barricaded in his home.

Col. Jeffries Falls As Chicken Doctor

Colonel Thomas Jeffries, Clerk of the Superior Court, admitted Friday that as a chicken doctor he is an unqualified failure. One of his prize Black Orpingtons was languishing the other day. When Colonel Jeffries returned from a brief visit out of town, the fowl appeared even in worse condition. An examination revealed that the prize bird had swallowed a string which had pulled its tongue down into its throat.

"Very simple, very simple," muttered Colonel Jeffries as he pulled the string out with a hairpin and gave the bird a pair of scissors. Five minutes later, the pullet gave him a farewell glance and lay down and died away from all earthly troubles.

MONEY CENTERS CONFUSED OVER INCOME TAX

Rule for Collection at "Source" May Halt Disbursement of Millions Saturday.

NEW YORK, Oct. 31.—Extraordinary confusion prevailed here and in other investment centers as the result of the government ruling that collections under the income tax of the tariff law shall be at the source.

Disbursements of $1,200,000,000 on stocks and bonds, due November 1, were less than $4 hours away, and capitalists and lawyers figuratively ran around in circles trying to get a solution of the troublesome question: What is the source?

As for the investors, their quest after information heightened the perturbation of the bankers and legal advisers. On account of the confusion thousands of bond coupons which will be presented Saturday will not be paid.

United States Commissioner of Internal Revenue W. H. Osborn explained that the Government tax on stocks, bonds, mortgages and deeds of trust shall be deducted by the corporation paying the interest, or agents of the corporation, and named exceptions, but this did not clarify the situation, as many industrial corporations are represented by fiscal agents which pay interest.

The lawyers are not sure whether it would be legal for those fiscal agents to deduct the Government tax, because they are not rightfully the "source."

One of the largest trust companies in New York, through which about $5,000,000 of corporation funds are to be paid Saturday, is in doubt how to proceed, and has asked for a ruling from Washington.

Most of the banks are opening new departments to handle this branch of business exclusively.

Douglas Named as Felder's Secretary

RULE PUPILS BY LOVE, NOT ROD, LOGAN SAYS

Associated Charities Head Declares He Has Tried Whipping Children and It Doesn't Work.

Joseph C. Logan, secretary of the Associated Charities, is another who believes that the whipping of children in schools and homes room will be a thing of the past. Mr. Logan says he has tried whipping and knows whereof he speaks when he says: "Punishment easily can be found in routing tasks of children, or depriving them of something which they otherwise might have enjoyed. The best punishment is that which can naturally be related in the mind of the child to the offense which has been committed."

"I have five children and I have tried whipping, but it doesn't work. Let's substitute love and kindness and patience."

The association, composed of all the leading union labor organizations in the city, was chartered May 20, 1910.

The President has written him a letter of thanks for his gift.

Let Us Talk of Things in General

The United States will be bigger before very long—Mexico will be added—and this in spite of procrastination and doubt.

The United States will be bigger before very long—Mexico will be added—and this in spite of procrastination, doubt and shilly-shallying.

A big London doctor says that there is no such thing as a criminal type. Of course there is no such thing.

The girls of Wellesley bolt their food—no news could be worse than that. It does not really matter to the human race whether the girls at Wellesley learn Greek and Latin or merely learn to read.

The parcels post is growing. We are handling a bigger parcels post load now than last Christmas time—and Christmas is supposed to be "the real load" with all the presents moving.

Before very long, by the way, ALL PARCELS AND ALL FREIGHTS will be done by the Government, which will own all the railroads and all the steamship lines.

One man killed 681 elephants—and the Bronx Zoo in New York has just presented 14 bisons to the United States Government.

All wild animals in Africa must be killed in order to get rid of the disease pests which carry.

Elephants, bisons, giraffes, all the animals, must vanish from the earth, and man alone remain.

