Schools Like Icebergs for Past Two Days, and Pupils Shiver Over Gas Heaters in Rooms

Here's good news for everybody but the cool man—the worst of the extremely cold weather is over, for the time at least. The mercury is climbing slowly but surely toward a point where a man's teeth won't begin to chatter every time he looks out of the window and by Wednesday, surely, the thermometer will register somewhere around 40 to 50 degrees.

To cap it all, the fine weather will continue says the forecast. For two days at least it will be a No. 1. The cold wave that has been tormenting the city since Monday at the latest, has now subsided.

At the girls' high school, in addition to the four furnaces, the open fire and a stove or two, a number of gas heaters have been put in use.

DENY RIGHT OF LOCKER CLUBS TO SELL WHISKY

Two High Courts Hold Sales Cannot Be Made Either to Members or Outsiders

The right of locker clubs to sell whisky, either to members or outsiders, is denied in two decisions handed down Tuesday by the supreme court and the court of appeals.

The supreme court decision, which is in a Mason case, the Tentonia club vs. Howard, declares that a social club, paying the specific tax required by law, keeping or permitting liquor to be kept for the use of members, is not at liberty to make sales of liquor.

The court of appeals' decision is virtually the same, though it is couched in different words. It was rendered in the case of Taylor vs. the State, another Mason case, and it declares that allowing the locker tax have no right to sell liquor.

In regard to the injunction issued by a circuit judge in the former case, the court ruled the injunction shall be dissolved. The court is characterizing the club as a nuisance and directing the club to be dissolved.

RAILROADS ARE FINED FOR SAFETY VIOLATION

Three Consent Verdicts Taken in Federal Court Show Employes' Protection

The protection which the United States gives the economic welfare and safety of railroad employes, was shown Tuesday in three consent verdicts taken in the federal court.

The government had brought action against the Western and Atlantic railroad for a violation of the hours of service law. The present action was brought on two counts, charging that the road had kept telegraph operators on duty more than the limit of nine to thirteen hours. The road was fined $50 by Judge Newman on each count.

The Southern railway was fined for five violations of the same law as applied to keeping engineers and brakemen on continuous duty over sixteen hours. The fine was $100 on each count.

A fine of $100 was placed on the Southern also for violation of the safety laws which exceeded the prescribed length a little over an inch. Action in each case was brought by government.

CHAMBERS IS CONFIDENT OF CONVICTING TURNER

Electric Co.'s Counsel Says He Will Prove Graft on City Electrician

Chambers, attorney for the Atlanta Electric Company, stated as a confident of making out his case against City Electrician R. C. Turner when the investigation of the electrician is resumed Tuesday afternoon.

Chambers was able to induce the witness Monday afternoon to testify positively in support of the charges against Turner. He said that he had seen Turner in the office of the Cotton States Building the day after the investigation of the electrician was resumed.

Several typewritten carbon sheets, submitted as evidence by Chambers, were identified by Turner as copies of reports of the insurance of the corporation furnished him by the attorney's secretary and treasurer.

Chambers, who read, "To R. C. T. Turner, represented cash paid over to the electrician, he swore.

Practically all the money raised by selling the members of the Turner, and the Turner, who were opposed to his action, but when he was elected as president last fall they decided they better do something to get on the safe side of him, so they organized the corporation and paid him money."

Several electrical contractors set up on the stand by Attorney Chambers but he failed to get from them any testimony directly corroborating Turner. They all admitted in their sworn statements that there is no such an association of contractors, and that they did not possibly have heard some discussion of Mr. Turner being in need of money to pay his debts.

The hearing continued at 2 o'clock Monday afternoon and adjourned until Tuesday afternoon at 10 o'clock.

Attorney Chambers has several subpoenas out for the attendance of electrical contractors, and these contractors will be called to the stand Tuesday afternoon.

It is by their testimony after which the papers which their subpoenas call on them to produce, that Attorney Chambers expects to make out his case.

Palatial Winecoff Residence Now But Smoke-Grimed Granite Walls

All that is left of handsome home in Ansley park.

Loss With Furnishings, $200,000—Mistakenly Seen From Scents Just Before Fire—Valuable Jewels Recovered

Fire chief W. E. Cummings attributes very little importance to the report of a man having been seen to run away from the W. F. Winecoff residence on Peachtree circle Monday night just before the flames broke out.

He states that one of the Winecoffs' neighbors reported to a fireman that a man, who looked something like the Winecoffs' negro porter, ran from the house a few moments before the alarm was turned in.

"I think if a negro had set fire to the house he wouldn't have stayed around that long," the chief says.

The loss sustained by Mr. Winecoff is variously estimated between $100,000 and $200,000. The house, grounds, improvements, etc., cost $100,000.

The contents of the house, including picture galls, silver, imported carpets, paintings and other valuables, probably could not be replaced for less than $200,000.

Mr. Winecoff's insurance probably will cover half the total loss.

DIAMONDS RECOVERED. Diamonds and other precious stones worth $3,000 or $4,000 were recovered by Mr. Winecoff's servants when they searched the fireplace in the bedroom of Mrs. Winecoff's room.

There was a place in or near the fireplace where she kept her jewels hidden when not in use, and by a piece of good fortune a box containing various pieces that she put away Monday evening were not damaged by the flames.

The house was discovered by Mr. Winecoff at the Phipps theater, and the servants had gone to their beds.

DISCOVERED AT 3 O'CLOCK. E. B. Criss, who lives at 112 Peachtree circle, some doors from the Winecoff home, discovered the flames about 3:20 o'clock and turned in a fire alarm with all haste.

According to Chief Cummings, flames were reaching through a nearby window in the house when they could do so to save adjoining houses. They paid special attention, however, to the wall and immense marble column in the front of the Winecoff house, so that they would not be damaged by the heat.

The chief believes they are as good as saved.

Boy Who Posed as Deaf and Dumb and Begged, Is Sent to Jail

Joe Moore, a white boy, was sentenced to ten days in the stocks Monday by Recorder N. E. Kropp, when he was arraigned on a charge of begging on the street.

It is alleged Moore was engaged in a conversation with City Inspector Keeser, and that a short time later he hung a "dead man dummy" sign on the coat and walked into a bar room soliciting alms.

The fact that Moore was in the conversation and advised the boy to "beat it," but he was arrested before he could get out of the back entrance, according to the report.

They are a lot of so-called "tonics" on the market that do not depend for their short-lived popularity on any real merit they possess, but upon the fact that the alcohol in most of them and the dangerous or habit-forming drugs in some of them give a few moments' relief and a few minutes' pleasure. FIREPROOF SANTA CLAUS URGED BY INSPECTOR

Joynes Warns Public to Be Careful of Fireworks and Wiring

With the close approach of the "fire season" Joynes, chief of the State Fire Inspector W. H. Joynes, has issued a warning to the people of Georgia to use every precaution to guard against a possible conflagration.

The warning follows: Numbers of fires are caused by Christmas decorations, and such fires usually cause the loss of life. Exposed and tinsel decorations should not be permitted around or near electric lights.

Persons should not be charged without the approval of the electrical inspector, and persons should be careful as to handling tinsel, flags or paper around electric lights. Such carelessness is so often neglected during the Christmas holidays and is the cause of so many unnecessary fires that it should be a crime.

W. R. JOYNER, State Fire Inspector.

MILITANT LEADER SENT TO TRAIN ON STRETCHER

Mrs. Pankhurst Leaves London for Paris on Seven Days' Freedom

(By Associated Press.) LONDON, Dec. 9.—Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst, militant suffragette leader, left today for Paris, where she will spend the remainder of the seven days' leave granted her by the authorities. A detachment of police was at the railway station, but did not interfere with the departure of Mrs. Pankhurst. Police officers had been informed on her behalf that she was going to France simply to see her daughter.

