WASHINGTON, Sept. 23.—Speaker Clark quit his gavel today to take the floor to defend the Democratic caucus against the Republican attack. It does not care whose whip it is put through a bill, changing the tariff and currency system. If these measures are not good, we will be the ones to suffer; if they are, we will gain, but we did not propose to let you Republicans bring in other subjects on the floor while they were under consideration and distract the attention of the members and of the country from the great issues involved."

GEORGIA BANKERS APPROVE CHANGES

Urged Congress to Adopt Amendment to Money Bill Proposed at Chicago

Resolutions urging congress to give further consideration to the changes suggested by the Chicago conference of bankers in the Glass-Owen banking and currency bill now pending in the senate, and offering in lieu of that bill, were adopted Tuesday in Mason 26 by the executive council of the Georgia Bankers' association.

The consensus of opinion among the commission was that it is better to recognize fully the importance of a new currency and banking law, but that the bill must be drawn in such a way as to meet the approval of a large part of the 25,000 banks of the country, and must have their hearty cooperation. It will meet the needs of the country and fill the purpose for which it is introduced.

A copy of the resolutions adopted by the committee will be mailed to all the bankers in the state, with the request that they urge upon their congressmen and congressmen that these changes be made in the pending bill. The members of the executive committee are: C. H. Lewis, chairman; L. E. Hibberd, of Macon; L. O. Connelley, of Americus; T. H. Thomas, of Thomas; T. G. Gilchrist, of Thomasville; A. W. Hain, of Columbus; C. H. Lewis, of Atlanta; H. M. Fadden, of Atlanta; and H. Smith, of Griffin. Robert P. Madison, of Atlanta, vice president of the American National bank, who was one of the committee appointed by the Chicago conference to redraft the bill and subsequently a member of the committee, also argued the changes before the senate.

Whereas, We recognize the imperative necessity of incorporating into the banking and currency system of this country those proven principles which will provide the most ample credit facilities with the greatest safety and prompt currency based upon gold, which will automatically adjust its volume to trade requirements, and

Whereas, The house bill No. 7817, now pending, has many excellent features, we believe the bill as present will not fulfill the requirements of this country, and some of its provisions will prevent a great many of the national banks from joining the federal reserve system, and in our opinion, the bill of the senate is better adapted to the needs of this country and to the requirements of the American people.

Resolved, That we respectfully request the congress to recommend the following changes in the bill, which we believe to be of special importance in affecting the bill: First—That the circulating notes of the national reserve banks be issued instead of "in gold or lawful money."

Second—That the national banks be required to subscribe only 10 per cent of their capital stock instead of 20 per cent.

Third—That the banks throughout the country, which are exempted to subscribe the entire capital stock of the federal reserve banks, be permitted to name at least a minority of the federal reserve banks.

Fourth—That the par point feature of the bill, which virtually takes away from the country banks their exchange

Covers for Tuesday night dinner were laid in a hollow square. The hostmaster was A. S. Adams, of the firm of H. M. Grant & Co. Entertaining hosts were made by Dr. H. M. Dillmore, pastor First Methodist church; Judge Walter E. Colquhoun, Colonel E. T. Williams, E. S. Croft, K. G. Thomas, Don Lee Crow, W. S. Lounsbury and Alfred C. Nowell.

DENTON FACES TWO WARRANTS CHARGING KIDNAPING GIRLS

At Denton's office for three months. She is sixteen years old and lives at 14 Simpson street. The other girl is Klara Dason, daughter of H. A. Deane of Hapeville.

Denton declares that he is a victim of circumstances in that he happened to board the same train for Birmingham as his stenographer. He knew nothing of her presence on the train, he said, until he took his seat and found Miss Elliott, accompanied by the other girl, Miss Deane, whom he has never seen before, and the two young men, who were very attentive to them throughout the trip.

"I went to Birmingham on business Monday," he said, "and when I boarded the train found my stenographer in company with her whom I had never seen before. They were sitting across the aisle from me. Before the train left they were joined by two young men, both of whom remained with them throughout the trip.

"When we reached our destination I invited the party to lunch with me and all of us went to a cafe. The girls asked me to look with me and I had never seen before. They were sitting in the cafe for about ten minutes, saying they would be right back. I waited for nearly two hours and finally came back up. In the meantime my train had gone and it was impossible for me to get back to Atlanta.

"Our return tickets were good on Tuesday and as I had no idea of seeing the girls again, I sold mine and theirs and purchased a ticket for myself over the Southern that night. It was my intention to return to my home in Birmingham and the next day that I happened to be on the same train with them. The only thing the police have to hold me for, my assets are clear, absolutely, of any wrongdoing, and I have no fear of the consequences. I only ask the public to suspend judgment until I have a chance to prove my innocence."

