JUDGE ROAN'S SENTENCE OF FRANK TO DEATH

STATE OF GEORGIA, vs. LEO M. FRANK.
Indictment for murder, Fulton superior court, May term, 1912. Verdict, July term, 1912. Whereupon, it is considered, ordered and adjudged by the court that the defendant, Leo M. Frank, be taken from this court to the common hall of the county of Fulton, that he be there safely kept until his final execution in the manner fixed by law.

As he further ordered and adjudged by the court that on the tenth day of October, 1913, the defendant, Leo M. Frank, shall be executed by the sheriff of Fulton County in private, witnessed only by the executing officer, a sufficient guard, the relatives of such defendant, and such other persons and friends as he may desire; such execution to take place in the common hall of Fulton county, Georgia, at 10 o'clock a. m. on that day, between the hours of 10 o'clock a. m. and 2 o'clock p. m., by the sheriff of Fulton county, Georgia, by the neck; until he shall be dead, and may God have mercy on his soul.

In open court this twenty-sixth day of August, 1913.
HUGH M. DORSEY, Solicitor-General Atlanta Circuit.
L. S. ROAN, Judge Stone Mountain Circuit, Presiding.

The trial of Leo M. Frank for the murder of Mary Phagan is at an end. It is complete. With the sentencing of the convicted man to death, Tuesday morning, the last word was written on the final chapter of the trial.

A sequel will be written, however, in the higher courts. To those courts, and against the motion will be heard by him, if he overrules the motion for new trial, Judge Roan overrules it, and if the motion is granted, the bill against the negro new week.

Some time soon, but perhaps not for a couple of weeks, the attorneys for the defense will file an amended motion for new trial, which will be presented later. In either event, whether Judge Roan grants or overrules the motion for new trial, Frank will not be hanged on October 10, though Judge Roan fixed that date in his sentence pronounced Tuesday.

A year of superlatives will stay the execution until the motion is heard by the supreme court. If Judge Roan overrules it, and if the motion is granted, that act itself will involve the cancellation of the sentence.

It is probable that the final decision of the supreme court will be known on or before next March. The supreme court either will overrule Judge Roan's decision and order a new trial, or will affirm that decision and allow the present verdict to stand. It is possible, however, that the supreme court decision might be delayed as long as a year. Until the highest court does say the word, Leo M. Frank can hope for life.

In a published statement in The Journal today, the attorneys for Frank characterize his trial as a farce and assert that the temper of the public mind invaded the court room.

Solicitor Dorsey, representing the state, has no public comment to make except that he feels sorry for Frank's wife and mother.

Looking Judge L. S. Roan squarely in the eye just a few seconds before the death sentence was passed upon him, Leo M. Frank, convicted of the murder of Mary Phagan, said:

"Your honor, I say now, as I have always said, I am innocent. Further than this my case is in the hands of my counsel."

A few moments later Judge Roan read his sentence commanding the sheriff to execute Frank on October 10.

The formally received scarcely five minutes, and the young factory superintendent went through the ordeal as unflinchingly as he passed through the twenty-nine days of his trial.

In his story to the damning testimony of the state's witnesses in the trial, he listened to the judge pass the death sentence. The authorities had kept the hour of the convening of the court for the purpose of sentencing Judge Roan, however, went to his chambers at the criminal court building on the fourth floor of the Throver building shortly after 9 o'clock Tuesday morning. Shortly after 10 o'clock, Attorney Roan, H. Arnold, Lawrence H. Rosser and Herbert Haas arrived and Judge Roan was informally notified that a motion for a new trial would be made.

After a short conference, Judge Roan was instructed to bring Frank from the tower.

George Broadnax and T. A. Burdette, and several friends, Frank greeted his attorney cheerfully and declared that he was in the best of health.

Frank arose and stood near the attorney's table, and a deputy, pointing to the side, motioned which a man men have stood and heard their death sentence.

Frank walked over to the railing and stood looking Judge Roan squarely in the eye.

EXHIBITION NO EMOTION.
Frank received the death sentence with the composure of the people in the court room. He was seated in a chair, and his hands clasped behind his back. He was dressed in a dark suit, a white shirt and a dark tie. He looked directly at the judge, and his face showed no emotion.

Will Atlanta Fans Stand Idle and See Birmingham Take Attendance Honors?