This seems a sad program, especially to those who enjoy the fun of hunting, fishing and otherwise destroying life, but it is the inevitable.

The Attorney General of New York says that he will not allow Harry Thaw a million to keep him from the insane asylum.

Does Mr. Carnoy know and will he tell those millions are spent to hound Thaw and to vindicate "the good name" of Stanford White, whom Thaw destroyed?

Submarine mines can be exploded by wireless power. This makes war a little more difficult and dangerous—an excellent thing.

Man has now found how to explode electrically a dynamic charge several miles away without wires. When he finds out how to send power without wires to an airship—the problem of transportation will be solved.

Ruffians and Dr. Mary Walker

A venerable reformer, Dr. Mary Walker, now in her eighty-first year, is made the object of a cruel and inexplicable attack in Oswego, N. Y., a city rated high in intelligence, law and order and good deeds.

Ruffians who ought never to be at large attempt to "tar and feather" this spirited old woman, whose only offense is that she for years has manifested the eccentricity of moral courage in wearing her own style of dress.

Instead of the "smile shirt" or the "diaphanous gown" she wears a plain Prince Albert coat and modest trousers, and for purely hygienic reasons.

Do the persecutors of this harmless octogenarian know the object of their unjust and insane wrath? May these words stay the hands of such barbarians:

The first woman in the world officially to be made a surgeon in time of war was Dr. Mary Walker. She adopted male attire in order that she might move wounded and dying Union and Confederate soldiers about on the field of battle.

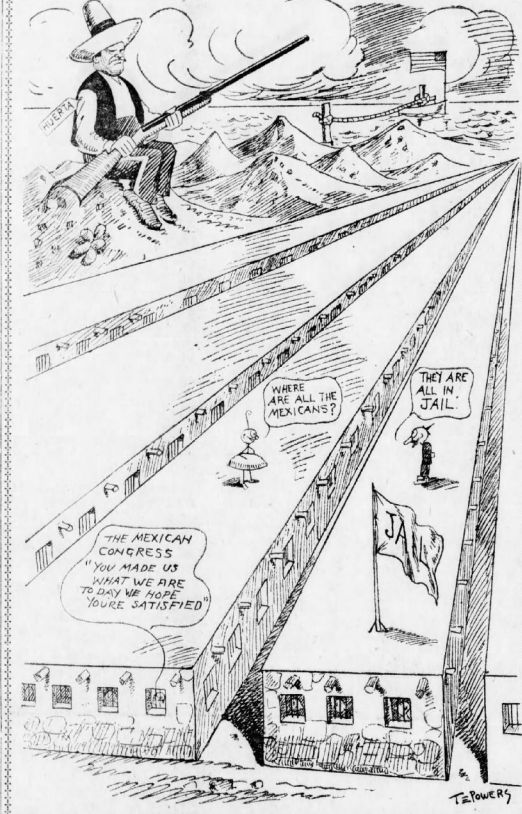

Congress awarded her a MEDAL OF HONOR when the Civil War was over, the only woman ever so recognized by the United States.

She was the first woman to attempt to vote in this country and the author of the crowning Constitutional argument through which ten States have adopted Equal Suffrage.

.. The Laws of Nature ..

By EDGAR LUCIEN LARKIN

MOST notable event occurred the other day, one that filled me with starting ideas and hope. I received seven requests to explain the Laws of Nature. These are the most gratifying letters I ever have received in one day, during forty-six years of almost constant publication.

All along, editors as well as others have thought that in this busy modern world of "mad rush for gold" that the supremely magnificient diamond and sapphire laws of nature were not suited to a daily newspaper.

Here is my own opinion from constant contact with people from every nation in the world during thirty-four years in an astronomical observatory. One person in each one thousand of the entire race of human has ever heard of a Law of Nature. One in ten thousand has ever seen one of these stupendous laws in print. They have not read the proper books. They have passed by the books wearing almost black clothes, and have missed nearly all.