Mrs. Pankhurst arrived from the mainland in an ambulance and was carried to her train on a stretcher. (By Associated Press.) ST. PETERSBURG, Dec. 9.—Dispatches from Krasnod today tell of a second unsuccessful attempt to escape from exile in Siberia, made early this month by Mrs. Catherine Brashkovskaya, "grandmother of the Russian revolution," whose case at the time of her condemnation in March, 1910, aroused widespread interest in Europe and the United States.

Mrs. Brashkovskaya was sentenced to perpetual exile after a trial watched with intense excitement throughout the world. She was charged with revolutionary conspiracy in conjunction with Nikolai Tolstokov, "father of the revolution," who had been active for reform since 1870. The man was acquitted on evidence brought from the United States. Because she would not plead for the Russian emperor's clemency, Mrs. Brashkovskaya was incarcerated at Krasnod, a police settlement 400 miles northwest of Irkutsk.

If an average of 13 1/2 cents per pound was paid for the Georgia crop ginned up to December 1, it means that the state derived $13,372,000. According to the census report at the same time last year, December 1, 1912, only 1,564,425 bales had been ginned in Georgia, making the increase for this year of more than 500,000 bales.

WITNESS IN LEE WILL CASE SEEKS DIVORCE

Mrs. Mary Henderson Says Husband Was Angered Because She Testified

As a direct outcome of domestic differences arising from the Lee will case pending in Judge John T. Pennington's court, Mrs. Mary Henderson Tuesday morning filed suit for divorce against J. C. Henderson, an engineer in the employ of the Troy Steam Laundry.

In her petition Mrs. Henderson declares she was married to the defendant in 1901, and that within two years her life was made miserable by cruelty, threats and humiliation on his part.

The plaintiff alleges that in February, 1912, she was a witness to the will of Mrs. Emma G. Lee, at the time that it was propounded by Mrs. Marie Lee Thompson, who lived in the same house with her and her husband.

Mrs. Henderson states further that November 18 she was summoned as a witness in the will case following the winning of a caveat to the document by Mrs. Larnie Lee Mizell, a sister of Mrs. Thompson.

HUSBAND OBJECTED. Her husband, she alleges, objected to her part as a witness in the case and November 27 showed a violent outburst of temper because she attended court, and while she was at court threw her clothing out of the windows of their home on Houston street.

The plaintiff alleges further that Henderson threatened to hit her or on sight if she left him, and told her also he would take her to the city jail.

OGLETHORPE CAMPAIGN
BREAKING ALL RECORDS

Business Men Work With Unflagging Zeal to Raise Fund for University

"Victory Is in Sight,"
Chairman Allen Says

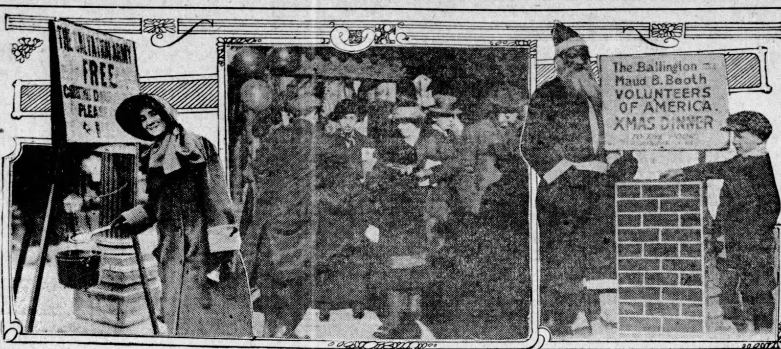

General Chairman Ivan E. Allen said this morning: "The Monday meeting of committee workers at the Piedmont was larger than any of those held last week, and I don't think there was a man present who failed to grasp the significance of the fact. It means there is to be no stop in the work and that every man interested in it will do his part with redoubled vigor from day to day, until the whole $250,000 is raised. "Victory is already in sight, but we must all work harder at this stage in the campaign than

The work of the fifteen canvassing committees of the Oglethorpe university campaign to raise $250,000 constitutes an interesting study. If you have any doubt that these alert business men are at work just as hard these days as a little. They have entered into the spirit of the big undertaking with no other idea than success. The systematic and business-like manner in which they have gone about it left no room for doubt in any mind that the plan would be brought to complete and record-making success. The daily conferences at the headquarters in the Piedmont have served to bring the workers together to discuss what had been accomplished and to map out fresh lines of endeavor. If any doubting Thomas could be present at one of these conferences he would go away convinced this was no "flash-in-the-pan" but a movement in which there would not be a moment's halting until the desired goal had been reached. Weary, but happy, the committees Saturday night saw success near. With only $11,000 more to be raised, everybody was jubilant and felt certain the $250,000 would be guaranteed in two weeks at the outside.

While all the committees have done excellent work, some have forged to the front by particularly aggressive campaigning. Notable among these are J. P. Bottelfield, Dr. J. Cheston King, the Ad Men, John A. Brice, Henry Schaul and the central committee, of which Ivan E. Allen is chairman. As an indication of the constantly growing interest, the attendance at the hubmen Monday afternoon was larger than at any previous one. Everybody expressed the utmost confidence in the complete success of the campaign and promised to redouble their efforts this week.

REPORT OF COMMITTEES:
J. P. Bottelfield's committee: First day, $1,000; third day, $1,000; fourth day, $1,000; fifth day, $2,000; sixth day, $1,000. Total, $5,000.
A. W. Parlinger's committee: Second day, $750; third day, $340; fourth day, $170; fifth day, $220; sixth day, $250. Total, $2,280.

BY THESE SIGNS WE KNOW CHRISTMAS IS SOON DUE

Harbingers of Christmas and the arrival of Santa Claus are to be observed now on every street and almost on every corner in Atlanta. Here are three inflatable signs snapped at random by The Journal's photographer. On the left is a smiling Salvation Army band watching "the pet boy" with donations for many Christmas dinners for the poor. In the center is a balloon man and one of the numerous toy and firecracker booths with the kiddie makings for the dinner to be given to the poor by the Volunteers of America.

Shelverton Made Mayor
On Return to Austell
After 10 Years' Absence

(Special Dispatch to The Journal). AUSTELL, Ga., Dec. 9.—After an absence of ten years, Charles J. Shelverton, who for the past six years has been stationed at New Orleans as inspector of the purchasing department of the Isthmian Canal commission, returned to his home at Austell, Ga., last week and on Monday the citizens unanimously elected him as their mayor. Prior to his leaving Austell, Mr. Shelverton had been mayor of the town continuously and without opposition for eleven years. At the election Monday a new committee, composed of H. C. Brown, J. W. Westmoreland, Jr., and C. C. Parkerson, was chosen. Mayor Shelverton takes the reins of office at a time when Austell's future is very bright. The city recently has installed waterworks and leased $25,000 for street improvements. Mr. Shelverton was stationed in Washington, D. C., and Lynchburg, Va., for four years in the construction and right-of-way department of the Southern railroad.

DR. CRAIG IS SET FREE;
COURT ORDERS RELEASE

State Fails to Make Case Against Man Accused of Slaying Helene Knabe

SHELBYVILLE, Ind., Dec. 9.—Judge Alonso Blair today instructed the jury to dismiss the case against Dr. William R. Craig, charged with the murder of Dr. Helene Knabe, at Indianapolis October 21, 1911. The motion to dismiss the case was made for the defendant yesterday when the state concluded its evidence.

Henry Spaan, counsel for Craig, in his argument in support of his motion to dismiss the case, said he believed Dr. Knabe was murdered, but declared "it is a far cry from the physician that Dr. Knabe was murdered to the proposition that Craig did it." He declared the state had failed to connect Dr. Craig with the crime in any way and also had failed to establish any motive for the crime. Attorneys for the state denied that their evidence was insufficient, but were overruled by Judge Blair's decision. Dr. Helene Knabe was one of the most prominent women doctors in the state and at one time was connected with the state board of health. She was found dead in her apartment in Indianapolis on the morning of October 21, 1911. The police reported that Dr. Knabe committed suicide. Coroner Durham returned a verdict of murder by persons unknown.