Denton is fifty-seven years of age. He has recently separated from his wife and divorce proceedings are pending in the Fulton county courts.

CHICAGO SLEUTHS ON TRUNK MYSTERY TRACK

Although It Is Believed Hoax, From Trunk Meant Hoax, Investigation Is on

(By Associated Press.) CHICAGO, Sept. 24.—Although strongly inclined to the hoax theory of the trunk mystery, Police Captain James Stout continued his investigation today.

He began by trying to discover the whereabouts of Mrs. Katherine Cooley of Walnut, Ill., who was reported to have left that city in her automobile two weeks ago. The number of her automobile license is 72425, the name of one of the two numbers displayed on the motor truck to which the expressman, Louis Brain, carried the trunk, from which he said he heard cries.

A special dispatch from Walnut to the Daily News says that Mrs. Cooley also a special agent and never was the owner of an automobile. No one is missing from that city. A new car was the license number 71243 was issued on application from Walnut, Ill., a suburb of Chicago.

NOT NECESSARY FOR SICK MAN TO RIDE IN BAGGAGE

Even though a sick man may die of discomfort caused by a railroad's refusal to carry him in the baggage car of one of its trains, his widow cannot recover damages if the railroad, says the state court of appeals. The diligence required of a railroad to convey a passenger whom it has accepted for transportation is to equip the baggage car to place a sick passenger in the baggage car, says the court.

Mrs. Ella Mae Fleming sued the Central of Georgia in the city court of Greenville for damages because of the death of her husband, Mr. Henry A. Fleming, suffering from appendicitis, was placed on a train in Marietta where she was taken to Atlanta for an operation. The request was made that his cot be placed in the baggage car, in order that he might lie down as he rode. This request was denied, alleged the suit, his appendix burst and he died. The verdict of the jury was in favor of Mrs. Fleming. The court of appeals reverses that judgment.

J. D. PRICE TO ADDRESS NEGRO FARMERS' MEETING

He's Going to Get a Look at Chief Reverend Peia Penick of Africa

J. D. Price, commissioner of agriculture, displayed with considerable pride a big yellow sheet on which was printed in bold type the program of the Colored Farmers' convention at Madison, Morgan county, September 23, 24 and 27. He read it aloud, rolling from his tongue the announcement that Chief Reverend Peia Penick, a native of Africa, would speak upon the subject of "Dark Africa," and the Sotomah's band would play plenteously ever and during the three days of celebration.

"I'm going to answer that question in the affirmative," said he. "Of course I'll be there. Those negro farmers raise crops, and their crops bring money to Georgia. Anything that helps them, helps the state. And then, too, I'll get a chance to see that Chief Rev. Peia Penick for nothing."

The admission to the convention, which will be held in the baseball park, is 25 cents. The commissioner denied emphatically that he will get a percentage of the gate receipts. Mayor Parker and other prominent white men of Morgan county are on the program. The affair is to be conducted under auspices of St. Paul's African Methodist Episcopal church of Madison.

WAR HERE BEGAN
WEDNESDAY A YEAR AGO

On Anniversary Date Chief
Beavers Comments on Action in Closing Hours

Wednesday, September 24, marks the anniversary of the closing of Atlanta's restricted district. On this date a year ago Chief of Police James L. Beavers, without consulting any one, and in the face of the opposition of the city and the commission, started the city by an order demanding that every house be closed within the week.

In accordance with this order, there was a bolt from the blue, the restricted district closed its doors, and every door every door has remained closed ever since, nor will one of them open so long as he holds his office.

In commenting on the anniversary of the restriction on vice Chief Beavers declared that Atlanta today in the United States is the only city in the United States which is not one recognized disorderly house within the city limits. He said that disorderly houses have always been in the city, but that the closing of these houses has been a wonderful success and the city has been greatly benefited.

It is very much pleased with the situation which I consider to be in the hands of the city and I am convinced that it is possible to stamp out these houses and they are closed for good and all. I do not believe that the people of Atlanta ever will submit to a return to the old conditions. No matter who is in charge, there will be no more recognition of vice in the city.