In my thirteen years' writing for the Hearst newspapers I have published perhaps twenty of these laws, when writing the long series on Radiant Energy, and the other series on Electricity. Three Laws of Mind have also appeared. There are several hundred extremely beautiful, concise and majestic laws now discovered and proven in every detail.

I think that if these laws could become generally known, that the entire fabric of civilization would be greatly modified. In fact, changed; and this change would have a strong tendency to end slavery, drunkenness, prize fighting, murders and general lawlessness.

At present, great expense must be incurred to make these laws known. The "books" must be numerous. They must be written in simple, plain, untechnical language. The explanation of the laws are in symbols and language far too technical, the authors assuming that only those having received their education in science would buy their books. But my recent questions, more than ever within five years, bear that science be made easy. As a matter of course I have printed five laws without any attempt at explanation.

I. Light in passing from a rare to a dense refractive medium is refracted toward the normal; and in passing from a dense to a rare medium is bent out of its course from the perpendicular. Every telescope and microscope, every lens is based on this law.

II. The set specific heat of any material is inversely proportional to its atomic mass. The sum of the products Now, all humans simple living and current-strength, in amperes, in each of several conductors is equal to the sum of all the electro-motive forces in the circuit, in volts.

IV. All planets in the solar system make circuit in ellipses, the sun being in the common focus of them all. V. The differential of a variable affected with an exponent is the continued product of the exponent, the variable with its exponent less 1, and the differential of the variable.

This is one wheel in the mightiest engine of power in the possession of man. And hundreds of more classic beauties like these. Now, all humans simple living and moving and having their very being imparted and absorbed in these exquisitely fascinating laws of the sidereal universe do not seem to have any idea of their own existence, and are thus ignorant of their own rights and duties. And hence people by hundreds are now being laid out.

Q. Is there a limit to the eye-sight? A. Yes, the eye can not see a molecule atom or electron. Q. Can a microscope extend the eye-sight? A. No, the horizon is a circle on the earth's surface having the eye for its center, where sky

Think of Death as a Friend, Not a Foe

It is the Only Certain Thing in Life--"A Change of World" Is Desirable. The Happiest Life Would Palm If That Change Did Not Come.

By ELLA WHEELER WILCOX (Copyright, 1911)

Reanimation. SAID Life to Death, "Methinks if I were you, I would not carry such an awesome face To terrify the helpless human race. And if, indeed, those wondrous laws Or happiness beyond, and if I knew About the boasted blessings of that place, I would not bid so miserably all trace Of most knowledge, Death, if I were you. But, like a glorious angel, I would less Above the pathway of each sorrowing soul, Hope in his ease, and comfort in my breath, And strong conviction in my radiant mind, The while I whispered of that beatific goal. This would I do, if I were you, O Death!"

Said Death to Life, "If I were you, my friend, I would not lure confiding souls each day, With fair, false smiles, to enter on a way So filled with pain and trouble to the end. I would not tempt those whom I regard most dear, Nor stand unmoved and see them go astray. Nor would I force unwilling souls to stay Who longed for freedom, were I not a god. My race before me, I would take The weary world upon my sheltering breast, And wipe away its tears, and soothe its aches, and fulfill my promises, and make My children bloom as they seek to rest, Where now they curse--if I were you, O Life."

Life made no answer, and Death, in fact, no word from God's sweetest nullification. A soul to being, if I could not rest, And crown it with all joy. If into men My race seems awfully lost, Do they pursue me, mad for my career, Believing in my absence they re-appear. For your food falsehood! (So they speak again.) "Oh, it is well for you I am not fair. What I hide behind a voiceless tomb The mighty secrets of that other place, Else would you stand in impotent despair. While undressed souls straight from the mother's womb

The "Love Life" and Its Obligations

By MARY AUSTIN, author of "The Arruemaker," etc., etc.

THESE things have been brought out very clearly in the recently concluded trial of two young men before the United States District Court in California under the Mann act.