HOKE SMITH FARM BILL
PAST SENATE COMMITTEE

Passage Expected Soon of Act to Extend Agricultural School Work

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9.—The senate committee on agriculture at a meeting this morning unanimously agreed to report favorably the bill of Senator Hoke Smith, providing for agricultural extension work from the state colleges of agriculture throughout the United States.

The bill appropriates $10,000 at once to each state, and increases yearly until $1,000,000 will be annually distributed between the states, according to rural population.

The money is to be expended by the colleges of agriculture in the employment of trained experts who will reside in the various counties and conduct farm demonstration work, carrying to the homes of the farmers all of the truths which have been demonstrated by the work of the colleges of agriculture, the experiment stations, and the department of agriculture at Washington.

Domestic science will also be included in this work, and all matters pertaining to the welfare of farm life. Senator Smith expects to press the measure before the senate and hopes for favorable action before the last of January. He regards the proposed legislation as among the most important that will be considered by the sixty-third congress.

Hobson Amendment

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8.—Inspired by the example of other woman organizations that have recently stormed the capitol and White House, national leaders of the Woman's Christian Temperance union tomorrow will march up Capitol hill to urge the adoption of a prohibition amendment to the federal constitution. Plans for the new invasion have been completed and a large delegation with prominent speakers will present the arguments.

CONFEDERATE PENSIONS ARE URGED ON CONGRESS

Veterans Ask Senator Smith and Congressman Howard to Aid Bill

Since Confederate veterans of Atlanta are circulating a petition which they will send to Senator Hoke Smith and Congressman William Schley Howard, asking them to see whether it is not possible to pass an act pensioning Confederate soldiers.

The petition is being circulated by E. A. Ellis, of 311 Spring street, to whom communications should be sent. The text of the petition follows:

"The undersigned are Confederate veterans and believe that they should have a pension from the United States."

"The undersigned respectfully ask you as our representative in congress to give whatever aid you can toward having an act passed by congress pensioning Confederate veterans."

"Many of us paid after the war what was known as a cotton tax to the United States government. We understand that this money collected amounted to many millions and is still in the hands of the treasury department. We think this money should be returned to the parties who paid it, or their families."

"We would be glad for you to make an investigation of this matter and see if it is not possible to have this money returned to the parties who paid it to the United States government."

"FINEST OF FINE ARTS"
IS TOPIC OF DR. BROWN

"The Finest of the Fine Arts" was the subject on which Rev. William A. Brown, of Chicago, addressed the Sunday school institute in session at the Central Congregational church Monday afternoon. Dr. Brown is superintendent of the mission department of the International Sunday School association, the chief of missionary work in North America. He is a forceful speaker and his discourse was considered a masterful effort.

Dr. Brown was followed by D. W. Sims, general secretary of the Georgia Sunday School association, who spoke on "The Best That Catches and Holds Men and Women in the Sunday School." He spoke again at night on the "Key to a Greater Sunday School," and Dr. Brown was again heard on the subject being "The Newest Thing in the World."

The Quickest, Simplest
Cough Remedy

Easily and Cheaply Made at Home. Saves You $5.

This plan makes a pint of cough syrup—enough to last a family a long time. You couldn't buy a much or as good cough syrup for $2.50.

Simple as it is, it gives almost instant relief and usually conquers an ordinary cough in 24 hours. This is partly due to the fact that it is slightly saline, stimulates the appetite and has an excellent tonic effect. It is pleasant to take—children like it. An excellent remedy, too, for whooping cough, spasmodic croup and bronchial asthma.

Mix one pint of granulated sugar with 1 1/2 pint of warm water, and stir for 2 minutes. Put 2 1/2 ounces of Pinex (fifty cents worth) in a pint bottle, and add the Sugar Syrup. It keeps perfectly. Take a teaspoonful every one, two or three hours.

Pinex is one of the oldest and best known remedial agents for the throat membranes. Pinex is a most valuable concentrated compound of Norway white pine extract, and is rich in essential and other natural healing elements. Other preparations will not work in this combination.

The prompt results from this mixture have endeared it to thousands of home-wives in the United States and Canada, who explain why the plan has been limited often, but never successfully, or money promptly refunded, goes with this preparation. Your druggist has Pinex, or will get it for you. If not, send to The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

Where are the white hopes of yesterday? Make an early selection of that Christmas tree.

The old-fashioned noisy Christmas is taking its place with the obsolete insane Fourth.

A Ten-Million Bushel Gain In the Corn Crop of Georgia.

Every farmer who witnessed the corn show recently held in Atlanta under the auspices of the Chamber of Commerce will agree with President Soule, of the State College of Agriculture, that the work of the boys' corn clubs will be pressed forward more successfully next year than ever before.

The Baltimore Sun reproduces from Commerce and Finance, a journal designed to promote sound economic thought, intelligent commercialism and financial discrimination, the following comment on the revised wool duties:

In the textile world the tariff appears to have had no adverse influence on wool, about which most of the fight was made in various sessions of Congress.

By such testimony from an informed and authoritative source, how petty and really asinine are the babblings of those few political malcontents who would make it appear that the new tariff is going to disturb business or hamper development!

If a man and his wife are one, how many was Solomon and his outfit? I don't always love that enables a married couple to get along. Sometimes it is common sense.

Two Notable Gifts to Oglethorpe.

The Atlanta Typographical Union has proved its devotion to the community's best interests by subscribing a hundred dollars to the fund for refunding Oglethorpe. This contribution came voluntarily, without a visit from any committee or a suggestion from anyone outside the organization.

What an admirable example to all civic and social and labor organizations are these two gifts! The establishment of Oglethorpe University will enrich and illumine every sphere and every interest of Atlanta's life; it deserves, and is receiving, the support of the people as a whole.

Carelessness With Fire.

Fire losses amounting to more than a hundred and ninety-six million dollars were caused in this country and in Canada last year by ignorance and carelessness. Of the seven thousand, eight hundred fires in New York City, nearly three thousand were traceable to carelessness with matches, cigarettes and cigars, while carelessness with open fire stoves, gas jets and the flues was responsible for most of the others.

See the Child-Welfare Exhibit.

For those Atlantians who were unable to attend the Child Welfare and Public Health Show last week it is peculiarly fortunate that this rare exhibition will continue in progress five days more. Its educational value will continue in progress five days more.

Poetic Justice

There's a man in the house across the street. For those who must give her the credit. The list of my loves, she would head it. She's there with the ruffles. The salads and trifles. Some pippin is right, boy, you said it.

The Tariff at Work.

Twelve thousand quarters of Argentine beef recently arrived in the United States. Meat dealers are quoted by the New York Times as saying that the only effect of these consignments, so far as prices were concerned, "was to prevent the increase which would have taken place had not the present shortage of western steers been partially met by imports."

There we have a particular instance, and a typical one, of the part the new tariff is playing in our economic affairs. It has revolutionized the cost of food or other necessities, but it is exerting a distinct and wholesome influence in checking arbitrary advances.

Why excavations to the knees. Laying winter colds and tonics; Exposing sections to the breeze. Oh, my!

Why lovely buds on earth begin. With springing flowers and fair arbutus; They told not, neither do they spin.

That was not art that Phoebus smothered. The heart of Caster, nor sweet muses. That got that Polixus twin bewitched. 'Twas peaches.

Bragged Hippodamia's lovely queen. I don't say, or, or, or, or, or. Because a Phrygian Almonine Had drawn her.

They never craved to gather more. Enough for them were low-necked collars. And not a living wage of four. Teen dollars.