Mrs. Lindsey Defends Her
Criticism in Which She Said Atlanta Girls Drank

Civic League Secretary Declares That Prominent Atlanta Women Who Criticized
Her Speech Are the Very Ones to Help Eradicate the Alleged Evils Among Atlanta
Girls and Boys

Mrs. G. B. Lindsey, managing editor of the Golden Age and corresponding secretary of the Civic League of America, whose address here is the Southern Citizenship Congress, broke through the Atlanta club women has given out an interview in defense of her declaration that many Atlanta girls are carried out of cafes and clubs in an intoxicated condition. Mrs. Lindsey in her latest statement says: "It was clearly condemning the blighting course of the idle rich and the tooling boys, who should dress in a modest and unassuming manner, but do not; who should refrain from tobacco, beer and cigarettes, but do not. That this scolding type of girls and boys and their thoughtless parents exists in Atlanta is not a new thing, but it is not accepted, is a fact that is entirely too evident to even the casual observer to be denied. It only takes a little close watching of numbers of automobiles that unload their passengers on our streets after day or the crowds that fill many of our stylish cafes and 'swellst' clubs and private and public halls to establish the painful evidence of the statement which I made with deep regret but not without purpose.

Let it be remembered, first and last, that I made no wholesale charge against Atlanta society girls. In pleading for what Dr. Brown called America's greatest need, a baptism of modesty, plainness, sobriety and industry to our Christian citizenship from certain types of people. When I said that girls are sometimes carried out of fashionable cafes and clubs in 'stupor' and irresponsibility of course I knew my ground—on personal observation in the circle in which I move but not on infallible evidence. For the sake of the cause I knew I was taking an advertising charge the guilty would not rush to their own defense. Blameless merchants in Atlanta would feel called upon to defend themselves and their colleagues against the charge that I have made. It is a growing tendency in business circles and I feel that these good women have made a grievous and hurtful mistake in indirectly referring to me as a participant in the conditions which I condemned. The very fact that the Christian citizenship congress was a call from the Civic League of America to all organized Christian men and women to join the forces in an effort to correct these evils, and the fact that it was personally appealing to the club women to help us in this work, who were personally present and the necessity for these personal and public defenses and criticisms, I was asking them to help us find the means and to help us overcome the deplorable evil tendencies in 'dar-

ROSY OUTLOOK FOR GEORGIA HUNTSMEN

Quail, Deer and Turkey More
Plentiful Than Ever, Says
Game Warden

That the quail, turkey and deer hunting in Georgia during this approaching season will be better than it has been for a generation is the statement of Jesse E. Moore, state game and fish commissioner. Mr. Moore declares that all game, but particularly the quail and turkey and deer, increased very rapidly this year.

For some reason the correct date of the open season have been misremembered recently, says Mr. Moore, and some newspapers of the state have printed those dates wrong. The dates have not been changed since last season, says he. Here they are:

August 1 to January 1, cat squirrel
September 1 to April 20, migratory duck
October 1 to December 1, male deer
November 20 to March 1, quail, doves, turkey gobblers and plover.
December 1 to May 1, snipe
December 1 to January 1, woodcock and wood duck.

Following are the bag limits imposed by law in Georgia: Quail, summer duck, woodcock, plover, twenty-five in one day; dove, snipe, forty in one day; deer (buck only), in one season; turkey (gobbler only), in one season; three; migratory duck, in one day; fifty.

Absolute protection has been given by the Georgia law for a period of years to fox squirrel, female deer, turkey, turkey hens, pheasant, grouse and all imported game birds and animals. The permission of the landowner must be secured before one can hunt or fish on the property of another. Transportation of game is prohibited on all common carriers, unless it is in the possession of the licensed hunter who killed it. No game may be sold except migratory birds. License must be taken out before the hunter begins, and must be renewed on February 21 if the hunter continues after that date. License fees are (for residents) $1 for home county, $3 for state and (for non-residents) $15 for hunting in the state.

IN LOCAL THEATERS

THE CONFES-
SION

Thursday night the Atlanta will be open again and from that time on the play house will be merry and in the limelight. Al G. Field will bring his minsters Thursday night for a stay of three days with a matinee Saturday afternoon. These minsters are this year something to be proud of if the words of the critics of the south coast for aught. Everywhere the show is praised in the highest terms and is being given ovation after ovation. The show offers a number of new novelties this time and these are expected to do much toward making for its success. A number of the old favorites remain, such as Bert Starr and comedians of his class. Starr are now selling for the Atlanta engagement, including the matinee of Saturday.

The Foray is offering this week one of the most magnetic bills of vaudeville seen in Atlanta for some time. Dainty little Bessie Wynn, the little lady who walks right over the foot-lights deep into your hearts, is paying her annual visit, and her charm and grace, combined with a wardrobe that the feminine part of the audience go into raptures over, is certainly meeting with a response that evidences her hearty welcome that ever awaits her here.

Hermine Shone and company present "The Last Hope," which proves that melodrama is entirely acceptable on the Vandeville stage. The Avon Comedy Four offer some good comedy and singing, and Mabelle Foster and Clifton Anthony have something new in the piano playing and singing art. Richards, in the "Act" wood also offer some good singing.