The first of them is the growing tendency of society to estimate the heinousness of the case in terms of its social reactions.

The second is the astonishing numbers of people competently prepared for life at every point except the one which has to do with the conduct of their love life.

And the third, which is the most pressing, is the need of establishing suitable restraints and penalties to meet similar offenses in the future.

It is not alone in expressed public opinion that this new attitude toward such irregularities is demonstrated.

In the sort of men chosen for the jury, in the course of interpretation of the law, and especially in the charge to the jury, there is a notable absence of the disposition of men peculiar to common offenses peculiar to themselves as men.

Out in the West it is certain that sufficient number of citizens have grown up and out of this ancient intolerance of women to stamp on public salting of this affair with a new moral force.

Any citizen seeing you as a community, in which such things can happen has been more understood, to embrace all the social and personal relations and obligations that arise out of love. One of the first things a writer of fiction learns is the extraordinary ignorance of the majority of people of human experience outside of their own experience. For this reason alone the old way of leaving instruction in the important issues of life to the parents has not proved satisfactory. In many cases the parents do not know how to help their children meet crises they haven't themselves met. They lack knowledge of social conditions and the teaching art. For telling young people that life is thus and so is not always teaching them. Things like this are never really taught until they are taken into the working consciousness of the individual.

Here in America we spend a great deal on the young generation. It behooves us as a business people to spend a little more time and consideration to prevent them making a fiasco of their lives in the present instance. For that is the outcome of the whole affair. These young men, because of certain faults of efficiency in only one department of their lives, have not only damaged the women to whom they were related, and the children they beget, but they have wasted themselves. No one yet knows what is to be the practical outcome of this case, its effect upon others.

“Yes, that’s lovely! How fine the work is!” enthused Mrs. Stevens as she looked at the hand-embroidered, lace-trimmed, high-banded petticoat.

“You’re sorry I didn’t get two like that,” admitted Helen. “But I got a nightgown with some beautiful embroidery, taking from the drawer an other fabric.”

“That’s nice! I do love a nightgown trimmed around the bottom, but you hardly ever see them. You didn’t get that for ten francs?”

“No, that was more. I’ve forgotten just what that was nearer twenty.”

“That’s four dollars, isn’t it?” mused Mrs. Stevens. “Well, you couldn’t get a nightgown like that here for four dollars.”

“Yes, I think you could, and it would be better made. See how carefully that lace is laid in. Some of the things I’ve had wanted are almost coming to pieces.”

“Well, anything you don’t want I’ll be only too glad to take. And you must not have those combinations, leading to a couple of garments she had seen that, Oh, how Dainty! Do sell it.”

“Well, she laughed Helen, wistfully, over her dress and fastened the late pink satin girdle at the side.

“That’s the softest, damnest thing that it just suits you! If you don’t mind I’d love to know what you paid for that. Oh, how Dainty! Do sell it.”

“I think this was only 69 francs—$12. I just happened to see it in the window of a little shop near the Bon Marche.”

“Why didn’t you get me one?” she reproachedly. “You know I said before you said it was something particular cheap and attractive.”

“Emmy! Emmy!” called Mr. Stevens from the front room where he was talking to Warren.

“Yes, dear, just a minute.”

“Oh, before we go in I want to give you this,” Helen took out a small square wrapped in tissue paper. “It’s a little souvenir.”

“Now, you shouldn’t have done that,” began Mrs. Stevens.

ATLANTA PLEASSED BY OLD-TIME MINSTRELS

By TARLETON COLLIER

When all is said and done, the best minstrel show is the one in which the faces are the blackest, in which the big dancers are the most dextrous, and in which the “ragger” vocabulary is interpreted the truest.

Because they have graced this show, George Primrose and Lee Dockstader have assembled a minstrel show with an appeal. As presented at the Atlanta Theatre last night, the first of four performances, it won a real triumph.