I'll prefer the no presents loud. I'll be a delegate for strikers; Come not to whisper that that crowd Of pickers!

THE DIARY OF OUR OWN HANUEL PEPPES. December 3.—Awoke very early and could not get to sleep. Had to take a walk in the park.

Once when a Weber & Fields company, so the story goes, was playing in Salt Lake City. Mr. Fields received a letter from a woman asking for a couple of passes.

The Conning Tower

Proposito: Book I, Elogy 9. 'Quid livat orator procedere, vita, capillo et tunc Con. vate uisura.' What boots it, arch-rite of my soul? To cover up thine ears with tresses; Or but thy modeste aires to hoke. In dress?

Why excavations to the knees. Laying winter colds and tonics; Exposing sections to the breeze. Oh, my!

Why lovely buds on earth begin. With springing flowers and fair arbutus; They told not, neither do they spin.

That was not art that Phoebus smothered. The heart of Caster, nor sweet muses. That got that Polixus twin bewitched. 'Twas peaches.

Bessie's daughter caught a beau. For Phoebus and old ideas chased her; And may a diamond for show Defaced her.

Bragged Hippodamia's lovely queen. I don't say, or, or, or, or, or. Because a Phrygian Almonine Had drawn her.

They never craved to gather more. Enough for them were low-necked collars. And not a living wage of four. Teen dollars.

I'll prefer the no presents loud. I'll be a delegate for strikers; Come not to whisper that that crowd Of pickers!

I'll bring my bride, my love, mine elf. A thousand thousand kisses—and some— But do not try to make myself Four handsomen.

COLD LIGHT

My friend the scientist is something of a poet. Is not every scientist a poet? Does it not take the same sort of elevation and illumination of mind to see the myriads of Nature that it takes to see those visions of truth and beauty that make the poet's eye in a fine frenzy roll?

Boy and Girl Clubs

B. FREDERIC J. HASKIN.

Eighty-fourteen girls and boys will be given the time of their lives in Washington for a week, beginning December 11, under the auspices of the department of agriculture. It is a well merited good time, for these boys and girls is a champion either at corn or potato raising, and at gardening and canning. The children come from thirty states and each has a record of which many an adult would be proud.

Two of these champions come from Utah. Mattie Hubbard, aged fourteen, has had the best garden and the largest amount of produce as well as the best net profit of any girl in her state. Merle Hoyer, of Cache county, Utah, is the national champion of all the boys' potato clubs. He obtained a yield of 382 bushels of potatoes from his half-acre tract.

Because of the exceptional quality of his seed, Merle Hoyer is permitted to sell his seed potatoes under the "H. H. Brand" label, which is approved by the department of agriculture. This label is the latest development of Uncle Sam's effort to standardize the agricultural products of the country for the benefit of the consumer.

The club idea for boys and girls in rural districts is comparatively new, but it is spreading like wildfire over the entire country. Boys and girls are represented by the eighty who are now enjoying the sights of the national capital. The first effort to induce the boys to cultivate land for themselves through cooperative clubs was made by a county superintendent in Illinois in 1885 that produced the first club.

After he had been successful in his first year, he was followed by other counties. In 1895, 162 boys were enlisted in corn club work. This included in the department of agriculture. In 1905, 162 boys were enlisted in corn club work. This included in the department of agriculture.

The object of the club work was to induce the boys to interest themselves in improving the quality, the quantity and the raising and marketing of their crops. It was found that the boys in the country needed a similar organization, so following the organization of the boys' clubs, the girls' clubs were established. The members of these clubs plant their gardens and attend to their cultivation. They go further than the boys for they can produce. Originally, tomatoes were the chief products of the boys' clubs, but now the range has widened. A fifteen-year-old girl in Ohio exhibited twenty-eight varieties of canned products at a national fair this year. This is the product of her club work.

Miss Lucy Ely, of Augusta, N. J., is the state champion of the girls' clubs of her state, and she will represent the girls' clubs in Washington. She has a garden of 15.77, including ground rent, the value of her own labor and every other expenditure. Her record was $100.00. This is a profit of $100.00 for her season's work. This shows the possibility of making a single acre land yield a profit of $100.00, a valuable record for a girl of her age.

The department of agriculture encourages these clubs by preparing literature, including directions for cultivating the different crops and for canning the products. It supplies the clubs under some conditions, the state to enable a club to begin its work, but it does not expect to receive prizes or its entertaining the club representatives. All of the children have been sent to Washington either by their state or county, some outside organization or a citizen interested in their work. While in Washington, they are under the care of the department, which has arranged an elaborate program for their pleasure. This program includes a reception by President Wilson, when moving pictures of interest in Washington will be shown to the children. The department of agriculture, who will be the special diploma for the work they have accomplished.

While the children are being taken upon the most pleasurable sight-seeing trips which can be devised for their entertainment, the annual conference of the leaders of the clubs will be held. This movement will be a session. The topics under consideration will include a study of the national products, especially the buying and selling, the use of the new labels for standardizing the club products, and many other subjects helpful to the club work. Most of the leaders have chaperoned the children from their home states, but have turned them over to the special entertainment committee provided by the department of agriculture while they attend the conference.

For several years the champions of the boys' corn clubs have been awarded trips to Washington as prizes for their work, but this is the first time the girls have been so entertained. The party contains almost as many girls as boys, and the enthusiasm with which the girls have worked in their clubs shows how thoroughly the organization and its objects are appreciated. The children were each permitted to bring specimens of their products to be placed upon exhibition in the national museum.

The labels provided for these clubs, which are new to even some of the champions, are designed to stimulate their efforts. There are five of these designed for the boys' corn clubs, the boys' potato clubs, the girls' canning and garden clubs, the boys' cotton club and the all-star corn club. These clubs represent a "Four Square" training of the members for the "Four Square" means of citizenship and some life. The "H" represent the head, hands, heart and health of every child. "H" has a training value. "H" represent the head, hands, heart and health. "H" represent the head, hands, heart and health. "H" represent the head, hands, heart and health.

The club work comes under the office of farm management of the department of agriculture. It is expected that every state will have a special agent for boys and girls clubs, and that the salaries and other expenses are divided between the state and the department of agriculture. It is not expected that the state will make the appointments as fast as the states request, because of the lack of federal appropriations. Several states, Oregon made their own arrangements for their special agent, but can go no further until the department of agriculture provides its special agent. In the meantime, the states are carrying on the work chiefly by correspondence and the literature and direct training by the department of agriculture. Women's clubs are especially interested in the canning work of the girls and are raising money to pay the expense of demonstration work.

A Versatile Motor Truck

The city of Boston owns a three-ton motor truck that can claim the record for versatile efficiency. It was designed primarily as a sprinkling cart and used in summer for laying the dust in the streets. When weather came, sprinkling was no longer necessary, so the city bought a motor truck with a pump and hose for the park, simply by changing the spraying device.

When using either oil or water the truck is equipped with a pressure pump by which the water or oil that drives the truck, so that it is possible to fill the tank with steam, air, or an oil tank, when no outside pressure is available.

This pressure pump further contributes to the versatility of the truck, as it may be used for reversing the pump action, the truck can be made to throw a stream of water capable of putting out a fire in a small house or a heap of waste material safely, as is often found in the city.

The varied uses to which this particular truck has been put have suggested to the city authorities a similar equipment for all the street sprinklers, so that in the future these machines will not lie idle in the barns all during the winter months. In addition to this versatile truck, the city has demonstrated that it can do the ordinary work of four or five horse-drawn water carts.

Quips and Quiddities

The elite were considerably mystified when their washerwoman whirled by in a speeded Hmoising, and not a little nettled besides. "Since we do not, as a matter of social usage, pay our laundry bills, how," they demanded, with asperity, "do you command such luxuries?"