The mere title of this week's attraction at the Loric is sufficient to cause unusual interest—"The Confession," which is being offered at the Carnegie Way theater. As the title would suggest, the story of the play has for its theme the heroic figure of a Catholic priest, who, despite great pressure exerted against him by society and by the law, refuses to divulge certain secrets which have come to him through the confessional. It points to one of the strongest articles of the Catholic faith, and affords opportunity for splendid dramatic effect.

ALL PUBLIC ELEVATORS ARE COMMON CARRIERS

That elevators in public buildings are common carriers and therefore are required to exercise the same extraordinary diligence in care of passengers as railroads are required to use, is the decision of the state court of appeals upon a case from Savannah.

T. B. Helmly, an employee of the Savannah Office Building company, was hurt in attempting to enter one of the company's elevators, and sued in the state court of Savannah for damages.

The judge's charge was that the company was a common carrier, though the defendant maintained that their responsibility was merely that of landlord and that no more than ordinary care could be expected of them. The jury returned a verdict of $7,000 for Helmly.

Every member of the family should use this fruit laxative as occasion demands. It is just as effective for

The New Trimmings A Burst of Brilliance

It's a season of trimmings. No one can doubt that who sees the trimmings we have gathered. Even though the styles did not lend themselves (as they do) to the use of trimmings a woman's love for the beautiful would find excuse for such as these.

Tunics, garnitures, garlands, tassels, motifs, buckles, bands, galleons, edgcs; the names are very ordinary, what they stand for are very extraordinary, designs and colors that suggest the Orient--Indian, Persian, Bulgarian, Chinese, Egyptian--having passed through the refining influence of Paris.

Embroidered Bands, subdued and brilliant colors, often a groundwork of velvet patterned and colored too intricately to name. Crystal Bands, snowy white and sparkling. Jeweled Bands studded with colored stones and with the jewels, buckles and motifs to head the drapery of this season's costumes. Beaded Bands and Edges; how could they have been made, patterned so perfectly and colorfully? Angles, squares, circles, fancy figures, flowers, sprays worked out in tiniest beads in shaded colors. Plouncings, of silken nets, weighted with crystal, pearl, silver, burnished and polished gold. Rose Trimmings, delicate pastel shades with centers of--no, they are not dewdrops, but rhinestones. Tassels, as rich in colors and as sumptuous as the Bulgarians ever boasted.

A Little Editorial in Which We Acquaint the Public---Our Friends, With a Few Facts About

The New Store

Store Policy and Service Simply Told

Voltaire spoke of those who "employ speech only to conceal their thoughts." There are enough plain, brief words in common use to describe anything, provided the speaker understands his subject.

There is nothing you should not, or may not, know about our methods of store keeping, and we will eliminate all commercial technique and tell you in plain, simple words something about the store, its policy, its service, its equipment; a subject which we believe we know thoroughly.

The Store Is New

It is notable for almost every kind of newness.

- It is new in vastness. It is new in construction. It is new in safeties. It is new in conveniences. It is new in sanitation. It is new in ventilation. It is new in hospitalities. It is new in methods. It is new in advantages. It is new in assortments. It is new in daily changes.

And it takes care to do its work full well, that it may stand high by what it does, as well as by its great, new building.

The Higher a Man's Ideals

—or the broader the man's pattern, the more will he have it in his power to gain success.

If he is little and narrow and reasons things downward, he is likely to find himself on swampy ground.

Always reason up if you wish to reach the higher levels of vision and strength.

If we had reasoned down and built this store to our own private convenience, and if we served the public the way it was easiest for us, we could never have been anything more than "one of the downtown shops."

The building is now just what we would have it. It is so because in planning it we thought of what it ought to be for the public.

A place where we can operate in a broad way—a mutually beneficial way—our principles of store keeping.

The Principles of a Few Decades Ago

Do you remember the old-time base-ball playing?—when the pitcher met the batter's request for high or low ball?

The old-time store asked for favors—and the old-time merchant had scenter standing in the community. Did he serve as stores serve now?

Would you be willing to go back to the standards of store service that prevailed when the principle that ruled the world of business was—"let the buyer beware?"

When a merchant quoted a price he made it high enough to stand almost unlimited whittling, and yet be profitable—to him. When he spoke of quality, his fingers were crossed; you were not expected to believe him, unless you wanted to very badly.

Buying was a haggle—unless you were a hardened haggler, you came out second best in every deal. There was no confidence between buyer and seller.

The Foundation of Business Is Confidence

We do not lock our confidence in the safe. We deposit it in turn with the wholesaler, who passes it on to the manufacturer. And the manufacturer, to make the circle complete, must give confidence to the consumer.