THAW LAWYERS STOP HIS PRESS CAMPAIGN AND DENY INTERVIEWS

Jerome Believes He's in for a
Long Fight to Lock Refuser
Behind Asylum Doors Once
More

The carcakers are licking the spot off the barons on the diamond, and the magic city is turning out the biggest crowds.

The dominant race in the Southern States, so far as the Atlanta and Birmingham clubs are concerned, is already settled. Atlanta is far ahead of Birmingham in its effort to beat out the Georgia village in the attendance fight.

Each club finishes the season at home. Each has eleven more days upon which to play games and the Atlanta club has eleven more days than the Birmingham club to accumulate a record. Atlanta is certainly a big bunch of people, and the fans of Atlanta must take the bull by the horns and take the attendance record for the year.

Atlanta with 200,000 fans in 1907 holds the league attendance mark, and this season there is a good chance of improving upon it. The "carcakers" play at home eleven more days, during which time fifteen games are to be played. With an average of 2,000 attendance, the trick can be turned. But 2,000 fans is "considerable" people, and no one must look back trusting his neighbor will attend and aid in making the mark do better than the average required. And that is just what it will take. The Atlanta club must stick back the club to gain the result, and it is believed that Atlanta are just loyal enough to aid in the good work.

Secrets of Frank Jury Will Never Be Known to Public, Declare the Twelve Jurors

Foreman Winburn and Others Tell of the Troubles and Complexities of a Juror's Life—Public Sentiment Did Not Influence Them.

What occurred behind the closed doors of the jury room during the four hours and seven minutes the twelve "good men and true" were deliberating on the fate of Leo M. Frank, whom they found guilty of murdering Mary Phagan, will never be known to the public, unless one of the dozen violates a solemn oath, knowingly or otherwise, to keep the secrets of the jury room.

The twelve are more or less inclined to reticence on the trial. They are tired of it, they say, and want to forget all about legal battles and murder cases for a few days at least. It was the most serious thing in my life, this sending a man to death, and I am sure that none will violate their oath," said Foreman Winburn Tuesday morning.

The twelve are more or less tired of the trial. They are tired of the long hours and the public sentiment. They are tired of the long hours and the public sentiment. They are tired of the long hours and the public sentiment.

BACK AT WORK

Other Townsend was among the few jurors who resumed work Tuesday morning. He is a teller at the Central National Bank, and he was at work at the window as usual Tuesday morning. He visited the court and was whole twelve men probably when he raised the sheriff's corn on his forehead.

The twelve are more or less tired of the trial. They are tired of the long hours and the public sentiment. They are tired of the long hours and the public sentiment. They are tired of the long hours and the public sentiment.

WILSON POSTPONES READING MESSAGE UNTIL WEDNESDAY

Message From Mexico This Morning Asks President to Delay Twenty-Four Hours, Conference Follows

WASHINGTON, Aug. 26.—President Wilson will not deliver his message on Mexico to congress today. That event has been deferred at the request of Foreign Minister Gombou, of Mexico.

The request was that the message be put off until tomorrow to enable the authorities at the City of Mexico to give consideration to some further suggestions of Mr. Lind. The president, of course, complied, and while it was stated tomorrow, the language in which this was done left the inference that the president now hopes he will not have to deliver the message at all.

What ground there may be for that hope was not revealed at the White House. The president contented himself with having Secretary Tammly read the simple announcement that the message had been deferred, but without detailed explanation as to what he expected might happen.

The White House warned with newspaper men and members of the senate and house. The members of the press especially were insistent that the message be given out for publication at the big story of the day, this presentation of the Mexican case to congress by the president in person. The people would expect to read it in full and time was getting short. Secretary Tammly, who had the message still was tied up. But he told cheerfully to wait. The great deal might have an announcement to the press.

STIMULUS ANNOUNCEMENT

presently in the presence of a room full of night decorative family read the following announcement:

Late foreign relations committee of the two houses of congress, a dispatch came from Mexico Tuesday in which Mr. Lind united with Senator Gombou in urging the president to postpone the message until the congress could be convened in the United States in view of certain supplementary suggestions by Mr. Lind. The president course consented and is expediting the congress at 1 p. m. on Wednesday.

The news flashed through congress in few minutes and at once the situation grew tense. Members realized that the president perhaps was on the verge of a great personal and moral victory, and that it might be a practical forgotten while members were engaged in the routine treatment of a new bill.