"Why, by saving the soap-wrappers, to be sure!" the washerwoman explained in the best of temper.—"But"

A laborer had recently taken to socialism. A friend met the man and the following conversation took place. "Now, Mike, if you had two brick houses, would you be willing to give me one of them?" asked his friend.

"And if you had two automobiles would you give me one?" asked Mike.

"And if you had two cows would you give me one?" asked Mike.

WOMAN'S CLUB TO GIVE POOR CHILDREN A TREE

Christmas Plans Announced at December Meeting—Will Sell Red Cross Stamps

A Christmas tree with Santa Claus to give the gifts, and poor children to be invited to receive them, was the Christmas program decided upon at the meeting of the Atlanta Women's club.

At the club house on Baker street on Monday afternoon, December 8, Mrs. Irvine Thomas was named president of the committee in charge of the entertainment.

Mrs. A. P. Cole, president of the club, announced after the meeting that donations of gifts will be listed between December 22, at her home or at the club house.

Monday's meeting of the club was an interesting one. Mrs. H. C. Patterson, on current business, gave an outline of the recent organization of Longfellow's "Evangelist."

The club decided to take an interest in selling Red Cross stamps for anti-tuberculosis society, and chose Monday as its day.

The art and crafts committee was in charge of the second half of the program. Miss Virginia Woodley, chairman, invited specialists in various branches of the art to give short talks.

Miss Lela Hope on the subject of painting. Wilbur Kurtz on illustration. Mark Sheridan on letter writing. Thurston Hatch on photography, and Miss Marie Haines on penmanship.

Policemen Cheaper Than Mules, Observes Mr. Alderman Maddox

"I know that your honor, but policemen are cheaper than mules," said Alderman J. W. Maddox in police court Tuesday.

The judge had just declared Mr. Maddox to have been inconsiderate at least in making Patrolman Bostwick run some three and a half blocks beside one of the alderman's teams.

Fairborn Bostwick, on the Peachtree downtown beat with the case watch, known to hundreds as "Dad" Bostwick, and to thousands of others as a policeman of short and heavy build, he is one of the kindest officers in the city force, but no greyhound.

The world-wide standard Baking Powder

Absolutely Pure

Royal Baking Powder is the embodiment of all the excellence possible to be attained in the highest class baking powder and its use is more economical than other leavening agents, because of the superlative quality and absolute wholesomeness of the food it makes.

Cheap baking powders, containing alum, are frequently distributed from door to door, or advertised as pure and wholesome. Such mixtures are not desirable for food ingredients. Most persons have learned to their sorrow that a low price does not always mean economy. This is especially so in a food article. No baking powder can properly be substituted for Royal.

Read the ingredient clause upon the label. If it does not show "Cream of Tartar," don't buy the powder.

It pays to be very particular--especially so, in the selection of food-stuff. When you buy bread, for instance, don't just ask for "a loaf of bread." Be sure to specify "Uncle Sam Bread."

Uncle Sam Bread is a famous Atlanta-made product. It's a bread that ALWAYS gives absolute satisfaction--because it's uniformly good. EVERY loaf is as good as human skill can make it--all loaves of Uncle Sam Bread are exactly alike in goodness.

Only the best flour, and other ingredients of the highest grade, are used in making Uncle Sam Bread. It's made in a sanitary and clean bakery. The dough is kneaded by machinery--NOT by human hands. Ask your grocer for Uncle Sam Bread. He sells it.

Individual pink baskets in miniature also filled with tiny convolvulus rosebuds scented the guests' places.

Miss Ansley was very charming in a striking frock of blue, charmingly worn with a becoming black velvet hat adorned with a single black bird of paradise.

Report of Meeting of Atlanta Woman's Club
An interesting event of Monday afternoon, December 8, was the meeting of the Atlanta Woman's club.

Miss L. A. Sales in her address urged upon the members the Christmas spirit of helping others.

The children's welfare committee presented a report of their work during the year. The committee to have a Christmas tree for poor children. The committee has a list of needy little ones from the Association of Churches and other sources and will visit the parents and children in their homes.

The Junior Civic League will meet on Wednesday afternoon at the Woman's club with Mrs. Lillian Anderson presiding. There are 200 members of this league in Atlanta.

The Red Cross stamp sale will be held Friday, December 19, at the Woman's club. Miss L. A. Sales is in charge of the sale. All members of the club are urged to volunteer as workers on that day.

The current events committee had an interesting program. Mrs. R. C. Patterson read an article on the dramatization of Longfellow's "Evangeline," giving a description of the different sets with scenic effects as produced at the Park theater.

PROGRAM OF MEETING
The program for the afternoon was presented by the chairman, Miss Virginia Woolley, presiding. Miss Woolley organized the ten and fifteen club, bringing together a circle of artists in Atlanta. In discussing art, Miss Woolley announced to the club that she had planned to invite them to studios to meet the artists and their work, introducing as the first art on the program, Miss Lucy Stanton, of Athens, the south's well known portrait and miniature painter.

Miss Stanton composed articles, pictures, discussion of atmosphere, lights and shades, cause and effects, showing many beautiful illustrations of her work.

Miss Lala Ross, who has painted in many foreign cities, and who will be the luncheon artist, showing sketches of Georgia and pictures done in Rome, Italy.

Mr. Wilbur Karts told very delightfully the history of illustration and their work, citing Howard Pyle and other examples of the revolutionary period. As Mr. Karts closed his humorous remarks on illustrators and illustrators he showed illustrations from his studio beautiful in design and coloring.

Mr. Mark Sheridan told of interior decoration, and the many trials of his art of the ceiling decorations that can not be done on canvas. Mr. Sheridan told of how capital decorating has been done in Atlanta, explaining the process of making beautiful, bare walls and spaces.

Mr. Thurston Hatcher had many pictures of photographic art, and compared his art of today with that of 1839. Mr. Hatcher in explaining the art of child photography, said as this is the age of the child, photographers are in line and are giving especial attention to child life and expression.

"Child," by Miss Marie Haines, was led by specimen from her studio. The process of pottery was described by Miss Haines with vases to show the results to be attained by the skilled modeler.

After the close of the meeting the audience enjoyed the work displayed, spending a delightful social half hour.

TALENTED YOUNG MUSICIAN

MISS EDWINA BENDER. Who describes in detail plans for the series of evening concerts to be given by the Philharmonic Orchestra during the winter.

In the following interesting sketch Miss Edwina Bender tells of the plans formulated by the Atlanta Musical association to give the series of evening concerts to be given during the winter by the Philharmonic orchestra, the same social prominence which is accorded in Boston to the concerts by the symphony orchestra.

"The next concert of the Philharmonic orchestra of the Atlanta musical association will be its first appearance in the evening. The concerts heretofore having been given in the afternoon.

"The Atlanta theater, where it will be held, will present a brilliant appearance, with an audience in full evening dress, as is the custom at the evening concerts of the famous Boston Symphony orchestra, as well as at grand opera in our own city.

"There will be a number of box parties, and little suppers afterwards will in several cases form a pleasant close to the evening.

"The program, too, will be reminiscent of grand opera. Mr. Wilford Waters, the well known baritone, will sing the 'Evening Star' aria from Tannhauser, as well as several other operatic selections.

"Probably the greatest favorite on the program will be the famous sextet from 'Lohengrin,' which will be sung by Mesdames Sheldon and Spritz and Messrs. Waters, Cuddeh, Wardwell and Bates.

"The orchestra will present a well chosen program of selections ranging from the charming and sprightly Norwegian dances by Grieg to Beethoven's great first symphony, one of the musical high water marks of all times.

The orchestra, including its newly-acquired genuine members, is in fine form, and conductor Wilson has every reason to expect to give a splendid concert on Tuesday next.

His remarks on illustrators and illustrators he showed illustrations from his studio beautiful in design and coloring.