Business, once an aggregation of deals, with us has become the living embodiment of ideals.

It is absolutely necessary for us to enjoy the confidence of our customers.

We know this, and we are doing everything that is humanly possible to gain your confidence.

We sell no goods that are not absolutely dependable.

We stand back of everything we sell, and our interest in the matter does not end until the sale is perfectly satisfactory to you.

This is a fixed policy of our business: First, because it is right; and secondly, because it pays—for you and for us.

In other words, the principle of utmost value-giving against the old method of getting all one could in the way of profits.

Good Merchandise—Its Relation to This Store

Emerson says the true test of government is the kind of men it produces. We say the true test of a store is the kind of merchandise it affords.

There is no royal road to perfect store keeping; neither luck nor accident can bring it to pass.

Let it only be proven to the people that your goods are right and the savings real, and the rest will take care of itself.

Money talks; so does merit in merchandise.

The merchandise we have sold in the past has been talking for us; the money that people have saved on special values we have afforded them has been talking for us. We do not hope to talk more convincingly.

It is hardly possible that any other store could have learned, better than we, how good merchandise, fairly priced, can make business grow.

We are frank to say we have learned this to our profit.

For it is the merchandise which we have sold in the past that changed the little three-story building into one of the greatest stores in the South. It must have been pretty good, to say the least of it.

And in the future we are going to do all we can to impress you with the merchandise merits and the business ideals that have made the new store possible.

Service---The Study Of People's Wants

This store is built upon pre-conceived models. Years of effort and patient endeavor have proved a system of public service in collecting and distributing the best of merchandise. The organization has passed its time of stiffness and hard movement, and today it is well poised in the strength, power and smoothness of motion to do good service to the general public.

We want you to come and get your share of the benefits the new store affords.

What Anne Rittenhouse Says

PARIS.—There is something interesting about Calot's return to the Dagobert cinema. I was in there again the other day to review some of her poems and to pick out details from the usual confusion of scenes of gowns passing rapidly in review, and this fact struck me as worthy of marked observation.

The cinema effect also has come to do with the change of silhouette. There was a straight affair, like a coat-of-mail, worn from shoulders to hips, unbuttoned and the sleeves were long and tight and they, like the corsages, were of beaded or metal stuff.

These garments did not last long, but they had their influence upon the silhouette. When they came they were long and straight, and they were long and straight.

Calot did not make these of metal. They were of beaded gowns, which were rather effective, and they were beaded with flowers or in brilliant threads.

THE EVENING STORY

The humidity was almost unbearable in the little flat that hot August day. The gray-haired man on a couch in the screened balcony welcomed a returning breeze.

"Thank you, Mary," he murmured. Letty had looked up to Jack as a superior being. Always kind and friendly she scarcely knew that something stronger and more tender was in his heart.

HER CONDITION QUITE CRITICAL But Roleta Lady Built Up Her Shattered Nervous System by Taking Cardui, the Woman's Tonic. Roleta, Tenn.—Mrs. Lizzie Perry, of Roleta, whose illness for three years rendered her friends much worried, makes the following statements for publication: "I suffered terribly for three years, from sick headache, and was so nervous at times, I could hardly stand it. I had dragging pains, and pains in my side. Finally, I got the blues so, my memory got bad, and I was hardly able to go. I wrote you for advice, and after taking three bottles of Cardui, the woman's tonic, I am stronger than ever before, do not have headaches, or those awful pains in my side, and feel like a new person entirely. I can never thank you enough, for what your medicine has done for me. I believe I would have been in my grave had not been for Cardui. I wish all women who suffer would take Cardui, the woman's tonic, and be happy and healthy." The success of Cardui, in benefiting sick and ailing women, is due to the fact that it is a building tonic for the nerves, as well as for the physical system. It is composed of purely vegetable ingredients, which act gently and naturally, without bad after-effects. Why not try Cardui for your troubles? N. IT MIGHT BE WORSE.

(Reiterated through argument, pleadings, coaxing and expostulation.)

When the job on which your toiling gets your goat:
When you curse the grip of poverty and such;
When existence seems to have you as a foe;
When you daily stagger onward in its clutch;
When it seems that Fate has tilted you good and hard;
As you only know the run of fortune's frowns—
When you figure with a curse, Life could offer nothing worse
Well, suppose that you'd been drafted by the Browns?
Old Doc.

Just suppose that you'd been drafted by the Browns?
When they have you on the run across the trail:
When they copper every bet you try to make;
When you start out in the morning, dull and stale,
And the boss begins to brand you as a faker;
When they double cross and slam you on the beam,
In the dizzy whirl of Fortune's ups and downs,
Ere you figure with a roar Life has nothing worse in store,
Well, suppose that you'd been drafted by the Browns?
Old Doc.