The news of the delay of the message to congress was met with a great deal of interest. The president's decision was met with a great deal of interest. The president's decision was met with a great deal of interest.

A World-Wide Movement For Children's Health

The International Congress on School Hygiene, which assembled yesterday in Buffalo, N. Y., should prove one of the most fruitful events of the year.

This congress, the fourth of its kind that has been held, represents a world-wide, organized movement to improve and to conserve the health of school children.

Scientists and educators from all the leading nations have come together to discuss the problems and the opportunities of this work.

There can be no doubt, as one of the speakers at the opening session of the congress declared, that a vast wave of sanitary science is passing around the world.

Georgia and the South have peculiar cause to be interested in such a movement, for many of their gravest educational and social problems are interwoven with the question of school hygiene.

Their teachers and school boards are more alert today than ever to the vital need of well built and properly equipped school houses.

There are but a few instances among thousands that are embraced in school hygiene endeavor.

The last named subject, one of current interest throughout the South, and widespread surprise has been expressed in other states.

A jealous woman would be all right if she could only keep the lid down. Many a man who grows all day goes home and kicks the dog for barking at night.

The Field of Public Health

In the current issue of Science, Prof. William T. Sedwick makes the familiar yet important observation that medicine is engaged largely in attempting to remove the reasons for its existence.

But far from narrowing the province of the physician, these changes open before him a new field, unlimited in interest and in opportunities for service.

The significant fact today, however, is the progress that has been made and is being made in the field of public health and preventive measures.

Men who boast that their souls are their own might not know a soul if they saw it.

No need for a summer vacation as long as the thermometer shows a willingness to restrain itself.

Men who boast that their souls are their own might not know a soul if they saw it.

The Strategic Center of the United States.

Many striking circumstances are pointed to by the Strategic Center of the United States for the future.

The South, therefore, must be regarded not as a section of the country, but as the very heart of the nation's life.

Not only in regard to the navy, but in regard to the army as well, this section of the country presents peculiar advantages.

Well, the world does move. Nobody said anything about the jury filling in.

All things come to him who waits, even the vote on the tariff, which comes next week.

We suggest that if Atlanta wins the pennant the attendance will beat Birmingham or any other town.

The good things done by the Georgia Legislature at its recent session are so numerous that one is not disposed to grumble over the important things left undone.

The production of crude oil in this country will probably approximate 30,000,000 barrels this year.

The use of kerosene as a substitute for gasoline in the production of motor power is favored and is being regarded with increasing favor.

Several kerosene carburetors are now upon the market which are reported to have met the full requirements of the tests to which they have been subjected.

The storage in the gasoline supply caused by the increased demand is well recognized by the United States navy.

SHORTAGE IN GASOLINE

BY FRÉDÉRIC J. RASKIN

Such is the desire translated into the language of the market, that a large portion of the scientific and industrial world is bent upon the discovery of a liquid fuel so highly volatile that upon the application of heat it will turn into an electric spark.

The International Association of Recognized Automobile Clubs, the membership of which is composed of representatives of the most important automobile clubs in the world, has offered an award of $100,000 cash for the best all-around liquid fuel.

The British Society of Motor Manufacturers and Traders is offering a similar prize to the same sum.

In the United States equal interest is being manifested in this contest.

A meeting was held in Pittsburgh during the first week of this month to which were invited twenty different organizations interested in petroleum and its products.

The Outpulsing Power

BY DR. FRANK CRAIG. (Copyright, 1913, by Frank Craig.)

There is a war constantly going on. It is not of setting dreadnoughts, nor airplanes dropping bombs upon a sleeping city.

It is the elemental competition in fecundity. "What constitutes a state?" asks Sir William Jones.

It is the universal fear of the responsibilities of marriage, the dread of children, the expressed dread of a weak race that her population is decreasing.

Wednesday and Has Not Been Heard From Since

Joe H. Watts, known by his friends as "Sprink," Watts, left Marietta last Wednesday and has not been heard from since. His wife suspects from what she has requested Sheriff W. E. Swann of Cobb county to help locate him.

Watts told his wife that he was going into the country to sell a clothes cleaning preparation, for which he had secured a license from the state and no word has come from him up to Tuesday morning. Five small children and a wife are left in desolate circumstances at his residence on Mills street.