There is nothing pretentious about the show. It may even be said that the settings are rather plain, even drab, for the most part. But that is hardly a fault. There are many funny men and funny lines, and many hearty and good voices, which would make up for anything in a minstrel show.

Of them all, Lee Dockstader himself, a natural minstrel man, is the greatest. No reference was made during the Atlanta Theatre night to the fact that he had been called by the local organization. She left for Chicago to-day.

“Oh, I wasn’t long, dear,” Helen said, looking over her shoulder. “I was just looking over these things, trying to find something to give Aunt Fannie.”

“You’ve got her something,” Helen said, looking over her shoulder. “I’ve had a pair of long gloves, but I’ve given them to Mrs. Stevens. Now I’ll have to get Aunt Fannie something else, a shawl, a shawl, a shawl.”

Hints For the Household

When a pipe from a laundry basin or a bath is clogged with soap, it is a painful of soda and a handful of common salt together and force it down into the pipe. Leave this for half an hour, then pour down a large kettleful of boiling water, afterwards raising the pipe thoroughly with warm water.

To prevent flow from settling on pictures and furniture, soak some rags in a pail of water for some time and wash the articles in the water.

Cucumber rind cut into thin strips and put about where ants abound will invariably drive them away.

STATE CHAMBER AIDS LOCAL BODIES

In order that the local commercial organizations of Georgia may continue to come to grief it is the intention of the Georgia Chamber of Commerce officers to hold from time to time schools for secretaries and other officers of the smaller trade bodies. The first school session will convene in Atlanta next Friday and Saturday at which much of the preliminary work will be accomplished. Invitations have been sent to the various Chambers of Commerce and Boards of Trade throughout the State, and acceptance already received indicate a large attendance. Acting Secretary Manager C. L. McKinney, in talking of this school Friday, said that while everybody in Georgia recognized that a good Chamber of Commerce was potentially a valuable asset to a city, the general failure of so many had brought about a feeling of distrust, especially in the smaller cities. "In other words," said Mr. McKinney, "the 'bad' idea is all right, but the 'fact' seems to be in the way. And it is the hope of the State Chamber to correct this 'bad' failure by the adoption hereafter, instead of the rule. "Young men will be taught how to administer departments, office, finance and regular commercial organizations. This school will differ from that recently established at Harvard in that there will be no theoretical, but the problems confronting secretaries, who are now and have been, the same will work with the secretaries. Several sessions will be held each day of the school, and the completed program will be announced early in the week. BEER TAX COLLECTOR NAMED. SAVANNAH, Oct. 31.—(Special) News has been designated by Governor Shivers to collect Chatham County's beer tax. Brown was the collector under Governor Shivers. SIDELIGHTS on GEORGIA POLITICS. BY JAMES B. NEVIN

General Joseph Van Hook, Georgia's Secretary of War, returned from Savannah last night, where he wound up an official tour of inspection of State troops that included Brunswick, Augusta and the first named city. General Nash expressed himself as highly pleased with the status of Georgia's military, and gave it as his opinion that the same is now in a state to respond readily and efficiently to any call that might be made upon it. "If this nation should be called upon to make war on Mexico, which is not impossible by any manner of means, perhaps I know that Georgia would be ready to respond," said General Nash. "In the event of a declaration of war the National Government would have the right to call upon the troops and States organized under the Act for their respective quotas of troops, and that amount only in the first thing the National War Department would do. "Those who are interested in the military and take any degree of pride in the same, which includes very many Georgians, I am happy to say, may rest assured of one thing:—The Georgia men called upon, her officers and men would be quick and ready to answer the call, and they would give an account of themselves. One of Georgia's great gratifications and satisfaction, I think. "The militia of this State is now in a better condition than the militia of any other State, and it is a source of pride to the patriot and soldier alike to know that the Georgia men who go to make it up are a better quality than the militia of any other State. "Those who have the privilege of seeing the Georgia militia in action, and who have crystallized sufficiently to wear the present condition any particular interest in the Georgia militia, will find that the Georgia militia is a better quality than the militia of any other State. "The other day at a county fair, the Georgia militia was made judge of a baby show. There were fifteen entries, and they all looked good. The Georgia militia was made judge of the Georgia militia, and the Georgia militia was made judge of the Georgia militia."