LITTLE STORIES FOR BED TIME

By Thornton W. Burgess

Copyright, 1913, by J. G. Lloyd.

Chatterer the Red Squirrel sat in the top of a pine tree scolding. Who was he scolding? Why, no one in particular. In fact, he was scolding because there was no one about to scold. He was scolding just to hear his own voice. You see, Chatterer is never really happy unless there is a fuss of some kind going on. He dearly loves a fuss and when he cannot find any one else to quarrel with he tries to quarrel with himself. At least that is the way it seems to the other little people of the Green Forest.

Now that Jack Frost had arrived and so many of the little feathered people had gone away for the winter, and so many of the little people who wear fur had gone to sleep for the winter, there was so much less mischief for Chatterer to get into that Chatterer was feeling rather dull. You know he loves excitement. Yes, Chatterer the Red Squirrel loves excitement, and this bright morning there wasn't any. So he sat in the pine tree and scolded just to keep his spirits up.

"It was very still here in the Green Forest, very still, indeed, except for the chirping of a few birds who were just beginning to make their own voice. He hadn't seen a soul to torment that morning, and he hadn't had a blessed thing to do, and this made him feel as if he had had a bad harvest. He needed for the winter and now he just sat there and scolded. Suddenly a thought popped into his head. Chatterer stopped scolding.

"I believe I'll run over to the hollow chestnut tree and scold at Bobby Coon," said Chatterer. "Bobby is sure to be asleep and to wake me up when I make him cross. That will be fun."

He scampered through the trees and over to the big hollow chestnut tree which is the home of Bobby Coon. He listened at Bobby's door. Yes, Bobby was there and he was asleep. Chatterer struck his head against the door.

"Wake up! Wake up, you sleepy-head! This is no time to be in bed!"

THE EVENING STORY

By W. Werner

Copyright, 1912, by W. Werner.

I had been a year in the west, teaching when the first intimation came to me of the marvelous happenings at home. In a letter from sister Nora, in which she skinned hurriedly over the regulation paragraph relating to father's and mother's health, and ample justification for her words. At the finish of the 7 o'clock dinner (the regular time of noon on the dot had the old hour) I felt that I and father and mother were visitors in some fashionable, beautifully managed hotel, being initiated into the mode of life of the "best" people by the stately maid. Mother, I was sure, was mortally afraid of her, else, enthusiastic housewife that she was, she would not have submitted needily to the management of her home being taken completely out of her capable hands. And the new regime, I could plainly see, though mother tried to smile cheerily, and constantly spoke of Dick's goodness, was putting a wistful, tired light in her soft gray eyes. As the friend next door said when he came over for a few moments in the evening, and I bluntly informed him that I didn't like the regulation, "it's a case of making the revolution, Kit, this taking away from your father and mother the work which to them was not work, but life."

"Goodness, Kit, don't you know me?"

"Hush! the years!" The words died with me, and, as the days passed, and I watched father and mother drop and die with me, I had been deceived one and I was right. Dick and Nora, in taking them away had been proud in their ranks, far from adding to the years, racking them.

It would have been laughable if I had not found it so pitiful, the way they were laid to rest, the knowledge from each other. But I easily gained the secret. Mother had been cladded over Nora's capture; and when Dick began to tell me of his home, he destroyed one and they saw the amazement of the other. Mother had been proud in their ranks, far from adding to the years, racking them.

RUSHING THE YEARS

I had been a year in the west, teaching when the first intimation came to me of the marvelous happenings at home. In a letter from sister Nora, in which she skinned hurriedly over the regulation paragraph relating to father's and mother's health, and

When I told the friend next door about it and how I was to look forward to the departure of the madam, adding that, of course, as I did not contemplate returning to the west, I really was not standing guard over some lovely woman, he said, "I looked blank and he went on: 'Don't you think they would be happy after this trying to get themselves?'"

When I told the friend next door about it and how I was to look forward to the departure of the madam, adding that, of course, as I did not contemplate returning to the west, I really was not standing guard over some lovely woman, he said, "I looked blank and he went on: 'Don't you think they would be happy after this trying to get themselves?'"

His eyes were meaning. He looked toward me eagerly. "And don't you think, in my case, patience should have been shown?"

I really did and told him so.

Mother approached just then and I left them.

It's great, mother, father would say, and the dear innocent never knew every word was a trick, as he would have the old chores to fuss over any more," and mother would respond, "Yes, indeed, and that you don't have to break your back in the garden."

It was in talking about the garden that I thought of the garden.

HAYNES' GATHERING OF FASHIONABLE JEWELRY THE LARGEST IN THE HISTORY OF THE STORE

As one is shown tray after tray of the beautiful conceits which we have gathered for the Southland's Christmas, they wonder at the mind of the craftsman who could conceive such wonderful designs.

The unwonted natural beauty of the semi and precious stone, with the diamond flashing and sparkling in the lead, has been materially enhanced by mountings apparently delicate in structure but really sufficient in strength to endure the hardest wear.

We disposed of our old stock before occupying our new quarters last summer and have here for you choosing a selection that is not only large but absolutely new.

With the advent of the handsomest jewelry store in "Dixie" we have attempted to raise the standard of our service above the conventional, and while we do not claim perfection we do claim the best in the country.

Gotham Ruled By Baseball

Magnates, Writers and Players Gather for Series of League Meetings

NEW YORK, Dec. 9.—Baseball magnates, players and writers from many cities are gathered here to attend a series of meetings that will continue until Wednesday or later. The International League opened its annual session yesterday afternoon and today the National League club owners will convene and Governor John K. Tener, of Pennsylvania, in all probability will be elected president for a four-year term.

Consideration of the demands of the players as presented through their fraternity by David Pate, their president, will furnish lively discussion for the National League conference. The International League took up the demand yesterday. The league regarded them generally as objectionable and deferred action, announcing that it would wait upon action by the national baseball commission and the National Association of Professional Baseball Clubs.

The International League formally adopted the 1914 citizenship petition to Newark. The next session will open on April 15.

The league discussed, but took no action on the proposition that the league post-season series be arranged with the American association.

Announcements and reports of several baseball deals were the subject of conversation. The Montreal club purchased Boyle and Bauman, from the Boston club.

There was nothing more definite than rumors regarding the disposition of Joe Tinker, disposed as Cincinnati manager. President Ebbets, of the Brooklyn, was in company with President Angus Herr, manager of the Cincinnati, most of yesterday. In line with the announced purpose of slaying Tinker.

The American League got into the baseball limelight with the announcement by the New York club that Jacob Knight had been sold to Toledo, of the American association, a club which it was not mentioned. Knight has been in and out of the major leagues several times. Manager Frank Chance bought him from the Jersey City team to play first base for Hal Chase was traded to the Chicago White Sox.

The Philadelphia Athletics world's champion, have deserted the cause of the Baseball Players' Fraternity. It was reported last night. The organization is seeking numerous concessions from the major and minor leagues. The Athletics, it was declared, would describe their names to a list of seventeen demands that would include Philadelphia players calculating they had no grievances and that the same would be unfair to Manager Connie Mack.

SIX-DAY BICYCLE RIDERS AHEAD OF FORMER RECORDS

Fourteen Teams Tied With 681 Miles, Three Laps, at 8 o'Clock Tuesday Morning, as Against Best Previous Distance of 676 Miles and One Lap

NEW YORK, Dec. 9.—Fourteen teams were tied with 681 miles 2 laps at 8 o'clock this morning, the thirty-second of the six-day bicycle race. The Corry-Walker team was one lap behind the leaders, while Kopy and Keese had covered only 481 miles flat. The previous record for the hour was 676 miles 4 laps, as compared with 628 miles 4 laps, the former record.

At 2 o'clock this morning the end of the twenty-sixth hour, fourteen teams were tied at 512 miles, 7 laps. Walker and Corry were one lap behind and Kopy and Keese two laps behind the leaders, who were one mile, seven laps behind the record made last year by Hecht and Hour.