Watts is thirty-five years of age, weighs about 140 pounds, dark complexion, black hair and blue eyes. When he left home he was wearing a suit of clothes with diagonal stripes. Any information as to his whereabouts would be greatly appreciated by his family and the sheriff of Cobb county.

LONG LEGAL SIEGE
OVER HARRY THAW
NOW SEEMS LIKELY

from his determination not to "sue" and tell all about the case. Thaw from Mattawan, N. Y., has threat now, to tell all about the case, and to negotiate employment of counsel for him by the Thaw family.

Explaining his desire not to talk about the Thaw case, Jerome Thaw said: "I am sick to death of Thaw; the mention of his name by anybody has made me sick for some time now. I am sorry that I have had to take up the case again."

Make Formal Request To Deport Harry Thaw
(Associated Press.)
OTTAWA, Ontario, Aug. 25.—Deputy Attorney General Francis Kennedy, of New York state, formally requested the immigration department today to deport Harry Thaw as soon as the habeas corpus proceedings at Sherbrooke are disposed of.

They want Thaw turned over to Chief Immigration Officer Clark at Montreal as soon as released by the court, and deported over the New York border.

J. J. Doherty, acting minister of the interior, and Blake Robertson, assistant superintendent of immigration of the department, would not promise that Thaw would be sent direct to the New York border, saying merely that he would be dealt with according to the Canadian laws. It was explained that if Thaw were released to the immigration authorities tomorrow, a formal inquiry would be held at Sherbrooke to ascertain if he belonged to the class of persons liable to deportation. Should it be determined to deport him, announcement as to the route by which he would be sent back would then be made.

Dr. Kiet Helping in Fight to Deport Thaw
MATTAWAN, N. Y., Aug. 26.—Dr. R. F. Kiet, head of Mattawan state hospital, left late last night for Sherbrooke, Canada, to assist in efforts to have Harry K. Thaw deported from New York state.

"I don't know why I have been asked to go to Canada," Dr. Kiet said. "I have had a request from the deputy attorney general. I don't know of what part I am to play. I can be of the state in that Thaw desired. I expect to go back here in a day or two, as the hospital is the hospital is very pressing and cannot afford to wait for the case."

Wife Says Thaw's Mother
Agreed to Pay Her to Sue
(Associated Press.)
NEW YORK, Aug. 26.—Evelyn Nesbit Thaw, testifying before a referee in bankruptcy, swore today that Harry Thaw's mother had contracted to pay her $15,000 cash and $1,000 a month to sue to have Evelyn Thaw's divorce annulled. She said that she had agreed to do so in return for a share of the proceeds of her marriage to Harry Thaw.

AT THE FORSYTH THIS WEEK

SECRETS OF FRANK JURY
WILL NEVER BE KNOWN,
SAY TIRED JURORS

The men in their hotel. C. J. Bosshardt remarked that the twelve stood willing to challenge any other dozen men in Atlanta to a game of straight-up act back. They practiced so much that they are experts now, he declared.

The jury boasted of a quartet which entertained with song for an hour of two every evening. Two or three were also expert on the piano. On at least one occasion, it has been disclosed, an outsider heard the harmony of these voices. Mrs. Inebor Townsend, who had been married to Juror Townsend but a short while before he was taken from her side to fill a chair in the jury box, called the hotel in the telephone one night and requested a maid to tell her husband she was home.

"Wait a minute," said the bailiff. A minute later Mrs. Townsend heard a "won't be home until morning" over the wire. Among the voices she discerned her husband's several other selections were rendered. Her husband was hung up, it is said.

COMPLICES IN THE AFFAIRS OF THE twelve jurors during their absence are too numerous to mention. Several surprises awaited Foreman Winbury, for example. A reporter intercepted him on his way to his club.

"I found a notice," he was accused of not paying my debts," he explained. "I did not know my way out of the restaurant."

Each one of the jurors declared that he had been guided solely by the lawyer in the case and that conditions outside the court room had absolutely no influence on their verdict. At no time during the trial did they hear heard laughter in the audience, but it was provoked by a pleasanter, as has heretofore been the custom.

THEATRES

(Criticism of initial performances at the Metropolitan theatre, by the Atlanta Journal staff. All other matters appearing in this column are from the theatre manager.)
THE POLYTHEATRE
The Polytheatre of the Met at the Forsyth this week is the Svengalli mystery act. It being a demonstration of the power of hypnotism.