Just suppose that you'd been drafted by the Browns?

The Old Continent is at Valley Forge and elsewhere were supposed to be up against it in repelling the British attack—working under a heavy burden in many ways. But what a carton cliché their allotment was compared to playing the best ball of Vardon and Ray in defense of the American title.

Was exactly the best ball, perhaps, at least the two of them together.

SAD BLOW.

It was a terrible blow for the big league clubs to discover this Mr. Outimé a week after the drafting season had closed. More than one sport will come in for a lousy call down for overlooking such a bet.

The prophecy is made that a long, hard winter is now ahead. This, of course, will be the article of Atlanta and Giants who will drive up about $1,125,000—which will average only a miserable pittance of $3,000 to the man for almost a week's work.

Mr. Pumpelly, of Yale, may be injured or dismantled for the time being, but this will be of little avail to Princeton if he is able to get in the game within 60 yards of the goal for 50 seconds—more time is called. Unless Princeton at the time is something more than a field goal in front.

They whisper that Eddie Plank is now on his final lap, ready at last to retire to the calm seclusion of his Gettysburg fortress. The southpaw has drawn a rickety time of it for the last two or three months, but we have an idea that for about one game in the big wind-up he will be a rash proposition to toy with. Plank started his world series career with a defeat by Mathewson eight years ago. He rallied six years later and cut in with one of the best games of the series, but at the age of 39, in baseball, a stout heart and a clear brain may call upon a pitching arm and get no answer.

Mathewson has dropped four of his last six games. But when a pitcher goes into the battery and beats the other pitcher, it is rather difficult to deduce any great amount of pessimism over his condition. In the last five days of the race the Phillies are holed for five and one-ninth doublers; which is a world's record by the margin of one-fourth.

If Harvard should be unucky enough to lose eight or ten football stars through injury, the Crimson would have only forty or fifty first-class candidates left to pick from. The main job that confronts Haughton is not in picking an eleven, but in discarding the other forty-two.

Germans Like U. S. Athletics

NEW YORK, Sept. 24.—The German Olympic commission, which has been investigating the American athletic scene for the past month, will sail for Berlin today. The commission, comprising of Carl Blum, general secretary of the VI Olympic games; Lieutenant Walter Von Reichenau, Dr. Martin Berthel and Joseph Wallner, visited and inspected every large athletic club and university in the east, south and middle west. Copies notes on the methods and system in vogue for the development of track and field athletics were obtained. Here Blum said last night that the results of the tour could not fall to be of great value in the development of German Olympic team for the 1916 Olympics in Berlin. After seeing the personnel system which you have in America," said Blum. "I can readily understand why American teams have won every set of Olympic games to date. It is really marvelous that there is no one else like it at home."

Blum said he will sail with the commission tomorrow and will take up with the formation of a German Olympic athletic team, which will have direct control over club and university athletics. It is not likely that the

Vandy Loses Two Players

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Sept. 24.—The severest blow that have befallen the Vanderbilt football team this year comes today, with the news that looked from an inside source that John Cody had been declared ineligible and that George Coody, a 200-pounder of herculean build, without an ounce of surplus flesh, was counted on to bolster up the weakened line, which now promises to be one of the sorriest in the history of the university.

George was the all-pro quarter for Middle Tennessee last year. He turned out Wednesday afternoon for practice, but that night he left for home, where he intends to remain. He was a star center in Morgan school last year.

Former University of Pennsylvania athlete and record-holder will attempt to train any of the German athletes prepared usually for a year or two. His duties will be to develop competent assistant trainers of the same premier that Frank Horberg did in Sweden. Kramling, however, will be premier that Frank Horberg did in Sweden. British Talk Of Amateurs

LONDON, Sept. 24.—The Daily Telegraph in its editorial this morning showers American criticism of Great Britain's reported intention to withdraw from the Olympic games. It admits that the English public looks upon the proposed Olympic withdrawal with coldness, because it means the breaking down of the sportsman's amateurism, which, according to the Telegraph, is peculiar to English sports.

"The question is," says the Telegraph, "whether amateurism is a matter of business or is not to be left to the national welfare. America thinks that it is, so to a large extent do both Germany and Scandinavia."

"Apparently the mental attitude of an amateur, to speak frankly, is not yet understood in America. German opinion is that it is, and it is conceivable that the national welfare in the highest and truest sense of the term may not be so dependent on professional athletic excellence as our American critics seem to think."