At 11 o'clock last night, after twenty-three hours of racing, sixteen teams remained in the contest. Fourteen of these were tied with 512 miles, eight and six laps behind the record. Corry

McFarland Is Point Winner

Ten-Round No-Decision Bout With Jack Britton Disappoints Big Crowd

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Dec. 9.—Packer McFarland outpointed his old enemy, Jack Britton, both of Chicago, in an unsatisfactory ten-round no-decision boxing contest before 4,500 spectators here last night.

McFarland had the better of five rounds, while four were even and one was Britton's. Both in the eighth and ninth Packer had Jack, but was unable to put him out. Britton, at times, fought McFarland to a standstill and even outboxed him, but this was only in flashes. The crowd jeered the boxers during most of the contest, and there were numerous cries of "Put 'em out," "Stop the bout." Neither man seemed anxious to fight, but wore up in the ninth, exchanging heavy blows to the body and jaw. Britton was in bad way at the end of the round.

Walter Newman Wins Road Race

Reported That Head of National League, When Superceded by Pennsylvania Governor, Will Be Put in Charge of the Indicator Handlers, Meeting Today

NEW YORK, Dec. 9.—It seemed agreed prior to the annual meeting of the National League today that Governor John K. Tener, of Pennsylvania, would be elected president to succeed Thomas J. Lynch.

It was reported that Mr. Lynch would be named by the league as chief of the umpire staff, but no official announcement to this effect was made.

The directors met to award the 1913 pennant to the Giants and hear among other reports that of a committee appointed last year to consider the New York club's protest against paying more than 25 per cent of its share of the 1912 world's series receipts.

At the league meeting proper the demands of the Players' Fraternity, C. H. Ebbets' new plan for drafting players, which will give the second division club first call; the attitude of the Federal League, and the appointment of the club's committee.

The rules committee appointed at today's session will meet a similar committee of the American League, composed of Ben Johnson, C. W. Somers and Connie Mack. These committees will confer with three members of the Baseball Writers' association, who have its annual meeting at the Waldorf-Astoria today.

Football and Basketball Played at Penn.

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 9.—Football and basketball were the only sports at a financial profit last night to show to the report submitted last night to the Athletic association. Receipts from football were $14,042 for 1913, while the expense were $12,742. Basketball cost $1,937 and the receipts were $2,937. Baseball receipts were $8,912 and expenses $10,119. Track cost $13,886 and receipts of $7,230. The report showed a deficit of $4,695.

The expenses included interest on bonds, office and general expense as well as donations to many sports for which no admission fees are charged. The net receipts from all sources were $12,242, and the expense $169,733.

Walter Newman Wins Road Race

The annual prep cross-country run held Monday afternoon was won by Walter Newman, a member of the Boys' High school team.

Newman's time for the course was 29 minutes flat, and he considered good time for this course. The course was along Spring street from Baker to Fourteenth and returned a distance of 5.18 miles.

Dodge, running for Marist college, was second. His time was 21 minutes.

Cross, of Boys' High, was third.

Out of the first eight men that finished, Boys' High had five men to finish and win the cup offered to the team finishing five men first.

Newman was leading at the turn, which was at Fourteenth street, and he held this lead until the finish, where he was running strong. Newman is a member of the "Tree Mountain club," which won the team prize in the recent A. C. road race. A good crowd turned out to witness the race and enjoyed it very much.

Belgian Racer Killed on Hunt

MUSKEL, Belgium, Dec. 9.—Osmile Jenatton, the Belgian automobile racing pilot, was killed accidentally while hunting in a forest near here this evening. He was driving his 1912 Buick, which was owned by Alfred Meunier, of Brussels, editor of the Ettoile Belge, were members of a party on the game preserve of a wealthy friend and in the dusk Meunier started the car and drove a deer and fired. The explosive bullet struck Jenatton in the thigh and he bled to death.

S. I. A. A. Holds Annual Meeting in Jacksonville Friday

HANK'S FORTY-SEVENTH DAY--HE BUYS A LIVE TURKEY

--BY FARREN

THE SPORTLIGHT

BY GRANTLAND RICE

The meeting of National League magnates will about close out the fiscal year for 1913. When the magnates have dispersed there will be a sportive lull in the holiday season when the first of the year will lead in the start of another spectacular campaign. It will be several weeks after January 1 before the buzz begins in earnest, but the buzzing will be incessant all times once it is under way.

THE LATEST HERO.

The latest and last hero of a heroic campaign will be uncovered at this meeting. It has been the sporting public's fortune at one time or another through the waning year to acclaim such heroes as McLoughlin, Williams, Travers, Outmet, the Big Four, Eddie Collins, Frank Baker, Chris Mathewson, Charley Brickerley and a few others who have earned the laurelled heights of fame and rested with the olive branch around their clammy foreheads.

And now to this list must be added the name of John K. Tener, who has agreed to become president of the National League.

And if you one thinks that such an acceptance doesn't call for all or most of the heroic attributes, we respectfully suggest that he or she inquire of Thomas J. Lynch. If such Spartan fortitude and desperate courage don't make Mr. Tener a hero our definition of that word has one ready stry.

CONCERNING KETCHAM--

Dear Sir: Now that most of the turmoil is over and the smoke has cleared from the battlefield and things have settled down somewhat, I want a confession. Don't you honestly think that the roasting which Capt. Ketcham, of Yale, received for rough play this season from the papers was due, not to any rough or unfair play, but because Ketcham had the nerve to come out and say that "football was not played for the benefit of the newspapers"? Wasn't it a case of getting back at Ketcham more than anything else? ELLIOTT

It is more than possible that Ketcham's interview centered direct and immediate attention his way, and that the paning was packed on a trifle for this cause. But we were among several who thought that Ketcham's play against Princeton was a bit strenuous, even as football goes. In behalf of Yale's 1913 captain, however, we were willing to furnish the statement to Messrs. Langford, Snow and Fulton, the officials of that game, to the effect that Ketcham was not unduly rough or deliberately violent in this direction.

So far as we have been able to find out from among those who know him, Ketcham is a clean-cut youngster who might be a trifle overzealous, but one with no intention to offend against the best interests of clean sport.

DEFENSE AND OFFENSE.

Football defense may be as important or even more so, than the offense, but this program doesn't work in baseball.

The second best fielding club in the National League was the Cardinals. This club finishes well above the Giants--as fielders--but when it came to the Standing of the Clubs there was a slightly different story to relate.

The Giants won the National League pennant through good pitching, a defensive angle, but in the main through a strong, rushing, base-running attack. They won by scoring runs and they turned this trick at bat on the base line.

The Athletics won the American League with the old furniture which in many circles is known as the walloping orb or the punch. And they beat back the Giants by mauling, the everlasting and eternal padding out of Giant pitchers, consistent, rushing attack that carries the wallop far above any defensive strength. Of what value is the best hitting outfield and best batting line with a hokie like Baker punting the ball clean out of the country?

ANOTHER ANGLE.

Battling in baseball is the most spectacular part of the game, or rather the most pleasing. It is here that the bulk of all thrills lies North. The same is true in football. The attack is far and away more interesting than the defense, and when the East gives more time to defense, it will furnish a more interesting game.

VETERANS THERE.

In fielding throughout the National League, veterans showed what long experience and steadiness develop. Tinker and Wagner were the two leading shortstops; Devlin was around the top among third basemen and Higgins led the second basemen. The youngsters can go faster in a strike, but maintaining a steady, even pace is only achieved from what time and practice can teach.

Infielders like Wagner, Lajoie, Tinker, Devlin, etc., may not cover the ground like a Maraville or a Collins. But once they get the flyball inside their reach, it is far less often that a tumble results. What age does in brilliancy and dash it partly recovers in added steadiness and firmness. Time, for example, has taken from Mathewson something of his old time speed and smoke. But it has added better control and a deeper knowledge of pitchers.