A young lady comes on the stage, it is supposed to sing selections from any opera requested by the audience. A good voice, well trained, the peculiar impression of hearing a person sing while under the hypnotic influence, speculation as to how the professor, in the audience, contrives to communicate to the young lady what selection has been requested—these elements combine to make the act highly interesting.

The Meredith sisters, here before, have a number of new rollicking songs in their repertoire. One of them especially, "Ortrelan Eyes," made a hit with the audience Monday night.

Miss Meredith Heaton, a handsome and attractively gowned young woman, aided by Fred Bond, who is quite funny, kept the laughter going at a rapid rate in their comedy sketch entitled, "Handkerchiefs No. 15."

Then came Claude Golden, an entertaining card expert; Lewis and Dody, a comedy duo; and the four Regals.

THE JEWEL THEATRICAL COMPANY
opened at the Bijou Monday night in "Her Fatal Shadow," a drama with an abundance of plot, comedy, climax, etc. The Bijou management has decided to provide its patrons with an indefinite run of plays by the Jewel company, which is a talented and thoroughly trained organization having among their such favorites as Edna Hill, Earl Highley, Gene Morris, Marie Clark, Thomas McDonald, Grace Ketter, and other stars.

AT THE LYRIC
Owing to the fact that there have been so many inquiries at the Lyric for seats for the engagement of Miss Emma Bering at that house next week, the management has decided to place the tickets on sale a day earlier than usual. Therefore, the box office at the Lyric will open Wednesday morning at 10 a. m., instead of Thursday, as has heretofore been the custom.

JURY OF MARRIED MEN
TO TRY DREW GAMINETTI

Second of Famous White Slavery Cases Opens Before Federal Court

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Aug. 24.—The second of the more nationally known Digger-Gamnetti cases, the trial of F. Drew Gamnetti, who must face the charge of violating the Mann white slave act under which his companion, Maury I. Digger, was convicted, started today in the United States district court.

The same witnesses who testified at the trial of Digger last week appeared at the federal building and struggling through the crowd that had gathered about the court room, forced their way into the building, shielding themselves as well as they could from the battery of clicking cameras. No testimony would be introduced over to produce the time was to be given over to prospective jurors.

The same methods that were pursued in the examination of the talemens at the Digger trial were repeated. It was important both to the defense and to the government to learn whether talemens under examination were married or single men and whether they were men of family. The government, as in the case at Digger's trial, inquired through the questions asked that it would seek to try the man before a jury of men married and with families.

DEPARTMENT OF LABOR TO ARBITRATE DISPUTES

(Associated Press.)
OTTAWA, Ontario, Aug. 25.—The department of labor has under consideration an application for the creation of a board of conciliation and investigation under the industrial disputes investigation act. It was announced today, to deal with matters in dispute between the Grand Trunk Railway company and the 1,300 workmen. The operators have been in recent conference with the company relative to the adoption of certain wages and conditions of employment.

PRINCE FRANCOIS, DOG
CHAMPION, IS DEAD

(Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 25.—Prince Francois, champion of his class, is dead. The prince came of a royal line of St. Bernard dogs and in dog shows throughout the United States had won the verdict of many judges.

In all he captured fifteen champion cups before he was carried off early today by pneumonia. In dog shows throughout the United States he had won the verdict of many judges.

YOUR TOWN'S DEATH-RATE

YOU men in charge of municipal affairs have a big responsibility on your hands.

Ever consider that maybe your short-back, out-of-date and short-sighted policy is keeping the death-rate higher than it ought to be?

Fevers, contagion, death, with their pitiless aftermath of poverty and distress may be traceable to your negligence.

Solemn, but true.

HARRY SCOTT MAY BE
HEAD OF PINKERTONS

After mopping an alleged masher in the face with a newspaper in Mitchell street near Whitehall Monday night, Mrs. S. P. Anderson, a pretty young night operator at the Southern railway office, called an officer and had the man arrested.

The man gave his name as Howard T. Page, an auditor of Baltimore, Md., when docketed at the police station. He refused to make any statement. He was charged with disorderly conduct.

Mrs. Anderson says she was walking along Whitehall when the man first commenced following her, and that he accosted her after she turned into Mitchell street and tried to walk by her side, she says.