Each College Must Be Clean

"Football prospects for winning teams in the S. I. A. A. look misty good to me just now," remarked Harris Cope, the popular Swanne coach, as he was passing through Atlanta en route to Swanne to take up his coaching work. "Each college, Tech included, appears to have a bunch of good material and with all the coaches knowing a great deal regarding the existing conditions and the style of football needed, I am quite sure some good games will be staged."

"I am extremely sorry regarding the report that Swanne intended to protest Jean Patton, the young Chattanooga boy now at Tech. 'Nothing was ever further from my mind and sure erroneous reports are calculated to do a school an injury. So far as I know, Patton is entirely eligible and no one has a protest pending."

"This continued protesting of young players is becoming overworked of late and is quite foolish. I am not the kind to rake up the past of every young athlete who enters a college, being willing to look over many of the minor offenses he has committed against the strict S. I. A. A. rules. Before a youngster goes to college he unintentionally breaks many rules, and this I do not believe in holding against them. It is the violations he commits after entering college and learns the rules which constitute a ground for a protest. If some of the colleges would pay more attention to their own clubs and do less protesting during the season, it would be better off."

"Coach Cope is one of the few all-around coaches doing duty in the south, and from the manner in which he has succeeded it is believed it is only a matter of time before many others will adopt the same rule. He develops strong and well-balanced teams each season from very raw material, all of which goes a long way toward proving he is the right man in the right place. Coach Cope will be seen here during November when Swanne meets Tech. As usual he will bring a team that is well versed in the art of football."

Dent to Give Worlds Series

Elliot Dent, the Cracker's right handed twirler, who was the iron man of the crucial series with Noble for the final spot for the pennant, is going to give a detail of the world's series games between the Giants and the Athletics.

Dent is going to stage this matinee in one of the most accessible places in Atlanta, the convention hall, on the third floor of the Kimball hotel. The popular Alabama man now in arranging every detail for his show to make it a popular place for the fans during the great series.

He announces that his hall will have a seating capacity of 600, with a gallery which will accommodate about a hundred more. With such interest in the great game one has heretofore manifested by Atlanta fans coupled with the Cracker's hurler's popularity, there is little doubt that Dent's matinee will daily hang out the "K. K. C." sign soon after the first inning.

Mathews Named Virginia Leader

Harry Mathews, better known as "Matty," the ex-Cracker backstop, will again manage the Newport News, Virginia league team. Mathews will spend the winter here. He is in business at 21 Marietta street.

Matty was re-elected as manager of the Newport News club just before he came south, at the meeting of the board of directors. Mathews has been with the team as manager since last May. They had dropped thirteen straight, and with this handicap, Mathews started to build the team over again. The team, after a wonderful finish up in fifth place.

"AWAY ABOVE EVERYTHING"

Flying Across the Continent

SWEEPING across the Continent like a huge eagle, a Wright aeroplane safely carried Calbraith P. Rodgers in his world-beating flight from New York to Pasadena, Cal., "lighting" at Tournament Park November 4, 1911.

Rodgers tripled the longest continuous flight in the history of aviation. Although 59 days were consumed by the trip, the actual flying time for the 4,281 miles covered was 4,924 minutes. The longest single flight was 133 miles through Arizona.

For more than 50 consecutive days, Rodgers was "Away Above Everything." For nearly 50 continuous years, Lewis 66 Rye has been "Away Above Everything."

Rodger's record sooner or later will be beaten, but the record of Lewis 66 Rye NEVER will be eclipsed. It's the accepted "Standard Whiskey of the South."

WIDE POSSIBILITIES IN HAY-MAKING IN GEORGIA

Martin V. Calvin Tells of What Georgia Farmers Can Produce

Editor The Journal: In yesterday's issue of The Journal, appeared a special feature from Rome, Ga., in which it was stated that Floyd county, producing 5,000 tons of hay a year, holds the fifth place in rank in hay production following Whitfield, Jackson, Richmond and Walker counties.

The information interested me, for I have for years and years, through the public press and by means of booklets published and distributed at my own expense, expounded the possibilities of hay-making in Georgia and the splendid opportunity which has been knocking at our doors and appealing to us to make hay a money crop.

Did you know that there are only eight counties in the state that belong to what may be termed the "6000 tons class"? It is a fact.

Here are the counties and yield of hay per annum: Whitfield, 4,714 tons; Jackson, 4,088 tons; Richmond, 5,914 tons; Walker, 5,272 tons; Floyd, 5,000 tons; DeKalb, 6,327 tons; Houston, 5,208 tons; and Cobb, 5,110 tons.