There are two factors to this proposition of sportive excellence, viz., what you have and what you can do with it. Youth may have 100 per cent of it in the raw, but only 50 per cent is under control. The veteran may have only 70 per cent of it left, but he is master of 65 per cent, and by this margin carries the edge. We mean by "veteran" a ball player around thirty; for thirty in baseball is over the hill on the highway which breaks downward for the rest of the road.

"What's your mean," pens in a bystander, "about Brickerley being forced to kick goals with his knee-cap?" Will I wager that bird could average 8 out of 10 with his left eye?

If Cal. Huerta had ever seen that Morris-Willard battle and had heard that these two were ranked among the best heavy-weight fighters in America, he would probably have been waving his flag, neither in white nor Mexican army, in no worthy invading fighting machine, neither in white nor Mexican army, in no worthy invading fighting machine, neither in white nor Mexican army, in no worthy invading fighting machine.

Local men have built the several best motor boats which have ever completed a new model craft which has developed a speed of more than a mile a minute in its preliminary tests. The boat covered a seven-mile measured course in 4 minutes and 20 seconds.

ALBANY, N. C., Dec. 9.--A. A. Stagg, of Chicago, and T. Lightbourn, of Bermuda, divided honors yesterday in a selected "open" golf handicap at Pinehurst. Stagg's handicap was 10 and Lightbourn's fifteen. Each finished with a net score of fifty-one.

Innis Brown, Sport Expert, Conducts Journal Pages; Knows Game From Inside

Noted Football Captain, Official and Writer, Becomes Sports Editor--Here's the "Dope" on His Past Performances

INNIS BROWN, New sport editor of The Journal, former captain of Vanderbilt football team, with a style all his own.

There are sport experts and expert sports. There are fans who couldn't conduct a pressing club which write daily with a team or see any day past to wise him up on running the team. There are players on big time who can't write a six-line joke, notice and get it past the copy reader.

Innis Brown is different. He knows sports. He has played the game and written about it. He has capped in the past a somewhat famous career as a school, grew into a husky youth and otherwise followed in the well known course of young America until the time when he met good Tommie Brown, who went to Vanderbilt. The very first day of the season he was in the game. McGuan saw him. And that's where Innis Brown got to know him. One paper.

It was in 1904 that the name of I. Brown began to appear with startling regularity in the sport pages, followed by the words "made eleven yards through tackle" or "bounced the line for seven yards" or "was called down for roughing" or "was tackled by..." He played for Vanderbilt three seasons, in 1904, 1905 and 1906. He was captain of the team, elected by the voters, and in 1905 he won the history the Commodore had the big end of the record in those years. Brown was in the first inter-sectional game played by Vanderbilt, when Michigan trounced the Commodore severely. But the game did a lot for Southern football.

"The proudest memory of my life," Brown replied to a question the other day, "was when I was captain of the Vanderbilt team that linked Southern with the biggest score in her history, before or since."

IN NEWSPAPER WORK.

His football days past and a brother or two spending for his place on the team. Innis Brown took a tip from Grantland Rice, also a Vanderbilt man and an athlete, and began writing sport news for the Nashville papers. After a year or so of that, the call of the wild lured him to Mexico, not as a soldier of fortune or a filibuster, but as an engineer for a mining company.

A year of Mexico was a plenty, and he came home with a little Spanish and a bunch of bullies. He joined the news staff of an Atlanta paper, helped brighten his sport pages on special occasions, and left the newspaper field two years ago to manage the Atlanta club of the Presto-Pop magazine, which he abandoned this week to take charge of The Journal's sport department.

It may be mentioned in passing that he is a member of the Atlanta Athletic Club, and that he is a member of the Atlanta Athletic Club, and that he is a member of the Atlanta Athletic Club.

Riggs Hit Best ONE-YEAR RULE FOR S. I. A. A. LIKELY AT COMING MEETING

Played in but Few Games, Holmes, of Morristown, is Real Leader

ARTHUR RIGGS, who during the early part of the season was manager of the Morristown team, leads the batting list with an average of .478. He took part in only 19 games, however, and the real leader is Holmes, of Morristown, who registered an average of .412 in 75 games. John Cochran, the big left fielder of the Home team, was second, with an average of .389. Cochran holds the league record for home runs, with 20 circuit clouts, and hit for a total of 237 bases in 105 games.

The leading hitters in the different positions were Graham, Morristown, first base, average .397; Fietz, Morristown, second base, average .346; McEwen, Knoxville, shortstop, average .345; Hain, Knoxville, third base, .349; Burke, Knoxville, .343; Walker, Bristol, .343; Sanders, Middleboro, outfielders, .335; Stuffer, Middleboro, pitcher, .315; Taylor, Johnson City, catcher, .291. The leading batter of the season was Townsend, of Morristown, who was six and lost one, with a percentage of .857. Of the pitchers who played the season through League of Knoxville, was the leader, with 24 wins and 11 losses. Morristown's loss had 20, and Johnson City, with a percentage of .424, led the league in club batting.

A NOTED OFFICIAL.

Since he defied the nose guard and harness Innis Brown has been greatly in demand as referee or umpire for football games, and has officiated at nearly forty big games in Atlanta in the past four years. The fact that, making of rival leagues are anxious to have him as arbiter of disputes should be a guarantee that his commitments will be honest, unbiased and well judged.

Innis Brown's griffin career has caused him to be identified principally with football, but he has for years been a close student of baseball and all outdoor sports. He writes with a style which, though his and inexact, never loses sight of the main idea--giving the facts uncolored.

The Journal, the first newspaper in the south to establish a sport page as a regular department, has had some notable sport editors. Jacques Futrelle, who afterwards became a famous story writer and whose death in the Titanic disaster was a national loss, was the first. Grantland Rice, whose genius has taken him to the top rank in the eastern field, was his successor. Walter Taylor conducted the page with success for several years, until the people wanted him for city clerk and elected him. Tom Allen, now night editor in Atlanta for the Associated Press, brightened the sport pages for a term, and Julian Murphy, whose death a few weeks ago saddened thousands of readers, made The Journal's department famous for completeness and accuracy. They have set a pace for Innis Brown--and anybody who doubts that we will keep it, with a little more for good measure.

ONE-YEAR RULE FOR S. I. A. A. LIKELY AT COMING MEETING

The annual winter meeting of the Southern Intercollegiate Athletic association will be held in Jacksonville on Friday and Saturday of this week. Each institution in the association is expected to have a representative present, and all matters of athletic importance pertaining to these institutions will be taken up.

No doubt the most important matter to come before the meeting is the consideration of the proposed one-year rule to apply in all branches of athletics. For several years past such a rule has been advocated by certain institutions, but heretofore the measure has failed because of stubborn resistance from other members. According to Prof. Hamble, who will represent Tech at this meeting, the measure appears certain of adoption. However, the Tech representative thinks that certain qualifications will be incorporated in the rule.

It is more than likely that the rule will be made to apply only to institutions which have student bodies of 500 or more. A straight rule, whereby first year men in all colleges are barred, would work special hardship on the smaller institutions. As a matter of fact, the first-year men frequently constitute a large part of the student body. For this reason it would be unwise to restrict in this manner the smaller schools.

In addition to the above matter, another of special local interest will be considered. The authorities here have been working diligently in an effort to take up the measure showing that Tech violated the rulings of the association rather than through ignorance than through any intention to do so. In fact, Tech before entering the league had repeatedly announced that he would not consider the possibility of entering any institution under circumstances which would vitiate his amateur standing.

With evidence of this kind to back up the argument Tech expects to have the big fellow reinstated, with the possibility that the suspension will not be lifted before next fall, thereby eliminating him from participation during the remainder of the present scholastic year.