Mrs. Anderson was very vindictive and says she will appear in person to testify against Page when he is given a hearing before the recorder.

Tailoring

In about a week the door of Fall will open, and with it the questions incident to that season.

Taking time by the forelock is the part of wisdom and the act of the prudent.

We wish, therefore, to present at the very threshold of your mind today our New Fall Woollens, fresh from foreign looms.

They are without peers, so far as our experience goes; and are such as when wrought into suits under the careful supervision of our splendid designer will add emphasis to the good appearance of any man.

A look into our South window will be first aid in bringing you about to your point of view.

An order will test our words, and must result to our mutual benefit. Look, order.

One Inning Is Enough to Beat Cracker Clan

Good Ball Is Played in Most Every Inning—Error and Wild Pitch Followed by Another Error Helped

Worn with an eighteen-hour road trip, but trained down to their best condition, the Turfies arrived at Atlanta Monday afternoon at 4 o'clock and at 4:30 started an argument with the Crackers that lasted until the darkness intervened. The duck ended the contest in the sixteenth inning, with the count three all.

Joe Connelman was pitted against Leo Liebhardt, the Cracker ace. Both men were about even, both men lasting through the tenth inning, and if anything were stronger at the finish than they were at the start. Joe yielded nine hits and eight scoring.

The Turfies did not score when they got through the sixth. However, advanced to second when Long dropped Merritt's pop fly. Barclay scored when he struck to second and then hit Merritt. Howard scored when he hit Barclay and then hit Merritt. In the eighth inning, Barclay and Hazy scored in the first and second innings. Agler did not get his hands on the pitcher until the stand.

In the same inning the Turfies scored their runs. The Cracker ace, and in rapped out two. Agler struck and scored on Tommy Long's straight three-bagger to the score, 3-0. Agler scored on a bunt and then on a fly ball. Agler scored in the eighth on his own strike. Long and Welch's score.

Jack Love, Turfies' second sacker, was the brilliant star of the day at the bat. He smothered four hits out of five trips to the plate and stole two bases.

Tommy Long also had a field day. Out of five times to face the pitcher he made three hits and a sacrifice, and also stole two bases. His three-bagger in the sixth was the longest hit of the day, and came at the expense of Joe.

In the third inning George Merritt, Bernhardt's man Friday, pulled some of the circus comedy out of his sleeve. He drove to him in center and the pitcher at first. However, George got out. Then he ran in yelling his name. He was not in the game until the sun rose.

"Sugar Glen" Liebhardt showed some of the old boy when he hit in the first. He used to be a pitcher, but now he is a batter. He got his second and third day and went out of them. He was in the game until he got him, though when he was out of them. He was in the game until he got him a few seasons.

Al Nixon has plenty of speed, although he has not been able to make it on the path. Out of five times up he failed to make a sacrifice. He made an attempt to beat out some of his infield bats.

CAMP PERRY, Ohio, Aug. 25.—Arthur W. E. Sweeney, of Pennsylvania, is the champion individual rifleman of the United States, having won the national individual championship match on the range here by a score of 223 out of a possible 225. Lieutenant I. W. Water, of the marine corps, was second with 224. Artifice Mungel, of Washington, third with 221. Sergeant Clark of Indiana, fourth with 221. Captain Butler, of Washington, fifth with 214.

French Team Here

NEW YORK, Aug. 25.—The French 1913 team, which is to compete in the International tournament at Camp Perry, Ohio, during the early September, arrived here today from Havre. There are thirteen marksmen in the party.

PROUGH SIDESTEPS WHEN HARD CLUBS ARE FACED

CHATTANOOGA, Aug. 25.—Harry Colewick, well known to Southern League fans as the star batter for the Bluebirds, looks a good deal better than he did when he was in the lineup of the Barons. Willie just set record in the only hit in the game for the Bluebirds. The Barons were charged to him and he had a hit. He had a hit in the first and second innings. Agler did not get his hands on the pitcher until the stand.

DOUBLE BILL FOR TUESDAY

Price and Thompson Work for the Crackers in Memphis Battles

The Turfies and the Crackers in a double bill is the program at Ponce Park for the Tuesday afternoon. Yesterday's game went on for seven innings without a decision and the two games Tuesday will be good ones.