METHODIST MEN PLAN EVANGELISM

INDIANAPOLIS, IND., Oct. 31.—The national convention of Methodist men to-day adopted the award of the laymen toward the church. The report on laymen policy was read by Bishop McDevell, of Chicago, and was unanimously adopted after a resolution for an amendment pledging the laymen to aid in making the maximum church membership sets 10 per cent per year had been adopted. "For both men and women," said Mr. McDevell, "the church is to be made one and the same, only to make fourteen hopping mad!" J. Volney Williams, who managed Colonel Pope Brown's campaign for Governor some two years ago, is being mentioned for postmaster at Waycross, provided the faithful one find a sure way to meet the present Republican holder of the job. "There is no question whatever that the selection of Mr. Williams for this position would be a blow to a large number of Democrats throughout Georgia, as well as to those near to him in his own vicinity. Volney Williams possesses every attribute of courtesy, consideration, efficiency and business sense necessary to such position, and the way will be widespread that he may be given the assignment."

REAL ESTATE AND CONSTRUCTION NEWS

Improvement Due For Old Home Site
A. K. Hawkes Will Erect Building on Site of 15 East Mitchell-Whitehall House is Ruined.

A. K. Hawkes, the architect and dealer in Kodak supplies, has given instructions to Denton & Poiry, house-reckers, to remove the two-story and basement building at No. 15 East Mitchell street, preparatory to the improvement of the property with a business building. There are no definite plans for the new structure, but it is understood that a five-story building will be erected.

Greenwood Avenue Sale
A. H. Foster has bought from J. P. Parr, through D. D. Armstrong, of the Porter & Smith Real Estate Agency, No. 23 Greenwood avenue, a $500,000.

Whitcomb Work Rushed
The work of razing the Whitcomb street has been rushed to such an extent that it is expected that the job will be completed in about three weeks. Shady Smith, architect of the county commission, has expressed great satisfaction over the results obtained.

Spring Street Committee
The committee of spring street citizens working on the proposed extension of that thoroughfare in Brookwood are proceeding quickly to get out a schedule of the proposed regulations. Property owners are being notified on the subject of the proposed project for the improvement, and the committee has received many favorable responses. It is believed that within a year, if no further project will be well under way.

Permit for Krass Store
Building Department has granted a permit for the construction of the Krass store addition to the Krass store at a cost of $25,000. The improvement will be a two-story brick addition, fronting on 24, 26 and 28 South Broad street and adjoining the store at 24 Whitehall in the rear. The main portion will be done by day labor, while the W. H. Bowen will make alterations and underpin the walls.

Triangle in Exchange
Brooks offered a swap of the triangle at Branley street and South Main street for a triangle, the price being withheld. The triangle at Branley street and South Main street, which fronts on 24, 26 and 28 South Broad street and adjoining the store at 24 Whitehall in the rear. The main portion will be done by day labor, while the W. H. Bowen will make alterations and underpin the walls.

Sale of Railroad Property
Tuesday morning, 10 o'clock, before the courthouse door the Forest and George Adair Real Estate Agency will sell the railroad property at the corner of Castleberry street and the Georgia Railroad. The tract is a block and a half from the Southern Railroad, and contains many valuable lots. The terms will be one-third cash and the balance in one and two years, at 6 per cent.

Apartment in Exchange
The third year of the five-year lease in the West Peachtree neighborhood has expired. The other two being the Byron apartments at Linden street and the Corinthian, between Pine and Huntington.