Now let us look into the question of productivity—the ratio of hay to acreage. This is a very important matter. To DeKalb, 1.85 tons; to Walker, 1.12 tons; to Richmond, 1.88 tons; to Floyd, 1.06 tons; to Jackson, 1.00 tons; and to Houston, 1.73 per cent of a ton per acre.

We can raise choice hay in Georgia in great abundance if we observe the following facts: Why, a large portion of the work on the average farm on the mountain side of the state is fighting grass-eating crabs and a volunteer no persistent it can scarcely be kept down.

The presence of the persistent "General Green" in a hay-maker's mind with cow-pen, is a very serious matter. First class hay-making requires the combination of things that make hay, grow on acres in cow-pen, and a short time, they will see crabgrass breaking through the soil all over the place.

Of the varieties of grasses adapted to Georgia soil, limited space and time forces more than mere mention. Indeed, they are known to us all. The thing to do is to use the right fertilizer with hay crop as it is with corn, cotton or other crop.

The facts brought out by your Home special, can not fail to direct widespread attention to the desirability of hay-making in Georgia.

TRADE COMMITTEE WILL PAY VISIT TO ATLANTA

Georgia Chamber Commerce Will Be Host to Philadelphiaans Soon

Charles J. Haden, president of the Georgia chamber of commerce, which was inaugurated in Macon on September 16, is in correspondence with the trade commission committee, of Philadelphia, with a view to entertaining their representatives when they touch this state during a southern tour to be made within the near future.

This committee, representing the big commercial, professional and business interests of the middle west, is planning a trip through this territory to bring about closer working relations between Philadelphia and other sections of the country—the south in particular.

The itinerary at present is from Philadelphia via Richmond, Petersburg, Raleigh, Wilmington, Charlotte, Athens, Atlanta, Macon, Savannah, Jacksonville and Tampa. Mr. Haden has not yet received definite information as to when the Philadelphia party will reach Atlanta, nor how much time they expect to spend in each of the cities visited in this state.

The action of the local branch of the order, which is composed of more than 500 of the most prominent Jews in Atlanta, is regarded as a remarkable demonstration of the fact that the conviction of Frank's friends in his innocence has not been at all shaken by the verdict of the twelve men who listened to more than a month to the evidence in the case.

Frank who has been sentenced to hang on October 10, but whose execution is certain to be stayed at least for many months, is said to be not only conducting the affairs of the Final Drift from his cell in the tower, but is also said to be supervising to a certain extent the affairs of the National Patent company, of which he is superintendent. The amendment to the motion for a new trial for Frank is being prepared by Luther Z. Rosser, his leading counsel, and it is expected will be filed with in the next week. It is then extremely probable that Solicitor Dorsey will on October 4 ask for a postponement of the hearing of the motion, on the ground that he has not been given sufficient time to study the contents of the defense.

Should Frank's motion for a new trial, when it is finally heard, be denied, then the case will be appealed to the supreme court, and there is little probability of its finally being disposed of during the next six months.

Other officers elected for the ensuing year are Arthur Heyman, law partner of Hugh M. Dorsey, Frank's prosecutor, vice president; Milton Klein, monitor; Dr. H. Winkler, treasurer; and S. Kaufman, warden. The secretary of the organization is not elected at the same time with the other officers, and S. P. Conheim remains in the position.

LEO M. FRANK AGAIN HEADS B'NAI B'RITH

From Cell in Tower Man Condemned to Hang Operates Affairs of Organization

Leo M. Frank has been re-elected president for another year of the local branch of the B'nei B'rith, the Jewish charitable organization.

Other officers elected for the ensuing year are Arthur Heyman, law partner of Hugh M. Dorsey, Frank's prosecutor, vice president; Milton Klein, monitor; Dr. H. Winkler, treasurer; and S. Kaufman, warden. The secretary of the organization is not elected at the same time with the other officers, and S. P. Conheim remains in the position.

Frank was named to head for another term the order, which is said to be the most important of all Hebrew organizations, not only after he was arrested and charged with the murder of Mary Phagan, but after he had been convicted of the crime and sentenced to death.

The action of the local branch of the order, which is composed of more than 500 of the most prominent Jews in Atlanta, is regarded as a remarkable demonstration of the fact that the conviction of Frank's friends in his innocence has not been at all shaken by the verdict of the twelve men who listened to more than a month to the evidence in the case.

NOMINATES DONEHOO FOR ATLANTA MAYOR

Pennacola, Fla., Sept. 22, 1913. Editor The Journal: Looking for a Journal after an absence of nearly three months is like getting a letter from home.

What pleased me most was the article about "Paul Donehoo." May I have the pleasure of nominating him to be the next mayor of Atlanta? He is clean through and through, and his capabilities are beyond question. Yours truly, G. W. HINTERHAUGH.