CHANGES FOR JUST A DAY

While the Crackers were getting a draw with the Turfies Monday the Gulls were over the hills. The manager, Price and Thompson work for the Crackers in Memphis battles. The situation is a little further down on the ladder.

In the National League the one point of having 100 points lead over the Phillies. The Athletics are leading the Nats by not quite so wide a margin, 18 points separating these teams.

Star Players To Meet Here

The Cotton States tennis championship will be pulled off on the Ponce Park grounds, beginning September 2. The tournament this date is the year in which the Cotton States tennis championship will be held in Atlanta. It is the longest hit of the day, and came at the expense of Joe.

Crack players from the country club at Birmingham, Chattanooga, Memphis, New Orleans, Mobile, Augusta and other southern cities are leaving. The players from these cities are in good luck and will give a good account of themselves in the coming season.

Atlanta will be well represented as well as in the South. There are also a number of players from the North who are coming to Atlanta to play in the South. They are expected to arrive in Atlanta about the 10th of September and all names should be sent in to Carleton Smith at the New Atlanta building, Atlanta.

SOUTHERNERS WHO STARRED

Merrill Pratt failed to hit safe out of his two times at the bat. He had five chances in the infield, but booted one of them.

Balant errored one of his three chances also. He was up four times without a hit.

McAlister was shoved in to bat for Levern in the ninth inning and cracked two in the tenth. He was not on to hit any more.

A. Demaree went seven innings for the Gulls and was one run in the bat when he was relieved by Crandall. He allowed only four hits during the time he pitched with the no-hit record, 2 to 1, in the ninth inning.

Joe Jackson connected safe only once out of four times. He got away with the fielding in good style.

This Roaker went to the plate five times and batted once. He accepted three chances.

Steve Yerkes pulled a two-bagger out of four attempts and scored a run on the side. He had a slow day at second, getting only one out.

Jimmy Archer caught a winning game for the Cubs but failed to get in any at all work. At Brydwell rapped around short in the same count in good style. His assists were accepted by him and not one booted. He also got a hit.

Jack Daubert frisked around the infield for the Dodgers and he had gathered in eleven putouts and figured in a fast double play.

Sox Buy Hurler

LEXINGTON, Ky., Aug. 25.—Pitcher Ed Snodgrass, of the Lexington club today, was sold to the Chicago American League team.

COBB VS. JACKSON

Only one point separates Cobb and Jackson in their fight for the leading batting honors of the American league by one point.

In Monday's games Cobb hit safe one time out of three. The best Jackson could do was to connect once in four times.

Here are the figures: Cobb, .350; Jackson, .345. Cobb has a lead of .005 over Jackson.

ANOTHER IMPORTANT CASE

RESULTS Jim Callahan Pleases Owner Club Standings

CHICAGO Aug. 25.—President Charles Comiskey, of the White Sox, advises that a man never is too old to learn something. Some of the information he has acquired today was contained in a detailed report in the Boston Globe. Based on Antvatic Information from Chicago, that Hal Chase and Harry Lord have gone after Jimmy Callahan's job as manager, because Comiskey is dissatisfied with the Zeider-Chase trade as engineered by Callahan.

"How about this scorp from Boston," he was asked. "There is absolutely nothing in it," he replied, emphatically. "Taking up the Zeider-Chase deal first, you can say for me that I am satisfied with every detail of that famous swap."

"There are no clues on the White Sox team," he said after Callahan job that I know of. And if anybody's after it I had better connect me, for I am liable to figure prominently in the negotiations."

I want to say that there is one thing and only one thing wrong with the White Sox. They are not hitting. That sums it up; that's the whole story. Every ball team has an abundance of some kind now and then. Ours is in the bettering. To take this one fact and build upon an elaborate structure of rumors that we are torn by internal dissension, are dissatisfied with one another's business manager is absurd.

As for Callahan, he has done and is doing everything possible to give the White Sox a winning ball team. To say that he is about to be dismissed as manager is absurd. To say I am sure over the Chase deal is equally ridiculous. As a matter of fact, I have Jimmy authority to make any swap he wanted for Chase, leaving the details to him."

Pitcher Goes Up

CHICAGO, Aug. 25.—Pitcher Faber of the Des Moines club of the Western league, was selected by the American League to pitch for the Chicago American League team in the game today at Ponce Park. He is a big right-handed pitcher and is expected to be a home run pitcher.

Off on Flight

Haverford today resumed his flight round the coast of England and Scotland for a prize of $25,000. He started yesterday morning from Southampton on his 100-mile flight and succeeded the first day in covering 145 miles in 14 1/2 minutes. The time limit for the entire distance is seventy-two hours.

ATLANTA OUT FOR RECORD

Effort Is Being Made to Run Attendance for Season Up to 200,000

There is all sort of rivalry between Atlanta and Birmingham. Each city wishes to come out ahead of the other in the race for the baseball pennant and now a war for the largest attendance has been started. And this war promises to even better than that of the higher place in the pennant table.

Atlanta holds the Southern league attendance record. This figure is 186,000 and was made in 1907 when Billy Smith won a pennant. Birmingham holds the team in far behind this mark, but with something like 100,000 more in the season, Atlanta will jump up and go ahead of the mark.

Facing Death In An Effort To Get Record

Col. W. L. Peel Will Be On Hand Tuesday Night at Motordrome and Start Races. Good Time Is Expected

The riders are all ready for the "charter" gun at the Motordrome Tuesday night. There has been a good program arranged, and the racing will be fast and close.

The Colonel W. L. Peel will be on hand Tuesday night at the Motordrome and start races. Good time is expected for the evening's racing.

The southern championship races will be run off at 8 o'clock. There is a great deal of rivalry over the winner of the championship. Tuesday night will be no exception to the rule.

The special match race between Morty Gray and George B. Noel, both of these riders have been clearing up in the recent races. There will be a fine race for when they get started on the motor track.

The point scoring will prevail in Tuesday night's racing. Morty Gray will score 10 points will go to first place, 6 points second and 4 points third. The Southern championship race will be run off at 8 o'clock, 15 to second and 4 to third.

M'Loughlin Is The Favorite

NEWPORT, R. I., Aug. 25.—Frank M'Loughlin is the favorite to win the championship race. He has a good chance of winning the race.

M'Loughlin was an almost positive favorite in spite of the fact that he is not a regular rider. He has a good chance of winning the race.

BRANT AND RINGLES BY JULIAN MURPHY

While all local fans would like just the best in the world to pick up the 1913 Southern league pennant, it may be too big a lead to make any prediction that Finn lies his hold on the top round of the ladder.

POULTRY, PIGEONS AND LIVE STOCK
Taking the Hens Through Molt

WITH the arrival of "dog days" comes the time of the annual molt. The shedding of the old feathers and the growing of the new plumage comes just at the time when the vitality of the hen is at its low ebb. The long laying season, together with the hot weather, have pretty well drained her strength and brought her to the place where she needs special care if she is to go into the winter season in full vigor, and ready to do her share in replenishing the egg market.

In a normal molt, about four months are required for a complete change of plumage, the first feathers beginning to fall about the first of July. During the first part of the molt, egg production is not materially decreased. But as the process advances and the drain on the system incident to the growth of new plumage in progress, egg production gradually drops off until, by the first of September, it has practically ceased. As a general rule, egg laying, having once stopped, will not begin again until the new coat of feathers is complete.

It is, indeed, the poultry raiser who can successfully bring his hens through the molt and get them to laying again in the middle of November. For it is that month factor, and it is that month factor, which determines whether the coming laying before cold weather will be a profitable one.

As a means to this end, some have advocated forcing the molt. This may be done by practically starving for a week or ten days, and then putting them on a heavy ration of rich food. While this treatment will ease the hens to molt quickly, yet careful experimental evidence has not shown it to be entirely successful in the long run.

The feeding of molting hens should not differ greatly from the feeding of laying hens. Both eggs and feathers are rich in nitrogen, and the food adapted for making eggs is also adapted for making feathers.

Feathers, however, are richer in oil than eggs, and some food of an oily nature should be added to the ration to supply this. It has been determined conclusively that the adding of a liberal amount of sunflower seed, or flax seed, or oil meal, to the ration from mites, scrupulously clean, and leaves them in a stronger condition, with more vitality.

In conclusion, it may be said that the successful handling of hens during the molt is a matter of constant watchfulness and attention to details, pertaining to food, water, care, housing, cleanliness and sanitation.

Those things about the home which are no longer in use, or which you are going to replace with new purchases, can be sold quickly at much better than "junk" prices by advertising them in The Journal Wants, where everybody looks for such offers.
